

JOCKEY ACCUSED OF THROWING RACE

McLaughlin Suspended from State Fair Ass'n Track Pending An Investigation.

SEEN TO PULL HIS MOUNT IN

Makes a Big Bluff on Home Stretch But Falls to Land Semproella Ahead of Minnie.

"There is nothing a dishonest jockey does not deserve," says Judge Blum, and nothing which looks crooked passes by Judge Blum of the fair grounds race meet. Jockey McLaughlin learned that it is bad business to do anything which doesn't look right, for McLaughlin was suspended until further notice because he pulled Semproella back when that animal was a sure winner. His mount was away at the word "go" and soon led the field by two lengths. Semproella was running strong, and there was nothing to it but Semproella who had been played heavily. But on the turn McLaughlin was seen to sit up and pull back. Minnie came out of the bunch and went ahead. In the stretch McLaughlin made a big bluff of trying to force his mount to the front, but Minnie led the race by a length. Immediately after the finish, the suspected jockey was called over to the judges' stand to explain matters, and falling to satisfy the judges that all had been O. K., was told to stay out of races until notified. The affair is being investigated further.

GOOD DAY FOR MUD HENS.

The track was a sea of mud and the weather altogether miserable, but the card was run off just as announced, and the finishes, with the exception of the smelly one, were all good. It was a great day, for the favorites delivered the goods, and with one or two exceptions, carried the money. The jockey spoiled was the first one. The second was a four and a half furlong, won by Swagerator, followed by Glendenning and Koeniger. These three horses struck the positions early and had them clinched at all stages of the run. The third race was a five furlong, for 3 years and up (jacks 2-6 inclusive) were all for selling 3 years and up. St. Joe won, and won easily, with Decklaw and Jillette, second and third.

The fourth race—six furlongs—saw Nancy W., an easy winner. Big K Dress got a miserable start, but came up splendidly and drew second with Vest a good third. Mrs. Nugent, Norfolk and Maxetta, is how they came through in the fifth. Mrs. Nugent was up and a coming all the time, and made her followers travel to stay in the running. Willie T. sent the fans home delighted with the day by winning from Lady Alicia, a strong favorite, thus furnishing the biggest bump of the day. Even those who hold tickets on Alicia cheered the finish of this event. Duke of Orleans led around the track—this was a seven furlong go—and Duke looked like a sure winner, as he still had front position when the field entered the stretch. Hero Lady Alicia started to close the gap with Willie T. right behind. They lined up as they neared the wire, and in a neat, Duke of Orleans, Willie T. nosed far enough ahead to be a winner.

SOUTH AFRICA'S IMPORTS.

Washington, Oct. 21.—South Africa's imports and exports decreased materially during the first half of 1908, according to a report of Vice Consul General Foster of Cape Town. Into the countries which form the British South African customs union, there were imported $80,724,713 during that period, against $84,272,454 in 1907, the figures for the United States being $5,501,374, a decrease of $500,000 for the same period of 1907. Most of the imports were from the United Kingdom. The South African products, including diamonds and gold exported during the half year aggregated $107,176,764, a decrease of almost $3,000,000 for the previous corresponding period, a decline largely accounted for by diminished diamond exports.

JUDGE SYMPATHIZED WITH THE HYENA New York, Oct. 21.—The suit of Miss Anna Richardson against Frank C. Bostock for $15,000 damages for the loss of part of the index finger of her left hand, has been dismissed by Judge McLean in the supreme court in Brooklyn. It was back in the summer of 1909 while the plaintiff was a visitor at the Bostock wild bear show at Coney Island, that the mishap befell her, a hyena, since dead, having seized her hand as she was pushed against the cage. Justice McLean said that his inhibitions of such animals are permitted, but people need not go to see them.

"There is nothing here to show," he said, "that any negligence existed on the part of the defendant. I think it cruel to look upon caged wild animals. I shall dismiss the complaint. I am sorry the plaintiff was injured, but my sympathy is with the hyena."

FIRE IN DENVER.

Hungarian Mills Elevator Destroyed Early This Morning. Denver, Oct. 21.—Fire, evidently of incendiary origin, destroyed the elevator of the Hungarian Mills company at an early hour this morning, causing a loss of $450,000. In the elevator was stored 400,000 bushels of wheat, which was consumed. About 10 o'clock the police officer on the beat noticed two men loitering in the neighborhood of the elevator, and when he approached they started to run. One of the men threw a case, but the men disappeared in the darkness. When he returned the elevator was in flames from fires that had been started at several places. An alarm was turned in, but the fire department was unable to check the flames, which had practically doomed the building before their arrival. The mill's manager was threatened for a time, but by heroic efforts were saved with slight damage.

How a Teacher Saved Her Pupils from Flames. Bay City, Mich., Oct. 21.—A special to the Tribune from Alpena, Mich., says: Among the most thrilling experiences of survivors of the Presque Isle county forest fire, was that of Miss Grace Barber, a school teacher 19 years old, whose school in Krakow township was in session when the flames swept down upon the building yesterday. The instant the fire broke out, she rushed into the building to give the alarm just as the rear of the schoolhouse caught fire.

The teacher marshalled her pupils in a double row, the girls at the head, and ordered them to remain in close order and not to break the line. She then started on a run, Miss Barber bringing up the rear to prevent straggling. Burning embers fell thick, but the teacher kept the children close together and every ember was extinguished the instant it fell upon any child's clothing. The fire burned steadily for some time as it way down. Soon animals began to appear upon the edge of the field and during the night two bears made their appearance. A fox came slinking in, as did a bat, rabbits, and other animals. The children were kept well away from the children, not even the bears offering hostility. Miss Barber kept her charges in the hall at 10 o'clock and in the morning sent them home in groups, piloting the smaller ones herself.

Chicago Bomb Thrower IS AT WORK AGAIN. Chicago, Oct. 21.—The bomb thrower who has attempted to worry Chicago gamblers for more than a year, kept up his activity last night by setting off one of the explosives in the basement just beneath the entrance of a saloon at Center street and Sheffield avenue, in which Monte Tenness is said to be interested.

The explosion last night shattered the two large plate glass windows in the front of the saloon. Several persons in the saloon at the time and two families in the room above the place, received a severe shaking up, while the bartender was thrown to the floor. This is the second time this place has been visited by explosions. Bombs have also been set off twice at the home of Monte Tenness.
