Croker and Tammany Will Crusade Against It.

INVESTIGATION COMMITTEE.

One Consisting of Five Members Appointed—Boss Dick Tells How He Does Not Get His Income.

New York, Nov. 15.—The executive committee of Tammany Hall held a meeting, at which Richard Croker took all the leaders good-bye and took a hand in starting the movement to rid the city of vice.

Tammany leader said he was going to Europe for health, not pleasure, and introduced Isidor Straus, president of the Educational Alliance, as a man who was acquainted with the condition of things on the East side.

Mr. Straus said he had met Mr. Croker at dinner accidentally, and had talked with him for two hours over the conditions on the East side, and Mr. Croker had asked him to talk to the executive committee of Tammany Hall.

Mr. Croker then arose and said: "You are a disgrace to it. The organization can't and won't stand for any such thing."

The meeting broke up in confusion because of the attitude of Coroner Fitzgerald, the Tammany leader in the Fourteenth assembly district, who declared that there were any disreputable houses in his district.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deep-seated, which is called kidney disease. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney troubles are allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It cures the inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. We mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. FREE SPEECH AT STANFORD.

The Professor of Economics Has Resigned.

DR. JORDAN'S STATEMENT.

Mrs. Stanford Reached Her Decision Only After Long and Earnest Consideration.

Stanford University, Cal., Nov. 15.—Dr. Edward Ross, head professor in the department of economics and sociology at Stanford University has resigned and will sever his connection with the university in a few weeks.

In his formal letter of resignation Dr. Ross intimates that he was being forced out of the university by Mrs. Stanford, who has taken exception to statements made by him in his public addresses on sociological and economic questions.

Dr. Jordan, president of the university, said: "In regard to the resignation of Dr. Ross it is right that I should make further statement. There is not the slightest evidence that he is a martyr to freedom of speech."

Dr. Jordan says: "The sentence quoted in a San Francisco morning paper to the effect that 'men of large interest, eastern financiers as a rule, have had a part in the determining of the relations of Dr. Ross to the university, I cannot accept as having been uttered by me. The interests to which the reporter meant to refer were interests in economic science, not in finance."

"Upon being shown Dr. Jordan's statement, Dr. Ross dictated the following: 'Dr. Jordan knows vastly more than I do as to Mrs. Stanford's motives and what he says is conclusive as far as I am concerned. In my original statement, which was carefully prepared and is strictly correct, I said I have long been aware that my every appearance in public drew upon me the hostile mention of certain powerful persons and interests in San Francisco and supposed their efforts to be aided me. I state this lest it should be supposed I did not realize the risks I ran. If, as Dr. Jordan says, it was not his pressure, but only my own, that influenced Mrs. Stanford, I am glad to know it.'"

"It is absolutely certain, however, that the freedom of speech is involved not in my appearance, personality or character, but solely in my non-partisan scientific utterances have been the root of the trouble."

Supplementing his former utterances upon the subject of Dr. Ross's dismissal, Dr. Howard today addressed his address before the most sensational statement that has yet been delivered in the Ross controversy.

The entire hour of the class was given up to the discussion of the resignation. Dr. Howard arraigned the influences that brought the dismissal of the professor. He concluded his speech with this sentence: 'I do not know how down to Saint Market Street, and I do not doff my hat to the Six Companies, neither am I afraid of the Standard Oil Company.'"

The San Francisco Alumni association has taken up Prof. Ross's resignation with the avowed purpose of expressing it as their opinion that the welfare of the university, if its future is to be considered, is above a personal difference leading to the resignation of a professor. Frank V. Keating, representing the association, says:

"While the alumni sympathize with Ross in his predicament, we cannot but see that Mrs. Stanford's reasons are good and sufficient, and there is an end to it. There is no doubt in the minds of the alumni that Dr. Ross has been indiscreet. The personal reasons we have found to be in Dr. Ross's frequent derogatory references to Senator Stanford."

A Great Medicine.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and find it to be a great medicine," says Mr. E. S. Phipps, of Poteau, Ark. "I cured me of bloody flux. I cannot speak too highly of it.
