Utah Good Roads

Convention Memorializes Congress in Petition for Sale Lands.

IS NOW UP TO LEGISLATURE

Bills Offered to Delegates Are Amended and In Shape for Presentation to House and Senate.

After six hours of debate upon eight bills and a memorial to Congress, the Utah Good Roads convention yesterday afternoon adjourned without date, and its active work now passes into the hands of its legislative committee.

The eight bills were all endorsed with a few amendments, and in their amended form they will be presented to the legislature. In scope they cover the field of a system of road building, a system of road maintenance, and a plan for financing the enterprise by a vehicle tax.

The final session of the convention held yesterday afternoon was not so stormy as the morning, when sectional feeling ran free for a short time, and formed into a number of caustic suggestions and retorts.

At the opening of the afternoon session, a bill to provide a uniform system of highway construction was introduced for consideration. It received a unanimous standing vote.

A third bill, framed to do away with labor pools and substitute a cash toll tax of $3 for all motor vehicles 21 and 50 years of age, and to provide a system of road supervisors in lieu of the present system of district supervisors, also was passed.

The matter of the poll tax created some discussion, one delegate declaring that the young blood should bear the burden and the old man be excused. He wanted the age limit placed at 40. "Let the old boys who have made a competence off our rich lands bear their share" was an argument advanced by a gray haired delegate which brought out an amendment to make it 60 years. Both amendments were finally lost.

A bill grading property into three classes for taxation, according to its location, either near or distant from a main road, and providing a tax to build macadam and gravel roads was endorsed unanimously. Mr. Roberts pointed out that no tax on dirt roads was provided because he thought any such tax would be a hardship on dirt roads whenever it wanted them without additional taxes.

TAX ON VEHICLES. "We are not going to tax the farmer for his farm wagon," said Mr. Roberts, "but we do intend to tax the farmer who can afford the luxury of a buggy for that buggy." With this comment he brought forward a bill providing a vehicle tax which graded buggies into four classes from A to D, with a tax ranging from 50 cents to $3.

Automobiles are listed in the bill in classes E, F and G, with a tax ranging from $12 up to $20. Orson H. Hewitt called attention to the fact that the bill provided for the tax on automobiles, but assured all present that the automobile owners of Salt Lake approved the bill and were willing to abide by it.

Wide tires for vehicles formed the subject of a bill, and as wide tires had been discussed prior to the consideration of the bill there was no opposition to it. A provision exempting farmers from the wide tire tax was adopted wide tires before Jan. 15, 1915, when the wide tire law is to become effective, was applauded.

A bill providing penalties for farmers who irrigate ditches overflowed the highway, provided the principal discussion of the afternoon. Mr. Roberts' measure provided a fine of not more than $2,000 and imprisonment for not longer than one year for destruction of the right of the highway, officials failing to prosecute were to be guilty of a felony.

Delegate Smoot of Provo, held that gophers often make holes through ditches, irrigation water gets upon the highways, that heepage cannot be controlled, and that in the best ditches the water sometimes gets away. He thought the bill too drastic and declared that the rights of the highway were no more sacred than the rights of citizens. Several other delegates took this view, and finally the bill was amended to the extent that Mr. Roberts declared it might well be burned, since the present law covered its amended provisions.

MEMORIAL TO CONGRESS.

The final matter considered was a memorial to Congress asking for the setting apart of 2,000,000 acres of public land in Utah for the use of the state in building good roads. It passed without comment or opposition. The bills were then referred to the legislative committee which prepared the straightened them out in line with the sense of the convention as expressed in the voting.

The report of the committee on permanent organization recommended that Governor William Spry be president, and that there be an executive committee to consist of five members, two from Salt Lake and one each from Logan, Ogden, and Provo.

The vice presidents were announced after a brief recess to consist of the following: R. H. Taylor, Cache, John P. Allen, Carbon, Homer Thomas, Davis, M. W. Whiteside, Emery, Alonso Brinkley, Grand, J. E. Brown, Kane, John F. Brown, Morgan, T. W. Huters, Nephi, T. H. Burton; Sanpete, C. M. Madson; Salt Lake, John Devo; Sevier, H. C. Larson; Summit, George Smith; Wasatch, Thomas Jefferson; Millard, O. F. Thompson.

For the executive committee, Utah county selected Joseph Dunn; Weber, R. M. Madson; Salt Lake, George M. Cannon; and O. H. Hewitt; Cache, Herschel Bullen.

Preceding the motion to adjourn Governor Spry, former Governor Cutler and the committee members were thanked for their interest and services in arranging for the convention. The legislative committee will now take up its work with the legislature and see that the bills agreed upon are introduced and supported.

A MATTER OF CHOICE.

Really, as a matter of choice, we would rather have ten persons deposit $1 each than one person $10; or ten persons deposit $5 each, than one person $50; or ten persons deposit $1,000 each, than one person $10,000. True, these smaller deposits give us more labor in caring for them; still we prefer them. No one therefore, should be at all timid about bringing in small deposits. Make our bank your bank.
