RAPID TRANSIT TRACKS TORN UP

Mayor Glasmann and Other City Officials Take up Double Track Over Washington Bridge

TRAFFIC GREATLY HINDERED.

Bridge is Chief Outlet to Northern Part of City and County, as Well as of State.

Ogden, Oct. 27.—The feeling against the Ogden Rapid Transit company laying a double track and thus greatly hindering traffic over the Ogden river bridge on Washington avenue, culminated last night when Mayor William Glasmann, with City Attorney Bagley, Street Supervisor L. B. Balch, City Engineer A. F. Parker, Chief of Police T. E. Brown, City Detective J. F. Fender, a squad of police and a number of residents from the Third ward, tore up the new track that was laid across the Washington avenue bridge last Sunday.

The cause of the complaint on the part of the people lies in the fact that the bridge is practically the only outlet to the northern part of the city, and of the county of Weber, and is the roadway also to Hoxley county. To maintain a second track across the bridge would delay traffic, whereas, with the use of a couple of switches the street car service can be managed satisfactorily with one line over the bridge.

The authority for the mayor to proceed in tearing up the tracks was furnished in an opinion from City Attorney John E. Bagley. He holds in his opinion, which was admitted last night in writing, that the Ogden Rapid Transit company had no right to lay the double track over the bridge, and that the mayor was justified under the authority conferred by the Legislature upon the city to remove obstructions from its bridges. In the opinion of the attorney, it is necessary to remove the tracks to the north part of the city, and of the county of Weber, and is the roadway also to Hoxley county.

Without giving the streetcar people any notice, about 8 o'clock last night the mayor and his forces went to the bridge and in three-quarters of an hour tore up the 100 feet of track and plankings that had been put down. The mayor, including the mayor and other officials, took a hand in the work and worked with might and main in order to entirely remove the obstruction before the Transit company could secure an injunction or make any other move that would prevent the carrying out of the plan.

While the work was going on employees of the streetcar company gathered at the general office and an appeal was made to the city's office for aid. Sheriff Bagley and all his deputies, excepting Sam Cave, were out of the city. Deputy Cave was recalled on the scene of hostility and cautioned the men against destroying the company's property and was about to place the entire force of about 50 persons under arrest when the mayor requested him to show his authority by way of a warrant or an injunction. Not being able to produce either of these documents the mayor commanded the men to continue their work until he told them to cease. The deputy sheriff retired from the scene.

After the rails and planking had been taken up and piled by the side of the bridge, the body of the streetcar was in a short time returned to the city and was summoned into consultation with representatives of the streetcar company. The mayor had retired from the conference, the management of the Rapid Transit company continued in session until long past the midnight hour and received advice from the legal representative, C. C. Richards. In defending their action the mayor, the railroad people call attention to an ordinance under date of May 7, 1900, which provides that they have the right to construct, maintain and operate for the use of the city a single or double track railway upon any and all streets, highways, streets, avenues or alleys of Ogden. This ordinance was approved by Mayor M. S. Brintnace and published May 8, 1900, at which time it became law. The company states that it will decide on definite action in the matter today. It is claimed that Aug. 5, 1905, the city council, with a full membership, passed a resolution which was endorsed by the mayor, granting them the privilege to extend the double track system on Washington avenue, which included the Washington avenue bridge. It is further claimed that when the bridge was originally built one-third was owned by the streetcar company, one-third by the county and the other third by the city.

JUDGE PATTON RESIGNS.

Cannot Serve Longer Without Remuneration, as Duties Demand Too Much Time.

Ogden, Utah, Oct. 27.—The resignation of A. B. Patton as judge of the juvenile court of Ogden has been received by Mayor Glasmann. It has caused no little surprise, as Mr. Patton gave as his reason for not running for mayor on the Republican ticket, that his position as judge of the juvenile court was far more important to him, than any other honor that could be thrust upon him, and now so soon after that statement he has sent his resignation to Mayor Glasmann, which reads as follows:

"Hon. Mayor Glasmann, Dear Sir: Herein I tender you my resignation as judge of said court. No one ought to be expected to do the work as required in this court without some remuneration. I have now held the office for seven months and find that the time taken about three-fourths of my time. The establishment of the juvenile court is one of the grandest steps forward in our civilization. I am satisfied that within two years it will decrease the criminality of our city 50 per cent or more.

"I trust that you may find some one to fill the place and not let it lapse any day. Very respectfully, A. B. PATTON."

THOMAS DIVORCE CASE.

Moroni H. Thomas Sues for Separation, Alleging Cruelty to Children.

Ogden, Oct. 27.—Moroni H. Thomas, a well known business man of Ogden, has commenced a suit for divorce in the Second district court against Ida Pearl Thomas, charging his wife with extreme cruelty to plaintiff's children by a former wife. The complaint alleges that the couple were married March 15, 1892, that at the time of their marriage the plaintiff had three children by a former wife, and defendant had one child by a previous marriage and one child has been born as issue of their marriage. Mr. Thomas claims that his wife has been extremely cruel to his children by her former wife, making it impossible for them to live together longer, and asking for the dissolution of bonds of matrimony and the award of custody of their minor child be awarded to Mrs. M. B. Campbell. The suit has caused considerable talk because of the prominence of the parties.

ENTERPRISE NAT'L BANK.

Not Likely it Ever Again Will Open Its Doors.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 26.—It is not probable that the Enterprise National bank will ever re-open its doors. Such is the opinion of many of the directors, of whom it is said that their main hope now is to save the depositors as much as possible. The books of the institution are said to be in such a hopelessly muddled condition that it may take many weeks to arrive at anything like a lucid statement of the bank's affairs.

"I have heard for some few weeks talk among certain of the trustees that the facts that are coming out before the legislative committee make it necessary that this should be an independent investigation of the company. That it was to be in any way connected with the situation that I had been chosen a member of the investigating committee came as a surprise.

IN NATURE'S LABORATORY.

Barred deep in our American forests, many years ago, Dr. Pierce found a beautiful, blooming plant the root of which possesses wonderfully efficacious properties as a stomach and general tonic, also as an alterative or blood purifier and liver invigorator, having an especial affinity for all mucous surfaces upon which it exerts a most salutary, soothing and healing influence.

This sturdy little plant is known to botanists as Hydrastis Canadensis, but has several local English names, being generally known as Golden Seal. Dr. Pierce found the root of this common forest plant to possess medicinal principles of great potency, especially when combined, in just the right proportions, with Queen's root, Black Cherrybark, Stone root, Mandrake root and Bloodroot, the properties of each being extracted and preserved in chemically pure glycerine of proper strength.

This compound Dr. Pierce named his "Golden Medical Discovery," in honor of the sturdy little Golden Seal plant. So little used was the root of this plant by the medical profession at that time, that it could be purchased in the open markets for from fifteen cents to twenty cents a pound. The year in Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines—for it enters into both "Golden Medical Discovery" and also into Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as one of their most important ingredients—has caused the price of the root to advance until to-day it commands upwards of a dollar and a half a pound.

DR. PIERCE'S FAITH.

Dr. Pierce believes that in our native forests are to be found an abundance of most valuable medicinal plants for the cure of many distressing and most fatal maladies, if we would only seek them out, test them and learn how and for what diseases to use them. Furthermore, he believes that the vegetable kingdom is the one to resort to for the most harmless remedial agents. They act most kindly upon the human system and are eliminated or carried out of the body by the natural functions without injury, even in cases where it is necessary to make protracted use of them in order to produce permanent cures. Dr. Pierce's medicines being purely vegetable, are perfectly harmless. In other words, while they are potent to cure, being purely vegetable in composition and containing no alcohol, they leave no bad effects behind. This is not generally true when mineral medicines and those containing large percentages of alcohol are taken into the system and their use protracted over considerable periods of time.

Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol; and, furthermore, that it possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and a most efficient anti-ferment.

They stand alone.

The fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, nervous, women, over-worked and broken down bodies, contains any alcohol, entitles them to a place all by themselves. They are neither patent medicines nor secret ones either, for every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians now prescribe them and recommend them to their patients when they would not think of advising the use of a secret nostrum. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the foremost eminent medical authorities of all schools of practice.

ALL RIGHTS PROTECTED.

The exact working formula for making Dr. Pierce's medicines without the use of a drop of alcohol and preserving them unimpaired in any climate for any length of time, cost Dr. Pierce and his assistant chemists and pharmacists a tedious course of study and experiments, extending over several years. With the use of chemically pure glycerine, of just the right strength, and with laboratory apparatus and appliances specially invented and designed to carry on the delicate processes employed, Dr. Pierce finally found that all the medicinal principles residing in the several native medicinal roots could be more perfectly extracted and better preserved from fermentation than if alcohol was employed.

Besides the glycerine, of itself, possesses the property of greatly enhancing the efficacy of the several medicinal agents employed, whereas alcohol is well known to be objectionable in any medicine to be employed in chronic or lingering diseases, when, at best, treatment must be continued over a considerable period of time in order to make the cure complete and permanent.

The exact proportion of the several ingredients used in these medicines as well as the working formula and peculiar process, apparatus and appliances employed in their manufacture, are withheld from publicity that Dr. Pierce's proprietary rights may not be infringed and trespassed upon by unprincipled imitators and those who may be piratically favored.

In fact, Dr. Pierce's medicines is the frank, confident, open, honest statement of their full composition, giving every ingredient in plain English, without fear of successful criticism and with confidence that the good sense of this honorable lender of confiding to them what they are taking into their stomachs when making use of these medicines.

A little book of extracts from all the different schools of practice, including the strongest terms, all the several ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines and telling what diseases these most valuable medicinal agents will cure, will be mailed free by address to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., on receipt of request for same by letter or postal card.
