GENERAL MANUEL A. MATOS, LEADER OF THE VENEZUELAN REVOLUTIONISTS.

Matos, who has been keeping President Castro's soldiers busy for many months, is a veteran Venezuelan soldier and statesman. He was minister of the treasury under President Andrade when that worthy was routed by Castro and was imprisoned by Castro. It is alleged, because he would not loot the national treasury for him. Matos regained his liberty and started the present revolution.

There were five companies represented at the meeting of the association to-night when the Cuban and Philippine resolutions were adopted. These were the American Beet Sugar company, represented by Henry T. Oxnard; the Utah Sugar company, T. R. Cutler; the Wisconsin Sugar company, R. G. Wagner; the National Sugar company, P. K. Carey; and the Los Alamitos Sugar company, J. Ross Clark.

Messrs. Wagner and Clark strongly opposed the Cuban resolution declaring the present gathering was not a representative of the sugar beet growing industry of the country inasmuch as the entire vote, including the proxies held by Mr. Oxnard, did not amount to one-half the sugar-beet factories in the United States.

Both Messrs. Wagner and Clark, after the meeting had adjourned, said that they would withdraw from further connection with the association as it had outlived its usefulness and was dominated by a one-man power. Mr. Wagner and Mr. Clark both voted against the resolutions. Mr. Oxnard contended that the yearly output of the companies which he represented and of those for whom he held proxies was vastly greater many times than the output of the companies whose representatives had opposed the resolution.

The Michigan beet-sugar interests have not yet passed on the resolutions adopted by the convention. The beet-sugar convention elected the following officers: President, Henry T. Oxnard; vice president, P. K. Carey; secretary, Truman G. Palmer; treasurer, Julius Stroh.

British Foreign Trade Statistics. New York, Jan. 8.—Statistics of the British foreign trade in 1907 have given fairly general satisfaction, says a dispatch to the Tribune from London, but the croakers are not satisfied that the gains will continue. Case Against Mayor Charters Nolle. New Haven, Conn., Jan. 9.—State Atty. Williams of the superior court has announced that the criminal cases against Stephen Charters, mayor of Ansonia and two other union men of that city, have been nolle. The cases are dropped by advice of the court, said Mr. Williams, "as the conditions are so changed that it is now deemed inadvisable to compel the accused to stand trial."

The arrest of Charters, Martin E. Driscoll and Jason Wright, all of Ansonia, followed a sweeping injunction which was obtained by the Ferris Foundry and Machine company in July, 1901, to restrain their striking employees from interfering with non-union men who worked during the strike. It was alleged that the three men mentioned violated the order of the court. Mr. Charters was at that time employed as a carpenter by the Ferris company. He was subsequently elected mayor of Ansonia.

Ada, O., Jan. 8.—Three men are dead and 14 or more other persons were injured, one fatally, as the result of a collision between two trains on the Pennsylvania system on the Main street of this city at 5 o'clock this evening.

Benjamin Zooko, Fort Wayne. E. J. Burdette, Dayton, O. Train No. 25, westbound, for Fort Wayne, started out of the station, but at the Main street crossing was compelled to stop on account of some accident to the air brake. A flagman was sent back to notify No. 19, a fast train going in the same direction, which was several minutes late.

On account of a driving snowstorm the engine of No. 19 is unable to see the signal in time to slacken his speed and his engine crashed into the rear coach of No. 25 while running at the rate of 40 miles an hour. No. 25 consisted of two coaches, the rear one being a combination baggage and passenger car, with another passenger car in front. Both were telescoped and scarcely a passenger escaped injury of some sort. The engineer and fireman of No. 19 were also slightly injured, but not enough to prevent them from rendering immediate assistance to those who were in distress.

The engine of No. 19 was almost demolished, but the cars behind were not damaged in the least and none of the passengers were bruised.

NEW ARCHBISHOP OF Canterbury is a Young Man and Ardent Temperance Reformer. New York, Jan. 9.—Dr. Randall Thomas Davidson, the new archbishop of Canterbury, says the Tribune's London correspondent, is a comparatively young man, and like his predecessor, an ardent temperance reformer; whereas, however, Dr. Temple was rugged and austere, Dr. Davidson has always been courtly and urbane, and while Dr. Temple was a school master, Dr. Davidson brings to bear upon the great work which lies before him, experience gained wholly within the church. Dr. Davidson, it is understood, would have declined the archbishopric had not King Edward personally requested him to accept the place. His translation from Winchester to Canterbury will mean an increase of salary from $4,500 to $15,000. There are now two vacant bishoprics—Winchester and St. Albans.

BATTLESHIPS ARE WANTED. Special Correspondence. Washington, Jan. 5.—The outlook now is that the naval appropriation bill will give rise to quite a spirited controversy in Congress this session. There is a very strong demand in many quarters for a large increase in the navy. More battleships are thought necessary, and it is upon this point that there will be great differences. Senator Hale, chairman of the committee, thinks we should have a great navy, while Senator Hale says that there never has been anything in the situation to make us deviate from our course.

A GROWING IDEA. The men who conceived the idea of fighting the omnibus statehood bill with a single state composed of Oklahoma and Indian Territory joined certainly had a pretty good look ahead. The idea is very catchy among Democrats and is very likely to go a long way toward electing an omnibus measure. Many Democratic senators have doubts about admitting either New Mexico or Arizona, while the doubling up of Oklahoma and Indian Territory is quite agreeable to them. If there should be a single state, it would get rid of a troublesome question—the government of Indian Territory—and especially in pointing that territory, which is largely "no man's land," so far as government goes. There is no territorial spirit and no curb upon the restless spirits that inhabit the country, except such as is asserted by United States marshals. Democratic senators familiar with the conditions think that joined to Oklahoma and admitted as a state the In-Foraker added to the Porto Rico tariff act a bill for the government of the islands, which was accepted by the house. A similar measure was reported from the insular committee of the house, and the bill might have been known as the Cooper act as well as the Foraker act. The house is responsible for this. When it created the insular committee, it refused to give it power to deal with revenues affecting the islands, and the result is that the way means committee handles the bills relating to island finance. The senate gave any committee handling island affairs jurisdiction over everything pertaining to the island. Naturally the division in the house gives the senate considerable advantage.
