A large affair planned for the evening of the 22nd is the Young family gathering to be held in Whitney hall which will be, beyond doubt, the greatest social gathering in the history of the association. Every member of the Young family, descendants of the five brothers Young are invited to be guests for the evening. Among the preparations for the event are being carefully planned, and every indication points to a dining success. Last Thursday night the members of the association met at the home of Mrs. Maria Y. Dougall, where committee reports were gone over, and details carefully considered. Among the other interesting numbers for the evening will be the presentation of that clever little sketch, "The Dress Rehearsal" every part being taken by a member of the Young family. The cast in full is as follows: The telephone, which is responsible for all the trouble.

Nancy Blythe, a stage-struck heroine; Agnes Middlemarch, the maid; May Covendishopim, precise and proper; Gladys Young Lucy, a colored "mammy"; Luna Y. Moore Tommy Travers, for whom a little listening is a dangerous thing. Dick Thinder, who rushes in where angels fear to tread; Jack May, Jr. Harold Huntington, otherwise "Cousin Nat," who never appears.

In addition there will be dancing, music and refreshments.

SUGGESTION FOR THE INGENIOUS HOME SEWER.

Four yards of silk velvet and an old muff or scarf—of course the pelt must be in good condition, that goes without saying—and a dozen yards of gold soutache and silk cord, and one is ready for the fashioning of a muff and scarf of the pictured design. The easiest way of building the muff is to arrange the velvet over a down foundation which can be procured at any dry goods or specialty fur shop. The velvet is first pleated in at the ends, then it is comparatively easy to draw it into the soft folds held down by the strip of fur. After this much is done the braided ornaments are made and set on as shown. Then comes the scarf. A lining of heavy satin is best for this. The velvet is pleated along each edge and finished with the fur, a tacking put through the center of each pleat to hold it in place. Cord ornaments are set on halfway between the ends and neck.

man, Prizes were won by Mrs. Clina, Mrs. G. V. Schramm, Mrs. R. E. McConaughy, Mrs. T. G. Love, Mrs. A. C. Sanford, Mrs. J. H. Johnson, Mrs. Fred Odell, Mrs. W. I. Snyder, Mrs. A. C. Smith and Miss Samson.

FELIX GOURAUD'S Oriental Cream OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER An Indispensable and Necessary Article for Particular Women who Desire to Retain a Youthful Appearance. Every woman owes it to herself and loved ones to retain the charm of youth which nature has bestowed upon her. For over half a century this article has been used by actresses, singers and women of fashion. It renders the skin like the softness of velvet leaving it clear and evenly white and is highly desirable when preparing for daily or evening attire. As it is a liquid and non-greasy preparation, it remains unnoticed. When attending dances, balls or other entertainments, it prevents a greasy appearance of the complexion caused by the skin becoming heated. Gouraud's Oriental Cream cures skin diseases and relieves Sunburn. Removes Tan, Pimples Blackheads, Moth Patches, Rash, Freckles and other blemishes, leaving a delicately clear and refined complexion. Yellow and muddy skin, giving a healthy glow. Which every woman desires. No. 10. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers. Ferd. T. Hopkins, Prop., 37 Great Jones Street, New York."
