We notice that M'Fw'z is back on first base for Cincinnati. Good old M'Fw'z!

Freddie Welsh, Ted Meredith and Binga Desmond threaten to retire. This ought to put the running game on the blink.

Babe Ruth of the Red Sox has a wicked way of feeding baseballs to rightfield bleacherites. Wonder if he knows these pills cost $1.25 per.

Ad Wolgast is fighting low these nights and hitting below the belt. Being of Teutonic descent Ad naturally believes in submarine warfare.

SOX TO PLAY EXHIBITION GAME WITH WAUKEGAN TODAY

Eddie Collins went to the plate five times without getting a hit or a pass. There is a rumor that he's going to be dropped in the batting order and Joe Jackson moved up. The latter grabbed off three hits yesterday, one of them a double.

No game is scheduled for the White Sox today and they're using the open date for an exhibition game in Waukegan. In the meantime, Rowland and Comiskey are trying to figure out some way to avert another losing streak.

Jack Ness and Happy Felsch have both recovered from their injuries and may be shoved into the line-up tomorrow. What Rowland is particularly worried over is whether or not to stick Fred McMullin into the game.

McMullin is one of the best stick-ers on the team. But young Terry has been playing as fast a game as any other shortstop in the big league. His benching would undoubtedly make a big difference in the defensive strength of the infield.

Eddie Cicotte made his first appearance yesterday since May 19. His work after relieving Russell in the 8th convinced Rowland that the little Frenchman is again ready to take his regular turn in the box.

The Boston scribes persist in printing a story to the effect that George Stallings of the Braves is
