

INDIAN PRINCESS WILL RECRUIT TROOPS FOR UNCLE SAM

Elizabeth Tucker

Miss Tucker, 21, of Oklahoma, called "Princess Elizabeth" because she has Cherokee Indian blood in her veins, has opened a recruiting station at Ardmore, Okla., and says she will raise a volunteer company of cavalry. Miss Tucker is the girl who started the big demonstration for Col. Roosevelt at the recent Chicago convention and is one of the only two girl boxing managers in the country. She manages her brother,

—o—o—
In Budapest and Vienna, owing to the high price of matches, it was decided by the Society of Cafe Proprietors that no more matches are to be put on the tables. In Vienna cafes notices are displayed directing the public to bring their own matches.