

MEMORIAL DAY AT MT. OLIVET

Patriotic Societies Hold Ritualistic Service Over Veterans' Graves.

WOMEN AID IN THE TRIBUTE

Relief Corps Participates in Exercises Over the Bodies of Those Who Fought for the Union.

Several hundred people were present at the memorial exercises at Mt. Olivet this morning, among them being a great many G. A. R. veterans and a good representation of the Woman's Relief Corps. The exercises were conducted according to the G. A. R. ritual, those taking part being members of the above organizations. The address of the day was made by the Rev. Walter C. Veazie.

The exercises were started shortly after 10 o'clock by the veterans forming around the monument erected by the McKean post, with Flag Bearer B. B. Burton standing in a conspicuous place in front of the monument.

Commander J. H. Wolcott of McKean Post read the opening words from the G. A. R. ritual, when Chaplain W. D. Gaby offered the opening prayer. The services were continued, those taking part being Commander Wolcott, Commander C. W. A. Schnell and Capt. Connor of the Sons of Veterans, Lincoln's address on the field of Gettysburg was read by Comrade Schnell.

B. F. Grant Now Decides Not to Reply to Attack

Editor Deseret News: Dear Sir: You were kind enough to print at my request, in Wednesday's issue the editorial of the Inter-Mountain Republican, which made me the object of an unprovoked and malicious attack. I announced my intention to reply to the Republican editorial but upon further consideration I have decided that it is not necessary for me to do so. The base and abusive language of the editorial discloses the motive and character of the writer, or perhaps I should say writers, so clearly to any discerning reader that nothing is needed from me.

I have lived in this state for more than half a century. There are some things in my earlier life, as I dare say there are in the lives of most mortals, that are regrettable, but the charges of dishonesty, disloyalty and hypocrisy, as set forth in that editorial, are absolutely false and I challenge the writer, or perhaps I should say writers, of it to produce flowers on the graves of those who have gone.

SERVICE BY THE WOMEN.

The members of the Women's Relief Corps then formed in front of the monument, and led by the senior vice president, Mrs. Martha Hines, sang "Near or my God to Thee," the spectators joining in the chorus. The ritual of the Woman's Relief Corps was then read, after which Mrs. Augusta Deane, president of the Woman's Relief Corps, presented the wreath of flowers in memory of those who fall at their posts. It was followed by senior vice president Mrs. Hines, who presented a wreath of evergreens in memory of the women of the North who suffered bereavement. "Bring us now our garlands" was then sung by the women, after each of those present had laid her tribute at the monument. The firing squad fired three volleys, America was sung by all present, after which the benediction was offered by the Rev. W. C. Veazie.

The members of the Woman's Relief Corps taking part in this morning's exercises were Mrs. Augusta Deane, president; Mrs. Martha Hines, senior vice president; Mrs. Lillian Duncan, junior vice president; Miss Nan Short, secretary; chaplain, Mrs. Mary E. Lacy; treasurer, Mrs. Adeline Patterson; conductor, Mrs. Zimmerman; guard, Mrs. Althea Lane; assistant guard, Mrs. T. E. Bird. Also the four color bearers, Mrs. Lizzie Smeltzer, Mrs. Christine Cook, Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Kate Farrell.

WHY USE YOUR LETTERHEADS FOR SCRATCH PAPER WHEN WE CAN SEND YOU SCRATCH PAPER SO CHEAP? THE DESERET NEWS.

DEATH OF JENNIE B. WHIPPLE. Well Known Woman Called Suddenly By Heart Failure.

Mrs. Jennie B. Whipple, a well known woman of this city, died suddenly yesterday morning of heart failure at the residence of Mrs. Adelaide A. Asper, 210 First street. Mrs. Whipple had resided in the city for the past 25 years, having come here from Iowa, where she became a convert to Mormonism many years ago. She was at one time superintendent of the county infirmary for four years. In 1909 she went east and spent two years with the Chicago mission. Three brothers and a sister survive her who reside in the east. They have been notified of her death. The funeral will be announced when they have been heard from.

COLLIDES WITH FIRE ENGINE. Bicycleist Becomes Confused During Run to Furniture Store.

Richard Rasterfer of 332 California street, while riding a bicycle on Main street, Saturday night, collided with a fire department chemical wagon which was answering an alarm turned in from the Standard Furniture company. Rasterfer, fortunately escaped without serious injury, but suffered nothing more serious than two cuts on the forehead and a bruised shoulder. The accident occurred in front of Z. C. M. I. feeling with the store Society, becoming bewildered in the commotion caused by an overheated stove, was ex- He was removed to the emergency hospital from the scene of the accident to his home after being attended by Asst. City Physician Steele. The fire at the furniture company, caused by an overheated stove, was extinguished before the flames gained headway and the loss did not exceed $10.

AMUSEMENTS

Mrs. Fiske at the Grand—Manager Jensen reports that the entire house is practically sold out for the first appearance tonight of Mrs. Fiske who appears for a four nights' engagement of "Salvation Nell," a powerful drama, dealing with the scene of the will be out in force and a number of parties have been made up for the occasion. A big force of men was at work early setting the scenery in which there is two carloads. Owing to the very heavy advance sale, Mrs. Fiske's manager today decided to continue the engagement until Thursday night.

Theater—Montville Flowers is the attraction at the Salt Lake theater for three nights commencing tomorrow in a repertory of masterpieces, chief among them being his four-act production of "Ben Hur," which will be given the opening night.

Colonial—"The Christian" with Ralph Stuart as John Storm and Mary Hall in the role of Glory Quince, is the offering at the Colonial all this week. The opening matinee occurred this afternoon.

Bungalow—Kennedy's comedians are presenting at the Bungalow this week the musical comedy "The Yankee Doodle Boy." There will be matinee Wednesday and Saturday.

B. Y. O. Opera Company—The appearance of the B. Y. O. opera company in Millocker's comic opera, "The Beggar Student" at the Orpheum next Wednesday afternoon and night will be an interesting event. Considerable interest is added to the production by the fact that Miss Fay Loose, daughter of Col. C. E. Loose, will portray the leading female part, that of Countess Laura. There will be a cast of 15 principals, a chorus of 50 and an orchestra of 25.

Empire—Since the closing of the Orpheum the Empire has been turning people away owing to the grand vaudeville bill provided. Miss Fannie Frankel proves a drawing card with some good songs. Ben Davis, monologue, eccentric songs and dancing. Dew and Dow, impersonations; Devere company in a sketch, Della Weaver, illustrated songs and some new motion pictures are among the features.

DANCE AT SALT LAKE TONIGHT. Floor like glass, Christensen's orchestra. New attractions. Round trip 25c.

Gladstone Tooth Powder

Cleanses and whitens the teeth, prevents decay.

25c a bottle

The Pure Drug Dispensary
112-114 South Main Street

PRICE OF COAL WILL TAKE DROP TOMORROW

Summer Storage Rate Goes Into Effect With Twenty-five Cents Taken Off Ton Rate.

A reduction of 25 cents per ton in coal will be placed in effect tomorrow. The reduction will continue during the three following months, and will be made by the railroads in order to encourage the summer storage of coal for winter consumption. The local dealers have agreed that the consumer shall secure the benefit of the reduction, and it is expected that the consumers will take advantage of the cut to lay in a supply of fuel for the coming winter.

KNOCKED DOWN BY CYCLIST.

Miss Elizabeth Serrat, whose home is at 17 south Fifth street, was the unfortunate victim of a collision which occurred shortly before 11 o'clock this afternoon, at the corner of Main and First South streets. Miss Serrat was crossing the street at the point named and saw a buggy approaching from one side, and in attempting to get clear of the vehicle did not see the motor cycle approaching from the other side of the street. The cyclist was riding to the left of the way in order to avoid the collision. The woman was knocked down and the unfortunate woman's injuries. She was removed to her home, where it is thought she will speedily recover.

SOME COMPARISONS.

The fact is that a legislature, composed of men representing every section of the state, as a matter of fact, is not a legislature which the state conducts its business, posted thoroughly on the financial condition of the state and her people, deemed it expedient to do so. The move toward the erection of a capitol building, a careful investigation of the provisions of law, the necessities of the situation and the necessities of the state's finances, resulted in the enactment of four measures, under the provisions of which the state may, with great expedition, proceed to the accomplishment of the end desired. Under the plan formulated the scheme could not be carried out without each of the several measures becoming law, and the burden to the people was lightly distributed over a period of 15 years. Certainly the legislature was fully convinced of the urgent necessity for the erection of a capitol building.

FOR CENTRALIZATION.

"The United States government is rapidly making provision for the housing of the postoffice and its administrative officers in the various states in modern, convenient and imposing buildings. This is significant. The modern tendency is toward centralization in the management of all lines of business. The administration of the affairs of the State of Utah involves the handling of business along exactly the same lines as that employed in the successful directing of the affairs of any business institution. Under the present arrangement this is an absolute impossibility.

STATE PRIDE.

"State pride is a factor which cannot be overlooked. Our sister states, however, are less financially able to undertake the construction of capitol

GOVERNOR SPRY'S PLEA FOR CAPITOL

Declares the Question is One Into Which Partisanship Does Not Enter.

POLITICS IS NOT A FACTOR. It is Strictly and Solely a Business Proposition, Submitted to the State's Stockholders.

Governor William Spry this morning gave to the Deseret News the following statement with respect to the proposed election on the proposition to increase the state tax levy one mill so as to make possible the erection of a state capitol:

"On June 8, there will be submitted to the people of the state a question which I regard as one of the most vital business importance—shall the state proceed to erect a capitol building?"

"The question is one into which partisanship does not enter, in which politics is not a factor, and into which factionalism should not be injected. It is strictly and solely a business proposition, submitted to the state's stockholders—the property owners—involving a question as to whether they desire to continue to transact the affairs of the state as tenants in common with the government of Salt Lake City and county, and numerous owners of Salt Lake business blocks, at enormous yearly rentals—with meager and absolutely inadequate accommodations, or whether in keeping with the practice of the other states of the Union, they will provide quarters for the various branches of state government, for the secure and expeditious transaction of the state's business.

"The agitation in a certain quarter for the removal of the state capitol at this time is irrelevant, unjust, and unfair. The location of the capitol of Utah is definitely and finally settled. Section 7 of the enabling act of July 16, 1894, provides: 'That upon the admission of the said state (Utah) to the Union, in accordance with the provisions of this act, one hundred sections of the unappropriated lands within the said state, to be selected and located in subdivisions as provided in section 6 of this act shall be, and are hereby granted to said state, for the purpose of erecting public buildings at the capital of said state, when permanently located, for legislative, executive and judicial purposes.'

"The question of the location of the state capitol was exhaustively discussed in the constitutional convention and was definitely and finally settled under the provisions of section 3 of article 19 of the Constitution, which permanently locates the seat of government at Salt Lake City. Section 1 of article 22 of the Constitution further provides: 'All lands of the state that have been, or may hereafter be granted to the state by Congress, or that are acquired by gift, grant or devise, from any person or corporation, or may be otherwise acquired, are hereby accepted, and declared to be the public land of the state, and shall be held in trust for the people, to be disposed of as may be provided by law, for the respective purposes for which they have been or may hereafter be acquired. The constitutional convention fixed the capitol site permanently at Salt Lake City. Doing this, it completed the enabling act, and the land grant of the enabling act, and already the state has selected of the 64,000 acres granted by Congress 62,736 acres.

"The fact is that a legislature, composed of men representing every section of the state, as a matter of fact, is not a legislature which the state conducts its business, posted thoroughly on the financial condition of the state and her people, deemed it expedient to do so. The move toward the erection of a capitol building, a careful investigation of the provisions of law, the necessities of the situation and the necessities of the state's finances, resulted in the enactment of four measures, under the provisions of which the state may, with great expedition, proceed to the accomplishment of the end desired. Under the plan formulated the scheme could not be carried out without each of the several measures becoming law, and the burden to the people was lightly distributed over a period of 15 years. Certainly the legislature was fully convinced of the urgent necessity for the erection of a capitol building.

"The United States government is rapidly making provision for the housing of the postoffice and its administrative officers in the various states in modern, convenient and imposing buildings. This is significant. The modern tendency is toward centralization in the management of all lines of business. The administration of the affairs of the State of Utah involves the handling of business along exactly the same lines as that employed in the successful directing of the affairs of any business institution. Under the present arrangement this is an absolute impossibility.

"Beginning with the legislature, which is centrally convened at the seat of government, and continuing through every coordinate branch of state government, the same conditions are entirely inadequate to the growing demands of the state.

"The scattered location of state officers renders the transaction of business slow and cumbersome, and the ever increasing volume of business transacted makes it imperative that proper accommodations be afforded for its speedy transaction.

"The argument that Salt Lake county exhibits a voracious disposition in the matter of appropriations has at the heart of the legislature is without foundation of truth. As a matter of fact, information I may state that eliminating the assessed valuation of the county, the total assessed valuation of the state, outside of Salt Lake county, is in round figures $72,216,339; while Salt Lake county was assessed on its real estate, improvements and personal property, exclusive of railroad property, etc., approximately $77,495,023, or about 63 per cent as much as the entire state, outside of Salt Lake county.

"On a like comparative statement, the next largest county in point of assessed value on a basis of about 10 per cent on the entire assessed valuation of the state, and notwithstanding this fact, this same county received approximately 18 per cent of the total appropriations by the legislature for State Institutions.

"The fact is that a legislature, composed of men representing every section of the state, as a matter of fact, is not a legislature which the state conducts its business, posted thoroughly on the financial condition of the state and her people, deemed it expedient to do so. The move toward the erection of a capitol building, a careful investigation of the provisions of law, the necessities of the situation and the necessities of the state's finances, resulted in the enactment of four measures, under the provisions of which the state may, with great expedition, proceed to the accomplishment of the end desired. Under the plan formulated the scheme could not be carried out without each of the several measures becoming law, and the burden to the people was lightly distributed over a period of 15 years. Certainly the legislature was fully convinced of the urgent necessity for the erection of a capitol building.

"The fact is that a legislature, composed of men representing every section of the state, as a matter of fact, is not a legislature which the state conducts its business, posted thoroughly on the financial condition of the state and her people, deemed it expedient to do so. The move toward the erection of a capitol building, a careful investigation of the provisions of law, the necessities of the situation and the necessities of the state's finances, resulted in the enactment of four measures, under the provisions of which the state may, with great expedition, proceed to the accomplishment of the end desired. Under the plan formulated the scheme could not be carried out without each of the several measures becoming law, and the burden to the people was lightly distributed over a period of 15 years. Certainly the legislature was fully convinced of the urgent necessity for the erection of a capitol building.

"The fact is that a legislature, composed of men representing every section of the state, as a matter of fact, is not a legislature which the state conducts its business, posted thoroughly on the financial condition of the state and her people, deemed it expedient to do so. The move toward the erection of a capitol building, a careful investigation of the provisions of law, the necessities of the situation and the necessities of the state's finances, resulted in the enactment of four measures, under the provisions of which the state may, with great expedition, proceed to the accomplishment of the end desired. Under the plan formulated the scheme could not be carried out without each of the several measures becoming law, and the burden to the people was lightly distributed over a period of 15 years. Certainly the legislature was fully convinced of the urgent necessity for the erection of a capitol building.

"The fact is that a legislature, composed of men representing every section of the state, as a matter of fact, is not a legislature which the state conducts its business, posted thoroughly on the financial condition of the state and her people, deemed it expedient to do so. The move toward the erection of a capitol building, a careful investigation of the provisions of law, the necessities of the situation and the necessities of the state's finances, resulted in the enactment of four measures, under the provisions of which the state may, with great expedition, proceed to the accomplishment of the end desired. Under the plan formulated the scheme could not be carried out without each of the several measures becoming law, and the burden to the people was lightly distributed over a period of 15 years. Certainly the legislature was fully convinced of the urgent necessity for the erection of a capitol building.

"The fact is that a legislature, composed of men representing every section of the state, as a matter of fact, is not a legislature which the state conducts its business, posted thoroughly on the financial condition of the state and her people, deemed it expedient to do so. The move toward the erection of a capitol building, a careful investigation of the provisions of law, the necessities of the situation and the necessities of the state's finances, resulted in the enactment of four measures, under the provisions of which the state may, with great expedition, proceed to the accomplishment of the end desired. Under the plan formulated the scheme could not be carried out without each of the several measures becoming law, and the burden to the people was lightly distributed over a period of 15 years. Certainly the legislature was fully convinced of the urgent necessity for the erection of a capitol building.

"The fact is that a legislature, composed of men representing every section of the state, as a matter of fact, is not a legislature which the state conducts its business, posted thoroughly on the financial condition of the state and her people, deemed it expedient to do so. The move toward the erection of a capitol building, a careful investigation of the provisions of law, the necessities of the situation and the necessities of the state's finances, resulted in the enactment of four measures, under the provisions of which the state may, with great expedition, proceed to the accomplishment of the end desired. Under the plan formulated the scheme could not be carried out without each of the several measures becoming law, and the burden to the people was lightly distributed over a period of 15 years. Certainly the legislature was fully convinced of the urgent necessity for the erection of a capitol building.

"The fact is that a legislature, composed of men representing every section of the state, as a matter of fact, is not a legislature which the state conducts its business, posted thoroughly on the financial condition of the state and her people, deemed it expedient to do so. The move toward the erection of a capitol building, a careful investigation of the provisions of law, the necessities of the situation and the necessities of the state's finances, resulted in the enactment of four measures, under the provisions of which the state may, with great expedition, proceed to the accomplishment of the end desired. Under the plan formulated the scheme could not be carried out without each of the several measures becoming law, and the burden to the people was lightly distributed over a period of 15 years. Certainly the legislature was fully convinced of the urgent necessity for the erection of a capitol building.

"The fact is that a legislature, composed of men representing every section of the state, as a matter of fact, is not a legislature which the state conducts its business, posted thoroughly on the financial condition of the state and her people, deemed it expedient to do so. The move toward the erection of a capitol building, a careful investigation of the provisions of law, the necessities of the situation and the necessities of the state's finances, resulted in the enactment of four measures, under the provisions of which the state may, with great expedition, proceed to the accomplishment of the end desired. Under the plan formulated the scheme could not be carried out without each of the several measures becoming law, and the burden to the people was lightly distributed over a period of 15 years. Certainly the legislature was fully convinced of the urgent necessity for the erection of a capitol building.

"The fact is that a legislature, composed of men representing every section of the state, as a matter of fact, is not a legislature which the state conducts its business, posted thoroughly on the financial condition of the state and her people, deemed it expedient to do so. The move toward the erection of a capitol building, a careful investigation of the provisions of law, the necessities of the situation and the necessities of the state's finances, resulted in the enactment of four measures, under the provisions of which the state may, with great expedition, proceed to the accomplishment of the end desired. Under the plan formulated the scheme could not be carried out without each of the several measures becoming law, and the burden to the people was lightly distributed over a period of 15 years. Certainly the legislature was fully convinced of the urgent necessity for the erection of a capitol building.

"The fact is that a legislature, composed of men representing every section of the state, as a matter of fact, is not a legislature which the state conducts its business, posted thoroughly on the financial condition of the state and her people, deemed it expedient to do so. The move toward the erection of a capitol building, a careful investigation of the provisions of law, the necessities of the situation and the necessities of the state's finances, resulted in the enactment of four measures, under the provisions of which the state may, with great expedition, proceed to the accomplishment of the end desired. Under the plan formulated the scheme could not be carried out without each of the several measures becoming law, and the burden to the people was lightly distributed over a period of 15 years. Certainly the legislature was fully convinced of the urgent necessity for the erection of a capitol building.

"The fact is that a legislature, composed of men representing every section of the state, as a matter of fact, is not a legislature which the state conducts its business, posted thoroughly on the financial condition of the state and her people, deemed it expedient to do so. The move toward the erection of a capitol building, a careful investigation of the provisions of law, the necessities of the situation and the necessities of the state's finances, resulted in the enactment of four measures, under the provisions of which the state may, with great expedition, proceed to the accomplishment of the end desired. Under the plan formulated the scheme could not be carried out without each of the several measures becoming law, and the burden to the people was lightly distributed over a period of 15 years. Certainly the legislature was fully convinced of the urgent necessity for the erection of a capitol building.

"The fact is that a legislature, composed of men representing every section of the state, as a matter of fact, is not a legislature which the state conducts its business, posted thoroughly on the financial condition of the state and her people, deemed it expedient to do so. The move toward the erection of a capitol building, a careful investigation of the provisions of law, the necessities of the situation and the necessities of the state's finances, resulted in the enactment of four measures, under the provisions of which the state may, with great expedition, proceed to the accomplishment of the end desired. Under the plan formulated the scheme could not be carried out without each of the several measures becoming law, and the burden to the people was lightly distributed over a period of 15 years. Certainly the legislature was fully convinced of the urgent necessity for the erection of a capitol building.

Banks' MILLINERY.

Half price special on all Trimmed Hats all Day Tuesday.

116 Main St.

Did you notice that most of the stylish hats worn by the women today at the resorts possessed rare beauty and up-to-dateness? THEY CAME FROM buildings than Utah, now have imposing and stately buildings.

Half price special on all Trimmed Hats all Day Tuesday.

116 Main St.

Utah has taken a position in the forefront of the progressive younger states of the Union, in the maintenance of which the possession of a state capitol is important.

"Without fear of successful contradiction I make the assertion that Utah has one of the most commanding and magnificent capitol sites to be found in the United States. These grounds have been lying idle while the state has been playing the role of a tenant. Architects of national reputation, who have been over the capitol site, declare that it lends itself most admirably to wonderful architectural testament.

"Utah has varied resources in building materials, and I would like to see a capitol building constructed of home products, as far as possible, and the thought has occurred that the various counties of the state could be presented in the building each by its special product.

"Let the entire state work together for a capitol building."

W. E. Daniels of Ely, is Taken to Emergency Hospital for Treatment.

After days of aimless wandering, during which his mind was a blank, and the events of which he has no recollection, W. E. Daniels of Ely, Nev., recovered his memory last night, after being received as a patient in the emergency hospital. When taken to police headquarters last night Daniels at first and was unable to give his name or any information regarding his identity. After being attended by Dr. F. B. Steele, he recovered from his affliction sufficient to say that he had left Ely, Nev., May 20, but since then he could remember nothing.

This morning Daniels was fully recovered and spent the forenoon resting in the hospital, awaiting reply to messages sent to relatives in Denver, for which city he had been bound. His temporary affliction is thought to have been due to the change to the higher altitude.

TRAGIC FATE CONFIRMED.

A human lower jaw bone, with teeth intact but stripped clean of its flesh, found yesterday in City Creek canyon near where the remnants of Oscar Frohlander's clothing were found three weeks ago, confirms the tragic fate of the young man who disappeared from his home last January. The discovery of the bone yesterday was the result of weeks of search by the brothers of the dead boy, and today the searchers have renewed their work with greater activity in the saddening hope of finding more of the remains of the lad who had wandered into the hills to die from exposure and then became the prey of wild animals.

STILL BEING TREATED.

Vernon Wilehira, the youth who, according to his story, was the victim of an attack made upon him in a box car by three unknown men last Thursday night, and who sustained a broken wrist from a blow given with a revolver, is still an inmate of the emergency hospital, awaiting some advice from his parents in Jersey City, N. J. The father, who, the boy says, is an engineer on the New York Central railroad, was telegraphed to last Friday evening by Chief of Police Barlow, but no reply has been received up to the present time.

MAD MAN ATTACKS WIFE.

John Lamp Beats Helpmeet With Hammer and Fractures Her Skull.

(Special to the "News.") Idaho Falls, Ida., May 31.—Being compelled to sit on a coroner's jury is believed to have caused John Lamp of this place to become mentally unbalanced and early Saturday morning he fractured his wife's skull with a hammer and then committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. Last winter the man served on a coroner's jury and is said to have talked of it much since then.

Mrs. Lamp was asleep when the man arose, and secured the hammer. The woman is now in a dangerous condition and little hope is entertained for her recovery. The couple leave eight children.

HORSES BAD ACTORS.

Horses which appeared in the drama, "At the Rainbow's End," at the Colonial theater, under the Willard Mack company, indulged in a little hilarity Saturday night. One of the animals succeeded in landing Arling Alene, a member of the company, on the ground just as he was about to enter the theater. Al-time had a revolver in his hand at the time and in being thrown, fell on it, cutting a wound in his chin. Another horse, which was to take part also, became frightened and the two animals ran away. It was two hours later that they were caught and brought back. Dr. A. C. Ewink was called and put several stitches in the actor's chin.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

The funeral services over the remains of the late William H. Gayler, son of Henry W. and Hannah Cardell Gayler, aged 23 years, will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. from the family residence, 218 east First South street. A private funeral service will be held for the immediate family and near friends only. Interment in city cemetery.

The funeral services over the remains of Mary A. Riley, wife of Patrolman J. J. Riley, who died in this city May 27, 1909, will be held Tuesday morning, June 1, 1909, at the parlors of Eber W. Hall, 184 south West Temple. Services and interment will be private. Interment in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Jennie B. Whipple will be held at 2 o'clock p. m. on Wednesday, in the seventeenth ward meetinghouse.

DIED.

WHIPPLE—At 210 Fern street, May 30, 1909, Jennie B. Whipple, born Feb. 8, 1842, in Fairfield, O.

The remains are at the funeral parlors of Joseph William Taylor, 23 south West Temple street. The deceased was the ma-iron of the old Deseret hospital. Notice of funeral later.

SHARP—In this city, May 30, 1909, Ray Sharp, aged 21 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dr. J. S. Sharp. Funeral services will be held Tuesday, June 1, 1909, at the parlors of Eber W. Hall, 184 south West Temple. Services and interment will be private. Interment in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

R. E. Evans, Florist, 30 S. Main St. Floral designs a specialty. Phone 961.

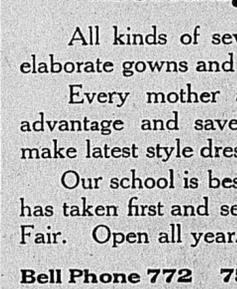

Richest Cream

Chopped Pineapple, Cherries and Nuts, and our secret formulae of PURE SUGAR FONDANT, all scientifically combined and blended, then coated in very best Bitter Sweet Chocolate—such is STARTUP'S; 4c or 5c anywhere.

STARTUP CANDY CO. Provo "The Candy City."

Hamilton's CORRECT DRESS FOR WOMEN 216 SOUTH MAIN ST.

We Ship Anywhere in Inter-Mountain Country.

ROYAL BREAD

Don't Bake Your Own Bread

The price at which flour is sold today makes it much cheaper for you to buy Baker's Bread. And in "Royal Table Queen" Bread you get bread as good, if not even better than you can make yourself.

5c

Look for This Label of Quality

KEISTER Ladies Tailoring College

JOS. E. WILSON, MANAGER

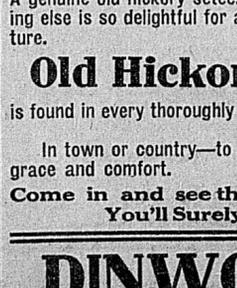

Salt Lake, Logan, Provo and Park City Schools

Begins Summer Course Monday, June 14

All kinds of sewing from plainest to most elaborate gowns and tailor-made suits. Every mother and daughter should take advantage and save money while learning to make latest style dresses at our summer course. Our school is best in West. Students' work has taken first and second cash prizes at State Fair. Open all year.

Bell Phone 772 75 Center Street, Salt Lake

Here's Real Comfort

A genuine old hickory settee. For the summer evenings—nothing else is so delightful for a rest as this springy, easy furniture.

Old Hickory Furniture

is found in every thoroughly equipped summer home, hotel, and inn. In town or country—to library, lawn or porch, it lends grace and comfort. Come in and see this Comfortable Furniture. You'll Surely get a few pieces

DINWOODEY'S

Union Dental Co.

Are now permanently located in their new and handsomely equipped rooms.

212 MAIN STREET.

Remember us. WE TREAT YOU RIGHT. Painless Extraction of Teeth or no pay.