

GOLD OUTPUT OF ALASKA MINES.

Record for Last Year Was Nearly Five Million Dollars.

KLONDIKE OVER $16,000,000.

Operations at Bingham at the Little Pittsburg-Rising Sun and Domingo-Eagle and Blue Bell.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 1.—Frank A. Leach, superintendent, and Charles G. Yale, statistician of the United States mint, have prepared a preliminary statement, based on receipts at the mint and other bullion depositories on this coast, which shows that California produced in 1899 gold to the amount of $15,000,000 and silver to $650,000.

The increase over last year is $61,406 in gold and $230,666 in silver.

An estimate by the same officials of the output of Alaskan mines during 1899 shows that the territory has doubled its gold product over the previous year.

The record for 1899 is, Gold, $4,877,821 and silver $82,630, as compared with an output of gold of $2,517,121 and of silver of $49,152 in 1898.

This shows an increase for the year of $2,360,700 in gold and $33,478 in silver, or a total of $2,394,178. It should be stated that the returns of the United States assay office at Seattle are included in this statement as well as those of the United States mint and private depositories.

The Klondike output for the year is: Gold, $16,110,129; silver, $114,617. In the year 1898 the gold yield was $11,033,478, and silver $50,498; an increase of Klondike gold is shown of $5,076,651 and of silver $64,119.

The Little Pittsburg. The local management of the Little Pittsburg are feeling elated over the splendid showing being made by the property, says the Mercury.

A large body of fair grade arsenical ore, identical in character with that which has made the great mines here famous, has been encountered in the main south drift on the tunnel level, and so far has been explored to a distance of twenty feet, which shows the ledge to carry uniform and strong, with a black line as the gangue formation.

No assays have as yet been received of the values, but it is safe to say that the ore is of good milling grade. The Little Pitt bids fair to become an early shipper.

Rising Sun Operations. Jesse Knight was in the camp the other day, and reported mining matters in which he is interested as progressing nicely. Good progress is being made in the long tunnel at the Bull Domingo and Rising Sun properties, which will reach the vein, according to Mr. Knight's calculation, with about 200 feet more work.

Some very rich horn silver was opened up in the Humboldt-Silver Sun tunnel some time ago. Uncle Jesse doesn't need the money particularly, so it is not mining it at present.—Silver City Star.

Eagle and Blue Bell. Work in the Eagle and Blue Bell is at a standstill, awaiting the arrival of the chairs for the shaft, says the Tintic Miner. In the meantime a small force is at work through the tunnel connections, and is extracting enough ore to meet the requirements of the pay-roll. Some very high values were encountered early in the week. Nine cars running as high as 69 ounces to the ton of the yellow metal. For some time there have been rumors of a sale of the property on a basis of 34 cents a share, but the deal, as far as we can learn, is still in abeyance. The Eagle promises to become one of the family of big producers for which Eureka gulch is noted.

Oregon's Big Output. The Portland Oregonian's annual number issued today, says that 1899 was the most prosperous year Oregon has ever known. The greatest activity prevails in all branches of industry. The following statistics of production and foreign commerce in 1899 are presented:

Products of farms, orchards, stock ranches and dairies, $4,550,737. Gold, $15,000,000. Silver and coal, 485,103. Manufactures, 68,140,195. Fisheries, 2,442,155. Portland's foreign commerce, 9,130,803.

Total, $117,907,793.

The Oregonian puts the population of Oregon at 425,000. It estimates that the national, foreign, state and private banks of Oregon, Washington and Idaho are carrying individual deposits amounting to $50,000,000, the largest amount in history. The lumber output of Oregon in 1899 was 665,650,000 feet, valued at $8,228,250.

The following statistics are given for the city of Portland:

Jobbing trade, 100,000,000. Bank clearances, 91,652,230. New buildings, 648,590. Sales of real estate, 3,650,580.

Population, 96,600; lumber cut, 205,000,000 feet.

QUOTATIONS FOR LEAD. American Smelting Company Fixes a New Basis for Settlement.

Hereafter the quotations on lead in the market will be taken out of the broker's hands and the setting price will be the average at which actual sales were made in New York.

The following letter from the American Smelter company, T. R. Jones, manager, has been sent out and the proposition accepted by the producers:

BINGHAM BULLETIN REVIEW. A Good Showing in the Lennox Company's Tunnel.

Shipments from the Phoenix for the month total up 135 tons.

On Tuesday Tom Mayne finished hauling a promising 25-ton lot from the Zelzora.

Commercial long tunnel is still in soft rock but believed to be very near the ledge.

Montezuma shipments for this month were 2 cars first-class and 1 car concentrates from Dewey mill.

Bingham shipments this week included 2 cars Silver Shield, 2 of Petro, 1 of Hough & Heady, 1 car Red Wing concentrates, 1 car Niagara concentrates, 1 car Zelzora, 2 cars Dalton & Lark.

Considerable lumber for Fortune mill is being delivered and a gang of carpenters is at work framing timbers.

Highland Boy tram is delivering 225 to 250 tons of ore to the cars daily. Shipments from other mines very quiet this week.

Manager Gebhardt estimates the amount of shipping ore in sight at the Phoenix at 25,000 tons, and says it will be coming down lively next season.

A let-up at the Red Wing mill yesterday resulted from belated coal-delivery. O. H. Ryer, the miller, is running a steady but slow, treating 60 tons daily and doing excellent work.

Red Wing Extension is making a good showing at tunnel breast 50 feet in. An average assay returned 50 per cent lead, 4 1/2 ounces silver and 30 cents gold. Contract let to extend tunnel another 50 feet.

The new tunnel recently started in York group westerly from old workings is already in mineralized ground, indicating that ore chute will be reached nearer surface than was expected. The York has prospects of being in shape for a busy shipping season next spring and summer.

Lennox company's tunnel, in Saints' Rice gulch, has now been driven 350 feet and is showing at breast 3 inches of first-class, balance milling—running at hanging and no footwall in sight. Continuous work will be done this winter, with John Nelson as superintendent.

In Southern Utah. St. George, Ut. Special Correspondence.

Eight teams left here today for Modena with Grand Gulch ore, most of them being six and four horse outfits. The Grand Gulch mine is opening up in the shape, and gives great evidence of a strong continuance of its increasing output.

Two teams started for the Copper Mountain mine with supplies, and will bring ore to St. George for shipment. The mine is making a good showing and gives evidence of being a good producer.

The boys at the Savanic mine, having made a rich find, today sent a fine specimen to Lawyer Hicketts, at the Commercial building.

The mines of this southern country will sooner or later come to the front, the mineral is here and only awaits development.

Weather beautiful and warm. The finest winter climate in the world.

MINING NOTES. The Daily-West has declared its regular dividend of 20 cents a share, or $20,000.

An estimate of the mineral production of Idaho, for 1899 gives the following results: Gold, $2,500,000; silver, $8,100,000; lead, $4,500,000; copper, $60,000. Total, $13,620,000.

The new hoist to be installed at the LaRelve has arrived and will soon be at work. Superintendent Fred Schmitt is delighted over the prospects of the property which is a perfect bonanza.—Juab Republican.

Contractor Joe Dederich came out from the city Thursday and went direct to the West Dip to give personal attention to the finishing work at the Daily mill. He expects to stay until the mill is ready to make its trial run, which he hopes will be not later than Saturday.—Mercur.

Work at the Mercur mill has been delayed owing to the non-arrival of the pan batons. When they are received, it will require but a few days to put the pans in place and make necessary connections, so that early next month the present capacity of this pioneer producer will be doubled. It is expected before the end of the month that the new ore crusher and additional set of rolls will also be installed, which will complete the present projected improvements.—Mercur.

BOER CITY.

Which is Honeycombed Underneath by Bomproof Shelters.

Manufacturing is said to be an absolute rabbit warren of underground dwellings, and no doubt Ladysmith is so as well. The usual method of making a bomproof shelter is to dig at a slant into the ground, then to roof over the excavation with logs and planks, thus making a wedge-shaped dwelling, and on these to heap the earth that has been excavated. Provided there be a depth of from four feet to six feet of earth over the timber the roof is absolutely safe from shrapnel shell. Double this thickness and it is safe from any but lyddite or melinite shells.

HE KNEW THE TROUBLE. Nodd: I don't know what this country is coming to. Todd: What do you mean? N.: Politically speaking. T.: Corruption I suppose you refer to. N.: Yes, sir, I do. It's getting worse and worse. The fact is, the unscrupulous are getting the upper hand. It's boss rule. It's a trade. T.: What are you going to do about it? N.: Do! That's the point. The trouble lies with the decent element. Excuse me for seeming personal, but it's men like you who are responsible for the awful corruption of today.

T.: Why? N.: You don't take any interest in your country. You ought to be running for office. It's a sacred duty, sir, imposed upon every upright citizen. T.: I don't know, but you are right. N.: Of course I'm right. Our present condition is due to a lamentable apathy. It's a shame. T.: (warming up): So it is! By the way, who are you going to vote for? N.: (Cooling down). Vote! By Jove, that reminds me, I forgot to register.

THE HOUSE AN UNWELDY BODY.

Sooner or Later Membership, it is Believed, Must be Reduced.

MEMBERSHIP APPOINTMENT.

After the Census is Taken this Will be Done—Talk of Reducing Southern Delegation.

Special Correspondence. Washington, Dec. 27.—There are some early birds in Congress who are already figuring on the next congressional appointment to be made after the census is taken. This appointment is made by an act of Congress which will originate in the House and be prepared by the census committee of that body.

The Senate will have nothing to do save to confirm the action of the House, because it is almost wholly a matter pertaining to the representatives and senators take only a casual or advisory interest. Already there are propositions on foot to reduce the apportionment of the Southern States because of the small number of votes cast in the various congressional districts in that section.

While it is scarcely probable that any such reduction will be made, it will cause a great deal of partisan discussion if it is brought forward. As the bill must pass Congress after the census is taken, it will remain for the short session to adopt it, and that short session will scarcely be able to put through a bill to which there is any such opposition as would be brought out by the proposed reduction. One of the great difficulties with which the House will contend is the reduction of representation in some of the States. If there is no reduction, the membership in the House will have to be enlarged, and it has now reached rather an unwieldy number. That reduction will have to be made sooner or later is a question, but every effort is made to avoid reducing the present number of any State if it can be done without making the number in the House too great for its capacity.

REED'S OLD PLAN. In this connection of either a reduction of representation in certain States or increase in the number of members in the House, more favor is found with the plan of Speaker Reed to divide the House so that nothing but legislative business can be transacted in the House proper. Representative Prince of Illinois is now chairman of the committee on ventilation and acoustics, which has this matter in charge, and he is quite favorable to the plan so long advocated by Mr. Reed. In fact, his committee in the last Congress reported favorably upon such a plan, and it will take the matter up again this session and seek favorable consideration. The plan is intended to take out all the desks and have rows of benches similar to those in the House of Commons in England, upon which the members will sit during sessions of the House, while large rooms will be provided for reading and writing purposes. As soon as an attempt is made to increase the number of representatives, or on the other hand, if it becomes necessary to decrease the representation from certain States, he will be found that the proposition to take out the desks and make more room for members in the House will find favor. As a rule, however, members find the desks very convenient in that they keep their papers and letters, and are not obliged to sit in adjacent rooms without the same purpose.

A NEW HAMPSHIRE PHOTO. Knocking about the committee rooms of the United States Senate are copies of a photograph that has quite a history. It has been in the hands of "exhibits" in the celebrated "Henry Robinson postoffice case." Robinson has now been confirmed as postmaster at Concord, N. H., but he reached that place after traveling over a thorny path and against the opposition of Senator Gallinger of that State. Robinson was recommended by Senator Chandler, and the disagreement between the senators over this one appointment was very near reaching the true fact that was patched up between them five years ago. But to get back to the photograph. It is a group of three men and is leaning on the back of Senator Gallinger's chair in a most friendly way. It is Henry Robinson, who was opposed to Tilton, and the man in the photograph was presented by Senator Chandler to show the friendly relations that existed between Gallinger and Robinson only a few years ago. It was one of the many amusing features of this interesting case, which has been pending in the Senate for more than two years.

CUSHMAN WAS STOPPED. Representative Cushman of Washington tells good stories of his life on himself, so much the better. One he relates is regarding his first appearance in Washington. When he approached the capitol, he felt that his great ambition had been gratified and he was to enter upon a famous career under the great white dome. As he was filled with these thoughts he was stopped by the doorman. "You cannot go in there as the man." "That is for members of the House." "Well, my friend," said Mr. Cushman, "that is just why I am going in." The employe bowed low and stood back and as Mr. Cushman passed in said to another doorman: "Great Scott, Bill did you see that?" "I'll never stop anything that comes here again." ARTHUR W. DUNN.

CITY EMPLOYE INJURED. John Parkin, Driver of Scraper, Run Into by a Street Car.

John Parkin, an employe of the city, who has been working on the scraper, was quite seriously injured in an accident this morning. He was driving the scraper along West Temple street and was just crossing the car tracks when a car crashed into the scraper.

Parkin fell heavily to the pavement, breaking his shoulder blade. He was taken to a nearby drug store and the patrol wagon was sent for. Dr. Stewart made a brief examination of the man's injuries and stated that he was broken. Parkin was taken to the city station and Dr. Keogh was summoned. The injured man was in a dazed condition and was unable to make any intelligent statement. He was taken to the hospital this afternoon.

Smallpox Now Abating—Proposition to Open Schools.

Special Correspondence. Spanish Fork, Utah Co., Dec. 30.—The smallpox excitement is at low ebb. No new cases have developed for nearly a week. The afflicted are doing nicely. Of the ten cases, but two of the patients have been anxious about it. It appears now as if the quarantine will soon be raised.

Tomorrow evening, at the call of the school trustees, the people will meet at the Central to consider the wisdom of re-opening schools at once. It seems as if the majority of the people favor the opening of schools under proper regulations, believing that the children will be less liable to the contagion in school than in mingling with crowds and roaming everywhere.

BEAVER.

Semi-Annual Banquet to Old Folks—Wedding Bells.

Special Correspondence. Beaver, Beaver County, Dec. 23.—The Assembly Hall here was yesterday, Dec. 23th, the gathering place of as lively and enthusiastic a congregation as one can find at this season—it was Old Folks' day for the Beaver ward. The hall had been beautifully decorated, and three large tables were loaded with a spread fit for a king. Promptly at 1 o'clock the president of the local committee, Mr. R. Maeser, called the assembly to order, and prayer was offered by Hon. J. R. Murdoch. There were 140 who sat down to dinner, and for nearly an hour were cheered to the local song, then testing the great variety of viands which had been provided through the kind-heartedness of the citizens of our city. After the feast, dancing, singing, music, reciting and speech-making were in order. Among the features stands prominent the general handshaking indulged in; everybody shook hands with everybody present, all passing around in regular order. Remarks in behalf of those over 80 by Patrick D. Tyler, in behalf of all between 75-80, Hon. J. R. Murdoch, in behalf of 70-75, Hon. J. R. James Marshall; in behalf of all between 65-70, William Robinson; in behalf of the general committee, Prof. W. G. Bickley. Each of these several divisions were cheered to the echo. At about 4 p. m., after having been together for over three hours, an adjournment was taken for six months. In the president's report are found the names of six veterans who have died since the last meeting. The committee did excellent work, and the old folks are unanimous in proclaiming the function as an enjoyable epoch in their lives.

MARRIAGE BELLS.

During Christmas week Mr. Geo. Thompson and Mamie Harris, and Thomas Ward and Mary Willden were joined in wedlock, Elder J. F. Tilton officiating.

Prof. O. A. Whittaker, instructor of vocal and instrumental music, at the Beaver branch of the Young Men's Academy, left yesterday for Salt Lake City, in company with Miss Clara Fotheringham, one of our most talented young ladies, to be married in the evening. During the coming week, Mr. Whittaker, a witty and talented young man, and we feel to welcome him in our midst.

RICHFIELD.

Successful Character Ball—Marriage—Jurons for January Term.

Special Correspondence. Richfield, Sevier Co., Dec. 31.—The holidays have passed off quietly, with the usual festivities. The most notable event of the season was a character ball given under the auspices of the Y. M. and Y. L. associations last Wednesday evening. Over fifty different characters were present, and about 125 cleared up on the affair.

A complaint has been sworn to by Sheriff John W. Coons, charging F. T. Tilton, of this place, with assault. The facts in the case seem to be, that while Mr. Tilton and wife were out sleigh riding last Sunday a little boy of Sheriff Coon's threw a snowball and struck Mrs. Tilton. Thereupon Mr. Tilton took his buggy whip and gave the child a thrashing. There is no question but that this is a case of disrespect to passers-by, but whether the court will justify the course taken by Mr. Tilton remains to be seen.

THURBER.

For Want of Something to Do, Boys Indulge in Hoodlumism.

Special Correspondence. Thurber, Plute County, Dec. 27.—We have been celebrating Christmas and enjoying the very best of weather for the occasion.

Thurber is considerably exercised just now over some acts of hoodlumism. Too many boys hereabouts are under the false impression that there is no way, human or divine to prevent the disturbance or destruction of private property on a holiday. Wagons have been hauled off from owners' premises, and in some instances taken to pieces and damaged, cattle have been driven off, fences broken etc., and all this under the erroneous impression that the boys were having fun. There has been some murdering and threats of legal proceedings but perhaps if parents would endeavor to show the boys the difference between meanness and manliness, between a hoodlum and a hero, it might have a better effect than more strenuous measures. Possibly if a school team were organized here the surplus energy of the boys could be worked off in a more harmless amusement than acts of hoodlumism.

Mrs. James Heath added another citizen to the population of Thurber last night.

Bishop Mansfield keeps on building, and if all his plans can be carried out, Thurber will soon be a town of importance.

MONROE.

Death of Matthew Gillon Castro, a Veteran of Nauvoo.

Special Correspondence. Monroe, Sevier Co., Dec. 31.—Matthew Gillon Castro died December 27, 1899. He was born May 5th, 1822, in Lawrence, Indiana, and became a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints while in Nauvoo in 1839 and came to Utah in 1852, locating in Salt Lake City the same year, residing there for several years, and in 1854 he removed to Monroe, Utah, where he has resided till a few months ago, when he was moved to Monroe ward, living while there with his daughter, Mrs. Emma Hunt. Deceased had been an invalid for upwards of 53 years. He leaves two sons, three children, three sons and three daughters—and a host of grandchildren to survive him. He was faithful to every trust to the end.

FOUNTAIN GREEN.

Holiday Festivities—Old Folks Party—Firewood for the Poor.

Special Correspondence. Fountain Green, Sanpete Co., Dec. 29.—On December 11th the young men turned out and brought twenty-five loads of wood from the canyon for the poor, for which they were given a dance, and the young ladies furnished the boys with picnic.

Friday, December 22nd, a grand picnic party was indulged in by the ward, with some recitations, etc., got up in behalf of our Elders out in the field. A good time was spent and $51.75 was received to be sent to them for a Christmas gift. We have seven Elders out in the midst of the field.

On Christmas Eve the school teachers gave an entertainment, songs and recitations, etc. Christmas day the children were given a dance and at night a Christmas tree festival was given. A program of songs and recitations was rendered by the children, after which the balance of the time was taken up by the older ones dancing until a late hour.

The old people's party, December 23, was a grand success. The oldest person present was over 86 years of age; there were 12 over 80; 17 between 70 and 80, and 4 between 60 and 70. After dinner a program of songs, etc., was rendered and a most enjoyable time spent. At night some recitations, etc., were given in a dance at the pavilion.

We are having fine weather and plenty of snow, but cold. Good prospects for water the coming year for crops.

The health of the people is good, very little sickness prevailing.

My wife's good advice saved my life, writes F. M. Ross of Winfield, Tenn. "I had such a bad cough I could hardly breathe. I steadily grew worse under doctor's treatment, but my wife urged me to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Hay Fever and all maladies of the Chest, Throat and Lungs are positively cured by this marvelous medicine, 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at Z. C. M. I. Drug Department."

PAROWAN.

Substantial Christmas Cheer—The Prophets' Birthday—Other News.

Special Correspondence. Parowan, Iron Co., Dec. 29.—"Peace on earth good will to men" has truly been the motto adopted by the majority of the citizens of our humble town during the Christmas holiday season, and while the more comfortably situated have been preparing their own holiday feasts, they have also remembered the less fortunate, for instance, Wilford Day, who has been a hardy and generous friend of the poor, and has been preparing their own holiday feasts, they have also remembered the less fortunate, for instance, Wilford Day, who has been a hardy and generous friend of the poor, and has been preparing their
