

UNITY OBJECT OF MORMONISM

Judge W. H. King Speaks in Tabernacle on Lack of Unity in the World.

REVELATION IS NECESSARY.

Condition of Christian World Proclaims Need of a Prophet Such as Latter-day Saints.

W. H. King was the speaker at the services in the tabernacle yesterday afternoon. In his address he referred to the disunion in the world as the result of error and the need of something with power to unite men which he declared was found in Mormonism.

The services were presided over by President John R. Winder. The first hymn, "Praise to the man who communed with Jehovah," was sung by the choir and congregation. Prayer was offered by Elder B. F. Grant.

The choir then sang the anthem, "Arouse O ye Mortals." Elder King said he could conceive of nothing so desirable as a knowledge of God. There are so many problems in life that cannot be explained that man is forced to look elsewhere and believe in a supreme being.

The choir sang the anthem, "O Glad some Light." Benediction was offered by Joseph E. Taylor.

BOY VICTIM OF RUNAWAY. Robert Cronin Drugged by Frightened Horse and Badly Hurt.

Robert Cronin, 16 years of age, residing in Robert's court in First South street, barely escaped death yesterday in being thrown beneath an overturned buggy and dragged a considerable distance by a runaway horse.

Cronin was driving a spirited horse attached to a light buggy along First South street and had the reins in his hands when the animal took fright at a passing car. After plunging down the street half a block the horse suddenly reared, throwing the wheels against an embankment at the side of the street, and overturning the buggy.

Cronin fell underneath, striking on his head. After being dragged half a block he was removed from his perilous position by a passerby who succeeded in stopping the horse in its wild dash. The boy was removed to his home where Dr. Millron was called in attendance.

MRS. W. H. JONES FAVORED. Chairman of Woman's Committee May Be Elected to High Office.

Mrs. W. H. Jones, chairman of the Woman's citizens' committee of the G. A. R., is prominently mentioned for the position of senior national vice president of the Woman's Relief corps. It is customary to elect this officer from the state entertaining the national G. A. R. encampment, and sentiment is in favor of Mrs. Jones, who has so ably directed the work of the women's department of the coming encampment, for the position.

At a recent meeting of the women's citizens' committee, Mrs. Jones submitted a complete report of her department up to date, and at its close asked the executive committee to allow her to continue the work. The committee found this will be hardly enough.

Mrs. L. C. Stocking, secretary of the women's committee, is ably assisting Mrs. Jones in the work for the coming encampment.

UTAH'S GREAT WOOL INDUSTRY

Clip This Year Will Bring $2,500,000 While Lambs Represent $4,500,000.

95 PER CENT IS CLEANED UP.

Total Weight in Fleeces Clipped Aggregates 14,000,000 Pounds—What the Railroads Share in Freight.

Utah's wool crop this year will net the state two and a half million dollars. That is the value of all the wool produced in this state during the wool shipping season which is just closing. The figure given may be a little less than the actual amount, or perhaps a little in excess, but not far distant from the real figure, one way or the other.

In other words, the total wool clip in this state this year will approximate nearly 14,000,000 pounds. The price paid for wool has ranged from 11 to 26 cents on an average; in some instances, where the clip was contracted before the high prices began to figure in the seasons' clip, wool was sold as low as 12 cents the pound, and in a few sporadic instances, the price went up as high as 23 and 24 cents a pound, one clip bringing as high as 25 cents. But these were exceptional prices, and the average may be safely figured at about 18 cents a pound, or a round $2,500,000 for the wool clip of this state this year.

LAMB CROP. Then there is the item of lambs which must be reckoned in arriving at the value of the sheep industry, in addition to the value of the sheep themselves. There are 2,000,000 ewes in the state, it is estimated, and the value of the ordinary ewe is conservatively placed at $4.50; the total value of the sheep then, would be $9,000,000. The lamb crop, it is estimated, will reach 75 per cent this season, giving 1,500,000 lambs, which are being sold for $3 apiece. This would add $4,500,000 to the value of the sheep industry in the state, making a total clip worth, for the present year alone, the snug sum of $13,500,000.

Most of the wool clip this season was shipped to St. Louis, Mo., one firm alone, that of B. Harris Wool company of St. Louis, secured one-half of the clip, or approximately 7,000,000 pounds. In speaking of the wool clip this morning, Mr. Harris, representing the company in this city, said: "Our firm secured half of the Utah clip this year. The amount of money we paid out runs up into the millions. We shipped all our wool to St. Louis. Fully 95 per cent of the Utah clip is cleaned up, and we are now winding up shipments from Idaho and western Wyoming. Altogether, our firm has paid out $3,000,000 for wool this season. Prices are 50 per cent higher this year than they were last, and the wool clip is perhaps 50 per cent over the amount of last season's yield. It has been a great year for wool, and everybody, grower, shipper and buyer, seems to be happy."

WHAT RAILROADS GET. From figures as to clips, etc., obtainable, it is estimated that about half the total Utah yield is shipped from the state over the Salt Lake Route. A great many of the larger shearing pens of southern Utah are situated on this line, and shipments are made in from distant corrals for loading on the road.

The Denver & Rio Grande secures about 6,000,000 pounds of the clip, while the Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Oregon Short Line gets about 1,000,000 pounds, these lines traversing territory now so largely contributing in shipments of wool.

The rate on wool to St. Louis from this state is $1.55 1/2 cents per 100 pounds; on the Salt Lake Route this rate is common from Salt Lake and to all points as far south as Frisco, Ark.; the rate to Chicago is $2.00, the great bulk of shipments from this territory go to St. Louis. It is estimated that the railroads garner in, from freight charges on the wool shipments made from this state, the sum of $750,000.

SOME BIG SHIPPERS. Among the largest individual shippers in the state are the Deseret Livestock Company, which shipped out 400,000 pounds of wool this season; N. S. Nielson of Mt. Pleasant whose clip shipped from Price footed up 150,000 pounds; Ira Hatch of Panguitch, Vatcher Bros. of Provo, F. C. Jensen of Provo, Bowen Bros. of Gunnison, Murdock of Heber, Austin Bros. association of Salt Lake, Heber Land & Livestock Co. of Heber, Austin & Sons company, David Smith and Albert Smith of Heber, Wood Livestock Co., Thomas Webb of Lehi, the Smith Morgan company of this city, and hundreds of others participated in the shipments which turned out Utah's great wool clip of the banner year of 1909.

TWENTY NEWSBOYS ARRESTED. The lure of the dice played havoc with the street newspaper business yesterday afternoon, when it called twenty newsboys into the shade of an alley, where they fell victims to the bluecoats. The boys were gathered in and marched off to police headquarters, where they were detained several hours. Their sympathetic friends and "pals" scurried around in quest of bail money. The boys will appear before Judge Bowman this afternoon on a charge of gambling.

DOCTOR KNEW. Had Tried It Himself. The doctor who has tried Postum knows that it is an easy, certain, and pleasant way out of the coffee habit and all of the ails following and he prescribes it for his patients. He is a physician of Prospertown, N. J. One of his patients says: "During the summer just past I suffered terribly with a heavy feeling in the pit of my stomach and dizzy feelings in my head and then a blindness would come over my eyes so I would have to sit down. I would get so nervous I could hardly control my feelings."

"Finally I spoke to our family physician about it and he asked if I drank much coffee and mother told him that I did. He told me to immediately stop drinking coffee and drink Postum in its place as he and his family had used Postum and found it a powerful re-builder and delicious food drink. "I hesitated for a day in thinking the idea of having to give up my coffee but finally I got a package and found it to be all the doctor said."

Since drinking Postum in place of coffee my dizziness, blindness and nervousness are all gone, my bowels are regular and I am again well and strong. That is a short statement of what Postum has done for me."

STOCKADE WOMEN LANDED IN RAID

Forty-two Inmates of "Parlor Houses" Taken by the Sheriff's Party.

WERE SURPRISED BY OFFICERS

Descent on the Walled City Was Made Shortly After Three O'clock Sunday Morning.

Forty-two inmates of the "stockade" were arrested in a raid early yesterday morning by a squad of sheriff's deputies. The raid was made after 3 o'clock and the women were taken to the county jail to spend the remainder of the night, and to await their arraignment on the charge of resorting to houses for immoral purposes. Four men, hangers-on in the resorts, were also arrested. The women were held in default of bail of $750, the same amount required in the cases of all the women arrested in the previous raids on the "stockade."

Eight of the "landladies" were released on bail later in the day, but the others remained in jail in the absence of the required security.

The raid was made in a systematic manner. No inkling of the intention of the deputies to invade the place had leaked out. The hour selected for the descent upon the place was chosen with the idea of finding everybody "at home."

Former raids had been made on the "cribs" alone, and it was believed by the inmates of the larger houses that they were safe from attack. It was the larger houses which suffered in Sunday morning's raid.

Guards were posted at the exits and arrested the inmates inside the "stockades," and each deputy was assigned to a particular post. One or more deputies entered each resort, and placed the inmates under arrest. In some places the doors were locked and bolted, and in these instances, when entrance was refused to the officers, they forced their way into the houses and arrested the women inside.

After the "parlor houses" had been visited, the deputies made a canvass of the "cribs," opening the doors with skeleton keys and forcing entrance where necessary. It was found, however, that very few of the "cribs" had been open.

TAKEN BY SURPRISE. The women were taken absolutely by surprise, their "outer guard" having in all probability dropped off to sleep after the hour of midnight, and as morning approached the women thought themselves secure.

It was found that some of the women who had been arrested in previous raids and who had been given "boaters" by the justice on the promise that they would leave town, did not leave the city, but returned to the "stockade" and entered the larger houses. These women will have additional charges booked against them, and will be subject to the suspended sentence for their prior offenses.

The women were taken to the jail in carriages, several relays of vehicles being necessary to convey them from the "stockade" to the bastille. Those who were arrested were as follows: Florence Devine, Helen Hansen, Della Donaldson, Alice Graham, Filma River,

Trickle Graymont, Louise Hamilton, Cleo Starr, Flossie Smith, Nova Russell, Maxine Brown, Ruth Johnson, Fred Yachey, Elsie Ross, Eleanor Ray, Madge Daniels, Mrs. J. Brown, E. Franklin, Peachy Turloff, May Hamilton, Maggie Brown, Margaret Smith, Ruby Vaughn, Tillie Johnson, Nellie Blair, Ada Patterson, Daisy Kingston, Genevieve Adams, Blanche McComb, Trixie Brown, Edna Moore, Belle Clark, Irene McDonald, Vivian Wilson, Blanche Deane, Clara DeMont, Carrie Brown, James Stewart, Miss C. Jones, Olga Myers, Margaret Cripp, Josephine Daddelon and Mike Sangony. Two other women were arrested on "Jane Doe" warrants.

Young Wireless Operators Interfere With "C. Q. D." by Jamming.

There is some confusion in local wireless telegraphic circles owing to the uncertain conduct of two amateur outfits in the lower part of the city. These have been started up by two boys who through their ignorance of the regular conversational code are confusing, and even interfering with other local wireless plants whose system of operation is based on orthodox methods. Manager McNeil of the Postal Telegraph company, who is an expert and has a good establishment of his own, will hunt up these young scientists, and persuade them to learn the code, so that they can operate their plants intelligently because if they do not, they will continue to confuse not only themselves but every other plant in this vicinity. Where the Morse code is learned, owners and operators of wireless plants can readily keep from getting themselves mixed up and interfering with others.
