SOCIAL CHAT

Mr. and Mrs. David Cameron announce the engagement of their daughter, Sarah J., to J. Dilworth Ward, the marriage to take place early next month.

Last Monday the Misses Amy and Jeanette Peterson entertained at a delightful afternoon affair for two of the August brides, Miss Winona Jones and Miss Katherine Thomas. The house was decorated throughout with flowers, music and an interesting game forming the chief diversions of the afternoon. The dining room was in red and white, a basket of red sweet peas forming the centerpiece of the table. The place cards were decorated with cupid. Red ribbons reached from the chandelier to the four corners of the table to form a canopy of sweet peas. The Misses Louise Osborne and Adelaide Jackson served in the dining room. Those present, besides the guests of honor, were Mrs. A. T. Warren, Mrs. Thomas Wise, Mrs. A. W. Warren, Mrs. Haindl, Miss Elsie Schied, Miss Florence Sears, Miss Irma Walker, Miss Villa Auger, the Misses Bertha and Bess Terry, Misses Hendra Wallace, Miss Ida McDonald, Miss Goldthwaite and Miss Eberhardt.

Miss Edith Edmunds entertained at a china shower for Miss Genevieve Smoot, who was married Wednesday to W. R. Spettigue last Monday. Games and music and dainty refreshments made the time pass merrily. A mock marriage being one of the laughable incidents. Miss Smoot received many beautiful gifts in china ware.

Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Porter entertained six at dinner at their home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Walker, Miss Florence Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Elbridge Thomas and Mrs. James Stephenson.

One of the three large weddings that took place Wednesday evening was that of Miss Genevieve Smoot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. A. Smoot, Jr., and W. R. Spettigue, at the home of the bride's sister, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Iverson, Bishop H. C. Iverson performing the ceremony. The bride wore a pretty white mouselinee princess gown with Hatterburg trimmings, long tulle veil, and carried a beautiful shower bouquet of sweet peas. Miss Zina Edmunds, the bridesmaid wore a gown of pink organdy and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas. Little Jane Iverson, the ring-bearer, was delightfully gowned in white. The house was decorated throughout in pink and white with wreaths of smilax.

A reception from 6:30 to 10 o'clock followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. A. Smoot, parents of the bride, assisted in receiving. After a short wedding trip to Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Spettigue will make their home in Salt Lake.

A large number of invitations have been issued for the wedding reception of Miss Ethel Genevieve Rogers and E. Leroy Bourne, which takes place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orson T. Rogers, 111 Third avenue.

A delightful lake party was given Tuesday evening for Mrs. Charles W. Reeder of La Porte, Ind., who is visiting in Salt Lake with relatives. Her sisters, Mrs. Bull and Mrs. Emma, were the hostesses.

Mrs. James Stephenson was honor guest at a bridge party Wednesday afternoon, given by Mrs. C. B. Oanderdonk, at her apartments in the Kensington.

Tuesday evening the Misses Perri and Nora Van Cott gave a dinner for Miss Jennie Budd Goddes, who was married Wednesday evening to Hooper Dunbar. The young girls belonging to the bridal party and a few intimate friends were the guests. The wedding colors, pink and white, were prettily carried out in a beautiful arrangement of sweet peas, while pink shaded candelabra lighted the whole. Ten were present.

A beautiful wedding took place Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCoy, when their daughter, Zola, was married to Lansing Foote, Rev. Benjamin Young performing the ceremony. The bride wore a pretty white silk bustled made princess, with Val lace trimmings, and shower bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Rivers, the bridesmaid, was in pink with mull and carried carnations, the flower that was used in the house decorations. Donald Foote, brother of the groom, was best man. Miss Pearl Moore served punch in the library. The bridal party received under a canopy of pink and white curtains with a background of palms. The table in the dining room was covered with a drawn work cloth over pink satin, pink and white streamers of ribbon stretching from the chandelier to the corners of the table which had a large bowl of pink and white carnations for a centerpiece. Mr. and Mrs. Foote left on a wedding tour, after which they will reside in Evanston. The bride's traveling dress was of tan and hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur James Lowe have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lita, to J. Ray Carson, the wedding to take place soon.

Miss Marjorie Day gave a pretty luncheon, followed by an Orpheum matinee party, on Wednesday.

Tuesday afternoon Miss Lella Sjodahl was hostess at a "500" party given for Miss Madsen, a bride of the near future. The decorations were in flowers and hearts, red dabbles in the library, the reception hall in yellow dabbles and golden glow, where the punch was served by Miss Fyhn. Pink and white sweet peas were used with effect in the parlors. The dining room was in white, the refreshments carrying out the heart idea. Miss Vera Sjodahl and Miss Clara Bamlow assisted. Prizes were won by Miss Carrie Patrick and Miss Irene Hunter. Six tables were played.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Madsen have issued a large number of invitations to the wedding of their daughter, Florence, who is to be married to Oliver R. Meredith, Jr., Wednesday, September 4.

Another large wedding of the week was that of Miss Jennie Budd Goddes and Hooper C. Dunbar, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Wednesday evening, Rev. C. E. Perkins performing the ceremony. The young people are well-known in the community and have a large circle of relatives and friends, about 75 of whom attended the reception held after the ceremony. The house was decorated beautifully with flowers; shaded lights and soft music adding to the delightful scene. The bride wore a white lingerie gown and was attended by a maid of honor in blue and white, the four bridesmaids being in pink. Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar will take a wedding trip which they will spend five or six weeks in Los Angeles, where the groom is in business.

Another large wedding of Wednesday, was that of Miss Winona Jones and Austin Park Larabee, which took place at St. Mark's cathedral, the Rev. Herbert S. Hanson, performing the ceremony. The church was prettily decorated, a maid of honor, two bridesmaids, the best man and two ushers completing the bridal party. A supper for these latter was given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. T. Jones, on Third South street, following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Larabee will go for a short trip to the mountains, after which they will be at home in the Harvey flats.

THE NEW WINGED SAILOR.

The very broad brimmed fashionable straw sailor of the late summer with trimmings of large white is duplicated in the early fall showings in soft French felt bound around the edge with ribbon in self color, or finished with a stitched velvet edge. The dark felt is more often trimmed with light colored than dark wings, and a very attractive combination is that of white and the same color as the hat which the wings adorn. The wings are posed on the front of the crown and in many cases so arranged that they completely cover the front and sides and extend no broadly over the front and side hair. Two and even four pairs of wings are used on a hat, and the smartest effects are gained when no other trimming is combined with these wings, unless it may be a couple of these large headed pins inserted through the wings as if to hold them in place.
