

wife and children will like you more and think more of you if you keep your hands in good shape. -And you will feel much better and be much happier.—Dr. Layman.

THE SENSE OF SHAME.—The sense of shame is so highly developed among so many of our best people that it is a wonder to me that they don't die of palpitation of the heart at the things they see.

A pretty ankle, a shapely limb, a white throat; my how terrible!

These old scholars are betraying the white race with their nonsense. The more we harp on the sense of shame the more women are affected. This very propaganda has resulted in mothers refusing to nurse babies at the breast in public, but instead on milk in a bottle from a tuberculosis cow. This propaganda of shame has resulted in our most healthy women ruining their health to hide and diminish their breasts with corsets, tight lacings, etc.

Why be ashamed of the healthy body? The more professional reformers agitate shame the more women deny nature and try to destroy the healthy udders of their sex. This is a crime against babyhood, themselves and the race. Bottle-fed babies are not nature fed and therefore not so strong.

This is not all our shame experts are doing to ruin the race. They cause newly-married couples to do everything possible to prevent the lirth of a child the first year they are married. The reason is they don't want people to think they were forced to marry to protect their names. So again, shame people, cause ruination of health. Why these people are so shocked at the human body I can't understand. People will refuse to swear, but they will turn around and blaspheme the healthy body with filthy clothes and hide perfect organs of the body.

They act as though creation had made a terrible mistake in not covering up the body. They do not tell us where they get their authority for covering the body. They can't cite an instance where the nude figure caused ruination, but we know clothed people do plenty of mischief. The sense of shame really means race suicide.—Allen Steven.

LOW AWNINGS.—I would like to know if these is a law making people hang awnings in front of stores so a person can pass under them without having their head hit or hat knocked off. There is an awning hanging on N. Clark street in front of a hardware store between Goethe and Schiller about 5½ feet from the sidewalk.—Albert F. Gray.

REPLY TO NOCKELS.— Seeing your article about Atlas Taxi Co., I wish to say I was pleased with the same. Why not go a little farther and expose the Yellow Cab Co.? It would make good reading for many who hate this scab concern.—Independent Taxi Owner.

HELEN KELLER.—She is blind, she cannot see with her eyes, yet what she sees by the light of her soul is purer and looks brighter than what we see by the eye with the light of the soul turned down.

Wouldn't it be greater to eulogize such as Helen Keller, the blind girl, with her vision of justice, duty, love, generosity and sincerity than to worship the bilks opposing her doctrine?

Why do most people speak of her wonderful gifts, her love of truth, peace and prosperity and then, contradictory to her wish, not abide by her?

Some of us bum writers are considered nonentities by the highly efficient writers shoving their pen for glory and wealth. They fail to perceive that without the aid of even the most ignorant worker their efficiency and success wouldn't grow ant hill high.—Frank Smith.
