

PRaise for the DEAD GENERAL.

French and British Press Unite in Eulogizing Gen. Joubert.

HIS FINE MILITARY SKILL.

Instances of His Genius, Daring and Energy—Would Not Break his Agreements—Krugers to Command.

Paris, March 29, 5 a. m.—The Paris press is unanimous in eulogizing Gen. Joubert, whose death is considered a serious loss to the federals. All the papers agree in thinking that a change in the chief command is bound to have grave consequences for the Boer operations. Many think, however, that President Kruger is fully equal to the task and that considering his military reputation, the resistance of the Boers is likely to become more stubborn than ever.

INSTANCES OF JOUBERT'S SKILL.

London, March 28.—All the morning papers will singulantly kind editorials concerning Gen. Joubert. They praise his military success, uphold his chivalrous conduct and regret that as a result of moderate and reasonable terms should be absent from the final settlement of the dispute. Although some of the younger commanders thought the old soldier wanted to dash and enterprize, his raid into the country south of the Tugela is considered the best piece of Boer leadership of the whole war. It is now known that he crossed the Tugela with only 2,000 riflemen and six guns, and that he had a force of 10,000 men at the time he crossed the river. He was British reinforcements were pushed up, Joubert recrossed the Tugela without losing a prisoner, a wagon or a gun. Gen. White's estimate of him, as a gentleman and a brave and honorable opponent, strikes the tone of all British comment.

FUNERAL TODAY.

Pretoria, March 28.—Gen. Joubert died of peritonitis. The funeral will take place tomorrow (Thursday). The government is pleading with his parents to allow a temporary interment here, with a state funeral. Joubert always expressed a desire to be buried in a mausoleum built on his farm. His successor in the chief command will probably be Gen. Louis Botha, now commanding in Natal.

Gen. Pietrus Jacobus Joubert, Commandant-General of the Transvaal.

Gen. Pietrus Jacobus Joubert, Commandant-General of the Transvaal, was born in Cape Colony, 1828. He was a member of the Orange Free State, where he was taught from early childhood to shoot straight and hate the British. He is described as having been utterly fearless, but little, and he never saw a newspaper until he was 18 years old. In spite of this his ambition prompted him to read the few books he could obtain and he succeeded in obtaining a fair knowledge of history and languages.

A DARING FIGHTER.

In consequence of the acquisition of Natal by the British, his family moved from Natal and settled in the Transvaal. Soon afterwards he became a burgher of the South African Republic and a daring fighter. It was claimed in his behalf that he led a body of men more successfully against hostile natives than any other man in the Transvaal. He came to be so feared by the natives that the knowledge that he was at the head of a large expedition usually resulted in their surrender. It was during these wars with the natives that Joubert became acquainted with Paul Kruger and the two men became bosom friends. Joubert was elected vice president of the Transvaal in 1886, defeated Sir George Colley at Majuba Hill in 1881, and acted as president of the republic in 1883-84, during Kruger's absence in Europe. Gen. Joubert was prominent in favor of the use of force instead of diplomacy, and President Kruger on several occasions had great difficulty in repressing his hot-headed colleague, notably in 1892, when Joubert, with Gen. Botha, was planning the rebellion to overthrow British rule in the Transvaal. The result was Majuba Hill and the practical independence of the Transvaal.

ARMY ORGANIZER.

It was Joubert who organized the army of the South African Republic in 1894, dividing the country into seventeen military districts and each of these departments into smaller divisions with commanders, field cornets and lieutenants of various ranks in charge. According to the general's plans every man became a trained soldier without leaving his farm, and had his equipment ready at hand. To such a perfection was the system carried that within forty-eight hours after the present war was declared the Boer nation was under arms. It was also due to Gen. Joubert that the South African republics succeeded in amassing the immense stores of war munitions and provisions which have stood them in such good stead during the conflict now in progress. When the Jameson raiders were locked in Pretoria Joubert was strongly in favor of their immediate execution. It was not until Joubert and Kruger had been closeted together for a whole night that the more merciful proposals of Kruger prevailed. In spite of these characteristics Joubert on some occasions showed considerable regard for the usages of civilization.

WOULD NOT BREAK COVENANTS.

When the Boers raided British territory of Bechuanaland in 1884 Joubert was probably the only prominent Boer who refused to support the movement, and his opposition resulted in the withdrawal of the Boers from the territory seized, as he threatened to resign unless he had his way, saying: "I positively refuse to hold office under a government that deliberately breaks its covenants and who have made covenants with England." In November last it was reported that Gen. Joubert had been killed in action, and later reports said he was dangerously wounded and had to use a cart in order to follow the operations in the field. The circumstances of the death of Gen. Joubert are interesting. This recalls the fact that when William Cox, a newspaper correspondent, was being released from imprisonment at Pretoria and who has arrived at Durban, said Gen. Joubert was apparently suspected of half-heartedness and that his life would be in danger at the hands of the burghers if Pretoria was besieged.

KRUGER TO COMMAND.

Brussels, March 28.—A private dispatch has been received here from Pretoria which says that President Kruger will now take chief command of the Transvaal forces.

KILLED WITH A STAVE.

Seventeen-Year-Old Boy Slays a Man who Quarreled With His Sister.

Chicago, March 28.—Albert Stedje, 17 years old, avenged the insult cast upon his mother, Mrs. Bridget Stedje, 4114 Ashland avenue, by Wm. Hobson, a boarder, by dealing Hobson a fatal blow over the head with a barrel stave. Leaving his victim dead on the sidewalk, in front of the house, the boy went to his room and was soon asleep. He was aroused an hour later by the arrival of the police.

MUST KEEP PHILIPPINES.

Even Bishop Potter Says So After an Investigation of Facts.

New York, March 29.—A partial report of the condition of affairs as found in the Philippines by Bishop Potter, addressed to the joint commission on the increased responsibilities of the Protestant Episcopal church, has been made public. The report is in part as follows: "The religious situation in the Philippines is such as will be expected in a colony of Spain. It has stamped her ecclesiastical traditions—narrow, intolerant and often corrupting—wherever she has gone, and she has gone almost everywhere among all the various islands of the archipelago, great and small. Wreck of all her religious orders, except, perhaps, the Jesuits, have robbed the people, wrung from them their lands and taxed the administration of the sacraments and ordinances of religion with a scale of exactions and impositions at once scandalous and outrageous. "If we are to retain these islands, and the undersigned are constrained to own, however they may differ from the Protestant Episcopal church, to the wisdom of originally entering upon them, that no other course seems for the present open to the United States, these wrongs and the fighting of them lie at the foundation of the whole Philippine problem. We must do justice in the Philippines, or God will have no use for us, and our presence there will inevitably rebound to our national dishonor."

Mr. Lloyd C. Griscom, United States charge d'affaires, protested energetically, demanding the annulment of the measure.

The Elks to the number of 290 held a meeting in their lodge-rooms on Market street last evening, and as the occasion was the annual election of officers everyone was on the qui vive. The greatest interest centering on the question of exalted ruler, the candidates for which office were M. E. Mulvey, Lester Freed, E. D. Estes, E. D. Thompson and Gus Lyon. The ballot resulted in the re-election of M. E. Mulvey, which evoked hearty applause. The meeting was made unanimous, and the same was done in the election of the following officers: Leading knight, Lester D. Freed; loyal knight, Carl F. Schmidt; lecturing knight, G. H. Ingram; W. W. Raybould, secretary; W. P. Lynn, treasurer; D. L. Nickum, Tyler. Mr. Mulvey was chosen representative to the grand lodge, also, with Mr. Raybould as alternate. A. J. Davis was elected trustees, succeeding A. L. Watson. Last evening's meeting was the largest yet held by the local lodge, and before the next annual election of officers comes around the members hope to be comfortably ensconced in their new clubrooms on State street.

SMALL BLAZE LAST NIGHT.

Fire at the Palace Restaurant Damages $50 Worth.

Last night a fire broke out in the kitchen of the Palace restaurant and for the fact that a large pane of glass fell from the front window and attracted the attention of pedestrians the building would probably have been consumed in flames. An alarm was quickly turned in and the department promptly responded. The blaze was soon extinguished by a few gallons of chemicals. The place, which is owned by Samuel Cooper, was damaged to the extent of probably $50.

Charge of Dishonesty.

San Francisco, March 29.—Captain Peter C. Deming, assistant commissary of subsistence of United States volunteers, is under arrest at Alcatraz island. It is alleged that his returns to the war department indicate the existence of a considerable deficit. An investigation is being made into the case, and Major S. Grossbeck, judge advocate of the department of California, is preparing formal charges against him, in compliance with orders from Washington. The army officials refuse to give out the details of Captain Deming's alleged offenses, saying merely that a court martial will be ordered at once.

Bruback thought he was entitled to $1,000, while the attorneys claimed amounts ranging from $500 to $1,500. The court did not fix the price, but gave until Saturday for parties to file objections to the same.

When you wash them, if you will add a tablespoonful of Gold Dust Washing Powder to the hot water it will cut the grease and clean them in half the time; dry them out in the sunshine and air.
