

MINING, BUSINESS AND STOCKS.

EXTREMELY DULL ON THE EXCHANGE.

Smallest Business in Many Days Recorded This Morning.

STOCKS ARE STILL GOING UP

Movement Begun Wednesday Continues to Develop—Squeezing of "Shorts" Forces Stocks Up.

The mining share market developed considerable strength this morning notwithstanding the small business transacted. Substantial gains were recorded by some stocks and generally higher figures ruled. Good reports were freely circulated concerning certain properties and on investigation some of them were verified by those in a position to know. However, a general impression prevails that the "short" element, which is known to be very heavy, is seeking to cover and not a few brokers and others predicted this morning some "squeezing" during the next few days. It is said that the "shorts" on California are already caught, the bearish reports circulated to depress the stock having been so speedily denied. It is also rumored that there are some traders heavily short of Lower Mammoth and May Day, both of which are being held stronger. The latest advice from the May Day state that the gold and silver values found in the ore recently opened up are very high and that the strike is altogether sensational.

Today's trading resulted in the recording of sales involving 26,959 shares and $9,905.87. It was a very small morning's business and the general impression prevailed among traders that it is a temporary stagnation previous to some sort of upward movement. Ajax began the trading with one sale of 200 shares for $1. Carissa followed and only 100 shares came out for $1. While Daily West, a little stronger, was traded in at $2.75. Lower Mammoth at 63 was wanted, and May Day closed with 554 asked, after being dealt in at 52. Uncle Sam shared in the trading between 52 and 53 1/2 and a sale of Ben Butler at 12 1/2 was recorded. California furnished the excitement and was heavily traded in above 38 1/2, while Martha Washington came out between 6 1/2 and 7. The closing quotations were as follows:

SPECIAL STOCKS WERE ADVANCED

Was an Immediate Resumption of Upward Move at Opening.

HEAVY SALES OF SO. PACIFIC

Amalgamated Copper Brought Down, Causing Market to Sag—Bonds Were Irregular.

New York, Feb. 7.—There was an immediate resumption of the advance of special stocks as on yesterday with the Vanderbilts showing the greatest strength. Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis common was dealt in ex dividend of 2 per cent and sold at 10 1/2, making its rise three points. Sugar declined to 12 1/2, but was lifted strongly to 13 1/4. There were heavy sales of Southern Pacific and Amalgamated Copper which lowered them a point and sagged the list down. The pressure against the active stocks was increased causing them to sag quite generally under yesterday's close. The market became dull at the decline. Just before noon large buying orders were executed in Metropolitan and it bounded up to 17 1/2 with some strengthening effect on other stocks. Brooklyn Transit rose 1/4 over last night. Prices sagged again when Amalgamated fell below 7 and Metropolitan reacted 1/4. The market was dull and hesitating until a rise to 16 1/2 took place in St. Paul. The preferred rose 1/4 and reacted a point. The graners and Pacific rose to the best and the market generally hardened. Central gained 3/4 in all. On a previous reacted Lackawanna fell four under last night and Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis 2 1/2 below the best. Large amounts of Amalgamated Copper came on the market and it dropped 2 1/2 under yesterday's close. The weakness had only a momentary influence on the general market as supporting orders were placed in some of the western, Pacific and southern stocks, rallying them to top prices. Atchison, Wabash, preferred, and Louisville were bought heavily at advances of about a point each. Lackawanna fell eight in all. The buying diminished and the market became quiet again.

NOW DRIFTING FAR APART.

Washington, Feb. 2.—The two houses of Congress are getting farther and farther apart, and apparently the feeling between them seems to be growing. Many members of the House realize that the Senate is taking upon itself many functions which were regarded formerly as belonging wholly to the House. Revenue bills are completely changed, nothing but the title sometimes remaining. Appropriation bills are amended and often loaded with legislation, and generally the House has to accept the legislation of the Senate. Some recent events have intensified the differences. A House committee has reported a joint resolution providing for the election of senators by direct vote of the people and in doing so took occasion to cast reflections on senatorial elections and legislative holdups as well as to intimate that the upper branch of Congress was too far removed from the people. Then a Senate committee has expressed the opinion that although revenue legislation must originate in the House the treaty making power, the President's treaty making power, treaties with foreign countries which will supersede tariffs regularly enacted by Congress. Neither of these committees has been endorsed by their respective houses, but the fact that they have taken such positions has aroused considerable comment. Or course both houses will prevent criticism in open debate, but in private talk there is every indication of ill-feeling.

REPRESENTATIVE SUCCESSION.

Representative Jenkins of Wisconsin is not satisfied with the presidential succession law, which passes the Presidency from the Vice President to the President in the event of the death of the President. He has introduced a bill providing that the President should be succeeded by the Vice President in the event of his death. THE BURLINGTON ROUTE.

The "Constitution" of Atlanta, Ga., prints the following bit of truth from Smith Clayton, the well known traveler and writer. "At 8:30, on time, we rolled into Denver. We had made in just a shade over twelve hours. It was the most admirably sustained twelve-hour run I ever enjoyed on any railroad, and the service and equipment of this wonderful railway were in strict keeping with the remarkably sustained speed. "Since then I have traveled upwards of a thousand miles on the Burlington and do not hesitate to say that in all respects it is ahead of any railroad on earth and not for a moment forgetting the greatest English lines between London and Liverpool and Edinburgh, the Pennsylvania, and the New York Central."
