JESSE W.M. KNIGHT HAS BEEN NOTIFIED

Enthusiastic Democrats Fill the Provo Opera House on Momentous Occasion.

SPEECH BY LEVI N. HARMON.

Candidate Delivers Address of Acceptance—Demonstration Accorded “Uncle Jesse” Knight.

Special Correspondence. Provo, Oct. 12.—One of the most enthusiastic crowds that ever assembled at the Provo opera house gathered there Saturday night.

The notification letter, Chairman King, in glowing terms, introduced Jesse William Knight, who was given a great ovation by the audience.

SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE.

When the applause had subsided, Mr. Knight made his speech of acceptance, as follows:

“Ladies and Gentlemen: Deeply grateful for the high honor which the state committee has conferred by selecting me to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of my father, I accept the candidacy for governor of the state on the Democratic ticket.

No one regrets more than I the conditions which made it impossible for my father to comply with the unanimous demands of the Logan convention.

Keenly feeling that he is the person who aroused so much public interest, I give such inspiration and hope to our party. I shall, nevertheless, shrink from no duty or responsibility which this nomination imposes.

I do not seek nor did I desire the high office of governor. I was content to remain quietly in the ranks of our party.

The call came, however, and with a feeling of deepest gratitude I accept it. I shall sincerely strive to honor the party that has honored me.

I approve of the national Democratic platform and all the principles that it contains. I had with honor and delight that great man whose impulses beat in sincere sympathy with the great masses of the common people and whose dignified statesmanship is unequalled in the world.

The election of the Hon. William J. Bryan as president of the United States will mean the establishment of a new era of industrial peace and prosperity.

The time-honored principles of equal and exact justice to all and special privileges to none shall again become a part of our economic system. We shall also have a more just and equitable distribution of wealth and congratulate the people of Utah upon its excellent choice displayed in selecting candidates who, if elected, will assist in the accomplishment of that other duty—the choosing of electors who will vote for the election of our party in this campaign, and this committee now presents to you this information.

“We feel assured, Mr. Knight, that your candidacy will not only benefit the party but will also bring in the necessary strength to accomplish its objects, namely the election of our whole state ticket, but will also contribute to the accomplishment of that other duty—the choosing of electors who will vote for the election of the United States.”

“Born and reared in the state, young and vigorous in mind, free from bias and prejudice, and with a record of honest and upright action, we feel that you are the one central figure to lead the Democratic forces to victory. It may not be amiss to state that Utah county has given to the state many good things, among them wealth, talent and statesmanship.

“In the arts, sciences and various other professions, they have furnished statesmen in character and ability perhaps unsurpassed and while not of the fact that the United States senators who now represent us, were reared and educated in this city. While the election of one of them has produced bitterness and discord in the state as well as the nation, it cannot be said that this condition is brought about because of deficiency in character or inability to perform his duties to the state, but is the result of his position in the Church.

“Thus believing and thus acting we have selected you from the city and county to become our candidate for governor, and in the abiding faith that your election will be the result and with it bring peace and harmony to the State of Utah.

“Addressing the audience, with the question, “Will you support him?” Cries of “Yes, yes,” came back.

“Then, in the words of Andrew Jackson,” continued Mr. Harmon, “by the will of the people.”

The speaker then handed to Chairman King the letter of notification, which reads as follows:

NOTIFICATION LETTER.

“Hon. Jesse William Knight: Sir—At the Democratic state convention, held at Logan, Utah, Sept. 12, 1908, your father, Hon. Jesse Knight, was by acclamation nominated for governor of the State of Utah.

For reasons best known to himself and subsequently explained to the state committee, he declined to make the race. This action on his part required the committee to fill the vacancy. At a meeting held for this purpose in Salt Lake City, Utah, Oct. 2, after careful deliberation, you were declared to be the unanimous choice of the committee, and we were directed to convey to you the formal notice of your nomination. The political conditions of the state are such as to require a man of unimpeachable character, of sound judgment in business affairs and free from bias, caused by political juggling, to lead the Democratic forces in this campaign.

“Such a man we believe can be elected and we further believe that you are that man. The platform adopted by the state convention is specific and to the point, and one which fully endorses the national platform. Neither of them will require any apology, nor do the requirements of a thinking people will they have to be enlarged or reduced. They fully express the principles that animate the Democrats of Utah as well as those of the nation. We are especially gratified that we were selected to convey to you this formal notification that you were chosen by your party for the foremost place in the state, and when the polls shall close in November we feel assured that the people will declare you to be the people's choice for governor of the State of Utah.

(Signed) “LEVI N. HARMON, WYNN EDDY, JOSEPH E. BERRY, W. J. THORESON, WILFORD GILES, Notification Committee.”

At the conclusion of the reading of the notification letter, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the race is not to be swift, but to the competent.

Resolved, That we keep well and strong on Grape-Nuts.

Resolved, That there's a reason.

Resolved, That we will support our candidate for governor.

Prof. A. V. Kidder of Harvard, gave an interesting and instructive lecture Saturday night in Library hall on the Utah cliff dwellers.

THE CLIFF DWELLERS

The cliff dwellers were a people who once inhabited the more arid parts of the southwestern United States.

Their culture was a culture without a beginning. We find their remains scattered over the whole southwest, and everywhere their houses are well built, their ceremonial rooms all follow a certain carefully worked-out scheme, and their pottery is of an excellence which could only be reached by centuries of growth.

We find no rough, undecorated, badly-shaped pottery, no experiments. These people seemed to have sprung up fully matured, furnished for a time, and then mysteriously been reduced to a mere handful, who now inhabit the pueblos of Arizona and New Mexico.

The ancient potters of San Juan, Utah, made as fine examples of the great class of black and white ware as can be found in the whole southwest. Red pottery, except in lower San Juan, is rather uncommon, and not very well made, being thin and brittle.

“The great art of the San Juan potters lay in the wonderful way in which they could, freehand, paint in a complete design, make it include the pot and join itself again so accurately that it is often impossible to tell where it begins. I say freehand, because you can never find scratches, guidelines or preliminary divisions on the surface which would help in the accomplishment of the design.

The whole surface of the pottery is not marked over with figures, as is so common in primitive art. Certain effective areas, such as the border under the rim, are picked out and decorated. As to the symbols themselves, it is not yet possible to give any real explanation. Some link between the ancient pottery, whose symbols are yet a riddle to us, and the modern, which of course, can be studied, is absolutely necessary, and if such a link can be found it is possible that we may yet discover the fundamental meaning of at least some of the designs. It is of the greatest importance that a thorough exploration of these virgin fields in San Juan county should be made at once.”

Ely's Cream Balm has been tried and not found wanting in thousands of homes all over the country. It has won a place in the hearts of millions of people. Its reliable house hold remedies where it is kept at hand for use in treating cold in the head just as soon as a member of the household begins to feel the first symptoms of sneezing or sniffing. It gives immediate relief and a day or two's treatment will put a stop to a cold which might, if not checked, become chronic and run into a bad case of catarrh.

EVERY DAY FOR SEVEN YEARS

PERSISTENTLY and continuously the NEW YORK COMMERCIAL through its Mining Department has been keenly alive to the progress of mining, reporting this class of news as a source of profit and interest to its readers.

Facts and figures of significance relating to the operations of the various camps, together with the mining stock markets of San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Montreal, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Boston, New York and London, England, appear daily. It has found no room for misstatements or the loosely constructed optimism of the braggart. It told the story of Tonopah, Goldfield, Ely, Bingham and Cobalt months before other papers realized the changes which were making history.

Presidents, directors and officials of the country's largest smelting and mining corporations as well as countless stockholders, brokers, investors and speculators, find it a business necessity. The foremost mining engineers and operators frequently talk exclusively through its columns. In the East, as in the West, its mining news is read and copied.

The NEW YORK COMMERCIAL has been the one big factor in the education of the public and the press to a proper appreciation of mines and mining.

FIRST POLITICAL TALK.

Y. M. C. A. Series Opens With Will Ray as the Speaker.

The first of the fall series of Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon talks was given yesterday afternoon by Will Ray on “Political Parties.” He said in part: “There seems to be no doubt in the minds of most of us today that political parties are bad. On every hand we hear the cry, ‘Corruption, corruption, when will it end?’ Almost any man would give as his final conclusion that in this line our virtues are fast slipping from us and becoming a sad and dim memory of the past. But I wish to say that in my opinion the reverse is true. Never have we had at the head of the affairs of state and nation men of purer purpose than we have today. We are as a nation advancing socially, religiously and politically. We are making progress for good.”

“The organization of a political party is not necessarily an evidence of unanimity of opinion on certain questions that concern government. Indeed, there are as many ideas of what Republicanism ought to be as there are Republicans. The same is true of the Democrats, the Socialists and the Prohibitionists. It is necessary, however, that party organizations be effected, other wise political progress would be impossible. The secret of political life and virility in every question of issue is the fact that there is always an organized vigorous minority.”
