

KING HAKON VII AND QUEEN MAUD.

Throne of Norway Formally Tendered to Prince Charles of Denmark.

CEREMONY WAS VERY BRIEF.

It Was Accepted by King Christian On Behalf of His Grandson—Old Monarch Much Affected.

Copenhagen, Nov. 20.—The throne of Norway was formally tendered to Prince Charles of Denmark this morning by a deputation of members of the Norwegian parliament and was accepted by King Christian in behalf of his grandson. The brief ceremony at the palace recalled the similar event in 1862 when the throne of Greece was presented to Prince George of Denmark. The function today lasted only 20 minutes, but the scene was brilliant, as it was attended by all the princes and princesses and their suites, the diplomatic corps, including the American minister, Mr. O'Brien, and the high court officials. President Berner, in a speech lasting five minutes, invited Prince Charles to become king of Norway and King Christian, with similar brevity, accepted the offer. The old king was much affected as he blessed and embraced his grandchild, King Hakon VII and Queen Maud. The close of the ceremony was signalled by the firing of a royal salute. An enormous crowd gathered in front of the palace and gave a rousing reception to the king and queen as they left the palace in a gilded state chariot. King Christian read the speech of acceptance, which was as follows: "Representatives of the men of Norway! It has pleased us to accede to the desire of the Norwegian people that we accept the ancient crown of Norway for our dear grandson, Prince Charles. We cherish full confidence that the Norwegian people in common with him have a happy future in store for them. The young king does not come as a stranger to Norway for he claims relationship to former Norwegian kings. Nor will the kingdom of Norway be strange to him for everywhere in the land common recollections of history of the kingdom and the history of his race will meet him. It is our hope that the ties which even now unite the young king to the old land and people may be more firmly knit by the co-operation of the king and people for the welfare of the land and its future and it is our belief that thereby not only will the welfare of the Norwegian people be furthered but also the welfare of their kinsmen. We pray the Almighty God that this step may bring happiness and blessing to the whole north, and that unity, peace and concord may increase between the two nations. We are confident that our whole house and the Danish people share this wish. "With this I commend you to God and beg you to convey our hearty greetings to the Norwegian people which you here represent. "Turning to the new king and queen, King Christian said: "To you, my dear grandchildren, I address myself with the hope that God may lend you power and strength to serve your country and people with righteousness. In this way you will win for yourselves the love of your people and will feel yourselves Norwegians in your work for the happiness and future of your country. "You, my dear grandson, have here served your fatherland and king with loyalty. Therefore I am convinced that you will enter on your new and responsible task with good intent. Fill worthily your place and your father and mother, your whole race, the land of the Danish people and I, your king and grandfather, will all celebrate this solemn hour with warm feelings. "Go with God, my dear grandchildren."

At a banquet held in the palace to-night King Christian conducted Queen Maud and King Hakon conducted the dowager empress of Russia to the table. Those present included all the members of the Danish royal family, the members of the Norwegian delegation, the members of the Danish cabinet and other officials, the British and Norwegian ministers and other prominent persons. Altogether 110 covers were laid. King Christian proposed a toast to the Norwegian people and their new sovereign, to which King Hakon replied as follows: "In this moment, which is so serious for me, it is difficult to express my gratitude for your majesty's expressions toward my consort and myself. The illuminating example set by my beloved grandfather as a king and a man will always, in my future responsible vocation, stand before me, and I shall strive to emulate it. It is my earnest wish that God will give me strength and ability to create the same relations of confidence between the Norwegian people and myself as exist between your majesty and the Danish people."

King Hakon closed with an expression of the deepest thanks for King Christian's unforgettable kindness. The whole company then stood while the Danish and Norwegian national anthems were played.

King Christian tonight issued an open letter formally announcing the acceptance by Prince Charles of the Norwegian throne. He also announced the appointment of King Hakon as an admiral of the Danish navy.

PREST. ROOSEVELT GREATLY INCENSED

Receives a Letter from Henry M. Whitney that Angers Him Much.

CURTLY REFUSES TO SEE HIM.

Accuses Him of Deliberately Incorporating in His Letter Another Willful Misstatement.

Boston, Nov. 20.—Henry M. Whitney, Democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor at the last election, tonight made public correspondence which had been passed between President Roosevelt and himself concerning the statements made by the president during an interview last winter which was granted to a committee from Massachusetts on reciprocal relations.

The president informed the Massachusetts committee that called on him last week in favor of free hides that Mr. Whitney had deliberately misrepresented what had occurred at last winter's conference. With this experience in mind, the president declined to enter upon a discussion of free hides with the free hides committee, the chairman of which was Gov. William L. Douglas.

This statement of Mr. Whitney during the recent canvass in Massachusetts that the president told him he favored reciprocity with Canada was the one which the president took exception to. After the president had made public his address to the hides committee, charging Mr. Whitney with misrepresentation, Mr. Whitney maintained that the president had certainly spoken in favor of reciprocity with Canada on broad lines during their interview. In the correspondence which is given publicly tonight Mr. Whitney wrote to President Roosevelt that the president had done him a great injustice in charging him with willful misrepresentation; requested an interview with the president, and expressed his regret that reciprocity did not have the president's endorsement.

In his reply President Roosevelt declared that Mr. Whitney's letter furnished additional evidence "of the wisdom of my refusing to communicate further with you," and asserted that nothing he has ever said had given Mr. Whitney the slightest warrant in making the statement that reciprocity was being granted to Canada. He charges Mr. Whitney with making additional deliberate misstatements, and loses by refusing to grant the requested interview.

Mr. Whitney's letter to the president follows: "MR. WHITNEY'S LETTER. "Boston, Nov. 11.—Sir: You have done me a great injustice in publicly asserting that I have willfully misrepresented your attitude on the question of reciprocity with Canada, and that this was done in cowardly fashion, by saying it at the time I did, under conditions when the dignity of your high office prevented you from denying it. I think I am not bound to give you my opinion in my humble way to be a fair fighter. I believe I have a well established and well deserved reputation in this community for fairness and justice. I may have misunderstood you, and hence may have been led into error. You have charged me with an offense of which I am not guilty; you have condemned me unheard, I appeal to your sense of fairness for a personal hearing.

"My public utterances touching your attitude on this question are very few and very brief. I will bring you with me if you grant me this request. I will have the passages marked and I will not take you two minutes to read them. I trust that you will not grant my request, but whether you do or do not, I shall regret more than anything in connection with this matter that the righteous cause of reciprocity with neighboring countries is so much devalued to our people and to the whole of the human race is not to have the endorsement of your great name and the benefit of your potent aid.

"I take the liberty of enclosing herewith a public statement made by myself and my associates touching the matter of our interview with you last winter which perhaps you may not have seen, and remain, yours very respectfully, HENRY M. WHITNEY."

The letter from the president to Mr. Whitney is as follows: "PRESIDENT'S REPLY. "Nov. 18, 1905.—Sir: I have your letter of the 17th inst. In view of my previous experience with you, I am obliged to state with regret that I cannot out of the question for me to grant you another interview. In yours of Nov. 17, in which you make this request, you furnish additional evidence of the wisdom of my refusing to communicate further with you; my refusal being based upon your evident inability to understand, or determination to misrepresent, what I say. In this letter you state that you regret more than anything else in connection with this matter that the righteous cause of reciprocity with neighboring countries, of so much value to your people and to the whole of the human race, is not to have the endorsement of your (my) great name and the benefit of your (my) potent aid.

"Nothing that I have said at any time has given you the slightest warrant for making this assertion; and when, in the very letter asking for an interview and denying that you ever willfully misrepresented my previous remarks, you incorporate another deliberate misstatement, you can hardly wonder that I decline to see you, nor could there in any event be the slightest point in such an interview.

"In your speeches you pretended to quote from memory certain statements made in the course of a long conversation occurring nearly a year previous. You quoted portions of what I said—even as to these portions your language was inaccurate, and all the context was suppressed. As a result you as completely misrepresented me as in the sentence of your present letter which I quote above. It matters little whether this was due to a deliberate purpose of deception or to a lack, in both your companions and yourself, of a nice sense of propriety and of the power of exact thinking and of correct apprehension and repetition of what was said. In either event I feel that it would serve no useful purpose again to see you or further to correspond with you.

"You are at liberty to make this correspondence public if you choose. "Yours truly, "THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

The enclosures referred to by Mr. Whitney were copies of letters from Andrew G. Webster of this city and J. M. W. Hall of Cambridge, who went to Washington with Mr. Whitney as members of the committee, in which Messrs. Hall and Webster state that Mr. Whitney's public account of what occurred at the interview was in agreement with their memory of what was said.

MOST AWFUL SKIN HUMOR

Covering Entire Body. Shed Dusty Scales Nightly. Skin Cracked Open. Suffering Dreadful. Doctors Fail. Prayed for Death. Sister says, "Won't give up. Try Cuticura." Eureka! Instant Relief. In 6 Weeks Completely CURED BY CUTICURA

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s, Psoriasis, and others Leprosy, commencing on my scalp, and in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skillful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in the form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there would be nearly a dustpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half as large as the maple-leaf doctor, it was in the latter part of winter my skin commenced cracking open. I used everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 14th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Springs. I reached Detroit and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One Dr. — treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed for relief. I cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs; feet badly swollen; toe-nails came off; finger-nails dead and hard as a bone; hair dead, dry, and falling out as old straw. O my God! how I did suffer.

My sister, Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She would give me up, said, "We will try Cuticura." Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief, stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. I immediately used Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Soap. I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Cuticura Resolvent three times a day after meals; had a bath once a day, and used Cuticura Soap freely. Cuticura Ointment morning and evening. Result: returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as fine as a sheet of paper. (signed) HIRAM E. CARPENTER, Henderson, Jefferson Co., N. Y.

We hereby certify that we are acquainted with the aforesaid Hiram E. Carpenter, and know his condition to have been as stated. We believe his statement to be in every particular correct. E. E. SIMMONS, Wholesale Merchants; C. A. THOMPSON, Merchant; A. Davis, Millwright; M. C. JONES, Jeweler; J. A. CARPENTER, Attorney and Counselor-at-Law, all of Henderson, N. Y.

The above testimony was given January 20, 1905. Under date of March 20, 1905, Mr. Carpenter writes to say that he has never since had a relapse of his skin disease, cured by the Cuticura Remedies, twenty-five years ago.

SARAH BERNHARDT BEGINS HER FAREWELL TOUR.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Sarah Bernhardt has lost none of her popularity in Chicago. Tonight, which is her last night here, she appeared at the Grand Opera House, in which it is advertised as her farewell tour of America, she was greeted by an audience made up of Chicago's most representative citizens. Had the playhouse been twice the size that it is, every seat would probably have been occupied as the "sold out" sign was hung up in front of the box office as early as 6 o'clock in the evening, while hundreds of persons were standing in line and offering premiums to those who had been so fortunate as to obtain seats.

For the first night's performance of her week's engagement here Mme. Bernhardt produced "La Sorciere," and, although suffering fatigue from her long journey from Rio de Janeiro to Chicago by way of Paris and New York, she demonstrated that she has lost none of her powers as an actress. When Mme. Bernhardt arrived in Chicago tonight at 4:20 o'clock over the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad she completed a journey of 5,900 miles which began in Rio de Janeiro on Oct. 10. From South America she went to Lisbon. From Lisbon she went to Paris, thence to Havre, where she took passage for New York. The vessel she reached New York several hours behind schedule time, which necessitated a hurried journey from New York to Chicago. This was accomplished, the special train carrying Mme. Bernhardt and her company leaving New York at 8:30 last night and reached here at 4:20 this afternoon. As a recompense for her hurried trip when Mme. Bernhardt stepped from her private car at the Rock Island station she was greeted by a crowd numbering over 10,000 persons who struggled to catch a glimpse of the French tragedienne. Henri Merou, the French consul in Chicago, welcomed her to Chicago. After alighting from the special train she was driven to the Auditorium annex, where she endeavored to secure a little rest after her exciting journey before appearing at the theater.

MARLOWE AND SOTHERN. New York, Nov. 20.—Julia Marlowe and E. H. Sothern tonight revived "Romeo and Juliet" at the Knickerbocker.

theater. The play will run for a week, after which Miss Marlowe and Mr. Sothern will go on the road in Shakespearean repertoire. The play tonight was greeted by a large audience, who between each of the five acts called on the two favorites to answer certain questions.

BERTON'S NEW PLAY.

Baltimore, Nov. 20.—"Labels Mal'celline" the new play by Pierre Berton, the author of "Zaza," was given its first American presentation tonight at Ford's theater by Charles Frohman. The author and his wife were present, having come from Paris to witness this performance. Mr. Frohman presented Virginia Harned in the principal role and has surrounded her with a capable company. Mr. Berton's play has all of the dramatic strength and fine comedy of "Zaza" without such a disagreeable theme. It was warmly received by a large and representative audience.

HUNDRED AND FORTY-EIGHT PERISHED ON THE HILDA.

London, Nov. 20.—One hundred and twenty-eight persons lost their lives in the wreck of the London & Southwestern Railway company's steamer Hilda, off the northern coast of France, Saturday night, according to an official estimate given out tonight by the officers of the company. This death toll includes 21 saloon passengers, 50 French outfit sellers, and 27 of the crew.

Distressing scenes were witnessed today at the office of the London & Southwestern Railway company, both in London and at Southampton, but the company had no information to give the relatives of the missing passengers and was unable to hold out the slightest hopes. The officials said it would have been impossible for a boat to live for more than a few minutes in such a sea. The company was unable to furnish a list of the passengers, but it is known that the entire family of Dr. Stanley, a London physician, Mrs. Stanley and their two daughters, were lost. All the crew, numbering 27 men, belonged to Southampton. Only three of them are unmarried.

JACK LONDON MAY HAVE TO MARRY AGAIN.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Because of his ignorance of a new law governing the marriage of divorced persons in the state of Illinois, Jack London, the well known author, has placed himself in a somewhat embarrassing position, and it may be necessary for him to remarry Miss Charmion.

It is declared by lawyers in this city, however, that divorce is not effective until the final decree is granted and that the one year of probation must elapse after that time. When the situation was brought home to the author today, he said: "I will get married in every state in the Union just as fast as I can get from one to another if it is necessary. The state law of California provides that a divorced person may not marry within a year and to encompass this end the court grants a divorce and one year later, a decree, and this decree was granted last Saturday. As to whether this divorce is amenable to the laws of Illinois is something I do not know, but it seems that the Illinois law did not go into effect until last July and it cannot affect my case."
