Preparing for a Lengthy Siege

Union Pacific Intends to Fight the Striking Boiler Makers and Machinists to the Bitter End—Precautions to Protect Non-Union Men—Thos. L. Wilson's Statement.

Denver, Colo., July 2.—A special to the Post from Cheyenne, Wyo., says: "The last doubt as to whether the Union Pacific intends to fight its boiler makers and machinists to the last removed this morning when additional banks and supplies were sent to the shops. The company is preparing for a long siege and is taking every precautionary measure to protect its non-union men. The strikers and locked out men are confident that their places cannot be filled by competent men for some months to come, and say that in the meantime they will strike at the company in unexpected quarters. The strikers claim that a large number of locomotives are already in need of repairs."

T. L. WILSON'S STATEMENT.

Omaha, Neb., July 2.—Thomas L. Wilson, vice president of the Machinists' union, today made a statement to the public in answer to that issued by President Burt of the Union Pacific railroad, touching the merits of the strike on that road. Mr. Wilson admits that the road has been paying the highest scale of wages during the past, but says other roads raised the scale of wages July 1, and that the demands of the Union Pacific machinists was "strictly in line with the general movement of all mechanics to get a fair share of the existing prosperity in the United States and to which we are justly entitled. On the refusal of the machinists to accept piece work, Mr. Wilson says machinists are not to be compared with train men, who do not come into competition with each other. He says that a system would tend to bring them into competition with sweat shop workmen and prevent them from treating as a body with the company. He sums up as follows:

OPEN UP ITS NEW BUILDING.

Elks Club House Doors Will be Ajar on Friday.

DEDICATED ON JULY 28.

George P. Cronk of Omaha Stated For Grand Exalted Ruler—Expect Big Contest.

The Elks will unofficially occupy their new club building Friday, the Fourth of July. On that day they will not only celebrate another anniversary of the Declaration of Independence but rejoice upon the practical completion of their new home, the finest of its kind west of the mighty Mississippi river.

While there are a number of rooms which will not be ready for use on that anniversary there is a sufficient number of them furnished to warrant the house committee in giving its permission to the members to use them. The dedicatory exercises will occur on July 28, when the contractors promise the lodge that the building will be complete in every feature and detail. On that day the building committee will receive the club house from the contractors, and in due form turn it over to the house committee in behalf of the lodge. It will be an occasion for a great justification on the part of the lodge, which will be celebrated in a fitting manner.

Almost all the rooms in the club above the ground floor are not only finished but completely furnished. On the ground floor the reception hall and several of the smaller rooms are receiving their finishing touches. In the basement there is still considerable to be done. But the whole building, from roof to the cellar, will be completed by July 28.

The lodge will hold its first session in its new lodge room this evening at the usual hour. Exalted Ruler Deardorff makes the special request that the attendance be as large as possible.

Two special meetings of important committees have been called for Thursday night. The parade committee will convene at 7:30 o'clock and the executive committee of the reunion at 8 o'clock. In anticipation of the reunion and the large number of people it will attract to the city during the second week in August the stores generally have laid in big stocks of their particular line of goods which will have a ready sale in consequence of the convention, and have placed orders in the east for additional goods which will arrive during the month.

The accommodation committee is much chagrined at the small number of vacant stores to be found in the business section of the city suitable for temporary restaurants. A number of the Ladies Aid societies of the different churches have expressed to Chairman Thomas Home the willingness to co-operate with the committee in serving meals to the delegates and visitors who will be unable to secure them in the hotels, boarding houses and private residences of the city.

The Salt Lake session of the grand lodge will be a most spirited contest for the meeting place for the 1902 reunion. Already three cities have entered the fight, with an expressed determination of winning. They are Baltimore, Md., Saratoga Springs, N. Y., and Des Moines, the capital of the cyclone state. They entered the fight in the order named. The Washington, D. C., lodge is the first on record to announce its preference. The advantage of the city is in the fact that the stores to place at the disposal of the church organizations. It is possible the women may be compelled to erect temporary structures.

Radical Change In Union Pacific

General Manager Dickinson Says Piece Work Will Be Introduced Over the Entire System, if it Takes Years to Accomplish It—Company Will Not Recede From This Position—Cheyenne Shops Will be Built Up.

Denver, July 2.—A special to the times from Cheyenne, Wyo., says: General Manager Dickinson and Supt. McKeen, of the Union Pacific, are here today looking over the strike situation. Mr. Dickinson said in an interview: "The shops in Cheyenne were not closed as a result of feeling against Cheyenne, but owing to strike conditions, same as the Omaha and Armstrong shops were closed. Citizens' unrest assured the shops will be built up; how soon depends upon conditions, but most emphatically the plant will not be abandoned. The company has decided to inaugurate piece work over the entire system, even if it takes years to accomplish and will not recede from this position. It will establish a scale of pay which will enable men to earn more by conscientious work than under the 'time system.' The officials leave tonight for the west to visit other shops along the system."

EAST INDIAN TROOPS REVIEWED

London, July 2.—The review of the East Indian troops today was largely a repetition of yesterday's function, but the varied coloring of the uniforms of representative corps from all parts of Hindustan formed an altogether more picturesque spectacle. Queen Alexandra was again the central figure of the proceedings and the public welcomed the opportunity to testify once more its sympathy with her on account of her recent anxiety and its alleviation by the good news regarding King Edward's condition. The review procedure of yesterday was followed. About 1,500 dark skinned troops, headed by a detachment of the body guard of the viceroy of India, Lord Curzon of Kedleston, reached the Horse Guards' parade to the strains of Sousa's "Hands Across the Sea."

Combine Against Morgan and Yerkes

London, July 2.—Both the moderate and progressive sections of the London county council have combined to attack the plans for London passenger transportation advanced by J. P. Morgan and Charles T. Yerkes with the view of preventing or delaying parliamentary sanction of the proposals presented by the American. Both the moderate and progressive sections of the county council contend that once parliament sanctions the projects in question, there will be nothing to prevent the amalgamation of the Morgan-Yerkes interests, thus placing London at the mercy of a monopoly, inasmuch as the new plans contain a clause for London passenger transportation advanced by J. P. Morgan and Charles T. Yerkes with the view of preventing or delaying parliamentary sanction of the proposals presented by the American.

Polish Hatred for Germans.

Berlin, July 2.—A symptom of the bitterness of Polish feeling against the Germans has been exhibited in the village of Juschnen, near Grauden, western Prussia. The east-bound passenger train was delayed an hour and a half.

Peoria, Ill., July 2.—The convention of the Illinois Prohibitionists today was a most exciting affair. When the roll was made for voluntary contributions the 1,200 delegates went wild with enthusiasm and crowding to the stage they showered offerings upon the stage. It was a roll of wealth and the chairman and secretary of the convention were compelled to retreat from the stage until it had quieted. Almost $5,000 cash was heaped upon the platform. The committee upon platform went into a conference and two platforms were submitted to the convention for adoption. One touches on all the leading national issues and the other confines itself strictly to prohibition and woman suffrage. A bitter discussion on the two platforms ensued. The convention finally adopted the minority report, which holds the Prohibitionists to the two issues—the liquor question and woman suffrage, and adjourned. The following ticket was nominated:
