

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Cost Nothing To Try.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the best and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal cleans the skin, improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal is the most-fine money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow Charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in the form of a soft, mastic, in the form of large pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their constant use, but, on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from indigestion and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cure the most-fine mastic a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

the rate bill, and I believe that the commission should have the most ample powers for purposes of investigation and supervision over the rates, and orders which will enable it to deal to the fullest extent possible, within constitutional limits, with interstate transportation in all its phases.

The power of Congress to fix rates for interstate transportation so as to prevent improper discriminations and to compel carriage upon reasonable terms is undoubted.

SHERMAN ANTI-TRUST LAW. The Sherman anti-trust law should be clarified and made more explicit. The law may be made more effective by sweeping condemnations of uncertain meaning do not aid, but rather embarrass the prosecution of those who are guilty of perjuries, frauds, conspiracies and practices in unreasonable restraint of trade and which menace the freedom of interstate commerce should be condemned in precise terms. At the same time, provisions may well be made for limitations, under proper circumstances, as to railroad rates, which should be subject to the approval of the interstate commerce commission.

Various means have been suggested of doubtful validity and still more doubtful utility—to prevent oppression through the conduct of large enterprises and to secure the enforcement of the law against illegal attempts to monopolize and the various devices resorted to in unlawful restraint of trade. In my judgment, the most effective course is explicit definition of what is wrong and adequate punishment of the guilty. Such laws, like laws in general which are definite and supported by public sentiment are to a very large extent self-executing. That is, they are generally obeyed.

I am not in favor of punishment in the shape of fines upon corporations, except for minor offenses. The burden of fines imposed upon such corporations is either transferred to the public or is borne by the stockholders," declared Gov. Hughes.

FOR TARIFF REVISION. Revision of the tariff is advised by Gov. Hughes, who suggested that the readjustment of schedules be effected by a commission, which should be organized as a standing body, so that the facts be ascertained without delay and that Congress may dispose of the matter in the fairest possible manner.

Hughes declared that he did not believe in arbitrary action, and that the rule of the people must be a rule of reason, and every effort must be dominated by a sense of justice.

"We must be patient and thorough; investigation must precede action; good will must displace passion, and the sole motive must be to seek the truth and do the right," said Gov. Hughes.

"Since I took office I have sought to make it clear that I would not become involved in factional strife or use the powers of office to further any personal interest. I am, and have been constantly solicitous that the administration of the affairs of this state should not be embarrassed by collateral considerations, and that every question shall be presented and decided upon its merits, unaffected by suggestion or ulterior motives. For this reason I have avoided gratuitous discussion of questions foreign to my official duty. But when in justice to those who have honored me with their confidence and to the party which, as we all desire, should act freely and with full information, it becomes a duty to speak, I have no desire to remain silent. Nor should I in any event care to preserve availability at the expense of candor.

"We are contemplating a new administration at the close of one which to a degree almost unparalleled has increased the popular imagination and won the confidence of the people. The country is under lasting obligation to President Roosevelt for vigorous opposition to abuses and for the establishment of our security on its necessary foundations of fair dealing and recognition of equal rights, but we appreciate the great service he has rendered and the fundamental importance of the purposes he has had in view. We shall have in the next campaign a notable vantage ground gained through the general admiration of his strong personality and the popular appreciation of the integrity of his desire to promote the righteous conduct of affairs and the welfare of his fellow men.

The battle for free institutions has been a struggle against special privileges. It is not won merely by the creation of new forms of government. Against every attempt to make government the instrument of selfish purposes a free people constantly must be on the alert. Every franchise granted by the people is a privilege justified by consideration of the public welfare and the conditions of which exercise should be such as to insure the performance of public obligation. There must be no encroachment on the common right for the purpose of serving the interests of the few at the expense of the many.

PUBLIC SALE.

"State of Missouri, county of Pike. To whom it may concern: The undersigned will, on Tuesday, September 29, A. D. 1846, sell at public outcry for cash on premises, where Coon creek crosses the old Mission road, the following chattels, to-wit: 6 yoke of oxen with yoke and chains, 2 wagons with beds, 3 nigger wench, 4 buck niggers, 3 nigger boys, 2 prairie plows, 25 steel traps, 1 barrel pickled cabbage, 1 hoghead tobacco, 1 lot nigger loes, 1 spinning wheel, 1 loom, 13 fox hounds, a lot of coon, mink and skunk skins and a lot of other articles. All genuine to California. JOHN DOE.

"Richard Roe, Cryer.

"Free head cheese, apples and hard cider." The scene which resulted upon the date advertised was most interesting. The cryer with his queer quips; the crowd of spectators and buyers sipping at hard cider and nibbling at apples, distributed free by the trader; all these things and others combined to make such a show as will never be seen in America again—with one exception. There will be one more chance to see an absolutely correct reproduction, at the Press Club's Tom show in the Salt Lake theater, Monday evening, Feb. 3. No details will be omitted which can add the slightest bit of realism to the great slave trading scene which occurs in the third act.

Meutsch also shot and killed his five-year-old daughter Gertrude, and wounded his two-year-old son, William. It is said the boy cannot recover.

MEUTSCH MANIFESTED NO REMORSE TODAY. Mr. Tillman then offered another resolution relating to the same subject and directing the attorney-general to institute such proceedings on behalf of the United States as may be necessary to insure the compliance with the conditions accompanying the land grants or to restore the lands to the public domain, or report to the Congress why such action had not been or should not be taken. Without comment this resolution was referred to the committee on judiciary.

Tillman Seeks Information as to Why Settlers Cannot Buy Railroad Lands.

UNABLE TO PURCHASE THEM.

Senator Fulton Says They Refuse to Sell at the Statutory Price.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Senator Tillman today introduced a resolution calling upon the president to inform the senate whether railroads receiving land grants containing conditions requiring that such should be sold to actual settlers only, and for amounts named in the grants, have violated the terms of the grants, and what action has been taken by the department of justice in respect to these matters.

The preamble of the resolution referred to the railroads of the Pacific coast as the ones indicated, and stated that the department of justice had information concerning the matter. Mr. Kean objected to the immediate consideration of the resolution, whereupon Mr. Tillman said he had discovered the things he aimed at in his resolution while on a trip in the west last summer. He was then told that these railroads absolutely refused to comply with the terms of their grants and would not sell their land.

Senator Fulton said he was familiar with the matters referred to in this resolution, and that the road against which the complaint is aimed is now a part of the Southern Pacific system. Mr. Tillman said the resolution also related to the Northern Pacific land grants.

Mr. Fulton continued, saying land grants made in the '70s were coupled with the condition that the land should be sold to actual settlers only at a price not exceeding $2.50 an acre. "A great deal of that land," he said, "is held by the railroad companies, and they refused to sell it for $2.50 an acre."

Mr. Fulton said he believed in either having the terms of the grants complied with or in forcing the companies to return the land to the government. Mr. Heyburn suggested that it has been customary for the railroads to require settlers in purchasing land to purchase improvements they themselves had made before the purchase, and wanted that requirement also inquired into.

The consideration of the resolution was postponed. Mr. Tillman then offered another

HUGHES' VIEWS ON NATIONAL ISSUES

He is Unqualifiedly Opposed to Government Ownership of The Railroads.

HE FAVORS TARIFF REVISION.

Sherman Anti-Trust Law Should be Clarified—Doesn't Believe in Fining Corporations.

New York, Jan. 31.—Gov. Charles E. Hughes, whose nomination for the presidency by the Republican national convention is being urged by the New York county committee and other Republican county committees in New York state, today made an declaration of his views on national issues and principles.

Until tonight, when he was welcomed by scores of well known Republicans with a reception tendered him at the Republican club, Gov. Hughes has maintained silence on all questions affecting the country, and the definition of his position on federal issues has been chiefly by way of a reply to Gov. Hughes told his hearers tonight he did not come before them in any spirit of rivalry or self-seeking, and that there are many Republicans who, by virtue of their character and distinguished services, are worthy of the highest honor the party can bestow.

The governor was given an ovation when he concluded his speech. Declaring the Republican party was a party of progress and stability, Gov. Hughes in his speech commended the administration of President Roosevelt as one which "to a degree almost unparalleled, had impressed the popular imagination and won the confidence of the people."

In the country, he said, was under obligation to President Roosevelt for his vigorous opposition to abuses and for the strong impulse he has given to movements for their correction.

Gov. Hughes asserted his unqualified opposition to government ownership of railroads, but said that regulation of interstate transportation is essential to protect the people from unjust discriminations. As a means of railroad supervision, the governor suggested an administrative board. The governor declared that the Sherman anti-trust law should be clarified and made stronger and more effective by being more definite.

"I am not in favor of punishment in the shape of fines upon corporations, except for minor offenses. The burden of fines imposed upon such corporations is either transferred to the public or is borne by the stockholders," declared Gov. Hughes.

FOR TARIFF REVISION. Revision of the tariff is advised by Gov. S.S.S. RIDES THE SYSTEM OF CATARRH

Even in its early stages Catarrh is a most distressing ailment, caused by the stuffy feeling in the head, ringing noises in the ears, watery eyes, difficult breathing, continual "hawking and spitting," etc., but when the blood becomes thoroughly saturated with the impurities which produce the disease it becomes a serious and often dangerous disorder. Then the bronchial tubes are attacked, the bladder and kidneys diseased, and often the lungs become affected by the constant passage of impure blood through them and Catarrh terminates in Consumption. The impurities and poisons in the blood which produce Catarrh can never be removed through the use of sprays, inhalations, washes, etc. Such treatment cannot reach the real cause, and their use alone should never be depended on to cure the disease. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by cleansing the blood of all impure catarrhal matter. It goes down and attacks the disease at its head, in the circulation, and removes every trace of the impurity that is causing the trouble. Then as purified, purified blood is carried to all parts of the system the symptoms gradually leave, the health is improved, and S. S. S. makes a permanent cure of the trouble. Special book on Catarrh and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

ATHLETE SHEPPARD APOLOGIZES

Philadelphia, Jan. 31.—Melville Sheppard, the track athlete, who struck Guy Haskins during a race here last week, apologized to the latter yesterday and apologized to the public. He also made an apology to the registration committee of the Middle Athletic association for reinstatement, having been suspended from the committee for attacking Haskins. The committee will consider the matter today. Scores of letters have been received, asking that Sheppard be reinstated.

THE ALDRICH BILL.

Washington, Jan. 31.—John T. Hamilton, former president of the American Banking association, today appearing before the house committee on banking and currency today, in the course of a vigorous statement, took a position squarely behind the Aldrich financial bill, representing the views of the committee of the American Bankers association, and in opposition to the bill by Senator Aldrich and representative Fowler.

The scheme of the Aldrich bill for the issuance of emergency currency on such security as bonds of states, counties, municipalities and certain corporations was denounced by Mr. Hamilton as "impracticable, unwise and unadvisable." He asserted that the proposed departure from the currency security system, which has obtained since the foundation of the government, "is a step backward toward the conditions from which arose the 'wildcat' currency in use before the Civil war."

The marketing of non-government securities, he said, should be no part of the national business and, furthermore, the necessary delay incident to determining the value of bonds offered as security for the emergency currency would make it unavailing until after the crisis was past.

"Crises," he said, "are short, sharp and unambiguously decisive; the Aldrich bill is a remedy offered after recovery from death."

CHAMBERS LETTER SAID TO HAVE BEEN STOLEN

Los Angeles, Jan. 31.—The Evening News quon Auditor W. J. Healy of the Santa Fe says that the letter from Edward Chambers, assistant general traffic manager, to former Auditor G. A. Davidson, which President Roosevelt incorporated in his message to Congress today, was stolen from the railroad offices. The News says:

Admission was tacitly made at the general offices of the Santa Fe Railroad company here this afternoon that the letter submitted by President Roosevelt to Congress today, showing that President Ripley and his chief advisers were well aware of the rebate system in operation in violation of the law and aided and abetted it, had been sent to the former auditor, G. A. Davidson, here, and that it had been sent by Edward Chambers, assistant general freight traffic manager, from the San Francisco office.

"The letter was stolen from our office. I have heard of it being out, I cannot deny that the letter was written, but I have never seen it. I have heard of such a letter and of how it got into the possession of Mr. Healy."

Such was the declaration of W. J. Healy, who is the successor of G. A. Davidson as auditor here. Mr. Davidson is now in San Diego.

San Diego, Jan. 31.—When shown the letter from Edward Chambers to himself as contained in the president's message delivered to Congress today, G. A. Davidson, former auditor of the Santa Fe Railroad and now president of the Southern Trust company of this city, said:

"I have no recollection as to the matter and I am now out of the office of the Santa Fe service an unable to give any advice in regard thereto."

He would make no further statement.
