Agreement Reached to Postpone Spokane Case Until Next Fall.

Washington, June 9.—An agreement was reached today between the interstate commerce commission and the parties interested in the Spokane case, including the shipping interests and the railroads that the phases of the question yet in controversy should be postponed until next fall when the whole matter will be threshed out in its merits.

MAY OUST THE COURT.

City Administration Wants the Rooms For its Officeholders.

If the plans of the city administration are carried out the juvenile court of Salt Lake, which has been idle for several weeks because the county commissioners and the juvenile court commission is at loggerheads over the appointment of a clerk will be ousted from its present quarters. It is proposed to use the rooms now occupied by the court to office the plumbing inspector, the sealer of weights and measures and the humane officer. These officers now occupy the same room with the health department and they are cramped for space.

Agreement Reached to Postpone Spokane Case Until Next Fall.

Washington, June 9.—An agreement was reached today between the interstate commerce commission and the parties interested in the Spokane case, including the shipping interests and the railroads that the phases of the question yet in controversy should be postponed until next fall when the whole matter will be threshed out in its merits.

It was agreed that the defendant railroads should file with the commission their class rates in accordance with the decision of the commission announced a few weeks ago, but that the commodity rates should remain as they are until the entire question could be gone over by the commission.

City Administration Wants the Rooms For its Officeholders.

If the plans of the city administration are carried out the juvenile court of Salt Lake, which has been idle for several weeks because the county commissioners and the juvenile court commission is at loggerheads over the appointment of a clerk will be ousted from its present quarters. It is proposed to use the rooms now occupied by the court to office the plumbing inspector, the sealer of weights and measures and the humane officer. These officers now occupy the same room with the health department and they are cramped for space.

The juvenile court in its present condition has been unable to do anything without a clerk, according to Judge Gowans. The cases are rapidly piling up, but they can not be disposed of. The city agreed to allow the court to have its present quarters in the city and county building for one year. That time has now expired, but the court has been unable to secure other quarters because the commission has no money.

INVITE INVESTIGATION.

Several of the smaller manufacturers of ice cream are considerably exercised regarding the printed statements that the state chemist has discovered impurities and disease germs in samples he had secured from wagon ice. In communication to the Deseret News one manufacturer invites the public to inspect his plant and give the proposition a thorough investigation. He maintains that there are dozens of other establishments where cleanliness is scrupulously observed and that such statements are hurtful to an important home industry.

Sweet Revenge is Taken By Anti-Prohibitionist

The latest flood anecdote is being gleefully told by friends of Joseph Cannon, who resides distinctly within the wet zone.

The story is told with variations, but the most popular version is along the following lines:

Mr. Cannon had occasion to attend a function Tuesday night, and during the absence of the highly buzzy was considerably perplexed as to how he should navigate and at the same time preserve the immaculate appearance associated with evening wear. While thinking of the matter he recalled the days when as a boy he discarded his attire and deserted in the flood waters of Jordan river. Mr. Cannon, noted for his promptness of action in a good idea immediately adjusted his toilet to meet the circumstances with which he was surrounded—the circumstances in question being water anywhere from 1 to 5 feet deep within several blocks of his residence.

Under cover of kindly shades of the night he sallied forth, immaculately dressed above the waist line and took to the water. His shoes, socks and some other clothing he carried on his arms. Taking care not to splash too much, the champion of prohibition forged onward.

After proceeding for some distance in this fashion he espied another wader coming towards him, and being somewhat of a retiring disposition, Mr. Cannon sneered off into deeper water which was nearly waist high. As the stranger passed splashing homeward he shouted his approval to the sponsor of the Cannon bill:

"I hope you have enough water to suit you at last."

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

The Oxford Consolidated Mining company, with a capital stock of $25,000 at 5 cents each, filed its articles of incorporation this morning in the office of the secretary of state. The officers are: James Crook, president; George Owens, vice president; and C. H. Spriggs, secretary and treasurer. The company owns several mining claims in the West Mountain mining district.

Articles of incorporation of the Angli-die Computing Scale company of Indiana, and of the Utah-Idaho security company of state. The company has a capital stock of $25,000, divided into shares of $100 each. C. J. Burkhardt is named as an agent for the company in Utah.

The Utah-Moapa Distributing company of Salt Lake City filed its articles of incorporation today with the county clerk. Its capital stock amounts to $25,000, divided into shares of $1 each. The company has an agreement with the farmers and fruit growers of Moapa to market their produce. The officers are: Frank R. Snow, president; Edwin S. Hinckley, vice president; and Hugh J. Cannon, secretary and treasurer.

BUSINESS NOTES

Today's local bank clearings amounted to $1,038,856.25, as compared with $1,077,197.65 for the corresponding day of last year.

The new $50,000 hotel which is being built at Tooele under the direction of Architect A. J. Hamilton is said to be going along satisfactorily. The basement is in an advanced stage of completion. The two-story Grobolski building is ready for the roof, and several new dwellings are in course of construction.

The new apartment house which is to be built at the corner of First avenue and C street by Hyrum Stewart of Kayville, will be three stories high, and consist of 21 apartments of four and five rooms each. The best white brick will be used in the construction, and no means will be spared to make the building rank among the best of its kind in the city. It will cost about $50,000.

The Hubbard Investment company reports the sale of a number of lots in Shoshone, Idaho, to Wallace, Ida., who purchased five lots for $300 per lot, and Catherine Casley of the same place has bought two lots in Oakley park, the same being 20 acres of land, a piece of property below Seventh South on Main street, to Butte, Mont., people.

Cannon and Cannon report the sale of two acres at Tenth South and Twelfth East streets from Jesse E. Cannon to the Orphans' Home and Day nursery for $4,000. It is proposed to erect the new home on these 20 acres on Thirteenth South street at $1,000 per acre, from R. B. Harkness to Cannon and Cannon, who will cut the property into half-acre lots.

Cannon and Cannon report recent sales of lots in Emerson heights addition amounting to $6,000, the lots being used for residence building.

Wieser's Essay—The March-April number of the Journal of the Military Service institution, the only publication in the United States controlled solely by officers of the army and devoted to the discussion of military problems, is also by the development of a more efficient service and other matters of interest to military men, and a general content to civilians generally, contains an able essay by First Lieutenant Gustave A. Wieser, Fifteenth infantry, stationed at Fort Douglas. He has selected for his subject "The military non-commissioned officer: How can his efficiency be best promoted and his re-employment be secured?" The essay presents one of the most arduous tasks of the army officer and its treatment is such that it will be read with interest by those of the military profession and also by those outside for many of the points brought out strongly are applicable to the commercial and industrial field as well as being such problems of the employer and the trained men desiring to retain their services.

COURT NEWS

PURVIANCE DISCHARGED.

Insanity Commission Declares Him Sane and Releases Him.

G. W. Purviance, president of the Ophir Black Mine, and general manager of the Jordan River Sand company, was discharged by Judge Lewis this morning after a hearing on the charge of insanity. From the nature of the testimony, it appeared that Purviance and other members of the sand company failed to get along with the company's officers. The company at 40 west Second South street. He was arrested on the charge of assault and battery on the complaint of J. E. Pottenger, superintendent of the company, after a personal encounter yesterday afternoon. Purviance became enraged and endeavored to strike Pottenger with a pickaxe charging him with being insane.

The other officers of the company objected to Purviance's insanity. Pottenger stated that Purviance had 45 men working for him and the payroll amounted to $1,400 a month in the city. The value of the company amounted to $160,000.

WILL APPEAL THE CASE.

Question Involving Collection of Poll Tax from U. S. Servants.

J. J. Whitaker, judge of the civil division of the city court, rendered a decision yesterday that railroad mail clerks and other employees of Uncle Sam are subject to city poll tax just the same as any other citizen. Judge Whitaker's decision has been making an effort to collect the tax from mail clerks with the intention of following it up and compel payment from other employees.

The case of Salt Lake City against A. J. Anson was taken as a test case in the city court. A. C. Christensen, who represented the mail clerks, contended that no personal tax could be levied against these officials because they were in the service of the United States. Edgar A. Rogers argued for the city that these officials are on the same basis as every other citizen and should pay the same taxes. The case will be appealed.

The preliminary hearing of F. G. Gilmore, charged with practicing medicine without a license, was continued by Judge Bowman this morning for one week.
