OGDEN SOCIAL NEWS.

Ogden, Utah, Nov. 8.—One of the most charming weddings of the season took place Monday evening, Nov. 4, when Miss Dot Harris was united in bonds of holy wedlock with Mr. E. J. Cunningham, Rejoice of the Congregational church officiating. The pretty home of the bride, on Twenty-eighth street, was most beautifully decorated for the occasion with cut flowers, evergreens and potted plants arranged so as to make a grand effect. At the hour appointed the wedding party entered the parlor, the bride being attended by Miss Charissa Folkman, while Mr. E. B. Hanley acted as best man. The bridesmaid was the most popular and charming young ladies, while the groom was dressed in conventional. After the impressive ceremony the wedding guests were ushered into the spacious dining room, where a sumptuous repast was served. Mr. Cunningham is the well known Union Pacific yard master of this city. They received many beautiful and costly presents, Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham will reside on Twenty-eighth street.

Albert M. Larkin, who for the past two months has been court reporter on the Standard, resigned his position and returned to Payson, Utah to run a newspaper of his own. During his short stay in Ogden he made many friends who will regret his departure from the city.

PROVO SOCIAL NEWS. One of the most pleasing social events of the season was the reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob F. Gates, Tuesday, in honor of their daughter, Miss Lulu Young Gates, lately returned from Berlin. About a hundred and fifty guests attended the reception and enjoyed the pleasure of welcoming Miss Gates home, after an absence of over three years, and hearing her in song. This was the feature of the evening, and the talented young songstress enchanted and captivated her friends by her superb voice and her soulful rendition of many beautiful selections; her charming naturalness of manner and her modest desire to give them pleasure by a generous bestowal of her heavenly gift.

The high praise given Miss Gates in the East had caused her musical friends to have great expectations, but the wondrous beauty of her voice far exceeded their anticipations, and the most enthusiastic encomiums expressed by those who heard her have created an eager desire among the people for an opportunity to hear this young queen of song, which it is hoped, will be gratified at some early date.

Miss Arvilla Clark also favored the guests with vocal selections, which were greatly appreciated, as Miss Clark's singing always is. Prof. A. C. Lund accompanied the ladies on the piano.

Apostle Snoot voiced the sentiments of the guests in a brief congratulatory speech. Light refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Groneman, of the second ward, celebrated their golden wedding Thursday. A large number of relatives and friends enjoyed the occasion, and the venerable couple were the recipients of many warm congratulations, and good wishes for a yet long and prosperous life. A fine dinner was served. Friday evening a reception was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Groneman in the ward house, where a larger number of friends had an opportunity to extend felicitations. The Parents' class enjoyed an able and eloquent lecture, Wednesday evening, by Judge Theodosius Botkin, the subject being "Peter's Mistake." The judge took the position that as many of the sins of life are caused by the honest mistakes of people as by intentional wrong doing, and referred to the mistake of Peter in denying his Lord his great sorrow afterwards and his integrity the rest of his life. In maintaining the Gospel of Christ, the tendency of humanity to err was pointed out, and charity for the erring was urged, that they might have a chance to redeem themselves. "Know Thyself" was inscribed on an old Grecian temple and this ought to be the motto of our lives. Self-knowledge is essential to character building, because if we know our weak points we can fortify ourselves against temptation. Parents and teachers should strive to develop sufficient moral courage in those who are placed under their care to enable them to withstand every temptation, and live for the best and holiest in life. Solos were rendered by Francis Kirkham and Raymond Clayton, accompanied by Prof. Lund. Dr. George H. Brimhall will deliver the next lecture, subject: "The Prodigal Son."

The Nineteenth Century club met Friday with Mrs. Havercamp. Interesting papers were presented on the following subjects: "The Dutch Republic," Miss Josephine Kellogg; "William the Silent," Miss Floss M. Pond; "The Pacification of Ghent and the Declaration of Independence," Mrs. Rosetta M. Searle; Mrs. F. M. Smith, delegate to the state Federation of Women's clubs gave an interesting report of the work of the convention.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Flaisled of Denver entertained a few of their friends at dinner Wednesday evening at the Hotel Roberts. The guests were: Mrs. Henrietta Taylor, Messrs. and Meadams Thos. John, John Taylor, Ralph Poulton and Miss Ella Taylor. The dinner was a very elaborate and artistic display of the culinary art, and the evening was passed most enjoyably in music and song.

Mrs. Mary Gates and Miss Lydia Gates came down from Salt Lake Tuesday to attend the reception of Miss Gates.

The anniversary celebration of the Press club on Monday night will be remembered as a red letter event in the history of the club.

The American club-woman without a badge is an anomaly. One Mrs. William Tod Helmuth, of New York, wears no less than fifty of these glittering emblems, while the "merest member" of a country club counts at least one badge among her terrestrial treasures. The badge "movement" began ten years ago. What shabby daughters of Uncle Sam organized national societies each society aspired to an appropriate symbol. "The more, the mightier" seemed to be an incentive with the individual member, for the average American club-woman possesses—and wears on proper occasions—a scintillating little row of decorations. One of the most prominent club-women in the country confessed to having joined a notable patriotic organization solely for the sake of wearing its attractive emblem.

The plan of the novelist, Marie Corelli, to consolidate all Shakespeare clubs everywhere into one general world-wide society is attracting considerable attention. The movement is even more ambitious than the federation of existing clubs and club departments, a yet long and prosperous life. A fine dinner was served. Friday evening a reception was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Groneman in the ward house, where a larger number of Smith, Max Smith, Walter Shoup, F. Lyon, Chester Mason, Archie Milner and Corfield, of England.

The reception and musicale to be given this evening at the home of Mrs. Lulu Young in honor of Mrs. Lucy B. Young and Miss Lulu Gates, promises to be a delightful affair. Great interest is felt in the young musical debutante whose vocal gifts have been the subject of the most complimentary comment both abroad and in her native land.

Mrs. J. E. Bamberger gave a delightful reception at her home yesterday, over 200 guests being present. The day marked the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Bamberger, and the occasion was commemorated by the decorations throughout the house, which were wholly in white. Mrs. Bamberger received alone and was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Greenwald, Mrs. Obendorfer, Mrs. Simon Bamberger, Mrs. Chisholm, Mrs. Siegel, Mrs. Nell, Mrs. Hanauer, Mrs. J. J. Maas, Mrs. Keith, Mrs. Lehman, Mrs. N. A. Ranshoff and Mrs. Joseph. In the dining room Mrs. Jacob Moritz and Mrs. J. C. Royle poured coffee and chocolate, and assisting in serving were Mrs. Helen Bamberger, Miss Mamie Sappington and Miss Sanders. Miss Leda Kuhn and Miss Nellie presided at the punch bowl. During the afternoon Christensen's orchestra rendered choice musical selections.

Mrs. S. D. Evans was hostess at a series of delightful events during the week. The first was an afternoon function on Thursday, luncheon being served at 1 o'clock, and a musical play afterward. In the evening Mrs. Evans entertained at a Pan-American euche party, the scores, tallies, souvenirs, and prizes being Pan-American moments purchased at the Buffalo exposition. The decorations were chrysanthemums and smilax.

Mrs. H. P. Henderson entertained at card tables Thursday evening in honor of Miss Reynolds. The rooms were decorated with chrysanthemums in pink, white and yellow, and the hall with autumn leaves. The scores and tallies were blue and white Wedgwood cards, and there were thirteen tables. The first ladies' prize was won by Miss Dorn, the second by Miss Claudia Morris. Mr. Critchlow took first gentleman's prize, and Mr. Brown second.

Mrs. R. G. Wilson and daughters, Mrs. Bertha M. Field and Miss Compkins left during the week to spend the winter in California.

Mrs. Sol Siegel entertained informally in honor of Mrs. George H. Taggart on Tuesday. Miss Rosa Glose of New York, who is to make her home in Salt Lake, delighted the guests with her vocal selections, the young lady having an exceptionally fine voice.

Mr. and Mrs. George Taggart, assisted by several prominent society ladies, will give a studio tea next Tuesday at Mr. Taggart's rooms in the Templeton building.

Mrs. R. J. Coleman, and Miss Coleman, wife and daughter of the manager of the Cactus mines, have arrived in the city and will be at the Fifth East street hotel for the winter.

Mrs. W. C. McDonald has issued invitations to a card party at her home, 718 south Second East street, next Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Victor Clement leaves next week

The week has been one chiefly of home entertainments in the way of receptions, Kensingtons and card parties, there having been a noticeable dearth of weddings compared to October's heavy list. A number of events are planned for next week, and the season is rapidly approaching for the flood of dancing parties that come with the cold weather.

One of the prettiest events of the week was the Kensington given by Mrs. Elias Wright, yesterday afternoon. The parlor was decorated with white chrysanthemums and smilax, the library with yellow chrysanthemums, and the dining room with the same flowers in pink and white. About forty guests enjoyed the afternoon, among them being Mrs. Walter Beattie, Mrs. W. B. Douglas, Mrs. Frank Groeschke, Sr., Mrs. Woolf, Mrs. Augusta Grant, Mrs. Nelson Empey, Mrs. Brixen, Mrs. Chas. Crismon, Mrs. Frank Stockdale, Mrs. James Moyle, Mrs. Oscar Moyle, Mrs. W. W. Ritter, Mrs. G. Gibbs, Mrs. Cartwright, Mrs. Grace Taysum, Mrs. Vinen McCune, Mrs. Thomas Lewis, Mrs. Nellie Taylor, Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Ida Snow, Mrs. George Read, Jr., Mrs. Albert Horne, Mrs. R. Lyman, Mrs. Horace Elberbeck, Mrs. Cannon, Mrs. Lewis B. Hill, Mrs. Fred Stauffer, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. George Savage, Mrs. Margaret Roberts, Mrs. R. Shipp, Mrs. Jenkinson, Mrs. Burns, Mrs. Henry Dinwoodey, Mrs. Orson Hyde, Miss Ada Faust, Miss Smith, Miss Annie Campbell, Miss Aggie Campbell.

The Misses Howat entertained at a Kensington on Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Schoppe. During the afternoon Mrs. Stanley Price favored the company with delightful vocal selections. Refreshments were served at 4 o'clock from tables prettily decorated, each in different colors, pink, lavender, yellow and green. The guests were: Mrs. Schoppe, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Donnie, Mrs. Lear Ritter, Mrs. Will Ritter, Mrs. Sadler, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. A. W. McCune, Jr., Mrs. E. V. McCune, Mrs. Hank, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Stanley Price, Mrs. Dorn, Miss Jennings, Miss Culmer, Miss Harrington, Miss Holmes, Miss Groo, Miss Schoppe, Miss Preston, Miss Porter, Miss Jasmine Young, Misses Dorn, Miss Welby.

One of the most elaborate and delightful affairs of the week was the card party given by the Misses Dorn on Wednesday night at their residence on east South Temple street. The rooms were beautifully decorated with a profusion of palms, vines and chrysanthemums, and the chrysanthemum idea was carried out in scores and tallies which were done in water colors. In the parlor yellow revealed the mantels, stands and tables holding huge bouquets and vases of chrysanthemums, and a pretty feature were two pieces of stationary embroidered with palms and ferns. The music room was beautifully done in white, chrysanthemums, roses and cosmos being used. Red prevailed in the dining room, Japanese chrysanthemums, American Beauty roses and carnations adorning table and mantels. The hall was banked with palms and yellow chrysanthemums, and here Miss Eibyl Anderson's quartet was stationed rendering delightful music throughout the evening. A charming feature of the decoration was the twining of ferns throughout the grill work of the arches between four rooms, the
