TO HAVE ATHLETIC COUNCIL

No One But Students Can Participate in Contests—A Comprehensive Code of Laws.

There have been many shades of opinions expressed in regard to the use and abuse of athletics in the school. The subject was freely discussed in the State Teachers' convention last December, and while the general opinion seemed to prevail that school and college athletics were salutary in their effects, the apprehension was also voiced that it was gradually evolving into a form that would soon become detrimental to the schools.

AMUSEMENTS.

The largest house which has assembled during the Modjeska engagement came out last night to see the performance of "Mary Stuart." While the play belongs to the old class of tragedies, and is at times rather slow in its movement, it enchained the interest of the audience to the close, the most artistic portion of the whole being the finish, where Mary goes to the scaffold, repeating in Latin the prayer of her church.

WEAKNESS FOR RUBBERS.

It is reported by the citizens living in the neighborhood of Fifth East and Eleventh South streets, that during last night some sneak-thief "rubbers" around the houses in that vicinity and stole all the rubbers of the people—men's, women's and children's—found lying on the porches of the dwelling houses. A clear sweep was made of the shoe covering of several families, and an investigation is called for on the part of the police officers.

LORD KITCHENER REMAINS SILENT.

His Dispatches Say Nothing of Peace Negotiations.

CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES.

Gen. French's Movements Give No Indications of It—Dewet Reaches Senekal—Boer Sympathizers.

London, March 15.—A dispatch from Lord Kitchener, issued this morning, is so studiously silent upon the subject of the peace negotiations that it leads to the conclusion that nothing has been accomplished of a sufficiently definite character to justify lending official support to the view that the war is over.

French, in addition to his previous successes, reports 46 Boers killed or wounded, 146 taken prisoners and surrendered, 2,400 rifles, 2,500 cattle, and 400 wagons and carts, besides mules and pack animals.

"Methuen has arrived at Warrenton from Klerksdorp, bringing in prisoners and cattle.

"The weather is wet, delaying the movements of the column of the Boer general A. Dewet, who is now at Senekal, Orange River colony, says that though he has only a small following Dewet is nearing a district where he is likely to meet considerable reinforcements, and probably intends to pick up roving bands of republicans who are ever present in the Dornberg and Korannaberg districts.

Gen. French, the dispatch adds has been ordered to move from the Pletretief district, but is now able to move again.

A dispatch from Capetown reports that Scheepers and Miller's commands have turned southward and are now within forty miles of Willowmore, and that the British are following them.

RIOTS IN MOSCOW.

City is Said to be Terribly Excited Over that of March 4.

St. Petersburg, March 15.—News comes from Moscow, that the city is terribly excited over the riot which began there March 4 and continued several days. It is trustworthy reported that one student was killed and many were severely hurt in the conflict with the police, who arrested 700 persons besides noting the identity of many others. Some say 1,500 names were taken. It is stated that the demonstration was directed partially against Grand Duke Sergius, governor general of Moscow, who celebrated his tenth official anniversary this week.

The students intended making demonstrations against their old enemy, Suworine, who celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his assumption of the editorship and proprietorship of the Novoe Vremya this afternoon by holding a reception which was attended by the leaders of social life in the city, but the police were in the street and displayed a strong force. LORD WOLSELEY'S REPLY. DE ROULEDE-BUFFET DUEL.

He Answers the Charges Made Against Him by Lord Lansdowne.

Both the Principals and Their Seconds Expelled from Switzerland.

Admits That He, in Common With Other Authorities, Underestimated Boers' Fighting Power.

London, March 15.—The house of lords was unusually crowded today in anticipation of the reply of Lord Wolseley, the former commander-in-chief, to the criticism of the former war secretary, Lord Lansdowne, now secretary for foreign affairs. The galleries were full of perusses and others.

Lord Wolseley in his opening remarks, said he regretted being compelled to discuss a personal matter, but he could not pass unchallenged the severe comments of Lord Lansdowne on the manner in which he had performed the duties of commander-in-chief.

Lord Lansdowne's personalities were evidently premeditated. His indictments were grave and it almost seemed as if the personal attack was made in order to divert attention from the question at issue and throw upon the commander-in-chief blame for the mistakes made by the general. Until the recent debate he had never had reason to suppose that he did not possess the full confidence of Lord Lansdowne and the cabinet. Early in 1899 circumstances arose which left him no alternative but to resign, which he did. If he did not possess the cabinet's confidence that was an objection that might have been used to appoint a new commander-in-chief. He refuted the specific charges launched by Lord Lansdowne. He said he had adopted every effort to improve the auxiliary forces. In February, 1898, he recommended that additional troops be sent to South Africa and recommended strengthening the Natal garrison and the defensive occupation, not of the town of Ladysmith, but of the Biggarsberg range, which was twenty-five miles in advance of Ladysmith. He had never considered in chief blame for its surrounding hills to be tenable.

Lord Wolseley admitted that, in common with all the other authorities, he had underestimated the fighting power of the individual Boer.

Three weeks before Mr. Kruger's declaration of war he had urged Lord Lansdowne to send out an army corps, a cavalry division and five battalions for the lines of communication, in addition to the 100,000 troops already in South Africa. Such a comparatively small number of troops employed early had often achieved results which five times their number could not produce later. The mobilization of this force at that time would have produced a considerable effect in South Africa, if the country was not prepared at the outbreak of war it was not because he had not urged the gradual and unostentatious reinforcement of the forces.

Lord Wolseley concluded with saying: "I have said as little as possible consistently with any justice to myself. The noble marquis made strong personal statements which were not supported. It has made my reply, which is also unsupported. I cannot, however, leave the matter thus. I feel I am amply justified in moving that all the papers be laid on the table. I am prepared to be supported by official documents all I have said."

Lord Wolseley's motion was rejected by a vote of 62 to 38.

CASTELLANE-DE RODAYS DUEL.

Seconda Have Arranged for Two Shots to be Exchanged.

Paris, March 15.—The seconds of Count Boni de Castellane and M. A. Rodays met today and decided that the duel is to take place tomorrow morning. Two shots will be exchanged at twenty-five paces. M. Perivier, one of M. de Rodays' seconds, who is co-manager of the Figaro, in an interview today, declared that the duel would be absolutely private. He said: "I will not tolerate the presence of a stranger. If otherwise I will retire from the field in my opinion it is improper to permit persons attracted by unhealthy curiosity to be present at a duel in which two men are staking their lives."

Mrs. McKinley recognized many acquaintances and greeted them with cordial smiles as she was assisted through the station to the carriage in waiting.
