Races at Saucer Were the Most Exciting of the Entire Season.

THREE RECORDS SMASHED.

Iver Lawson Again the Hero, But He Shows His Endurance Has a Limit.

Iver Lawson is after all a machine of flesh and blood, and has a limit to his endurance, and a limit to his speed, was observed by the saucer hound crowd at the Salt Palace yesterday.

The crowd learned to their surprise that Iver Lawson is not a machine of steel, but a man of flesh and blood, and that he is not a machine of steel, but a man of flesh and blood.

Last night they saw him wobble and fall out from behind him to finish in a record time. Incidentally, the racing was that of things yet to be expected.

The future from several new favorites, Jumper and West are two of them. Jumper and West are two of them. Jumper and West are two of them.

BOWERS JEWELER

Farland (scratch), Hopper (30 yards), Bardget (30 yards), Wilcox (30 yards), Burris (30 yards), Time—1:51. (Record).

At the county clerk's office yesterday the diamond golf course was opened for the season, and some fairly good scores were made.

The following totals were recorded in the first match:

Table with 2 columns: Name, Gross Handicap, Net.

OGDEN DEFEATED.

Was no Match for the Efficient Eureka Ball Team.

Not content with getting lambasted out of his action today by Salt Lake, the Ogden team yesterday went against Eureka with his lobster lunch, and proved himself a veritable gizzard of punishment.

He stood up well under a howler, and put up the fastest losing game yet played in the state league.

The final score was 2-1 in favor of Eureka. The individual work of both teams was what cut down the score, and it kept the fans laughing all the while.

ABE ATTELL AND HIS BATTLE

His Remarkable Cleverness Was Too Much for Frankie Neil.

Frankie Neil, the champion featherweight of the Pacific Athletic club here today, the fight went the way of the underdog, and Attehl was declared winner by the decision.

The verdict met with popular approval, and as Attehl rushed across the ring and embraced his opponent he was cheered to the echo by the great crowd which filled the amphitheater.

Attehl put up one of the best fights ever seen in this city. Neil forced the fighting almost from the first to the twentieth round, and he was all times crowding his opponent and was a constant menace.

Neil was a great game for Eureka, while Attehl held down the Ogden box in excellent style, and suffered defeat only through the occurrence of several critical errors.

Attehl too clever. But a small percentage of Neil's blows landed on Attehl, and but once or twice did the latter appear worried.

Neil, however, was the stronger and had his heavier blows landed on a vital spot that would have rendered Attehl unconscious, while both eyes were slightly discolored, showed but little effects of the terrific blow.

On the other hand, the entire left side of Neil's face was battered black and blue, his eye closed shut and his nose bled and bleeding from the seemingly countless jabs that Attehl landed.
