

HAVEMEYER TOOK CARE OF THE BOYS

Refinery Supt. Gerbracht Testified Such Were His Instructions Two Weeks Before Death.

THEY WERE TAKEN CARE OF

Their Wages Were Paid From Time They Left the Company Up To the Present.

New York, June 1.—That the late H. O. Havemeyer, former president of the American Sugar Refining company, gave attention two weeks before his death in 1907, to "take care of the boys" was part of the testimony heard today in the trial of three officials of the company charged with complicity in a conspiracy to defraud the government of customs duties.

Ernest W. Gerbracht, refinery superintendent, James F. Bendernagel, former cashier of the refinery, and Charles F. Gerbracht, secretary-treasurer of the company, are the three on trial.

"Take care of the boys," got through them, Gerbracht said, he informed them after the first arrest of the men insisted on their discharge.

"I gave them the money," Gerbracht testified, had been extended to the company's service until the day of the refinery until his death in 1907, and H. O. Havemeyer later personally directed all the routine work Gerbracht said he had never talked to any one about the matter.

Gerbracht was the chief witness in his own defense. Theodore Havemeyer, he said, had absolute charge of the refinery until his death in 1907, and H. O. Havemeyer later personally directed all the routine work Gerbracht said he had never talked to any one about the matter.

Gerbracht testified that up to the time of the death of H. O. Havemeyer, president of the refinery, operations were made to him in person.

Gerbracht testified that he devoted his entire time to the supervision of the sugar refining operations and never had anything to do with the weighing of sugar.

Spitzer did not say to him, "I'm caught," as Spitzer testified, but came up and said, "There's trouble on the docks."

Gerbracht said he told Spitzer that if there was trouble on the docks it was his (Spitzer's) business and for him to go and put an end to it.

At this afternoon's sessions of the trial Gerbracht was temporarily excused for a several character witnesses testified that Helke's reputation for honesty, integrity and fair-dealing was excellent.

An attempt to introduce character witnesses for Gerbracht and Helke brought an admission from the government that both men had enjoyed good reputations.

Gerbracht was on the stand when adjournment was taken. As soon as his defense is concluded, Helke's attorneys offer testimony in their client's behalf.

It will be the last of the defendants to have a hearing as Bendernagel's defense rested yesterday.

The Conservation of Nature's Resources.

Applies as well to our physical state as to material things. C. J. Budlong, Washington, D. C., realized his condition, and took warning before it was too late. He says: "I suffered severely from kidney trouble, the disease being hereditary in our family. I have taken four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy, and now consider myself thoroughly cured. This should be a warning to all not to neglect taking Foley's Kidney Remedy until it is too late."—Schramm-Johnson Drug Co.

PREST. TAFT MAKES NORTON PRIVATE SECRETARY

Washington, June 1.—Charles D. Norton, of Chicago, assistant secretary of the treasury, was appointed secretary to the president late today.

As Mr. Norton will not be able to take up the duties of his new office until next week, the president thought of withholding any announcement on the subject until his return from a western trip next Sunday night.

There were so many insistent requests for a confirmation of the report that had been generally accepted for two days however, that Mr. Taft after a further talk with Mr. Norton this afternoon caused an official announcement to be made.

Mr. Norton had been with the president at the White House this afternoon and it was then the formal tender was accepted.

DR. BRINCKERHOFF GIVES UP STUDY OF LEPROSY

San Francisco, June 2.—Dr. Walter R. Brinckerhoff, the Harvard medical graduate who five years ago accepted a governmental appointment to go to the Molokai leper settlement on the Hawaiian islands to make a bacteriological study of leprosy, with a view to discovering a remedy for the plague, is preparing to return to the United States, at an early date, according to information brought to this city yesterday by his mother and son, Dr. Brinckerhoff, who resigned 14 months ago, following the death of his wife, has accepted an assistant professorship of pathology at Harvard. He will begin his duties in the fall, after spending the summer in Germany.

Dr. Brinckerhoff's appointment to the islands attracted world-wide interest at the time. His wife was Miss Nellie Mandara White of Massachusetts, heiress to millions and a society favorite. Her engagement to Dr. Brinckerhoff, following his appointment to the leper colony, created a sensation, as it was supposed she would devote her life to her husband's mission. The doctor, it is said, confined his work largely to the governmental laboratory in Honolulu. There he discovered what was hoped to be a cure for the plague.

Foley's Kidney Remedy may be given to children with admirable results. It does away with bed wetting, and is also recommended for use after measles and scarlet fever.—Schramm-Johnson Drug Co.

PEDLER TURNED OUT TO BE FAIRY IN DISGUISE

Washington, Pa., June 2.—George White, a farmer and rural mail carrier at Res, has delivered to himself a letter from a lawyer in a western state informing him that one Patrick Sullivan has left to him in his will $10,000. White, who first took it as a joke, has remembered that 15 years ago he befriended a pedler whose name was Patrick Sullivan. He had often treated him to meals or lodging. White is now negotiating for the money.

1821. She was born at Bristol, Feb. 3, 1821.

Dr. Elizabeth Blackwell in early life taught school in Kentucky and North Carolina, later studying medicine at Geneva university, and in Paris and London. In 1851 she began practicing medicine in New York, where she founded a hospital and medical school for women. Returning to her native land she was placed on the English register in 1859 and subsequently practiced in London and Hastings. She founded the National Health Society of London, and assisted in forming the London School of Medicine for Women. Dr. Blackwell was the author of several medical books.

ENGLISH RADICAL PRESS SORE AT ROOSEVELT

London, June 2.—Theodore Roosevelt's "Gullible" speech is again the subject of long editorial comment in most of the London morning newspapers. The new British cabinet of United States Affairs yesterday decided to release Dixieland, son of the famous chief Cretowais who is serving a term of four years imprisonment in Natal for harboring rebels, and give him a yearly allowance of $2,500 subject to his good behavior.

The London radical morning papers sarcastically express the hope this act of clemency will not incur Mr. Roosevelt's displeasure on the score of "sentimentality."

SCARED INTO SOUND HEALTH.

Mr. B. F. Kelley, Springfield, Ill., was troubled with his kidneys and bladder, which grew worse until I became alarmed at my condition. I suffered all night with pain in the back, and the action of my bladder was annoying and painful. I read of Foley's Kidney Pills and after taking them a few weeks the headaches left me, the action of my bladder was again normal, and I was free of all distress.—Schramm-Johnson Drug Co.
