SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

An almost fairy-like picture greeted the eyes of the guests who attended the dancing party at the Country club last night, given by Mr. Newhouse in honor of Miss Alice Goodwin.

The grounds were lit with electric lights and lanterns, strings of them lining the walks, and studding the arched entrance, while rugs, settees and lounge chairs made cosy nooks throughout the lawn.

The receiving party included, besides the host and hostess, Mrs. Henry L. Irving, Mrs. W. H. Cunningham, Mrs. A. E. Walker, Miss Elizabeth McIntyre, Miss Helen Gillespie, Miss Aileen MacLain, Miss Jasmine Young. About 40 guests were present.

Mrs. F. A. Vincent and Mrs. W. S. Loomis entertained at a Kensington yesterday in honor of Mrs. William Cortes of London, and Mrs. Robert Murray of Philadelphia. The rooms were done entirely in yellow, the effect being charming throughout. About 35 guests were present to meet the visiting ladies.

Mrs. David Keith was hostess at a most delightful tea this afternoon, the affair being one of the most elaborate ones of the entire season. The rooms were beautifully decorated throughout, and an orchestra rendered delightful music. Assisting were Mrs. Samuel Woodward, Mrs. Elsworth Dagggett, Mrs. Ezra Thompson, Mrs. Hoyt Sherman, Mrs. John E. Dooley, Mrs. Cordell, Mrs. Charles D. Bookidge, Mrs. J. R. Peckson, Mrs. Bookidge, and Mrs. H. G. McMillan.

Mrs. Leroy G. Dinwoodey entertained at a pretty luncheon yesterday, her guests being the members of her club. The decorations were in pastels and the favors dainty French fare.

HEADLONG PLUNGE; PROBABLE DEATH.

Painter Falls Twenty-five Feet From D. F. Walker Block and Is Badly Hurt.

The Mutual Improvement boards of the Basin stake will meet at the home of Miss Lydia A. Weiler, 128 west Seventh South street, on Thursday, July 7, at 7:30 p. m. A full attendance is desired. ALEX. BUCHANAN, JR., BASIN HEAT, Stake Superintendents.

NARROW ESCAPE OF PARTNER.

Victim is James Brown, Who Was Taken to the Holy Cross Hospital Where Condition is Critical.

James Brown, a painter 29 years of age, who has been working for the "Big Four" advertising company for a long time, had what may prove to be a fatal fall at 10:30 this morning. He plunged from a scaffold at the D. F. Walker building, 25 feet, to the bank building. His injuries consist of a broken wrist, a badly bruised face and contusion of the brain. The accident happened while Brown and his partner, L. Pratt, were painting a sign. The ropes sustaining the platform upon which they were working, broke suddenly, precipitating them to the roof below. Pratt was badly injured, coming in contact with electric wires, and he received a cut on the mouth. His life was saved by jumping when the ropes broke. Otherwise he would have fallen to the sidewalk below.

The injured man was attended to by Drs. C. E. and E. E. Wilcox, and he was taken to the Holy Cross hospital in an ambulance. It is not known yet whether or not the injuries are fatal. There may be some serious internal injuries. L. Pratt, who has been working with Brown for the past five years, and who resides at 354 north Fifth west, gave the following account of the accident: "We were painting a sign on the D. F. Walker building, and were on a scaffold which hung over the bank building. We had previously examined the ropes and found them to be apparently all right. While we were working away, the ropes on the end where Brown was, broke, and he fell headlong to the roof below.

"Almost instantly, the ropes at my end broke, and down I went. I struck some wires and also a board. I made a jump which undoubtedly saved my life. Otherwise, I would have fallen to the sidewalk with the ladder. The boards fell to the roof. I was burned about the hands by coming in contact with the electric wires. They were all broken down.

"When Jim fell I thought he struck on his head. He laid very still and I thought he was instantly killed. Several persons saw the accident, and as soon as they had the situation under control, they telephoned for Brown and I had a fall once before, about three years ago, but neither of us were injured."

The injured man is unmarried, and has been rooming at the Union house on East Temple street for some time. His parents are dead, but he has a sister and a brother living here. The former works for the Tribune, and the latter is a cigar-maker. They were notified of their brother's terrible mishap.

Officer Sperry and Patrol Driver Seager took the wagon to the scene of the accident, and they had a great deal of trouble to get the unconscious man into the wagon. They had to lift his limp form up through a window in the Crane building, and then bring him down the elevator. He was unconscious up to the time he was taken to the hospital.

In the patrol wagon he was quickly taken to the police station hospital and Dr. E. E. Wilcox made a brief examination of him. The doctor found that Brown's right wrist is broken; his right eye is closed; he has contusion of the brain, and possibly a broken jaw and internal injuries. The poor fellow groaned piteously during the examination. After he was taken to the hospital, City Physician Wilcox attended him.

When the ropes broke, several buckets of paint and some brushes were hurled to the street, and pedestrians narrowly escaped being struck by them. At last accounts the unfortunate man was still unconscious, and his chances for recovery are not very bright.

LAST NIGHT'S STORM.

Light & Railway Company Was Again Hit, but Not as Hard as Last Week.

The tall end of an electrical storm struck the city from the northwest shortly after 8 o'clock last evening, and short circuited the high tension lines of the Utah Light & Railway company between this city and Ogden. As the management noted the coming storm, the steam plant was ordered into operation so the blatus was for less than half an hour. The absence of street lights did not account to much as it was still daylight, but the stopping of street car traffic proved a bonanza for the hackmen who had their hands full carrying home people who did not care to wait for the street cars.

The storm appeared to be at its worst at Saltair, where it "blew great guns." Bathers were driven out of the water by the heavy surf, and the lightning zigzagged across the heavens in an alarming manner. But no one was hurt, and no damage was done by the storm beyond the interference with traffic.

ROBBED WHILE HE SLEPT.

Charles Saffer Dozed in Saloon With $85 and Woke Up Without It.

A stranger, giving the name of Charles Saffer, complained to the police this morning that he was robbed of $85 while asleep in a chair in a saloon last night. He could not tell who robbed him, but told the police that he saw a suspicious looking man hanging about his last night. The police are working on the case.

AT THE RESORTS.

The children of St. Ann's Orphanage and the Junior choir of the Catholic church, 175 aragon, went to Saltair yesterday, in charge of seven of the Sisters and Miss Gleason, organist of the church. The excursion was with the compliments of the Utah Light & Railway company, and as this included the merry-go-round and pop corn, the children were treated to a fine time. Bishop Scanlan was to have joined the party later in the day, but engagements prevented him. The entire resort was thrown open to the children, and lunch was served at 5 p. m. In order that the children might catch the 6 o'clock train, the day was very pleasantly spent, and all enjoyed themselves. There were no accidents or any unpleasant features to mar the occasion.

A GOLDEN CHANCE.

Opportunity for Young Men to Become Wealthy. The value of money is seldom appreciated when it is being easily earned. It is this fact that causes undue extravagance and results in subsequent distress. McGuffin & Co., the investment bankers, offer every man and woman a chance to place themselves in a position where they won't have to borrow. They will guarantee you 6 per cent on the dime and dollars you have accumulated, and the interest is possible risk of loss in the transaction. They place your money in no securities upon which they would not venture their own capital. Adversity may come at a time when it is least expected, but through habits of economy and thrift and by careful investment, you have accumulated a small fortune, you have nothing to fear. Wealthy people generally did not become so by speculation or accident. They merely did what you are in a position to do—invest a portion of their income and invested it wisely. Outside of the high rate of interest guaranteed, the best inducement to place your money with this firm is the fact that you are taking no chance of losing your hard earned dollars.
