

MILLINERY AND BATHING SUITS.

IN DESCRIBING midsummer modes it seems quite the proper caper to begin at the head and take up first the subject of hats.

Usually, more satisfactory than when a regularly spotted net is bought. Shirred skirts and blouse bodices are the ruling styles for thin frocks.

Seasonable hats, however, may be divided into two distinct classes—the low flat crown with triple brim and the varying tall crown built on a network of fine wire.

HOUSE FURNISHING DON'TS.

Here are a few "don'ts" which those about to furnish a house would do well to bear in mind if they wish their rooms to be not only in good taste and artistic, but well kept, sweet and clean, and in one comprehensive word, thoroughly dainty in every respect.

Don't overload your rooms with furniture or pictures. Don't choose elaborately designed curtains, hangings or tablecloths for a room with a floral paper.

SEASONABLE HATS FOR PRETTY FACES.

afford the originals, do without, and content yourself with something which is what it professes to be. Don't tie bows on the backs of your chairs.

A NOVEL EGG STEAMER. The custom of preparing delicate foods at table is growing rapidly, and to meet the demands of the mistress who is acquainted with the science of cooking inventive genius is sorely taxed.

THE DINING ROOM. Every dining room should have its rug. The quality of this rug must, however, vary with the purchasing power of the individual.

DECORATIVE TREATMENT OF THE WINDOWS OF A HOUSE. The decorative treatment of the window as regards its curtains has long been either willfully neglected or miserably misunderstood.

WOMEN OF MANY CLIMES. Lady Sarah Wilson, of Matting fame, is quite noted for her dancing. She waltzes with consummate grace and might be taken as the exemplification of the poetry of motion.

WOMAN AGAINST WOMAN.

MUCH has been written about the grandeur of the effort of English and American women in time of war on behalf of wounded and dying soldiers.

Women, collectively, are proud, and justly proud, of their reputation among men as the strongest and most unselfish fighters that exist against the sorrows and pains of humanity.

Women of this class stand in the scale and, it would seem, outweigh those who aspire to the balance side. But it requires the deeds of one genuine woman only, like Florence Nightingale, to wipe out the misdeeds of them all.

WOING UNDER DIFFICULTIES. The difficulties of a lover in Brazil are many. On Sunday evening he is welcomed into the bosom of his beloved's family and is received in the parlor, where a row of chairs extends along the four walls.

JAPANESE DOGS. In Japan, people are very fond of small animals—indeed they prefer most things in miniature—the Japanese spaniels are the smallest dogs in the world.

THE PRINCESS VICTORIA OF WALES. The Princess Victoria of Wales is an artistic and skillful bookbinder. She recently carried off a prize in a competition, using an assumed name.

MISS MARIE POWELL OF KANSAS CITY. Miss Marie Powell of Kansas City has recently become editor and publisher of the Mississippian Sawyer, Durham, Mo.

Feminine Indorsement of Dr. Treves' Views on "The Plague of Women in South Africa."

Guida's Lady Dolly. Frequently they are little more than fools, like Zola's little Princess Rosemond, who thought of her lost cup of tea when Salvat was about to be condemned to death and who flew into a passion when she could not get a good place from which to see him when he was executed.

THE NEW PARASOL. Though quite as dainty this year, the sunshades are less fussy and overtrimmed. Some of the prettiest styles have silk or satin de chine foundations and are embroidered and display insertions of black or white lace worked on the borders in a fancy design.
