

MAKING ANOTHER TRANSCONTINENTAL

Samuel Newhouse and an English Syndicate are in the Operation.

A SMALL COLORADO LINE

Has Been Purchased with the Reported Intention of Putting It into the System.

The Denver, Lakewood & Golden is said to be taken out of the hands of Foster W. W. Borst, and the United States circuit court. Within the last two weeks the stock has nearly all passed hands preparatory to the consummation of a scheme that will not give Denver a new railroad, but will furnish the northwestern portion of the State with a line of its own.

The Denver Post of last Saturday says that James F. Munday, prominent in the Denver Boulder & Northern railway scheme, and others associated with him, are in the deal with Samuel Newhouse, who there is no doubt now makes the Denver, Lakewood & Golden.

Behind Mr. Newhouse is an English syndicate.

W. W. Borst, the receiver appointed by Judge Hallett, refused this morning to state when the road would be taken out of his hands. He admitted it is in poor condition, and is paying more than appears. Mr. Borst is aware of the sudden juggling of the stock, but pleads ignorance of what it portends.

Since the collapse of the Denver, Boulder & Northern scheme Mr. Munday and the other promoters have been working on a larger proposition. Two weeks ago C. P. Huntington made the announcement in San Francisco that the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe would jointly build a road from Denver to Salt Lake City.

This was followed by another statement from Mr. Huntington that the new road would go to Denver, through the rich agricultural and mineral districts of a Northern Utah and Northwestern Colorado, and would use the Denver, Lakewood & Golden into the city, connecting that road.

Mr. Newhouse is now in control of the company. The bonded indebtedness of the road is $2,700,000. It is bonded for $1,000,000 between Denver and Golden; $1,000,000 for the eight miles to the coal mines adjacent to its line; and for $675,000 on the Barnum branch. These bonds Mr. Newhouse, with C. C. Welch as trustee, placed with the English syndicate. The road, with its branches, is between twenty-five and twenty-six miles in length.

Mr. Munday has been in conference with C. B. Kountze, president of the Colorado National bank, and it is understood Mr. Kountze will manipulate the financial end of the deal. It will be completed, it is said, by July 1, and the road will extend to beyond Golden, to Idaho Springs, thence into a part of western region. It will be a part of the transcontinental line announced by Huntington. Whether it will remain independent or be purchased by the bigger company has not been said. The fact that Mr. Newhouse has been acquiring the stock and has advised his associates to keep expenses down, and the road in the hands of a receiver until they could command their price, is sufficient proof to some railroad men that the scheme now being pushed to a conclusion will be profitable of much profit to the stockholders of the Denver, Lakewood & Golden. Mr. Newhouse is now in New York. A telegram from parties interested with him in the deal for the Lakewood has been received by the local representatives of Mr. Munday. It is the most encouraging one for an early completion of the deal.

T. F. Dunaway, formerly general superintendent of the Colorado & Southern, who is now in Denver, will leave the California shortly to interview himself in the new road to Salt Lake City. He is familiar with local conditions, and he is said to be a valuable addition to the road building on the coast for Denver. Men are already being hired for the Munday representatives for work on the Denver, Lakewood & Golden, it is said. The next thirty days will see the unfolding of the scheme.

Position of Dissenters. W. W. Borst, counsel for the dissenting second mortgage bondholders and the stockholders of the Peoria, Denver & Evansville railroad, says that the decision of Judge Allen, of the United States circuit court in Illinois, refusing to certify to the circuit court in the case to the circuit court, appeals, does not materially effect the position of the stockholders in their suits.

The stockholders, he said, when seen at New York today, were late in deciding to contest the foreclosure and had certain rights of appeal, but they had been insisted sufficiently under a recent order of Judge Baker, the United States circuit judge in Illinois, which granted a right of appeal to the United States Supreme Court. An injunction of the dissenting second mortgage bondholders and the stockholders under the first mortgage is being held by the United States circuit court in Chicago to prevent the sale of the road. During this week to confirm the order, and to pass on an order to allow the second mortgage sale under the second mortgage to President Borst, of the Colorado National Trust Co., of New York.

Air is Full of 'Em. Engineer J. D. Negus, who has had a railroad survey corps in the field for the last three months, has returned to Cheyenne. Mr. Negus explained the necessity of his operations, which have been a much comment in railroad circles, by saying that a company has been organized to build a railroad over the route surveyed which runs from Fort Laramie to Bettendorf on the western water a distance of 200 miles. A capital stock of $4,000,000, N. B. Clark, of Cheyenne, president.

The object of the road is to reach the rich coal fields of the Seminoles, and to strike the oil fields of Soda Lake, the copper and gold districts of the Laramie range, and will connect with the Colorado and Southern and Burlington railroads.

Injured by Torpedo. The Denver Post of Saturday says that for an indefinite period a washout mine or so beyond Bailey's, fifty-four miles from Denver, it is where the Little River makes a deep curve around a granite cliff. When the railroad was being built in 1878, it was necessary, because of the difficulty with the river engineers, to divert the river from its natural channel in many places, using the stone at the Point-near Bailey's.

The moderate-sized flood that passed down the river Monday and Tuesday weakened the embankment, where it received the full force of the waters as they tore around the cliff, and Wednesday the embankment went out. Since then trains have approached on each side of the washout, and passengers have been transferred, with the baggage and express matter, from one to the other, over a temporary bridge and derrick, the river having found its old bed, rushing in between and under-neath.

Yesterday afternoon a locomotive was approaching the washout, with Brigman Powell riding on the pilot. He was examining the stretch of track leading to the dangerous place when, suddenly, there was an explosion and he felt back again the boiler had, mechanically grasping the flags. The pain in one of his legs made him dizzy. The locomotive stopped after the explosion and he rolled from the pilot.

Two torpedoes had been placed on the track as a warning to all trainmen approaching that the track beyond was dangerous. As soon as the torpedoes were touched by the small wheels of the first touch, they exploded, the charge, with the metal attached, going into the bridgeman's leg, cutting through boot and cloth, shattering his foot and badly lacerating his leg.

Belittles Liquid Air.

The Electrical Review of New York expresses many large-size doubts, as to the many and wonderful qualifications ascribed to liquid air. The Mining Reporter of Denver thus summarizes what the Electrical says, in the following manner: "Liquid air is not destined to the extraordinary use ascribed to it by the newspapers and the several promoting companies now being extensively advertised for the prime purpose of selling enormous quantities of stock. The possibilities of the scheme are compared with that of extracting gold from the sea water for profit. Both are declared to be contrary to definite and well-known physical facts, and it is asserted by the Review that liquid air has only a little more than 50 per cent excess of refrigerating power over an equal weight of ice. It is denied that liquid air has any usefulness as a motive power, that its use as an explosive has met with no considerable success, while the only probability conceded is that its agency in making oxygen is the most promising direction for its immediate use."

All the opposition which liquid air has so far encountered has come from electrical sources and authorities. In the first place, the electrical authorities are tackling something beyond the "ken" of most of them; and in the second place, liquid air, for some purposes, is destined to push electricity entirely out of the industrial field as an obsolete agency. This, of course, means a slump in some electrical stocks and its promoters do not like it.

Joint Agents Appointed.

C. H. Griffin and W. J. Sheley, at Salt Lake and Ogden respectively, have been appointed joint ticket agents for the purpose of protecting the railroads against the operations of scalpers upon excursion tickets. A passenger purchasing a ticket in Chicago for Salt Lake, for instance, will receive only the portion which will carry him here, and when he desires to return he must be identified before a joint ticket agent, when he will be given the other half of his ticket, which will carry him home. The practice will be put in operation on June 15th.

SPIKE AND RAIL.

J. J. Morris of the Short Line office force has gone to Victoria, B. C., for his summer vacation. Excursions will be run from Colorado points to Utah on July 12 and 31, August 1, 14, 20 and 31, September 7.

Gen. Otis passed through Ogden this morning on his way east. He has just returned from the Philippines.

Rio Grande Western engines which are fitted with Richmond compound cylinders are now in the shop.

It is presumed that Short Line earnings during the fiscal year ending June 30th will exceed those of the previous year by about a million dollars.

Construction work upon the Sumpter Valley railroad extension in Oregon will be done by the Utah Construction company.

White men working on the Union Pacific's Aspen tunnel refused to work alongside of negroes and they were discharged. The negroes were kept at work.

The position taken by the "News" that the Salt Lake & Ogden will form a part of the new electric line between here and Ogden will prove to be the correct one.

Between Kansas City and Denver the new through sleeper is carried on the Rock Island's famous Colorado Flyer, said to be the fastest train west of the Missouri river.

Many people took advantage of the low excursion rates to the east today and the Rio Grande Western train was loaded with passengers from Utah, Idaho and Nevada.

The Salt Lake City Street Railway company has received information that its five new cars had been shipped from the factory this week and they are expected in a few days.

DON'T AGREE WITH MAXIMO GOMEZ

Cuban Papers Do Not Think His Plan of Amalgamation Feasible.

CONSTITUTION FOR CUBA. It is to be Formed for Presentation to the Next Congress—Some Cubans Discontented.

[Early Dispatches.] Havana, June 6.—All the political parties, through their representative newspapers, have pronounced against the plan of Gen. Maximo Gomez to amalgamate the party organizations.

Members of the cabinet say the scheme is not feasible, as such an election would not carry any official recognition from the United States. More than all the elected mayors, to form a constitution which will be presented for ratification to the next Congress. Consequently, as they argue, if Gen. Gomez were to carry out his plan of taking a plebiscite, it would make even the friends of Cuba believe it impossible for the Cubans to do anything without fighting among themselves.

La Nacion, organ of the union democratic party, now that it is an accepted party, says that it is a minority in the coming elections, continues to call its successful opponents a "mere rabble," and to declare that they do not represent Cuba. It says that 25,000 voters have registered out of a possible 60,000, and that the better elements refrained from registering. To this the nationalists reply by asking why, if the union democratic party had such a serious objection to the plan, it should not register.

La Nacion publishes a veiled threat against the United States, saying in part: "Surface appearances are often very misleading, especially when one wishes to ascertain precisely the direction and force of undercurrents. The American papers are misled by the visible placidity of the Cuban people and think that a general state of contentment exists over the island."

"We, who are more intimate with the masses, can assure the American papers that there is much silent discontent among the Cuban people. Much could have been done if the Cuban secretaries had clearer ideas regarding their duties. Cuba has not been a transformed paradise. We have no sermons here; and if we have a whole tribe of blood-sucking vampires which threaten us with a loss of the life-supporting fluid, they at least cannot lead us to spiritual perdition."

Americans here are astonished at this attitude. Before the members of the union democratic party discovered that they were in the minority in Havana they claimed that they were Americans' best friends, representing the old autonomous party, the wealth and intelligence of the island. Beyond this they represented that they were conservative and did not desire radical changes. Now, the columns of their organ abound in sarcastic allusions to everything American.

At a meeting of the municipality of Havana a member of the council said he understood that Captain Pitcher, police magistrate and supervisor of police, had ordered the police captain to learn English. The mayor replied that Captain Pitcher had merely made a suggestion, but had said nothing in the nature of an order.

Several councilmen protested strongly against such a suggestion. One of them asked why Cubans, the owners of the country, should learn a foreign language in order to speak with a foreigner.

The mayor called the attention of the council to the fact that the Argentine training ship Presidente Sarmiento was coming to Havana. He said he had mentioned the matter in view of the possibility that the municipality might wish to entertain the officers and crew. It was decided, as the Argentine Republic had not recognized the independence of Cuba, not to tend any reception whatever.

Senor Tamayo, secretary of government, has ordered that where more than one political party exists in the same place, the parties shall form a committee, containing a representative of each, to assist illiterate persons in voting.

Gen. Wood left last night on a tour of inspection that will include Reno, Wash., and Salt Lake City. He will be accompanied by Gen. Humphrey, and will return to Havana Friday.

MADDICK IS HELD.

Defense Offered No Evidence at Yesterday's Preliminary Hearing.

The hearing in the Maddick shooting case was concluded before Judge Timmony late yesterday afternoon and resulted in the defendant being held to the district court to answer to the charge of assaulting Andrew H. White and Willis Pearsall with intent to kill. After the "News" report closed yesterday afternoon only three witnesses were examined. They were Officer Joe Barlow and Wm. Pearsall. Officer Barlow's testimony was to the effect that he arrested the defendant on the night of the difficulty. The officer identified the revolver used by Maddick and also the one in the young man's possession subsequent to the shooting.

White and Pearsall each declared he was not in the saloon on the evening of the 14th, but counsel for the defense states that he will prove otherwise at the trial. It will be remembered that yesterday morning Emitt Johnson for the prosecution testified that when young Maddick came out of the saloon and demanded pay for the drinks, White came up to him and volunteered to settle for them.

The defense offered no evidence at yesterday's hearing. Maddick's bond was fixed in the sum of $4,000 in each case.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Lila Davis Rhead, wife of J. L. Rhead, of Corinne, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davis of Soda Springs, passed from this life Monday, May 21st, at 4:15 p. m., after a severe attack of grippe and malaria fever, through which she fought heroically for life for three long months. The physicians' skill and the combined efforts of her indefatigable husband, relatives and friends seemed to give little or no relief from the beginning of her illness till death claimed her.

The funeral services were held in the Methodist church at Corinne, and she remains interred in the Brigham City cemetery Thursday, May 24th, with Bishop L. P. Johnson of the Latter-day Saints' Church in charge. Very appropriate remarks were made by Bishop L. P. Johnson, Brothers H. B. Steed, Moroni Mortensen and J. E. Rhead, and Presidents Charles Kelley and Oleen W. Stohl.

HEALTHY OLD AGE

The majority of persons upon reaching middle age and past find their blood becomes weak and thin, and diseases that were easily controlled in earlier life begin to affect the constitution.

Those predisposed to Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, Gout and other hereditary troubles may escape till then, but as they age the blood, so long tainted and weakened by accumulated waste matter, is no longer able to properly nourish the body, and it becomes an easy mark for disease. At this critical period of life the blood must be re-enforced before it can perform its legitimate functions and rid the system of these poisons, and nothing so surely and effectually does this as S. S. S.

S. S. S. strengthens and enriches the blood, improves the appetite, and builds up the general constitution. It is not only the best blood purifier, but the best tonic for old people. It warms the blood, tones up the nerves, removes all taint from the blood, and prevents the development of disease.

S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood medicine known. Not one particle of mercury, potash or other mineral poison can be found in it, and it may be taken for any length of time without harm.

S. S. S. is the only remedy that reaches deep-seated blood troubles like Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, Eczema, Tetter, etc. It purifies and restores the blood to a healthy, normal condition, and makes it impossible for any poisonous waste materials to accumulate.

If you have an old running sore or an obstinate ulcer that refuses to heal, or are troubled with boils and carbuncles, try S. S. S. If it fails to make a quick and permanent cure of these pests, if your system is run down and you feel the need of a tonic, S. S. S. will strengthen and help you as it has many others to a happy, healthy old age.

HEALTHY OLD AGE

S. S. S. cured Mr. H. Borden of Seaside, Va., of a case of Eczema of thirty-five years' standing, after the best physicians in the surrounding country had failed. This was seven years ago, and there has been no return of the disease.

Mrs. D. R. Johnson, of Blackshear, Ga., was for years afflicted with a severe type of rheumatism, and had used every remedy known and recommended as a cure without receiving any benefit. S. S. S. promptly reached the seat of the disease and made a complete and permanent cure.

BICYCLE PATHS ALONG SIDEWALKS

Councilman Hartenstein Introduces a New Ordinance for Wheelmen.

IS A CHANGE FROM OTHER.

Believed that it Will Meet With Popular Favor—Measure Referred to Committee.

An ordinance that will meet with the approval of bicyclists generally was introduced by Councilman Hartenstein at last evening's meeting of the city solons and referred to the streets committee. The measure reads as follows:

"That for an ordinance forbidding the riding of bicycles upon any sidewalk within certain seasons of the year, establishing bicycle paths, and providing penalties for violations.

"It is ordained by the City Council of Salt Lake City, Utah: Sec. 1. It shall be unlawful for any person to ride a bicycle or tricycle on the sidewalks or on the space set apart for sidewalks upon any street in Salt Lake City, between the last day of May and the first day of October of each year.

"Sec. 2. It shall be unlawful for any person who crosses any street intersection, to ride faster than four miles an hour.

"Sec. 3. On all streets in Salt Lake City, there is hereby reserved and set apart for the exclusive use of bicycles and tricycles, a bicycle path consisting of eight feet in width in the center of each street, provided, that where any railway track shall run along any of said streets, said path shall consist of four feet in width on each side of the outer rails of such railway track.

"Sec. 4. It is hereby made the duty of the supervisor of streets to keep said bicycle path free from rocks and other obstructions and to keep the same in good repair.

OBJECT TO THE TAX.

Martin and Astor Say They are Being Imposed On.

New York, June 6.—Bradley Martin and Wm. Waldorf Astor, formerly two of New York City's wealthiest residents, are seeking to be relieved of taxes placed upon their personal property here. If they succeed the city will lose thousands of dollars.

Mr. Astor has not only given up his residence here, but also has relinquished his citizenship and is now a citizen of England. Mr. Martin has not yet gone to this extent, but says he is no longer a resident of this city and has not been for about two years.

Mr. Astor's property has been assessed at $2,000,000 and that of Mr. Martin at $2,000,000. Dependent upon the result of the assessment in the case of Martin are two other cases, that of his wife, Cornelia S. Martin, who has been assessed at $2,000,000, and that of Mrs. Elizabeth Sherman for $250,000.

Discussion was had before Judge Andrews in the supreme court in the earlier proceedings to review the assessment of Mr. Martin's personal property. Judge Andrews reserved his decision.

William Waldorf Astor's certiorari proceedings to review the action of the assessors in assessing his personal property in this city for 1895 for the 1904-05 season at $2,000,000, has been set for hearing next Tuesday. Mr. Astor argues that when the assessment was made he had no personal property here subject to the tax. He says he has not been a resident of this city since 1895. He protested against the imposition of the tax in person a year ago and since then has become Trouble for the French. London, June 5.—Special dispatches received this evening from Algiers portray a serious situation. Thousands of Moors are massing at Fuzung and in the neighborhood, preparing for a determined attack upon the advance posts of the French.

The French columns have joined hands at Zoubia, but the men suffer terribly from heat and thirst and hundreds of camels die.

The French are preparing intrenchments and are confident of their ability to repel an attack and even to take the offensive against Fuzung if necessary.

HIS LIFE SAVED. By Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"I am sure that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at one time saved my life," says A. E. Lafontaine, of Gregory Landing, Clark county, Missouri. "I was in such bad shape that the doctors said I could not live. When I was at the lowest ebb, one of my neighbors brought in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and I took it and soon I started to get up and around. That was nine years ago and I am still in good health. Since then that medicine has always been in my house and always will be. It is the best on earth."
