

THE LONG GARMENT REIGNS SUPREME

With scarcely an exception is the modish woman worshipping at the shrine of the long wrap. This model designed for carriage wear is an example of the gray touches possible on these all enveloping garments. It is built of light gray cloth and has a collar, yoke, cuffs and trimming bands of Persian embroidery. The circular flounces at the bottom are trimmed with satin folds.

stronger it will insist upon employers doing likewise. And then the old adage will be revised to read, "Like maid, like mistress."

The latest acquisition to the ranks of woman's suffrage is Norway. On May 29th King Oscar promulgated the law of municipal suffrage, which admitted women 25 years of age who have had fixed places of abode for five years, who pay taxes upon $1 in the country and $15 in the city, or who live with husbands who have paid an equal amount, the right to cast the ballot. In October the women of Norway will exercise this right for the first time.

The question of whether the club work of Denver should be altruistic or purely literary was decided by the club women of that city when they inaugurated the scheme of the "Pinegrove Patches." "How to help the poor" is now no longer a theory with them. A philanthropic citizen gave the use of fifty acres of land and the county commissioners had it plowed and furnished a superintendent to teach agriculture. The women's clubs supplied the tools, a charity organization the seed and the street railways half-fares to the gardeners going back and forth from the patches. This was eight years ago. What are the results?

The average number of families receiving gardens since 1894-5 is 66, representing 375 families of various nationalities. From 35 to 60 acres have been cultivated annually. Every gardener has realized from $5 to $150 in cash, besides having supplied his table with all the vegetables needed during the summer, and storing enough for winter use. Several families traded vegetables for groceries, five to the amount of $50 worth each. The annual expenses average about as follows: To the county for plowing $46, for superintendent's services, $225; to the charity organization for seed, $45; for plants, $13; for sign posts, $2; to the women's club for car fare advanced (and refunded

BEAUTIFUL OGDEN HOMES.

RESIDENCE OF C. A. SMURTHWAITE.

The photo reproduced above is of the residence of Mr. C. A. Smurthwaite, of the Smurthwaite Produce company. The residence is situated at No. 231 Jefferson avenue, and was built about ten years ago. It is constructed of pressed brick with red sandstone trimmings. The first floor is occupied by six large rooms and vestibule. On entering the home one passes into the vestibule, at the right of which is a spacious reception room, with a large parlor adjoining, with folding doors. The dining room, sitting room, kitchen and one bedroom are at the rear of the front rooms. A beautiful staircase done in mahogany and cherry leads from the reception room to the second story, which is conveniently divided into five large bedrooms, with bath room. The rooms are provided with pretty fire places, and are lighted with electricity and gas. The furnishings throughout are elegant. The grounds surrounding the home are very beautiful, with a well kept lawn, flower beds and shrubbery, making in all a handsome home.

OGDEN SOCIAL NEWS.

The Salt Lake Opera company will give the opera "The Wedding Day" at the Grand, Friday evening, October 12th.

The home of Hon. Nathan Tanner Jr. on Lincoln avenue, No. 2415, was the scene of a very pretty wedding reception Wednesday evening, October 2nd, given in honor of his son, William J., who was married Wednesday afternoon in the Salt Lake Temple to Miss Inga K. Anderson, also of this city, Bishop Winder performing the ceremony. The contracting parties after the ceremony was solemnized, took the evening train for Ogden, where they were taken to the home of the groom's parents. There were gathered at the home only the relatives of the contracting parties and a few intimate friends, who gladly welcomed them and extended congratulations. A sumptuous wedding repast was served in the dining room. The home was very prettily decorated with cut flowers and evergreens. The bride is one of Ogden's charming young ladies, and the groom is a popular Southern Pacific employe.
