SUNDAY SERMON AT TABERNACLE

Elder Mathoniah Thomas Speaks Of the Fruits of the Gospel Of Christ.

SALVATION IS UNIVERSAL.

Same Laws and Commandments for All Men and All Nations.

The congregation that assembled at the tabernacle yesterday afternoon was addressed by Elder Mathoniah Thomas, who discoursed on the fruits of the Gospel of Christ, as enjoyed by the saints, in ancient and in modern times.

The services were presided over by President John R. Winder. The musical exercises consisted of the following selections, "Glorious things of thee are spoken," "Praise ye the Lord," "Let the Mountains Shout for Joy," and "Doxology," the last named by congregation and choir. Elder Brigham F. Grant offered the invocation, and benediction was pronounced by Elder George F. Richards.

ELDER MATHONIAH THOMAS. That the people of God should meet often in His name, is a commandment of the gospel, said Elder Thomas. It should be kept by the Latter-day Saints. Jesus Christ came into the world to fulfill the law. By Him were given all principles necessary to salvation. Redemption is for all, and each man must work out his own salvation. Not that any one can save himself independent of the Master of life, yet it is necessary for mortals to act in their own behalf, that they may be qualified to receive the fullness of the life and death of the Son of God.

The requirements laid down by the Savior as the initiatory principles are recorded in Mark 16, and that message was unto the world. To every creature was to be given the opportunity to hear and obey the gospel. The authority to teach and officiate was not confined to the eleven whom the Savior spoke, but unto all who should be called in the manner prescribed by the disciples of the Church of Christ. Those who obeyed the gospel as taught by the apostles forsook their sins and became as little children. The Spirit of God was manifest among them and they lived in love and unity to a marked degree. Charity and good will were characteristics of that people and their hearts were made pure. It was in the world might partake of the blessings of the gospel of Jesus Christ. And the gospel did spread and its influence was felt among all civilized nations.

The benefits of the message of life were intended to be for the material welfare of man, as well as for his soul's redemption. And so, too, the benediction of the gospel was designed for the salvation of nations, as well as for man. The blessings of God have never been limited to any nation or to any people. They who hunger and thirst for righteousness shall be filled in the universal promise made unto all the world.

Referring to the people who anciently inhabited the western half of the world, Elder Thomas said that to them was brought the message of life, and he proclaimed on the eastern hemisphere, and to them came also the same blessings.

The greatest thing an earthly parent can do for his child is to give it opportunity for development. As the offspring grows and progresses, the parent is partaker of the goodly fruits of achievement. In like manner, with God, the child of man, who is given the opportunity to obey the commandments of God, and carry them out in their daily lives.

In the dispensation of the fullness of times, the gospel of the Son of God has been restored. Since God has again poured out His Spirit to give to man great and mighty things have been accomplished in all phases of life activities. All this is for the redemption of the earth, and for the uplifting of the human race. The blessings of the Father are glorified. The Father was glorified by the sacrifices of His Son Jesus Christ. Wherever men are found who desire to do the will of God, there will be manifested the Spirit of God, with its attendant gifts and blessings.

Man can be saved only by obedience to the commandments of Jesus Christ. No amount of so-called belief will bring redemption for the soul, unless men and women lay hold of the living principles of the Son of God and carry them out in their daily lives.
