WINS HER HEART

Food That Helps Baby and the Family. Pleases Mother.

Show a mother how to feed her baby so that it will be healthy, rosy and plump and grow up strong and sturdy and the mother's gratitude is everlasting.

A mother says: "Five weeks ago I weaned baby but could not get her to take any kind of food until I tried Grape-Nuts which she relished from the first, and on it she has plumped up and blossomed into a fat, chubby little girl."

Use three packages a week for baby and my three-year-old boy alone, and I find that it regulates and keeps them healthy, strong and in good health all the time.

"Since feeding my children on Grape-Nuts I have used absolutely no medicine for either of them. Such food as this that does such wonders wins its way to a mother's heart. Please accept our thanks for the good food that has done in our family where we all eat it."

Children will grow up strong and healthy, or weak and puny according to the food they eat. Grape-Nuts is a complete and perfect food for adults and children, is made on scientific lines and this is easily proved by trial. Look in pkg. for a copy of the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville." There's a Reason.

DEATH OF PROF. W. W. CLARK OF LOGAN

Popular Forester Succumbs to Acute Attack of Pneumonia, Following Kick of a Horse.

(Special Correspondence.) LOGAN, Cache Co., July 21.—Much regret is felt here over the sudden death yesterday of W. W. Clark, supervisor of the Cache national forest. Mr. Clark died in Card's camp in Logan canyon of pneumonia, after a short illness, following the kick of a horse.

On Saturday he went to the canyon with Forester Petheroff of Salt Lake. Just before starting, Mr. Clark attempted to catch a horse and was kicked, but apparently was little hurt. On Sunday, however, he was stricken with an acute attack of pneumonia, and notwithstanding the best medical attention, he sank rapidly.

Mr. Clark was 30 years of age, a graduate of Cornell university and a resident of Utah for two years. He was instructor of forestry at the Utah Agricultural college during this time, spending his summers as a forest ranger. He was a prince among men, being highly esteemed by all his associates, and his demise has cast a gloom over the community.

Two years ago, shortly after his arrival here, he was married to Miss Banber of Lockport, N. Y., Mr. Clark's former home. Three weeks ago Mrs. Clark and her baby went on a visit to her former home. She was notified of her husband's death and sent instructions in return to have the body forwarded to Lockport for burial. This morning's train carried the remains east.

CACHE COUNTY AFFAIRS.

LOGAN, July 20.—The county commissioners held a special session yesterday and appropriated $100 for the assistance of the Cache Valley Fruit association to exhibit at the horticultural fair to be held at Salt Lake.

The commissioners appropriated $900 provided here at the time of the late Mrs. Clark and her baby went on a visit to her former home. She was notified of her husband's death and sent instructions in return to have the body forwarded to Lockport for burial. This morning's train carried the remains east.

MURRAY TAX PROPOSITION TO PURCHASE WATERWORKS

(Special Correspondence.) MURRAY, Salt Lake Co., July 21.—At the meeting of the city council last night the tax levy was the principal matter up for consideration, but adjournment was taken before the question was finally decided.

The regular tax levy for the city is $1.50 per $100 of assessed value, but the city has an option on the Progress waterworks system which supplies the town with water, and it is proposed to add 3 mills to pay for same.

There is some opposition to the levy, but it is likely to go through and the waterworks will be the property of the city of Murray.

HEBER HONORS OLD FOLKS: PIONEER DAY CELEBRATION

HEBER CITY, Wasatch Co., July 20.—Yesterday was a gala day for the old folks of Heber City. A ladies committee arranged a program and banquet on the lawn of Richard Duke's home. All over 70 years old to the number of 85 persons gathered at 2 p. m. and were royally entertained.

There will be a grand procession, with floats representing Heber as it was in 1858, with all improvements up to 1909.

BODY OF LOST HUNTER FOUND NEAR RAWLINS

(Special Correspondence.) RAWLINS, Wyo., July 18.—The body of Perry Jerman, who was lost in Brown's canyon on Sept. 22 last while hunting was recovered a few days ago by J. P. Hehn and H. K. Bennett. Jerman's home was in Beatrice, Neb., and he was visiting here at the time of the loss.

He was visiting here at the time of the loss and starved to death. The remains will be shipped to Beatrice for interment.

clown who could not do anything but grin and drive a donkey that played a tattoo with his heels upon the dashboard of a little cart, could not get a job.

He must be versatile or look for another position. The acrobatic work of a clown is scarcely a humorous phase of life which the clowns do not touch or a heroic feat which they do not perform. There is always something which pleases an American audience, and the clowns are not the rough and tumble and apparently furiously abusive acts.

Knocks and slaps of a clown that invariably create the most laughter. The more they kick, pound, beat, and club one another over the head or back the more pleasing it seems to be.

The Hagenbeck-Wallace shows have undoubtedly prepared an exceptionally meritorious program for this season. It has been one of the best circuses on the roads for years, but what would its vast array of talent amount to if it were not for the tireless work of the "funny fellows?"

The presence of the clowns is essential. The burlesque clowns, the lean rube clowns, the fat clowns, the tall clowns, the short clowns, the awkward clowns, the fat clowns, the thin clowns, the graceful clowns, the awkward clowns, the fat clowns, the thin clowns, the graceful clowns, the awkward clowns, the fat clowns, the thin clowns, the graceful clowns.

They are the life of the show, and their brief vista, the acrobatic and the magic of their second growth, and the magicians could not catch a moment's rest. Originally a fill in to choppen the salary list and serve the strong contentment of a necessity. They are one of the most pleasing features of a circus and command liberal salaries.

Clowning is now an art. The best clowns are born, not made. When terminating with citizens on the streets, those men of comely would not be suspected of wearing the loose robes of the fool, but when they are in the ring with their make-up on they laugh and the crowd laughs with them.

A jolly set these and they have certainly helped to unload at least temporarily the cars from the middle of thousands of people. It is safe to say that these men who appear so dignified and quiet upon the streets and out of the circus behind the best clowns in the business.

The work of the clowns with the Hagenbeck-Wallace shows is not a same day after day, as they take a delight in running new jokes and tricks upon their co-workers, which entertain the members of the troupe as well as the audience.
