

ONE DENVER TWIN IS A WHITE GIRL, BUT HER BROTHER IS A NEGRO BOY!

The Negro Boy and White Girl Born to a Denver Woman and Called the Most Remarkable Children in the World.

Denver, Col., July 21.—Twins, one black and one white!

The brother a negro, the sister a Caucasian!

These two most remarkable children known to the science of obstetrics are lying here as wards of the state, to whose care the mother, a white woman, quickly relinquished them!

The Ethiopian twin, who has been named Robert, has a sloping skull.

The Caucasian twin, Elizabeth, is fair of skin, with well-formed head, wide brow and well developed chin.

Mabel Owen, the white mother, who first refused to believe the babies of divergent race were hers, has disappeared from Denver. It was the white baby, not the colored baby, that caused her doubts. The father of the youngsters, who deserted their mother before the babies came, was a Spanish-negro cook in a Denver hotel.

The belief that the male child will resemble the mother, while the daughter will look like the father was reversed in this case.

At the state home for dependent children the strangely differing twins lie, having been removed from the Florence Crittenden home because so many persons came there to see them.

There in their white cribs they give no sign of the racial war and antipathy they typify.

Elizabeth is lively and bright, sturdy and strong, and makes her wants known in a loud voice. Robert is
