

SHIP GOES DOWN IN FIERCE STORM.

All but Two of the Officers and Crew of the Steamship Peconic Are Drowned.

WAS STRUCK BY IMMENSE WAVE

Coming Just as Vessel Was Making a Turn it Caused the Cargo to Shift and Boat to Lean.

Panama, Fla., Aug. 28.—Twenty men, constituting all but two of the officers and crew of the American steamship Peconic, Capt. Jones, bound from Philadelphia to New Orleans with coal, were drowned by the sinking of that vessel off the coast of Florida today.

The disaster was the result of a fierce gale which raged along the coast during the night and early morning. Lashed by the storm, an immense wave struck the vessel with terrific force about 11:30 o'clock this morning. The impact, coming just as the vessel was making a turn, caused a shift of the cargo and the vessel leaned over and sank immediately.

The accident occurred so quickly that only two of those aboard her, an Italian and a Spaniard, were able to save themselves. They succeeded in getting into a lifeboat, rescued by a small boat about noon, and on landing told the story of the disaster.

About midnight of Sunday, according to their story, during the heaviest part of the storm, which had raged for days, the officers of the deck gave the order to put further out to sea, fearing they were approaching the coast too closely. In the endeavor to turn, the ship was struck with a heavy sea, the cargo shifted, and she began sinking rapidly. In less than 10 minutes after the alarm was sounded she had gone to the bottom.

One of the two survivors was given a seat at the time the order was given. The other was upon watch. As soon as the ship began to careen, these two men rushed for one of the small boats, which they jumped into as the vessel began to sink. With their knives they severed the ropes as the water's level rose and reached and the small boat was thrown far out on the waves.

They fortunately say that they discovered through the blackness and storm the figure of part of the wrecked crew, some of whom managed to crawl into another of the ship's boats. This was, however, caught in a trough of the sea, thrown violently against the water and then washed out. Their pitiful cry for help could be heard as the ship went down in the sea.

Along through the remainder of the night on the awful waste of waters, with the storm raging and threatening each moment to swamp their small boat, these two men were gradually borne ashore toward Amelia Island, landing just at 11 a. m. today. The men, whose names are respectively Regini Humberti and Antonio Clark, were unable to speak except in their native tongues, and it was some time before the facts of the disaster were thoroughly ascertained. They have testified to the correctness of the above report before a military public, and the community here cared for their wants.

At the time of the disaster the ship was about 200 miles northeast of here, heading south and in the teeth of the gale.

The vessel had been engaged in the fruit trade from Central America to New Orleans, but on account of quarantine regulations prohibiting the import of bananas she had been engaged for two voyages to carry coal from Philadelphia to New Orleans. She was a ship of 1,184 tons register and had on board about 1,300 tons of coal. She arrived at Philadelphia Aug. 13 and cleared for New Orleans Aug. 19.

MRS. ARTHUR PAGET.

She Will Have to Undergo Another Operation.

New York, Aug. 28.—Operations which have succeeded through the ministrations of Mrs. Arthur Paget, the well known society leader, have proved in vain, and another most difficult one will be attempted today. Mrs. Paget sustained a fractured thigh and the bones failed to knit sufficiently to support the weight of her body.

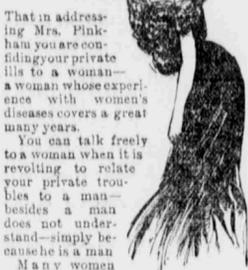

The operation now to be performed is a difficult and serious one and will, it is expected, last three hours.

The site of the thigh will be cut open and its location made until the fractured bones are encountered. There will then be firmly screwed together with ivory pins, and it is hoped, the fractured bones will be united strong enough to bear the weight of the body.

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 28.—Mrs. June Johnson, who was drowned today at Coney Island, was the widow of Maj. James Johnson who died in camp at Anstett, Ala., in 1865, and sister-in-law of Allen N. Johnson, banker and one of the leading business men of Arkansas, who died here Saturday night and was buried here today. Mrs. Johnson was Miss Helen Dalgleish of San Francisco.

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are considering your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years.

You can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides a man does not understand—simply because he is a man.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation. Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; this has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken.

Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

MURDER WILL OUT.

Body of George A. Reed is Finally Found

Butte, Mont., Aug. 28.—A Philadelphia, Mont. special to the Miner says: The badly decomposed body of George A. Reed, who has been missing since last June, was found in a shallow grave near Boulder Creek yesterday. The body shows that Reed had been shot in the back and dragged some distance to the place where he was buried. Owing to the breaking of a short handle the grave was discovered very deep, and the body was covered with brush and earth and a bit tree rotted and allowed to fall over the grave. It is supposed Reed was murdered for the money he is known to have hoarded in his home in Philadelphia. Two arrests were made this afternoon in connection with the crime.

According to the verdict the B. A. & P. company had failed to install gates at the street car crossing, and the city council was held negligent for failing to compel the railway to put in the gates. ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP RESERVOIR RESULTS IN ARRESTS

St. Marys, Ohio, Aug. 28.—As a result of an official investigation of the two attempts to blow up the reservoir, the reservoir near here during the past year two arrests were made today and more are expected tomorrow. Those against whom warrants were issued are farmers living near the reservoir. Riley Colton of Celina, charged with having blown up the bulkhead in an attempt to destroy the reservoir, and Parker Wright, whose home is on the south side of the reservoir, accused of being an accomplice, were arrested today and taken before the prosecuting attorney at Wapakoneta.

The farmers are accused of having guilty knowledge of the two attempts to release the water of the big pond. W. H. McClintock, secretary of the state board of public works, arrived in St. Marys today and ordered the arrest of all the accused parties.

The first attempt to blow out the bulkhead gates was made on the night of Aug. 23, 1904, when a charge of dynamite under the top beam of the south gate tore away the beam and a part of the upper post to which the gate is hinged, badly shattering the abutment and releasing one of the wickets on its fastenings.

On the night of July 4, 1905, a heavy charge of dynamite was placed in the lock at the lower north gate. The damage to the lock was even greater than on the first attempt, the gate being blown clear out of the lock. The masonry of the south wall was completely shattered. If the wall had been blown out it would have released the immense volume of water, and drained the largest artificial body of water in the world. Had the plot succeeded the property damage would have been immense, and loss of life would also have probably been heavy.

The reason for the attempt to blow out the bulkhead lock is said to be the fact that the farmers living in the vicinity are constantly subjected to great damage by reason of the overflow during seasons of high water.

SUPPOSED TO BE DEAD IN DESERT OF DEATH VALLEY

Bullfrog, Nev., Aug. 28.—Judge L. Bethune, brother of Harry Bethune of Butte, Mont., a well known mining expert and promoter, is supposed to be dead in Death Valley. Mr. Bethune, who was well advanced in years, while here a month ago, declared his intention of going to Randolby way of Death Valley. James C. Weller, father of Earl C. Weller of Telluride, Colo., who was searching for the body of his son, claims to have found a black mule straying around the water hole about a half mile north of Surveyor's Wells. A pack outfit which gave evidence of having fallen off the animal, was lying a short distance away, and a bundle and some letters marked with Bethune's name were found among the effects. No trace of Bethune's presence was discernible, and it is feared that the aged man is dead. The aged man is supposed to have headed for water after its owner lost control of it.

Lincoln's Birthplace Sold.

Hodgenville, Ky., Aug. 28.—Abraham Lincoln's birth place, a 1 1/2 acre farm, was sold today at auction to R. C. Collier of New York, who probably bought it as an investment. The price paid for it, $3,000, is not more than it would bring for similar purposes. The property was sold in connection with the bankruptcy case of A. W. Bennett of New York, who had purchased it 15 years ago from the Creel family, into whose hands it came in the time the Lincoln family removed from the state.
