

TOM SHARKEY IS A BACK NUMBER.

Philadelphia Sporting Writers Give Munroe Credit for Winning.

HE WILL SURELY MEET JEFF.

Generally Conceded That Miner Far Outclassed the Sailor in Their Recent Battle in Quakertown.

There can be no doubt that Jack Munroe, the Butte miner, had all the better of the fight with Tom Sharkey Saturday night. He outclassed him in every particular, and undoubtedly earned the right to a fight with Jim Jeffries for the honor of the world's championship.

The accounts of the fight, as published by five Philadelphia papers on Sunday morning, prove conclusively that Munroe outclassed Sharkey.

Following is what they have to say:

Lost His Ferocity.

(The Record.) Last night's contest proved that Sharkey is a back number of the pugilistic game. He has lost the ferocity which made him dangerous in former days. His judgment of distance is bad and his wind is broken. The terrific beating which Jeffries gave him has left its effect, and he cannot stand body punishment without betraying the fact that he is being hurt.

Has Passed Away.

(The Inquirer.) In only one round—the first—did Sharkey have the better of it. Then he gave a suggestion of the Sharkey who stopped Rubin in almost record time. The bout proved that Sharkey as a heavyweight pugilist has passed away, but it did not detract from the fact that he was the stuff of which champions are made.

Munroe Escaped Beating.

(The Ledger.) Jack Munroe, the miner pugilist, completely outclassed Sharkey. The miner narrowly escaped a decisive beating in the first round by running into a vicious right hand. From this round until the fifth of the contest it was all Munroe and had a decision been rendered the miner would have been justly entitled to a right swing on Munroe's jaw, Sharkey made a very poor impression. He was even slower than Munroe, and that is saying considerable.

It Was a Surprise.

(The Item.) To the surprise of most of those present, the miner from Butte was all over the sailor, and had a decision been rendered it must have gone to Munroe. At the close Sharkey was terribly bruised up about the face, but at that was in shape to go for a considerable distance. It is likely that the winner of the battle, Munroe, will meet Jeffries in Frisco. Sharkey is out of the running.

My Breath.

Shortness of Breath Is One of the Commonest Signs of Heart Disease.

Notwithstanding what many physicians say, heart disease can be cured. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure has permanently restored to health many thousands who had found no relief in the medicines (allopathic or homoeopathic) of regular practicing physicians.

It has proved itself unique in the history of medicine, by being so uniformly successful in curing those diseases. Nearly always, one of the first signs of trouble is shortness of breath. Whether it comes as a result of walking or running up stairs, or of other exercises, if the heart is unable to meet this extra demand upon its pumping powers—there is something wrong with it.

The very best thing you can do, is to take Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. It will go to the foundation of the trouble, and make a permanent cure by strengthening and renewing the nerves. I know that Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is a great remedy for a number of ailments, smothering spells and pains in my left side. For months at a time I was unable to lie on my left side, and if I lay flat on my back would nearly smother. After taking several bottles of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which I did at once, and after taking several bottles of the Heart Cure the pains in my side and other symptoms vanished. I am now enjoying perfect health. All those dreadful smothering spells are a thing of the past.—F. J. DRAKE, Middletown, O.

ABOUT WILMOT'S BRAVES.

The Dream He Had About His Baseball Team and Other Things.

The following appeared in the Butte Inter-Mountain recently:

Abou (Walt Wilmot) may his tribe show steam! Awoke one night from a troubled dream, and saw within the moonlight of his room,

Making it rich and like a lily in bloom, An angel writing in a book of gold. Exciting and made Walt bold, And, to the presence in the room, he said: "What writest thou?" The vision raised its head,

And with a look that gave delight, Answered, "The names of teams that have a pipe!" "And is mine one?" asked Walt. "Nay," Replied the angel, Walt spoke more low, But cheerily still, and said, "I pray thee, then, Write mine as one that will try again." The angel wrote and vanished. At the season's close it came as fair as a rose, And showed the names of teams that had run in the race, And lo! Wilmot's Buttes were in the first place.

Bike Racing Game.

F. E. Spooner, for many years identified with the game of bicycle racing, has written "F. E. Spooner's Bicycle Racing," the outlook for the game here this season. Spooner is anxious to get into the game here and says he has some rattling good ones who would like to race on the local saucer. As Schofield says he will have nothing to do with the saucer this year, he was unable to furnish Spooner the information he asked for.

STABLE TO CONTINUE.

Harry Payne Whitney Will Keep Up His Father's Establishment.

New York, March 4.—Harry Payne Whitney will continue practically intact the racing stable of his father, according to The Tribune. The thoroughbred schooling will, until the usual period of mourning shall have passed, be entered in the name of Frank R. Hitchcock. This is understood, as the desire expressed by Mr. Whitney during his illness. Direct announcement of the plans have not been made because the stable is being sold as an asset by the consent of all the heirs. The latter will meet shortly, should any dispute arise over the retention of any part of the stable, this must be sold. In this contingency Harry P. Whitney will, it is stated, bid in the animals.

ASCOT PARK EVENTS.

Perfect Day, Big Crowd and Favorites Got the Money.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 3.—A perfect day, a crowd of 4,000 and a dozen books, including the money of the best of the public describe the conditions at Ascot park today. Five favorites and a 9 to 2 second choice were first to the wire and the winners were long behind the books after each race. There were a number of sensational finishes. In the one mile handicap, a young mare, opening at 7 to 10 and going to the post at 1 to 2, Columbia Girl forced him to stretch his neck all the way down the last quarter, and in 1:24 was hung up when Wawwif poked his nose in front of the wire. Warte Nicht, upon whose chances much money was laid, was a poor third.

First race, six furlongs, purse—Revoit won, Magic Flute second, Maude Brown third. Time—1:35.

Second race, mile and an eighth, selling—Irms won, Durbar second, Turbie third. Time—1:55.

RACES AT OAKLAND.

Favorite Followers Had a Most Disastrous Day of It.

San Francisco, March 3.—Favorite followers had a disastrous session at Oakland today as only one first choice landed in front and that was in the last race. Duncannon and Amasa were two supposed good things that failed to win. They were both plumped on, Duncannon finished second to Laccoon, but Amasa failed to get any of the money in his race. David S. was the medium of strong support in the third and he was returned winner, while a young Marella beat Montana Peers the favorite, for the place. Travers gave Mr. Dingle a bad ride in the fourth at a mile and fifty yards, keeping him next the rail, where the going was somewhat heavy. As a result he was fourth. Pat Morrissey winning from Expedient and Prince Blazes. Handrace was easily the best in the last race and won from Modder and Fair Lady. Amasa Results.

First race, six and a half furlongs, selling—Adronaack won, Pastmaster second, Assessment third. Time—1:34.

ALL READY FOR FIGHT.

Jack Clifford and Tommy Markham Conclude Their Training.

Jack Clifford and Tommy Markham are all ready for their twenty round contest at the Grand theater this evening. For the lightweight championship of the state. Betting among local fight fans has been quite lively during the last two days. Clifford is the favorite, owing to the belief that he is in better condition than is Markham. The latter says, however, that his condition is first class and that he has no fear whatever for the result. Markham has had but seven fights in all, but he came out victorious in each, winning by the knockout route. The most important contest he has had was with Young Donovan and Roy Condie. He whipped the former twice, and knocked out the latter in the seventh round.

Clifford's record as follows: Knocked out Charles Davey in one round, knocked out Jack Madden in one round, twenty-round draw with Kid Oglesby six-round draw with Kid Oglesby, knocked out Roy Condie in fifteen rounds, knocked out Jack Wade in ten rounds, knocked out Jack Wade in four rounds, knocked out Hal Hawkins in seven rounds, knocked out Howard Ophir in two rounds, twenty-round draw with Perry Queenan, lost to Kid Fredericks in a seventeen-round bout.

A WIFE'S ALLOWANCE.

A lady writes: I think it is a disgraceful state of affairs when a wife has constantly to beg from a husband for money for household expenses. Too many wives have to do it, alas, and it is equally bad when the wage earner hands over his entire cash to his wife. In the one case the wife is robbed of her just rights, in the other too much responsibility is cast on her shoulders, and, as I view matters, the husband shirks part of his duty. Of course there is the wife's personal allowance, but that hardly comes within the scope of this article; however, I may be allowed to say a word concerning it. Every young wife should stipulate for a certain sum monthly for her own pocket; she does not require to spend this money if she gets ample allowance for domestic purposes; it ought, in fact, to be carefully laid aside or banked if there be sufficient; one never knows what is going to happen, and it is best to be as fully prepared for emergencies as possible.

I have known a case where a wife annually paid a month's bills out of her allowance, and naturally such an action not only saves a man's money, but increases his respect and love for his wife. This was perhaps an exceptional case, but no doubt many wives could do the same if they but made up their minds.

THE WINDOWS OF THE SOUL.

The most important of all our physical faculties is sight. The merest suspicion of falling eyesight will bring terror to the bravest soul. Our vision is almost as precious to us as life itself. There is no possession more coveted by women than beautiful eyes. Yet the owner of the ugliest or most repelling eyes imaginable is more to be envied if he can lay claim to better vision. The eyes which possess clear sight, whatever their color may be, are verily the windows of the soul. What instinctive confidence we place in a frank, sincere gaze! We feel that those eyes which spell goodness and even holiness of life in every glance are the faithful mirrors of the character beneath. All the great generals or leaders of men have possessed in a pre-eminent degree the calm, clear glance that magnetizes, a sure symbol of an iron will. Great orators have swayed vast audiences quite as much by the magnetism of their eyes as by the golden harmony of language.

SHYLOCK'S RECORD BRILLIANTLY BEATEN.

Major Wm. Bell of Chicago Exact-ly $32,000 as Interest on $4,000 For Four Years.

SECURITIES ORDERED RETURNED

These Amounted to $7,950—Excess Interest Was Not Included In Decree.

Chicago, March 3.—After paying Maj. William Bell more than $32,000 as interest on a loan of $4,000 for four years, Charles E. Rand, a real-estate dealer, wanted to "call the deal off." To his surprise he found that Maj. Bell still held his checks for $7,950, none of which had been presented to the bank.

Judge Kavanaugh has ordered that a decree be entered compelling the return of the security and checks, but has denied the petition for the return of excess interest.

On the last day of December, 1895, Charles E. Rand borrowed $1,000 from Maj. William W. Bell, father of Lillian Bell, the author, and gave his check for $1,000 and took Maj. Bell's it for $957. The former check was not to be presented at the bank until the expiration of one week. Before that time elapsed he found he would be unable to pay the check and told Maj. Bell so. The latter loaned another check for $957 secured on Maj. Bell's check for $957 and $43 from his own pocket, he paid his first check for $1,000. As the days, weeks, months and years went along, Mr. Rand still found himself unable to close up the deal.

The amount of interest rated at $43 each week for each $1,000 ran up so rapidly that soon he was borrowing more than $4,000, and he swore in court that this was about the average during the four years his dealings with Mr. Bell lasted.

In 1898, Mr. Rand made a new arrangement with Maj. Bell whereby his checks for $1,000 each were to be discounted by Maj. Bell at the rate of $5 a day interest for each $1,000. Early in January, 1900, Mr. Rand alleged, he was informed that Maj. Bell held checks signed by him which had not yet been presented to the bank, amounting to $7,950, and that Maj. Bell also held notes signed by Rand and his father for $8,000.

Bell declined to call the deal off, it is said, except by giving Rand $50 and collecting the money represented by the notes for $8,000. This Rand would not agree to, and as a result he immediately petitioned the court to issue an injunction restraining Maj. Bell from collecting the notes or from disposing of the checks.

Oriental Steamship Schedule.

San Francisco, March 4.—The Pacific Mail and the Occidental and Oriental Steamship companies have adopted a new joint time schedule according to which vessels will depart from this port for the Orient at intervals of about 11 days. The schedule includes seven vessels, four operated by the Pacific Mail company, and three by the Occidental and Oriental company. The withdrawal of the three steamers, the Toyoi Kisen Kaisha line caused the present schedule to be irregular and the new schedule makes no provision for the Japanese steamers. The new schedule of sailings will be inaugurated with the Coptic, which will leave here April 2, though originally scheduled to leave on March 31. Under the new schedule the steamers will remain in port from 11 to 12 days.

KAISER IS GRACIOUS.

At Instance of Ambassador Tower Pardons a Deserter.

Berlin, March 4.—Emperor William, upon the request of Ambassador Tower has pardoned Edward Engesser of Buffalo, N. Y., sentenced some time ago at Baden for desertion, to six months' imprisonment. Engesser left the army in 1870 as an act of youthful indiscretion. He returned to Baden in December last and was immediately arrested and confined. Mr. Tower found that the case was within German treaty rights, but he caused Engesser's petition admitting his technical guilt to be brought to the emperor's attention.

GIRL STUDENTS.

Their Offended Dignity Caused St. Petersburg University to Close.

St. Petersburg, March 4.—The offended dignity of 167 girl students out of 1,500 who attend the university extension classes has resulted indirectly in closing the university temporarily and in the partial closing of the technological institute. The incident, which led to these results, shows the excitable nature of students of both sexes.

Over 80 of the girls joined a few days ago in issuing an address to the effect that the meeting 167 young women, who had not been consulted, held a meeting after the address had been sent in and protested, first because the address had been presented in the name of the entire girl student body, and secondly, because the term "pupil" instead of a student had been used in the wording.

The resentment of the 167 girls grew as the meeting progressed until there developed a feeling of indignation to send a message of congratulation to the miked. It was finally resolved, however, not to attend further lectures, and the resolutions to this end having been transmitted to the directors as unanimous action, the classes were closed. This action, however, was limited to the extension classes. Never sold in bulk. Genuine tablet stamped C. C. Sample and booklet free. Address STERLING REMEDY CO., Chicago or New York.

OF COURSE SHE WAS.

Jenks was cashier for Blank & Co., famous woolen blanket merchants, and Miss Ribbons, to whom he had engaged himself, occupied a similar post with Dash & Co. As the principal of each establishment subscribed to the telephone system it is needless to state that many messages found their way from Blank's to Dash's, and vice versa. "Give me $9.31!" shouted Jenks to the operator for about the twentieth time before dinner the other day.

After a few minutes the bell rang, and loyevsk Jenks, after fixing the receiver, heard the voice not of his charmer, but of the operator, say, "93.31 is engaged."

"Well, I ought to know that, I should say," responded the disappointed lover. "Why, it's me she is engaged to, stupid!"

THIRSTY BABIES.

Thirst in children's ailments is generally a conspicuous feature and one that most people treat erroneously. Nature cries out for water, but milk is given instead. If a mother would bear in mind that milk is a food and not a drink then there would be less suffering induced by mistaken kindness. Hold the water first and allow it to cool; it can be given frequently, and the result will be that the little patient will become less fretful, the thirst will be assuaged and the feverish condition relieved.

male students of the university, who called a meeting. This ended in factional disturbances and rough encounters, with the result that the directors temporarily closed the university on account of the disorder.

Notice of the girl's protest having been posted in the reflecting of the men's technical institute, the disgust of a Jewish student was aroused and he tore the document down. A few hotheads rebuked him for this act of intolerance, whereupon a quarrel arose and the Jew struck one of his opponents. Other Jews joined in to defend their colleague. The stewards tried vainly to separate the combatants, whereupon both sides turned upon and fought the stewards. When the fighting was over the stewards resigned.

To Reduce Wheat Duties.

Madrid, March 4.—Owing to the great rise in the price of wheat on the Spanish markets the government has presented a bill in the chamber of deputies which provides for the reduction of the import duties on wheat and flour.

Franking Privilege Abuses.

Washington, March 3.—Charges that the franking privilege of members of Congress had been abused in the campaign in favor of the Dooliver-Hepburn bill granting police power to the states over the use of intoxicating liquor shipped into the borders was made just as the hearing before the house committee on judiciary was closed today by Duncan H. Harrison, representing the United Brewers association.

Mr. Harrison produced a number of envelopes bearing the frank of the committee, and passed them around the committee table for members to open. They contained a speech of Mr. Clayton printed in a section of the Congressional Record and a number of other documents which were declared to be confidential, on hearing a portrait of Gen. Nelson A. Miles.

Mr. Clayton demanded to know how the other documents got inside the envelope. Mr. Dinwiddie declared that nothing improper had been franked. The hearing will be continued tomorrow.
