

TWENTY-SEVEN PEOPLE BURNED Perished in the Orphan Asylum at Rochester, N. Y. GALLANT RESCUES MADE.

Heartrending Scenes—Volunteers Save Children—Fireman With an Inmate Falls from Ladder.

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 8.—This morning at 1 o'clock fire broke out in some mysterious manner in the hospital section of the Rochester orphan asylum on Hubbell Park, and at this hour, (3:30 p. m.), twenty-seven persons are known to have perished, twenty-five were injured, some doubtless fatally.

A MASS OF FLAMES.

In a few moments the entire half of the building in which the hospital was situated, was a mass of flames. The smoke poured out of every window and screams and frantic cries could be heard from the panic-stricken children.

SCENES ABOUT THE BUILDING.

The scenes about the building while the fire was at its height were heartrending in the extreme. Crazed women were running about trying to find out whether certain little ones had been taken from the building in safety.

INMATES OF THE ASYLUM.

There were 100 children in the asylum at the time and a corps of about thirty nurses and attendants. Sixteen of the dead are at the city morgue, several are at the hospitals and some were left at the home of Mr. Behn.

BAD COMPLEXIONS Dry Thin and Falling Hair and Red Rough Hands Prevented by CUTICURA SOAP

MILLIONS USE CUTICURA SOAP, assisted by CUTICURA OINTMENT, for preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales and dandruff and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening and soothing red, rough and sore hands, in the form of baths for annoying irritations, inflammations and chafings, or too free or offensive perspiration, in the form of washes, for ulcerative weaknesses and for many sanative antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women, and especially to mothers, and for all the purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery.

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor, $1.25, Consisting of CUTICURA SOAP (25c.) to cleanse the skin of crusts and scales and soften the thickened surface; CUTICURA OINTMENT 25c. to instantly allay itching, inflammation and soothe and heal, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT 50c., to cool and cleanse the blood. A SINGLE SET, costing but $1.25, is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, disfiguring skin, scalp and blood humors, with loss of hair when all else fails. Sold throughout the world.

There are five dead at the homeopathic hospital, the identity of none being known.

Several died in houses near the fire. The total number of fatalities known is twenty-seven.

Lillie Stone, aged 8 years, is fearfully burned about the legs and body and will die.

Miss Brad, the nurse of the hospital ward of the asylum, will probably die.

Kate Cottrell and Blanche Atheson, the latter colored, are believed to be in a dying condition. Both had fearful falls and sustained frightful injuries.

But one inmate is dying at the hospital, he being a little boy who was ill at the asylum. Name unknown.

John Carey, 8 years old, is at the Hahnemann hospital. His lungs were filled with smoke and no hope is held out for his recovery.

WANTED TO ANNEX BELGIUM. Fact Divulged that France Had Such a Project.

Paris, Jan. 7.—A dispatch received here from Brussels says the military commission which is studying the reorganization of the defense of Belgium has been informed in support of the government's project, that Gen. Zurlinden, former French minister of war, proposed in 1897 to the superior war council that France should annex Belgium, and that the Belgian minister at Paris notified his government of this fact. The dispatch adds that Great Britain at that time was indifferent while Germany was inclined to accepting the New York & Bernumad company's property has been lessened, but the authorities would not be surprised should persons in the employ of the Warner-Quinlan-Sullivan syndicate, acting under the decree published by the Caracas government, attempt to take possession of the territory specified therein. Such attempt would bring on a conflict of arms between American citizens.

Venezuelan Asphalt Controversy.

New York, Jan. 8.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: One of the revolutionary forces under Gen. Perez have been completely crushed.

The Caracas government can therefore address itself to the task of preserving order in the territory involved in the trouble between the New York and Bernumad company and the Warner-Quinlan-Sullivan syndicate.

Apprehension that the Venezuelan government would eject the men protecting the New York & Bernumad company's property has been lessened, but the authorities would not be surprised should persons in the employ of the Warner-Quinlan-Sullivan syndicate, acting under the decree published by the Caracas government, attempt to take possession of the territory specified therein. Such attempt would bring on a conflict of arms between American citizens.

Killed While Resisting Arrest.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 8.—Herbert Marynissen, a Belgian, was fatally shot by Policeman Frank J. Kratke while resisting arrest. Marynissen was suspected of being the man who has been committing murderous assaults upon women for the past six months. The officer went to the room of the suspect in the Curtis block, at the corner of Curtis and 15th streets to make the arrest. Marynissen refused to surrender and, as the officer claims, attempted to draw a weapon, when Kratke fired, shooting him through the body. He was taken to the county hospital, where he died.

Hall of Fame Electors Accept.

New York, Jan. 8.—At a meeting of the council of the New York university last night the announcement was made that the electors for the Hall of Fame, who were all recently invited to serve again in 1901 had, so far as heard from, accepted. Out of the fifty famous Americans who were to be chosen at first, only twenty-nine received the requisite number of votes last year. There are, therefore, twenty-two to be selected next year. A letter was received from a well known Harvard professor suggesting that before another ballot is taken a conference shall be held in New York some time next year, at which all the electors who can make it convenient shall be present.

England's Best Trade Year.

London, Jan. 8.—The morning papers congratulate the country upon the continued buoyancy of trade. The December returns of the board of trade show an increase of 14 per cent in exports and of over 7 per cent in imports, together with an extraordinary rise of $2,500,000 in the value of raw cotton.

Will Not Postpone Marriage.

New York, Jan. 8.—A dispatch to the Herald from The Hague says: It is learned from a trustworthy, though unofficial source, that there will be no postponement of the royal marriage on account of the death of Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar.

Earthquake in Ecuador.

New York, Jan. 8.—The Herald's correspondent at Guayaquil, Ecuador, telegraphs that the members of the French scientific geodetic commission who arrived on July 3, have left there for Quito, to start the preliminary work of rectifying the line of the meridian.

Astor's Gift to Charity.

London, Jan. 8.—In response to the appeal of the princess of Wales for further contributions to the fund for the families of the men at the front, William Waldorf Astor has contributed $5,000.

AGREEMENTS OF THE POWERS They Have Been Presented to Prince Ching.

Peking, Jan. 7.—This afternoon agreements identical for each nation were presented to Prince Ching. Persons close to Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang say that they have declined to sign, even if they lose their heads, without regard to the latest orders of the court.

Killed by His Wife.

Savannah, Mo., Jan. 7.—The coroner's jury in the case of Frank L. Richardson, the merchant, who was murdered in the doorway of his residence Christmas eve, returned a verdict at 4 o'clock this afternoon, charging that "Richardson came to his death from a pistol shot fired by his wife or by some person known to her and unknown to the jury."

Agreement Concerning Manchuria

London, Jan. 7.—The British foreign office considers that an agreement between Russia and China regarding the Manchurian province of Feng Tien as referring to military measures of a temporary character.

California Legislature Meets.

Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 7.—The California legislature met today. The senate perfected organization but the assembly has not yet concluded its efforts to that end, although the speaker, sergeant-at-arms, chief clerk and minute clerk have been selected.

Speaking for Boers in Germany.

Berlin, Jan. 7.—Christian Dewet, nephew of the Boer general, is making speeches in south Germany in behalf of the Boer cause and arousing great sympathy. The meetings which he addresses adopt resolutions protesting vigorously against the overthrow of the two republics, the resolutions being telegraphed to Count von Buelow and Mr. Kruger.

Auditor for Philippines.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Auditor Lawshe received the final instructions from the secretary of war today preparatory to leaving Washington tonight for the Philippines, where he will enter upon his duties as auditor for the Philippine archipelago. One of the principal duties will be to re-examine the accounts of officers of the army who handle the government funds in the islands.

Chicago Plumbers Withdraw.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—Chicago plumbers decided last night to quit the Building Trade council. At a meeting of the Thirtieth plumbers union the independent union came back into the fold of the old organization and the amalgamated union, with a membership of 800, agreed to withdraw from the central body.

Army Nominations Confirmed.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The Senate has confirmed a large number of army nominations, of which the most important were: Col. Samuel M. Whiteside, Tenth cavalry; Lieut. Col. James B. Campbell, Thirtieth infantry; and Maj. Charles Bird, quartermaster, to be brigadier general of volunteers.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church. Others escaped to the orphanage outside the city, but all were killed and the place burned.

China's Roasted Little Boys.

London, Jan. 8.—A sister of charity, writing from the Mission de Jesu Enfant at Ninovo, Nov. 20, describes the massacre at Ninovo of one hundred little boys, who, she says, were roasted alive in the church