

In general as people of any other creed.

I do not see how said person could call himself a red-blooded American, being prejudiced as he is against a class of people on account of their religion. It seems to said so-called red-blooded American that Catholics are not fit or capable of holding a position of responsibility. Why not be fair, as a true American is at heart, and look to a man's personal worth rather than to his religion.—P. Hansen.

THE AMERICAN SPIRIT. — To fight at the drop of the hat when necessary and provoking or instigating a fight when not necessary are two different things. Most of us will defend ourselves the best we can when forced to do so. People who are in favor of a policy which tends to throw this country into unavoidable war, causing confusion and misery, have not the true American spirit. Better not vote than to vote against the welfare of the country and in favor of the few who care for nothing but glory and wealth. We had nothing to do with the making of the war in Europe and it is wrong to throw this country into that unjust conflict. The Mexicans have as much right to fight for their homes and rights as we have.

Here's another case of queer knocking and boosting. At one time he is a bandit, at another a great general, and then again a bandit, and then again a great general, and what will he be in the end? God only knows. The great emancipator of his victimized people, I hope.

If Pres. Wilson is defeated it will be another case of vicious might ruling over lawful right.—Frank Smith.

GRAND JURY TO DISCOVER WHY FOOD PRICES ARE HIGH

The federal grand jury which meets Nov. 8 will take the food situation in hand and see if the jobbers and wholesalers are conspiring to inflate prices. This is supposed to be the federal administration's answer to the "high price" stories of Republican newspapers.

That certain restaurants and stores are boycotted will be shown by testimony introduced, according to U. S. Atty Chas. Clyne.

WILSON WILDLY GREETED BY ENTHUSIASTIC NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 2.—Pres. Wilson, arriving today for his first campaign drive in New York city, was greeted with a roar of enthusiasm such as promised to make his Madison Square Garden appearance tonight a rival of the political meeting in the garden four years ago, when he was cheered for more than an hour.

The president reached here from Buffalo at 9 a. m., cheered by a great demonstration there last night and by reports of his lieutenants there that the state will go Democratic.

Trainmen yelled "three cheers" as the president arrived and a big throng took it up and echoed it through the station. Engineers leaped from their cabs, shook hands and shouted: "We're with you, Mr. President."

HARRISON OUT FOR WILSON, DUNNE AND HOYNE

Carter H. Harrison, five times mayor of Chicago, has come forward with a strong boost for Wilson, Dunne and Hoyne. In printed statements sent broadcast Harrison points to the real progressive legislation that has been enacted under Wilson. In conclusion he says:

"Shall Republican standpatism, tucked in by Hughes, wet-nursed by Roosevelt, cradle-rocked by Penrose, Crane and Smoot, so readjust tariff schedules that the great monopolies shall continue to earn at the expense of the consumer the vast dividends of war times?"

Harrison says the answer is found in the re-election of Wilson.
