

SEEK RECOVERY ON CASH LOANS

John W. Ensign Wants Money From L. H. Dunning & Co.

A. W. SMITH ALSO SUES.

Former Asks Redress in Stock Transaction and Letter on Account of Money Loaned.

John W. Ensign today commenced an action against L. H. Dunning, James T. Fulton and James B. Black, doing business under the firm name of L. H. Dunning & Co., to recover $410 with interest from June 20 last and costs of suit. Ensign claims that on June 17, he borrowed of the defendants the sum of $500, payable on demand with 1 per cent a month interest, for which he pledged as security 200 shares of Yankee Con. stock that on June 20th Dunning & Co. sold that stock without his consent and without demanding repayment of the $500 borrowed, although plaintiff tendered them $600, the amount of his indebtedness to them. On this day Ensign claims that the stock was worth $1,020, and he is suing for the difference between this amount and the amount of his indebtedness. A similar action has been commenced against Dunning & Co. by A. W. Smith to recover $225.50 with interest on June 20, 1901, on account and $224 with like interest on another. Smith claims that on June 3 he borrowed $175 and on June 12 another $175, for each of which loans he pledged 100 shares of Century mining stock; that on June 20 he tendered Dunning & Co. $175.50 and $176, the amounts of his loans with interest, but discovered that Dunning & Co. had sold the stock. Between this date and September 1, plaintiff claims that the stock went up to $4 a share, and with suit is to recover this amount and $4 with suit from June 20, which is the difference in value between his loan and the collateral pledged.

DEATH OF OGDEN GIRL.

Miss Daisy Fell Passes Away in San Francisco, California.

Shurtliff and Cushman Appointed Jury Commissioners for 1902—Prof. Stewart's Lecture.

(Special to the "News.") Ogden, Nov. 23.—Miss Daisy Fell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Fell of this city, died in San Francisco on Thursday. Her father left for her bedside and arrived there a few hours before she died. He will arrive home with the remains tomorrow. Miss Fell was a graduate of the High School and the Agricultural College at Logan. She was a talented musician and had a host of friends whom she won by her sunny nature.

JURY COMMISSIONERS. Judge Rolapp has appointed L. W. Shurtliff and D. M. Cushman as jury commissioners for 1902. It will be their duty to choose 100 names between now and the first of the year. Heretofore it has been the custom to appoint as jurors those who solicited the position, but Messrs. Shurtliff and Cushman will appoint no man who solicits the appointment.

Stewart Harris, an incorrigible boy, 15 years of age, was committed today to the Reform school by Judge Rolapp.

PROF. STEWART'S LECTURE. Prof. William M. Stewart of the State University, delivered a lecture before the Weber county school teachers this morning. His theme was general school work, and the teachers paid him the closest attention.

LITTLE GIRL ASSAULTED. Unknown Man Entices a Child Away—Police Working on Case.

There was a lively stir over at police headquarters last night when the report came in that a five-year-old child had been made by some unknown person to leave her home in the fifth ward, old daughter of Eph Madson, a laborer residing at 944 west Fourth South street. The dastardly assault was made shortly after dark as the child was returning from a store a short distance away, where she had been sent by her parents. She was approached by a man who offered to purchase her some presents and by such inducements lured her several blocks away and then assaulted her. It was fully an hour from the time she left home until she returned. She then related to her parents an account of the crime and word was at once sent to the police station and Dr. McCoy was summoned.

Dr. McCoy found that the child had been roughly treated but that the foul wretch had failed in his purpose. Detectives Sheets and Janney went immediately to the place and searched the neighborhood thoroughly but could find no trace of the felon. They have a fairly good description of the man and propose to make every effort to apprehend him.

CHARLES B. FELT HONORED. Seventeenth Ward Sunday School Teachers Give Him a Reception.

It was in evidence, last evening, in the seventeenth ward meeting house, that the residents of that locality do not believe in waiting until a man dies before manifesting appreciation of his worthiness. A large assemblage of the associates and friends of Charles B. Felt assembled last evening and made it clear to him that he had won a prominent place in their esteem, because of his valuable labors, especially devoted to the interest of the ward Sunday school. Teachers, pupils, parents, Apostle John Henry Smith, Bishop of Beattie, Josiah Burrows, Stake Superintendent of Sunday schools, vied with each other in recounting the good which had resulted from the wisdom, energy and religious qualities which are characteristic of Mr. Felt. Toasts, sentiments and songs interspersed the speeches. Bouquets were presented, also a handsome album containing a photo of the meeting house, with portraits of nearly all the officers, teachers and members of the Sunday school grouped in front of it, together with as many likenesses of each of the officers and teachers.

C. B. Felt has recently been appointed to the office of first assistant in the State superintendency of Sunday schools, which made it necessary for him to be released from the position of superintendent of the Seventeenth ward school. The demonstration last evening showed unmistakably the regret of the people of the ward in being deprived of his valued services in this connection. This sentiment, however, was mingled with congratulations that his field of usefulness is largely expanded.

ELDERS HOLD REUNION.

Sixth Quorum Have Enjoyable Time At Sixteenth Ward Meeting House.

The Sixth quorum of Elders held the reunion last night at the Sixteenth ward meeting house. President Joseph F. Smith was in attendance, together with the presidency of the Stake and Bishops of the ward. There were about sixty people present including the ladies and the evening was spent most enjoyably. The evening began with a song by the guests and a happy speech of welcome by Pres. Alfred Winn. This was followed by a dust by Elder W. G. Bywater and wife and a few remarks by Pres. Angus M. Cannon. The speaker took occasion to compliment the Sixth quorum of Elders, remarking upon the improvement it had made since Elder Winn was made president, until now it is one of the best quorums in the Stake. There was a song by the Abingdon quartet and while the company was partaking of refreshment a photograph furnished the amusement.

President Smith made a few remarks which were highly appreciated. He spoke of the calling of the Elders and defined the functions of the Priesthood. After the singing of the doxology the gathering came to a close with the benediction pronounced by Elder C. W. Penrose.

Dyspepsia

What's the use of a good cook if there's a bad stomach, —a stomach too weak properly to digest what is taken into it?

The owner of such a stomach experiences distress after eating, nausea between meals, and is troubled with belching and fits of nervous headache — he's dyspeptic and miserable.

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia and have suffered almost everything. I have tried many different remedies, but could get no relief until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. After the use of this medicine I could eat without distress, and today I am as well as ever, but I always keep Hood's Sarsaparilla on hand." Mrs. J. A. Crowell, Canajoharie, N. Y.

"My stomach was weak. Reading how much good Hood's Sarsaparilla had done other people, I was encouraged to try it. My stomach soon grew stronger and now I can eat almost anything. My husband and I take Hood's for our blood in spring and good results." Mrs. A. J. Greeley, East North Yarmouth, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills. Cure dyspepsia, strengthen and tone all the digestive organs, and build up the whole system.

CRESCENS PASSES THROUGH UTAH

King of All Trotters Not a Handsome Specimen of Horseflesh, But Like the Singed Feline of the Story Books He Has Marvelous Action.

Salt Lake had the honor of a ten-minute visit of Crescens, King of the trotting turf today. The famous animal is now speeding on his way to Sacramento, Cal., where he will delight thousands of the race loving public by his magnificent bursts of speed. His owner, George H. Ketcham, will enter Crescens in the races at the end of next month. The great horse travels in regal style. A Wells-Fargo palace car has been fitted up for his majesty with all the latest equipment for equine comfort and Mr. Ketcham thinks it none too good for him. The horse is directly in charge of Trainer Tim Murnan, although Mr. Ketcham was also on the train. It is to be regretted that the horse could not be seen on a local track. It was Mr. Ketcham's intention to remain here for at least four days if some of the local horsemen would arrange for a race meet. This was thought of, but the horse was in charge of the finally abandoned project. Crescens is seven years of age, a native of Ohio and has won over $100,000 in cash prizes. His owner has refused $125,000 spot cash for him. This is his last season on the racing track. The above horse was taken specially for the "News" in Denver a few days ago by Photographer H. H. Backwater and shows the famous animal just before he was arrested for the latest trotting exhibition ever seen in Denver. His record that day was 2:08. His fastest burst of speed is 2:02. It will take no guess at all to prove that he can make more claim to speed than beauty. The man who holds the strap is Trainer Murnan.

PEOPLE WHO ARE PASSING

Conrad Kruba, a prominent hop grower from Oregon, is at the Knutsford Hotel. He says hop growing is the source of one of the largest revenues to the state, and the average annual crop is about 2,000,000 bushels, a value weighing 200 pounds each. This year's price, 10 cents is due to the heavy English crop. Prices of hops are changeable, moving to the advantage of the grower.

General Manager E. W. Vogler of the Redwood, Salmon & Gibbons Stage company, is registered at the Knutsford hotel. He is here to consult with General Passenger Agent Durley of the Short Line, with a view to service into Thunder Mountain district from Yellow Jacket the present most westerly point on the single line route from Redrock. Mr. Vogler says that there is great and continued excitement in his country over the recent developments at Thunder Mountain, and says that the heretofore inaccessibility of the section has kept its wonderful riches from being discovered; but there will be a tremendous rush in there when spring opens. In fact fifteen men, he says, came into Salmon the other day to outfit for the winter in Thunder Mountain as they propose to be the first in the field. Mr. Vogler looks for an extension of the Salmon river branch of ton case, which resulted in a fine in the police court, and yesterday, found a case of scarlet fever in a family named Torselson living on Emerson avenue in the southeast part of the town. The father had been riding up town every day on the cars, and the mother had been out among the neighbors. The house was promptly isolated and there will be no more exposures.

WARD ENTERTAINMENTS.

The entertainment given in the Twenty-first ward meeting house last evening was attended by an audience that taxed the seating capacity of the house. The affair was called a "Trip Across the Pacific," and proved to be all but a literal carrying out of that idea. The trip across the ocean was preceded by a very instructive lecture on the history, traditions and customs of the natives of Hawaii, Samoa, New Zealand, Australia, Tasmania and the Society Islands by Elder Benjamin Goddard. The stereoscopic views which portrayed graphically the scenes on the islands were a source of interest and delight. Native Hawaiians rendered a selection composed by Queen Liliuokalani which was an excellent piece of music. The audience demanded an encore and the natives responded. The old Maori chief, Harini Whaanga and his wife also rendered a song which was very much appreciated. The final turn-out will result in adding materially to the M. I. A. fund of the ward.

PAPER FOR LABOR UNION.

Utah Journal to be Started by the Federation. Within the next two weeks, it is believed, a new journal will be established in this city and will sail under the engaging title of "The Utah Labor Journal." A. B. Edler, the young attorney and socialist, will be the editor and W. E. Farr, a directory man, the business manager. The promoters of the paper enterprise went before the Utah Federation at its meeting last night, and secured an unqualified endorsement of the enterprise by the federation, which further guaranteed it a large subscription. A committee was appointed consisting of President Deane of the executive council, Secretary Dan and R. G. Shearer, for the purpose of co-operating with the publishers and furthering the scheme among the unions. Mr. Farr, who is from Spokane, Washington, says it is his purpose to publish an eight-page, six column weekly.

GOV. WELLS' RECEPTION.

Officers at Fort Douglas Call on State Officials. The officers at Fort Douglas, headed by Maj. Young, who is in command, paid Governor Wells a visit at his home this afternoon, as is the custom when new officers come to a post. Governor Wells was assisted in receiving the military gentlemen by the members of his staff, the state officials and the three justices of the state supreme court. The home was tastefully decorated and, as usual, Mrs. Wells proved to be a charming hostess.

TEACHERS TO WED.

Rumors has it that the city schools will lose two of their young lady teachers on Thanksgiving day. The story goes that the two ladies in question will give up teaching for ever and a day and commence the womanly occupation of keeping house. In other words, Miss Ella B. Cochran of the Lowell, Miss Abertie E. Davis of the Webster, Utah county, will enter the matrimonial state, and each has tendered her resignation for this purpose.
