TRAVELING PASSENGER AGENTS' TRIP.

Railroad Hustlers Late in Arriving in Salt Lake, Owing to a Collision With a Freight Train at Boca, Nevada—Several Received a Severe Shaking Up.

The passenger men did not arrive in Salt Lake on time today by a heavy margin. At noon it was given out that they would not be here before 3:30, and it might be 4 o'clock. The cause of all this was a little misunderstanding with a freight train at Boca, Nevada, yesterday afternoon. The freight was taking water at the Boca tank when the special came bowling along. The grade is heavy and the track seemed slippery, and the special's brakes failed to hold. The freight couldn't get out of the way, and the special wouldn't, so there was a head end collision. Both engines were disabled, two flat cars broken in two and the platforms of the coach broken. The trucker wrecking train was three hours in clearing away the wreck. The engine men jumped and saved themselves. Of the people on the special, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Parker of Chicago were slightly bruised; Mrs. H. N. Butterfield of Milwaukee received bruises on the neck and back, and Mrs. L. W. Price of Kansas City had a rib broken. Many other passengers sustained slight injuries, but refused to give names.

The accident has upset the Salt Lake program so carefully arranged, according to advices from the Rio Grande office this noon, the best that can be done will be to rush the visitors around town first thing, and after showing the attractions, give them an early dinner at the Knutsford, and then take them to the Tabernacle for the recital. The proposed lake trip has of course gone glimmering, as the passenger men must leave for the East on schedule time. Quite an elaborate program has been planned by a large and enthusiastic association of local railroad talent, was at the depot to welcome the boys and express a hope that they would enjoy the fraction of the day that was left to them. He will accompany the passenger men to Denver.

The organ recital at the Tabernacle is tendered by the Presidency of the Church, with J. H. McChesney organist, assisted by Miss Lucile Ferrin, soprano; Willard Wehe, violinist, and H. B. Goddard, baritone. The program will be as follows:
Triumphal March.....Lemmens

(b) "Wagon of the Nuns".....Wey
Baptano solo.....Miss Ferrin
"Fideline's Song of Hope".....Batiste

Bluxome, the teacher of these subjects, in a manner that quite overcame the recipient of the unexpected honor. At half past eight, while an evening class was in session, the students marched in, and after the first exclamation of surprise and good will were over, presented to their teacher their congratulations, together with a handsome illustrated edition of Ben Hur. Prof. Paul made the presentation, in behalf of the students. Mr. Bluxome responded with grateful acknowledgments, and the party proceeded to enjoy themselves. Several physical culture exercises were given, including a new dance, the light-step, the movements of which are varied and graceful. WIFE BEATER GETS A STIFF SENTENCE

Dr. E. H. Schultz Endeavors to Correct His Wife with Chair.

HE GOES TO THE ROCK PILE

Given Alternative of $100 Fine or Three Months in Jail—He Goes to Prison.

To either pay $100 or serve 100 days on the rock pile is the proposition Dr. E. H. Schultz, a dentist, finds himself up against this afternoon. As he is unable to pay the fine, he will have a long time in the city jail to reflect over the folly of beating his hard working wife. But for the pluck of Mrs. Anna Oakley, proprietress of the Datt rooming house, Schultz would undoubtedly have seriously injured his wife—and maimed her for life. The fellow was arrested this morning by Officer Chase on complaint of Mrs. Oakley, charging him with battery. When the case was called by Judge Diehl this afternoon, Mrs. Oakley took the witness stand and told her story in a straight forward manner. She said that Schultz and his wife have been rooming at her place for some time and that about two weeks ago Mrs. Schultz was reaming for help. Running to the room she found the unfortunate woman on the verge of hysterics and her husband was cursing her. Mrs. Oakley took care of the woman for the night and since that time has employed her with some sewing. This morning, according to Mrs. Oakley, Schultz demanded $2.30 from his wife, which she had earned by sewing. Because she refused to give him the money he seized a chair and rushed upon her. Mrs. Oakley caught the chair and succeeded in wrenching it from the hands of the doctor. The fellow then struck his wife in the face with his fist. Mrs. Oakley at once proceeded to the police station and had a warrant issued for the man's arrest. Schultz made no show, however, and Judge Diehl wasted no breath in telling him what he thought of him, but assessed a fine of $100.

Colon, Colombia, Nov. 22.—It is reported that the government has addressed a communication to the United States consul general, setting forth that it cannot guarantee protection for isthmian transit.

Two sailing boats, having seventy-five soldiers on board, which left Panama with Gen. Alban, returned to that place at 3 p. m. yesterday and Gen. Alban and fifty soldiers arrived there on board the gunboat Boyaca at 7 p. m. The liberals here assert that Gen. Lorenzo attacked Gen. Alban's force after it landed at Chame, near Chorrera, and defeated it, only Gen. Alban and a few of his troops escaping. It is also claimed by the liberals that the other division of Gen. Alban's army was routed by Gen. Luzo, when 400 of Alban's troops joined the liberal ranks. The liberals at Colon are jubilant and assert that they expect Gen. Luzo to arrive at Colon momentarily. Further details were found, however, fighting are expected at Panama at any moment.

MRS. BONINE'S TRIAL.

Policeman Brady Gives Interesting Testimony for the Government.

Washington, Nov. 22.—The trial of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine for the murder of James Sigmund Ayres, Jr., was resumed today in Justice Anderson's court. Mrs. Bonine's party was augmented today by the addition of her brother, U. S. Grant Henry, who had come from his home in Missouri in order to be present with his sister during the trial. Mrs. Bonine's two young sons were also present, as were her husband and her sister, Mrs. Moacham, of Kansas. Walter S. Brady was the first witness called. He was on duty near the Kenmore hotel on the morning that Ayres' body was discovered and was summoned to the hotel by the proprietor, W. W. Warfield. He had, under Mr. Waterfield's instructions, forced open the door of Ayres' room. The door was bolted and not locked. The witness described the condition of the room and of the body. Three wounds were found on the body, one being in the breast, another in the arm and a third in the thigh. The bed looked, Brady said, as if some one had lain in it and had gotten up, throwing the cover back. There was only one indentation in the pillow. The witness said that a pistol and a small single-barreled shotgun lay on a trunk in the room and that the pistol was much rusted. The pistol was covered with blood. The pistol was exhibited to Mr. Brady and identified by him.

There was a pool of blood, the witness said, on the floor. Blood stains were also on the window sill, and washboard and on the rocker. On the table in the room there were nine cartridges loose. The gas was burning when the room was much almost turned over. The lower sash of one window in the room was up as far as it would go. The string on the window shade was covered with blood as if it had been drawn through bloody fingers.

In concluding his examination in chief the district attorney put in evidence the undershirt found on the body of Ayres. The witness said that the blood, the sight of the garment apparently affected the prisoner more than any preceding incident in the course of the trial.

The cross-examination of Brady said a boy had first notified him of the tragedy. Mrs. Bonine's oldest son was told to stand up and Lawyer Douglas asked the witness if he was the messenger. The witness testified that he had not noticed any other prints on the pistol he found in the room. The blood on the handle was unappreciable in quantity. He had, however, discovered the room, but almost turned over. The lower sash of one window in the room was up as far as it would go. The string on the window shade was covered with blood as if it had been drawn through bloody fingers.
