HEARINGS IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Derelict County Attorney Reprimanded by Court—Released From Industrial School.

J. E. TAYLOR BURNED TO DEATH

Shocking Fatality Occurred at Pocatello Through Explosion of Gasoline Engine.

Ogden, May 18.—Dist. Judge Howell granted the application of Nancy E. Lawhorn on behalf of Joseph R. Lawhorn, her son, for a writ of habeas corpus. The applicant claimed that the boy is but 16 years of age, and that Judge Booth of Provo, sitting as a juvenile judge, committed the boy to the industrial school without authority to do so, and that he is now confined at the school unlawfully.

James McFall and C. W. France were given their hearing in the district court yesterday before Judge Howell on the charge of burglary. The jury after hearing the evidence brought in a verdict of not guilty. The attorneys for both defendants asked for a dismissal of the case after the securing of a jury on the grounds that the preliminary examination was held in the municipal court of Ogden City on the 27th day of February, 1907; the defendant and co-defendant were held by that court to answer to this court to a charge of attempted burglary. The files and papers in the case from the municipal court were filed in this court—were received by the clerk of this court on Feb. 27, 1907, and they were filed in this court on April 17, 1907, and that more than 30 days elapsed between the date on which the defendant was held to answer to this charge and the filing of the information, but no information charging burglary in the first degree was filed by the district attorney in this court.

Dist. Atty. Halverson stated that he was slow in bringing the case to trial because the county attorney did not furnish him with either a transcript of the evidence or a synopsis of it as given at the preliminary hearing and he had to take time to look up the evidence himself. The court in passing on the motion said: "I think, gentlemen, the motion should be denied in this particular case, but it does appear to me to criticize very severely the manner in which public prosecutions are being conducted in this county. Of course in doing so I exculpate the district attorney from all blame in the particular case, on his statement, but it does seem to me that cases should not be delayed so long, and that the district attorney should be furnished sufficient information upon which to proceed with these cases. It may well happen that if the preliminary examinations are not taken down by a stenographer and given to the district attorney, or if the district attorney is not at least furnished with a synopsis of the evidence in such preliminary examinations, there may be in many cases a miscarriage of justice. I read in the newspapers that the county attorney was furnished a stenographer to do this work. If the work is not being done it seems to me that the court it is high time that there should be an inquiry as to why it is that the practice which has always hitherto prevailed, that is, of taking the testimony in preliminary examina-

SHOCKING FATALITY.

J. E. Taylor Burned to Death at Pocatello.

Ogden, May 18.—Through a telephone message from Pocatello, Idaho, to the editor of the Ellicie Cleaning Works of this city, the sad information was given that J. E. Taylor, formerly manager of the plant in this city, but who went to Pocatello to take charge of a branch cleaning plant for the company, was burned to death yesterday morning by the explosion of a new gasoline engine he was installing in the place, and the building in which he was working was partially destroyed by the flames. Edward and Jay Williams immediately went to Pocatello to arrange for the shipment of his remains to Ogden for burial. Mr. Taylor leaves a wife and several children. He was well known in Ogden and highly respected.

DECIDING THE QUESTION.

IT OUGHT to be decided in a common sense way. Shall we buy furniture for appearance only, or shall we try to obtain appearance and quality—that is the query. Let us here observe that long experience has taught us that the latter is better. We have combined goodness with beauty in this year's stock. We call your attention this coming week to a few high class articles.

Crex Grass Furniture.

This well known brand of Summer furniture possesses just the qualities one looks for in this sort of goods—Lightness, Coolness, Style, Strength. You can enjoy real summer comfort if your porch or home contains a few pieces. We have Chairs, Rockers, Settees, etc.

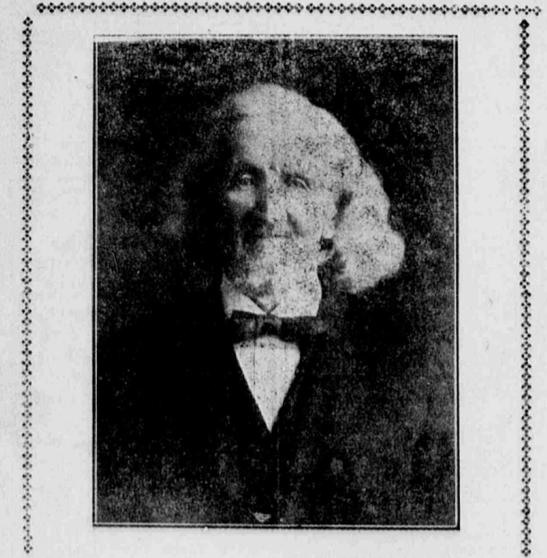

Staine's English Linoleum

You have never seen a linoleum as good as this. For high finish and durability no other equals it. We have just received a shipment of patterns in carpet imitations that are fine. Really you should call and see them even if you are not buying linoleum now, their exceptional quality and attractiveness merit an inspection.

HAMMOCKS

There are hammocks and there are hammocks. Ours are possessed of the virtues of strength and long life. Each one well made and a variety extensive enough to assure anyone finding just what you want.

H. Dinwoodey FURNITURE COMPANY

THE LATE WM. WEAVER.

William Weaver, an old resident and pioneer of Ogden, passed away on May 2 at the ripe age of 82 years. He was a son of John Weaver and Rebecca Ellis Weaver. He was born on March 23, 1825, at Childs Ercell, England. In 1848 he was married to Ann Watkins. On Aug. 29, 1852, he was baptized. Public sentiment and prejudice were so strong against adherents of Mormonism, he was given his choice of leaving the parish or giving up the principles he had accepted; but his convictions to the truth of the gospel were so strong, no sacrifice was too great for him to make for his religion, consequently he must seek a new home. He moved his family to Market Drayton, and after residing there a short time was chosen to preside over that branch, in which capacity he labored faithfully until the year 1864, when he and his family, consisting of his wife and seven children, emigrated to America. Upon arriving at New York he was forced to discontinue the journey on account of financial difficulties, but after three years of hard work and sacrifice, arriving at Ogden in the fall of 1868, where he has resided continuously ever since.

Father Weaver was a man possessed of sterling qualities, industrious, faithful and always at his post of duty. He has held different offices in the priesthood and at the time of his demise was a member of the high priests' quorum. He was the father of 11 children, eight of whom survive him. His posterity is quite numerous, having 45 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

Free from Alcohol

Since May, 1906, Ayer's Sarsaparilla has been entirely free from alcohol. If you are in poor health, weak, pale, nervous, ask your doctor about taking this non-alcoholic tonic and alternative. If he has a better medicine, take his. Get the best, always. This is our advice.
