

K. M. BIGELOW HOLY TERROR Besides Sending Infernal Machine to Gov. Butcher. Threatened Various Railroads.

MAKES A FULL CONFESSION. Wrote Letters Demanding Sums Varying from $10,000 to $50,000—Will Be Turned Over to Authorities.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 10.—Kemp V. Bigelow, the young clerk from Vermont, O., who mailed dynamite packages last Monday to Gov. Henry A. DuBois and several other prominent citizens of Denver, confessed today that he was also the author of the letters mailed on Aug. 29, last, to the Burlington railroad, the Moffat road, the Adams Express company, the Daniels & Fisher Stores company, the May Shoe and Clothing company, and Postmaster Paul Sours, demanding amounts varying from $10,000 to $50,000 and aggregating $130,000. These letters contained threats that unless the demands were complied with, passenger trains would be wrecked with dynamite and the Daniels & Fisher stores in this city would be blown up. C. H. Day, local agent of the Adams Express company, would be within 30 days. Bigelow's confession was made to Chief of Police Michael Delaney, in the presence of Mr. Day and John F. Valley, general agent of the Burlington railroad in Denver.

A SAMPLE LETTER. The letter to the Burlington railroad was as follows: "Denver, Aug. 28, 1907. Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad. Gents—We demand that your company place with the Adams Express company $50,000, same to be put in one of their envelopes, marked T. T. M. G., and they put it off at the back yards that day. We mean business, and if it is not done as we say, one of your best trains will be blown up with nitro. Remember the 7th of September. D. M. G."

The other letters were similar to this one. Mr. Day was named in all of them as the man to whom money was to be paid, and upon whom was placed the responsibility of delivering it to the unknown writer. The letters contained instructions for placing a different mark upon each package and demanded that they should be put in one bundle and Brown from a certain Burlington train as it passed the Denver stock yards on the night of Sept. 7. A dummy package was made up and thrown on the train as directed. Detectives were in hiding near the spot designated for leaving the package of money, and kept up a vigil all night, but nothing appeared, and next morning the package was returned to Agent Day. Bigelow will be turned over to the federal authorities and prosecuted on the charge of using the mails to defraud.

balanced, because of her brooding over the murder of Mrs. Bessie Hollister, for which Richard J. Jims was hanged last year. Miss Stevens was a warm friend of Mrs. Hollister. The last seen of Miss Stevens alive was last night, when she approached O. J. Hogbaum in a nervous and excited manner and asked the way to Thirty-ninth and Halsted streets. Hogbaum said that while they were talking a man stopped and offered to show Miss Stevens the way and they walked off together. The watch of Miss Stevens and other jewelry were on the body found. The autopsy showed that death was caused by drowning, and the coroner's physician declared Miss Stevens had unquestionably committed suicide.

PRESIDENT KILLS A DEER. Stamboul, La., Oct. 10.—A courier who arrived from the president's camp on the Texas, late this evening, reports that the president had killed a fat buck, but otherwise the hunt today was barren of results. The condition of the ground is much improved since the rain, and the deer are cool enough to make the exercise delightful to the president.

ATTY. LUTHER G. BROWN INDICTED FOR PERJURY.

San Francisco, Oct. 10.—The grand jury today returned another indictment against Luther G. Brown, law partner in Los Angeles of Earl Rogers, and reported to be the head of the United roads detective force in this city. Brown, who was indicted recently with Atty. J. Porter Ashe on charges of abducting Fremont Older, managing editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, was today accused by the grand jury of subordination of perjury in procuring G. A. Wyman, a chauffeur, to testify falsely before the industrial body which under examination as to the alleged kidnapping. Wyman drove the car in which Older was taken, against his will, to Redwood City, en route to Los Angeles to answer a libel suit instituted by Brown in connection with the present bribery-graft prosecutions. Wyman, according to the prosecution, was "cornered" by Francis J. Heney, junior grand juror, and confessed that Brown had induced him to perjure himself. Wyman was not indicted. The grand jury also returned an indictment against John E. West, a manager of the Electrical Workers' union, accusing him of the perjury of the case of short circuiting the wires of the United roads. Brown's bail was fixed by Judge Coffey at $10,000 bonds or $5,000 cash. West's at $5,000 bonds or $2,500 cash. A bench warrant issued for the arrest of each.

CASSIE CHADWICK'S CAREER IS ENDED Notorious Woman Dies in Females' Ward in the Ohio Penitentiary.

NO FRIENDS AT HER BEDSIDE. Started Out as a Fortune Teller—Took Up Confidence Game and Forged Carnegie's Name.

Columbus, O., Oct. 10.—Mrs. Cassie Chadwick, whose financial transactions culminated in the wrecking of an Oberlin (O.) died in the women's ward in the Ohio penitentiary at 10:05 o'clock tonight. Mrs. Chadwick had been in a comatose condition for some hours previous to her death, and then came peacefully. No friends or relatives waited at her bedside; only the prison physician and her personal attendants. Her son, Emil Hoover, had been summoned from Cleveland, but arrived 15 minutes after she expired. Mrs. Chadwick, whose maiden name was L. Chadwick, was a native of Woodstock, Canada. She first came into public notice in Toledo, O., about 30 years ago, where she told fortunes under the name of Madame Deviler. While in this city, she forged the name of Richard Brown, Youngstown, O., and for this crime was sent to the penitentiary at Columbus for three years. She served but a portion of this sentence, and then located in Cleveland, where she married a man named Hoover. Her second husband was Dr. LeRoy S. Chadwick of Cleveland, a man of good family and excellent standing in his profession. In the latter part of 1902 or early in 1903 Mrs. Chadwick, in the presence of her husband, gave to Ira Reynolds, cashier of the Wade Park bank of Cleveland, a box containing the notes and the signatures upon them. Mrs. Chadwick left with Reynolds, as an explanation of the existence of the notes, the statement that she was a natural daughter of Carnegie. With the receipt of Reynolds in her possession Mrs. Chadwick went to different banks and many capitalists, asking loans and paying not only high interest to the banks, but heavy bonuses to the bank officials who loaned her the money. The extent of these transactions will never be known fully, but they ran up into the millions. They involved men of high standing in the financial world and caused heavy losses to many banks. In November, 1904, she was sued by a man named Newton of Brookline, Mass., from whom she had borrowed a large amount, which she was unable to pay. Other creditors came down upon her, and within a short time she was placed under arrest by the federal authorities on the charge of conspiring with Charles Beckwith, the president, and A. B. Spear of a national bank at Oberlin, O., which had been substantially loaned by Mrs. Chadwick her obtained from this institution such large sums of money that it was compelled to close its doors, causing heavy losses to the depositors and ruining many of them. Mrs. Chadwick, Beckwith and Spear were indicted for a variety of offenses against the national banking laws. Beckwith died before coming to trial. Spear pleaded guilty, was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary, and is now serving time in Columbus, O. Mrs. Chadwick was brought to trial March 6, 1905, and after a hearing, which lasted for two weeks, she was found guilty of conspiracy to defraud a national bank, and was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary. Her health, which was not good at the time of trial, failed steadily. Her last illness was Mrs. Chadwick left one son, born of her first marriage, Emil Hoover, who is now about 20 years of age. Mrs. Chadwick's body was removed to a local undertaking establishment tonight and prepared for burial. It will be taken to Cleveland tomorrow by Emil Hoover, but no plans for the funeral in that city have yet been announced. Mrs. Chadwick embraced the Catholic faith and was baptized a few days before her death. This morning she received the last anointment. The decline of Mrs. Chadwick's health began almost from the time she entered the penitentiary, on Jan. 12, 1905, when sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment. She fretted incessantly over her confinement and worried about her troubles until it became almost impossible for her to sleep. About three weeks ago she suddenly collapsed during an interview with Emil Hoover, and at times she became delirious, but she never talked of her misfortunes during these periods. The physicians declared Mrs. Chadwick was the victim of a total nervous collapse.

MULAI HAFIG'S POWER. Greatly Strengthened Since He Was Proclaimed Sultan. Tangier, Oct. 10.—The power of Mulai Hafig who has been proclaimed sultan in the south, has been greatly strengthened in that part of Morocco by the declaration of the ultimatum of holy men at Fez, that he has more legal right to the throne than has Abdel Aziz, the sultan of record. This, coupled with the approach of Mulai Hafig's army upon Fez, argues a speedy capitulation of the northern capital.

GIRL BABY'S AWFUL ECZEMA Slight of Eye Destroyed by Disease—Tried Five Doctors but Grew Worse—In Agony Eight Months—Parents Discouraged, Until They Tried Cuticura Remedies

IN ONE WEEK ALL SORES DISAPPEARED

"Our little girl, one year and a half old, was taken with eczema or that was what the doctor said it was. We called in the family doctor and he gave some tablets and said she would be all right in a few days. The eczema grew worse and we called in doctor No. 2. He said she was teething, as soon as the teeth were through she would be all right. But she still grew worse. Doctor No. 3 said it was eczema. By this time she was nothing but a yellow, greenish sore. Well, he said he could help her, so we let him try it about a week. One morning we discovered a little yellow pimple on one of her eyes. Of course we phoned for doctor No. 3. He came over and looked her over and said that he could not do anything more for her, that we had better take her to some eye specialist, since it was an ulcer. So we went to Oswego to doctor No. 4, and he said the eczema was gone, but that he could help it. We thought we would try doctor No. 5. Well, that proved the same, only he charged $10 more than doctor No. 4. We were nearly discouraged. I saw one of the Cuticura advertisements in the paper and thought we would try the Cuticura Treatment, so I went and purchased a set of Cuticura Remedies, which cost me $1, and in three days our daughter, who had been sick about eight months, showed great improvement and in one week all sores had disappeared. Of course it could not restore the eyesight, but if we had used Cuticura in time I am confident that it would have saved the eye. We think there is no remedy so good for any skin trouble or impurity of the blood as Cuticura. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Abbott, R. F. D. No. 9, Fulton, Oswego Co., N. Y., August 17, 1906."
