

BAD NEGRO IS IN TROUBLE AGAIN

Charles Lade, Alias Scott, in Jail On Charge of Highway Robbery.

SERVED TERM IN PRISON.

Sent Up for Ten Years for Daring Crime—Has Enjoyed Freedom Only Two Months.

Charles Lade, alias Charles Scott, a notorious negro and an ex-convict who but two months ago was released from the Utah state prison, to which place he was sent about seven years ago for a 10-year term for highway robbery, is again in the toils charged with robbery and stands an excellent chance of going back to the institution on the hill.

The robbery with which Lade is now charged occurred about 11 o'clock last night on Second South and Fifth West streets when he held up O. S. Jones, residing at 152 east Ninth street, and George Clark, living at 603 Third East street. The two were walking along the street when Lade stepped from behind a tree, ordered the two men to throw up their hands, and then fired a shot to scare them.

The two men were taken completely by surprise, and when they saw the big revolver pointed at them and a was fired they lost no time in obeying the command. Lade searched his victims but only succeeded in getting 10 cents. He ordered the men to hurry up the street and they lost no time in doing so. Word was sent to police headquarters and Detective Chase and Patrolmen Burton and Pitts hurried to the scene but found no trace of Lade.

A few minutes later they learned that the negro was seen in the saloon on Third West and First South street. There they found the man and quickly placed him under arrest. He was armed with a .38-caliber revolver, from which one shot had been fired. He was taken to the police station but refused to make a statement. Jones and Clark identified the man as the hold up.

The police have reason to believe that Lade held up and robbed two men giving the names of Smith and Watson of $5 and $18 respectively. The men came to the station and reported that they were held up in the doorway of 13 Commercial street last night by a negro armed with a revolver, but they were unable to give a good description of the robber and could not positively identify Lade.

About seven years ago Lade robbed a man in the hallway of the Atlas block. The man was a clerk of the Atlas block, and was carrying a check. Lade saw him in the doorway of the Atlas block and, drawing a razor, he held the keen blade to the man's throat and threatened to cut his head off if he would not hand over the money. Lade was captured shortly after the robbery and pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment. Through good behavior he got his "copper" and was released about two months ago.

Since his release he worked for a private family here but was arrested recently on the charge of attempting to kidnap a man in a restaurant. He managed to get out of this trouble and now has got into a more serious scrape. A few days ago the man was arrested for drawing a revolver on two soldiers but was let go with the understanding he would leave town. Shortly before noon today Lade confessed to Detective Sheets that he held up Jones and Clark last night, but denied the other robbery.

BATTERY IS CHARGED.

This morning "Uncle Billy" Hilton, served a warrant of arrest on Park Kenner, charging the latter with battery upon W. E. Waldorf. The latter alleges that Kenner beat and bruised him without provocation, but Kenner claims the matter was a misunderstanding. The Kenner home, rear of 28 Center street, to contain a bill and while there acted in an insulting manner toward Mrs. Kenner, whereupon she accused, struck the man. Kenner was released on his own recognizance.

JUDGE DIEHL'S COURT.

There was but one case called in Judge Diehl's court this morning, and that was for the purpose of arraignment Woodson Paquet, a negro, charged with embezzling $2 from J. E. Cole. The man admitted taking the money, but said he took it because it was owing to him. The case was continued until tomorrow morning.

PLANS FOR ASSAY OFFICE.

Bids Opened Tuesday in Washington And Examinations Pending.

The materialization of the United States assay office promised to Salt Lake City is assuming concrete shape as the new year draws near. It is expected the office will be opened Jan. 1, 1909, with J. L. Eldredge, Jr., in charge. Bids for the building, which is to occupy the space 22-1/2 East 1st place, were opened Tuesday, according to Mr. L. S. Kerfoot, chief clerk of the government assay office at Seattle, who is in the city. All bids for the building were forwarded to A. Leach, director of the mint at Wash-

To fill the complement of nine men required to conduct office, civil service examinations will be held in this city Dec. 2. The examination will be held at the postoffice and will be for two assistant assessors, one at a salary of $1,400 per year. The duties of these assistants will be to receive, weigh and melt deposits of bullion; assay gold bullion of various characters and fineness, to make necessary computations to determine the value of each deposit, and to determine gold, silver, lead, zinc and iron in ores.

At the same time there will be examinations held for one melter, at a salary of $4.50 a day; one helper, at $3 a day, and one for watchman, at $30 a year.

THE FIRST SYMPHONY CONCERT AT THE COLONIAL

Arrangements have just been made between Manager Spencer of the Salt Lake Symphony Orchestra and Manager John Cort of the Colonial Theater, by which the concert of the Symphony Orchestra to be given this season will occur at that house. The Symphony gave one concert last year at the Orpheum, and when that house decided to open Sunday evenings, Howard Garratt of the local Orpheum company, consented that the orchestra should use the house on Sunday afternoons, generously tendering it without charge. Much to his surprise, however, this was vetoed by Martin Beck, who was of the opinion that afternoon concerts might interfere with the evening performances. As the Salt Lake Theater was unobtainable, Mr. Spencer was in a dilemma until the opening of the new Colonial came as a relief. The situation was at once placed before Manager Cort, who is now in the city preparing for the opening and the reception of Nordica, and he agreed that the house should be rented for Sunday afternoons for the present season's concerts, no matter whether there was a night attraction or not. The rate of rental has not yet been decided on, but Manager Spencer placed the financial difficulties of the organization frankly before Mr. Cort, who agreed that the figure should be reasonable.

The opening concert will be given on the 29th inst., instead of Dec. 6, the Elks' club affair at the theater that evening being so big an event, that the management thought best to keep clear of it.

OPEN SALT LAKE OFFICE.

D. F. Parker, manager of the agency department of the Herring-Hall-Marvin Safe company, is in the city from Hamilton, O., to open an agency here on the ground floor of the Odd Fellows building on Market street, with W. J. Shearer, formerly chief clerk of the Southern Pacific at Ogden, as the local manager. The Salt Lake agency will be known as the Shealey Safe & Vault company. It is the intention of the company to erect a large office building on the corner of Center and 1st streets, and occupy the ground floor. Arrangements are being made with the railroads for transportation of material.

LESTER D. FREED LEAVES.

Lester D. Freed, a well known Salt Lake business man and past exalted ruler of the local lodge of B. P. O. E., will leave this city Sunday next, after a residence here of 18 years, and make Chicago his home. Mr. Freed is now vice president and manager of the Freed Furniture & Carpet company, which position he will resign to be succeeded by his brother and will in the future hold the position of secretary and treasurer with the Red Cross Anti-septic Telephone Mouthpiece company, a concern that has been valued at $100,000 under the laws of Illinois.

WORK MAY BE STOPPED.

Paving Complaints Come Before Board Friday Night.

In view of the complaints filed with the board of public works against the manner in which the work on paving district No. 108 is being done, it is expected that a halt will be called and that the improvement will not be resumed until spring. The matter will come before the board at its regular meeting tomorrow night, and the conditions will be thoroughly gone into.

It is conceded that more care is being taken by those having the contract in charge since criticism of the work began to be expressed. Still there is good reason for dissatisfaction on the part of property owners. While the proportions of cement, sand and gravel are nearer to the contract specifications, the preparation of the ground is far from what it should be. The character of the soil in the southeastern part of the city is somewhat different from that in other parts of the municipality, being less favorable for late fall paving.

Several inspectors will be under the ban, if the allegations of complaining taxpayers are proved to the satisfaction of the board. It is claimed that there are no protests as to the faulty material used, nor the manner in which it is laid and left unprotected.

NEED MORE MONEY.

The Salvation Army people are disappointed in the extent of the contributions toward the Thanksgiving dinner given annually to the poor of the city, and say if the money does not come along faster and better, the Army will have to do much this season. Collection boxes have been set up in the part of the city at advantageous points by Ensign George Johnson, who alone is authorized to handle the boxes, and he is confident he hopes that the sympathetic character of the people will show. Tickets for the dinner may be had at the Associated Charities superintendent, at 10th and 1st streets, or at the county commissioners, about $50 is needed for the dinner.

MAROVITCH NOW ON HIS DEFENSE

Seventh Day of Bingham Murder Trial Before Judge Armstrong.

WHAT HE EXPECTS TO SHOW

Record of Popovitch, As Outlined in Opening Statement, Will Be Probed in the Testimony.

On this, the seventh day of the Marovitch murder trial, the defense had its first innings. Scarcely more interest was manifested by the public this morning than on previous days, not more than a dozen persons being present outside the railing retained for court attaches, attorneys, jurors and witnesses.

Atty. P. J. Daly of counsel for the defense, outlined the case for his client, telling what they expected to prove. His statement was to the effect that witnesses who had testified for the state were not present at the time of the shooting; that Marovitch killed Popovitch solely in self-defense, after brass knuckles had been used upon him on one occasion and his life had many times been threatened by Popovitch; that on the day of the tragedy Marovitch's wife had told him that Popovitch had attempted a criminal assault upon her, and that she begged of her husband to sell out and move away from Bingham canyon, that they might live in peace. Shortly after this, on the same day, contented the defense Popovitch walked by the home of Marovitch, and that he saw him enter and told him to leave him, his family and his boarders alone; that Popovitch made a face at Marovitch and said derisively, "bait" at the same time pulling a revolver from his coat on his trousers; that Marovitch then procured his own revolver and came out of the house and shot after Popovitch had his gun trained on Marovitch.

A PEACEABLE MAN.

A further contention of the defense is that Marovitch has always been considered a peaceable man, while Popovitch, on the other hand, was known to be quarrelsome, and he had previously been shot in a brawl at Bingham; that he killed a man in Colorado, driving a pick through the neck of his victim while the latter was lying asleep.

The only witness examined this forenoon was Mike Blockovich, who claimed to have been an eye-witness of the shooting. He testified that Marovitch warned Popovitch to keep away from him, his family and all that pertained to them, but that Popovitch walked defiantly back and forth in front of the house, and that he was under cross-examination this afternoon. The jury visited the scene of the shooting yesterday, thoroughly acquainting themselves with the general lay of the land, and the location in charge of Bailiff Fred Butler, while Deputy Sheriff Andrew Smith, Jr., had charge of the prisoner, Marovitch, District Attorney F. C. Loofborough and Attorney P. J. Daly, accompanied the jurors. Marovitch was visibly affected by a visit to the scene of the tragedy. The trip to Bingham occupied the whole of the day.

BROKER'S WIFE IN COURT.

Ella Miller Charges Extreme Cruelty in Divorce Action. Alleging that her husband has been guilty of extreme cruelty directed toward her, to wit, to the extent of assault and battery, Mrs. Ella Miller yesterday filed suit for divorce from Clyde E. Miller. Specifying the alleged misconduct of the defendant, Mrs. Miller affirms that on Nov. 6 of this year Mr. Miller attacked her in the city of Denver, Colorado, and struck her with his fist, and that two days later he choked her at their home, dragged her across the floor and threw her down stairs. Miller is a broker, and is employed in the complaint, and is capable of earning $50 a week. In addition to the divorce, Mrs. Miller asks for $100 a month permanent alimony, the custody of their two children, Kathryn, aged five, and Margaret Louise, aged two. The couple married at Pueblo, Colo., Jan. 12, 1897.

WIVES SEEK DIVORCE.

Jasper Tibburey Charged With Cruelty—Cooper With Desertion. Jasper Tibburey was made defendant in a divorce suit filed yesterday by Louise Tracy Tibburey, cruelly being the ground for her suit. The case was asked. The marriage took place Oct. 6 of this year, and before the month was out Tibburey took all his wife's jewelry and other personal effects, and refused to enter it. Even before that time he had abused and beat her. It is alleged, and had contributed nothing to her support, although he was earning $89 a month. Mrs. Tibburey wants her maiden name Louise Tracy, restored to her. Mrs. Emma Cooper filed suit yesterday in the district court, asking for a divorce from Walter C. Cooper, alleging that her husband deserted her one day after their marriage, the latter having taken place Jan. 31, 1907. The Coopers were married in this city, and there is one child, the custody of which, the mother asks.

SUES ON NOTE.

The National Bank of the Republic has filed suit in the district court against Jesse W. Fox and J. T. Hammond, to recover the sum of $250, the balance alleged to be due on a certain promissory note executed March 27, 1908, and due 60 days after date. The note was for $400, and it is claimed that only $150 has been paid. Interest on the amount of $150 and $40 for attorney's fees are also asked for.

ONE MORE BIG PROJECT.

Linoleum Plant Being Discussed by Business Men.

Several industrial promoters met last evening in the office of the Hubbard Investment company to talk over the proposition to establish in this city a linoleum plant, and will bring the matter up before the M. & M. association at next Tuesday night's meeting. It is estimated that the cost of the establishment will be $100,000, and it will employ 500 people. The hemp, flax and rubber oil used in manufacture are to be raised in this state, while the cork will have to be imported from Germany. William Babel and his son, and J. H. Riley, an Englishman, are interested in the scheme. Mr. Riley presented a paper with the endorsement of many prominent citizens of the city, including Gov. Johnson, J. H. Miller, W. H. Brigham, H. Roberts, Heber J. Grant and others, including Fisher Harris, secretary of the Commercial club.

Fair Minded Citizens Want No Politics In the Schools.

Shall the public schools of this city remain in a condition free from political influences? The answer to this question is to be forthcoming soon, as a school election occurs on Wednesday, Dec. 2. The terms of five members of the board, one-third of the membership, are about to close, and successors are to be chosen on the day indicated. Those who will retire or be chosen to succeed themselves are Charles Markin of the Board, commencing at 8 o'clock. Meetings for the other products will be called at the proper time and place. These meetings will be open for citizens of every class and creed and those having no right to a voice and vote in the proceedings, and the desire uppermost in the minds of well meaning people is that nonpartisanship shall prevail and that the matter of religion shall not figure in the choosing of men, or women, to have the management of Salt Lake's splendid schools.

So far there has been but one call issued for a primary or convention, that of the First precinct, scheduled to be held in the Ninth ward saloon on day evening, Nov. 13, commencing at 8 o'clock. Meetings for the other products will be called at the proper time and place. These meetings will be open for citizens of every class and creed and those having no right to a voice and vote in the proceedings, and the desire uppermost in the minds of well meaning people is that nonpartisanship shall prevail and that the matter of religion shall not figure in the choosing of men, or women, to have the management of Salt Lake's splendid schools.

Lovers of Art Forming Arts and Crafts Club

An organization to be known as the Arts and Crafts club is being perfected by Salt Lake people who have a serious interest in art. The purpose of the organization will be to promote mutual advancement along literary, musical, architectural and painting lines as well as to create a social harmony between those interested in the arts. The moving spirits in the organization are Prof. Bourgard, Mrs. V. S. Stephen, J. S. Birch, A. O. Treaganza, J. P. Erskine, Miss Mary Teasdale, Miss Savage and others. Monday, Nov. 8, a meeting was held in Mr. Bourgard's rooms in the dormitory of the state university and those present decided that the work should be to enlist all those as members who had a serious working interest in the arts. Thus far the organization has progressed. Another meeting will be held on Monday, Nov. 16.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theater—The house is practically sold out for tonight's presentation of "The Chorus Lady" by Rose Stahl, indicating that there are many Salt Lake citizens who are enjoying the successes. The engagement will run throughout the week with a Saturday matinee.

Orpheum—Big business continues to mark the week's bill at the Orpheum, and the satisfaction is so general that there is no doubt as to the continuation of the box office records. Grand—Tonight sees the first presentation this season of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," the version being the Stetson, which means real darlings, real blood hounds, and real sensations galore. Lyric—The bill of the week is in its last two productions today and tomorrow, to be followed by a new list of attractions Saturday afternoon.

Colonial—The advance sale for the opening concert by Nordica began at the Olayton-Daynes Music company store this morning, at 10 o'clock. Manager Grant announces that mail orders will be accepted.

ATTRACTIVE EXHIBIT.

There is an exhibition at the Commercial club five samples of Utah native stone, six different kinds of brick and one of drain pipe, together with a specimen of concrete devised by a local inventor whereby the stone will never show stain, the natural good color of the stone being retained. The exhibit is made of subjects treated guaranteed immune from discoloration. It is claimed that the concrete will stand up to the most severe tests and be free from stain by application of this preparation, as the stain can not get to the surface and the corrosive forces in the atmosphere are not able to get in.

ADVERTISING MEN MEET.

F. J. Cooper of San Francisco Tells About the Million Club. A meeting was held last night at the Commercial club by the advertising men of the city with the object of discussing the methods to be used to obtain the best results in advertising. Much interest was shown in the topic and the discussion was open to all present. The principal speaker of the evening was F. J. Cooper, president and general manager of the F. J. Cooper Advertising men in the country, and the device that he gave the assembly was the fruit of long experience from operations in every part of the United States. He is on his way east and will leave Salt Lake this afternoon.

WHERE IS "BILL" BYRD?

Postmaster Thomas is in receipt of a letter from John Wyatt Byrd, of Cadogan Mills, Tex., asking for information concerning a lost relative, who is supposed to be in Salt Lake City. Said relative, according to the communication, is John Wyatt Byrd, is supposed to be an old bachelor between 25 and 70 years of age, and has persistently refused to give his name to the postmaster, or else he has failed to recognize the information concerning the said Bill Byrd will be appreciated by John Wyatt Byrd.

BATES IS ARRESTED AGAIN.

Habeas corpus proceedings directed against Chief of Police Tom D. Pitt were heard by Judge Armstrong in the criminal court this afternoon, resulting in the release of Oliver Bates, who was arrested in this city Tuesday on a charge of abduction at the request of Burley, Ida, authorities. Judge Armstrong decided that he was not lawfully restrained.
