BILLION-DOLLAR TRAIN BACKERS ARE SHOWN BY MRS. BASS

Richly Replete With Splendiferous Janes Who Married
Wall Street Guys—Money! Money! Money!—
Also Lots of Cash and Dough.

Mrs. George F. Bass, secretary of the Woman's Bureau at the national Democratic headquarters, today nailed down some hard facts about the Billion Dollar Special train that came to Chicago and went yesterday. Starting with the wives of John D. Archbold and J. Og Armour and ending with Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, mother of W. R. Hearst, Mrs. Bass furnished a list of the women who paid for the train and the list shows it's a safe bet to call it a Billion Dollar Special.

"Women like Mrs. Raymond Robins and Mary Antin have done great life works and they have each a message," said Mrs. Bass. "But the message they have is not being delivered from the platform of the Billion Dollar Special."
