Judge Bestows Coveted Prizes in the Way of Decrees on All That Come Under the Wire.

Elias Wolf, formerly a school teacher of some ability, now a junk peddler by choice, and the father of 10 children, ruled his household with an iron rod until yesterday when his wife, Lena Wolf, secured a divorce from him on the ground of cruelty. With it Judge Moore granted her the custody of the 10 children and $50 a month alimony.

From all appearances, Wolf can meet this expense more easily picking rags and gathering up tin cans than he can teaching school. In the summer time he earns $30 a week and in the winter time $25 a week.

His marital troubles began some time ago over the driving of a car. Some time ago over the driving of a car. Some time ago over the driving of a car.

Through several letters introduced in court, Mrs. Jennie E. Dunklee was granted a divorce from Allen C. Dunklee, an actor, who is now doing a "black face" stunt in the state of Kansas, on the charge of desertion.

Mary Holden, whose husband, Rex Holden, threw a glass of beer in her face last Fourth of July because she would not drink with him, secured a divorce on the charge of cruelty and desertion.

Mrs. Clara Evans, wife of Monroe S. Evans, a prominent racehorse man at Emeryville, California and a clubman at San Francisco, secured a divorce yesterday on the ground of desertion.

Lillian Taggart, who was deserted by her husband four years ago in Buena Vista, Col., was given a decree of divorce from Joseph Taggart. They were married in Denver on March 12, 1903.

After Abraham Jones, a chronic wife beater, was "kicked" out of Salt Lake by the police about a year ago, Mrs. Millie Jones, his wife, has seen nothing of him or received any support from him.

Samuel Easthope lived with his wife just a week. The "divorce" was granted without any apparent cause, she packed up her things and left. Since that time Easthope says that he has learned that she abandoned him for another man. Her name was Martha Ella Easthope, and they were married here on June 23, 1907.

Dr. F. A. Olsen, a dentist, was granted a divorce from his wife, Mrs. May G. Olsen on the charge of desertion. They were married here on Dec. 6, 1894.

Lydia Graham, the mother of three small children, was given a decree of divorce from John Graham, who went to Wyoming about a year ago and left her in destitute circumstances. She testified that he was an habitual drunkard.

BODY OF JUDGE HALL TO BE BURIED HERE

Well Known Jurist Dies While Fighting to Regain His Health in California.

The body of Judge William C. Hall, who passed away at the sanitarium at Long Beach, Cal., yesterday, as the result of a complication of troubles, is expected to arrive in this city for interment tomorrow.

After coming to Utah, Judge Hall at once sprang into prominence as a lawyer. He made a specialty of mining law and became known as a capable attorney.

In the fall of 1900 Judge Hall was elected to the Utah judicial district, taking his seat on Jan. 2, 1901. He served with distinction in the equity division for four years.

Relatives of Judge Hall are living in Kentucky and Virginia. His father, Thomas G. Hall, served in the war of 1812, fighting both the British and the Indians.

Judge Hall was married to Miss Marion T. Thornton, of Mississippi in 1890. He had three children, William T., aged 18, Marion C., 17, and James A. Hall, 11, survive him.

You're to be the judge; we leave it to you to decide; all we want is your verdict—Will Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea make you well and keep you well? That's fair. Tea or Tablets, 35 cents.—Godde-Fitts Drug Co.
