TEST CASE GOES TO HIGHER COURT

"Near Beer" Action Began in Canyon County Has No Precedent.

LAW IS TO BE INTERPRETED

Definition of Liquors Under Ban Enacted by State, Contending That Restriction Covers Case at Bar.

(Special Correspondence.)
BOISE, July 27.—To the supreme court of this state was presented yesterday the question, "Can 'near beer' be sold in dry counties in Idaho?" The case is that of Jacob Lockman for a writ of habeas corpus. This is in reality a test case to determine the merits of the local option law. The petitioner, Mr. Lockman, who is the proprietor of the Crescent brewery at Nampa, was arrested on July 23 on a charge of selling intoxicating liquors in a prohibition county. The hearing was held in the probate court of Canyon county and Lockman was bound over to the district court and fined $50. He refused to deposit this bond and was remanded to the county sheriff. At the conclusion of the hearing in the supreme court yesterday Lockman was released on his own recognizance.

The real question before the court is the interpretation of section 31 of the session laws of 1909, which reads: "The words 'intoxicating liquors' as used in this act shall be deemed to include distilled spirits, vinous, malt and fermented liquors, and all mixtures and preparations thereof including fruits and other drinks that may be used as a beverage and produce intoxicating qualities or of the quantity of alcohol they contained, then the sale of grape juice, malt extract, maltine and similar beverages would come under the prohibition provisions of the local option law. The contention is that the section of the law here referred to pertains to beverages that will produce intoxication, and unless it can be shown that 'near beer' comes under this class its sale can not be prohibited under the local option law.

NO PRECEDENT IN CASE.

The state was represented by County Attorney F. A. Haglund of Caldwell, who prosecuted the case in Canyon county. Assistant Attorneys General J. H. Peterson and O. M. Van Dusen contended that under the provisions of section 31 above referred to, any distilled or fermented liquor, and that regardless of whether or not the spirituous, vinous or fermented liquor would really produce intoxication, that definition of the legislature in the act, and therefore, 'near beer' being a malt liquor would come under the definition of intoxicating liquors as used in the local option law regardless of its actual intoxicating effect.

There is no precedent to follow in this case. It cannot be compared with any similar cases that have been settled in other states where either local option or state wide prohibition has been enacted according to the attorneys that the Idaho statutes differ in essential features from the laws of other states.

The matter, therefore, is causing considerable speculation and much interest in the attorney and the forthcoming decision of the supreme court.

PAVE FIVE MILES OF STREETS.

The work of laying 50,000 square yards of asphalt and 70,000 square yards of concrete paving, making a total length of approximately five miles of paved streets, has just begun in this city. This is the most extensive paving program in the history of the capital city. The total cost of the pavement is estimated at $214,927.82. The work will be pushed as rapidly as possible to completion, and it is expected that most of it can be accomplished before winter.

LIMB CRUSHED.

A very serious accident befell Joseph Irvin the first of July. He was working in the basement of the new Tiner building, Main street, when one of the big steel girders fell from its pedestal on to Mr. Irvin, knocking him to the ground and severely crushing his leg. He is now receiving treatment in St. Luke's hospital.

CAREY ACT LAND OPENING.

Heber Q. Hale, register of the state land department, conducted the opening of the Snake River Irrigation company on Monday last. The opening took place at Grandview. This project is situated in the extreme southeastern portion of Adams county, and is particularly adapted to fruit culture. At the drawing South Dakota people were the most fortunate in securing early numbers and the majority of those filing were from that state. Water rights to the aggregate amount of $36,000 were contracted for on the date of the sale and a cash payment of $3,000 was made. Seven hundred and twenty acres of land was filed upon at the opening with in about one hour's time. Those filing seemed to favor small acreage tracts. The first number out of the box was drawn by C. F. Grange of Vermillion, South Dakota, the second by W. W. Stone of Caldwell, Idaho, and the third by Elwood Perisho of Vermillion, S. D.

TROUT FOR DISTRIBUTION.

A consignment of 116,000 small trout arrived last week for distribution in the Boise territory and the planting commenced at once under the supervision of the state fish and game department. The state has now three hatcheries in operation and all have been very successful. The object of propagation of fish by scientific methods is two-fold and one plan has been adopted by nearly every state of the Union, especially where mountain trout thrive. During the three years it has been tested in Idaho, millions of small fish have been planted and the outlooks have been better than the average expectations.

GIRLS SAVE BOY FROM DROWNING.

Despite the handicap of their clothing, and bravely facing the danger of being dragged under by the desperately struggling boy, Mary Treadwell, 17 years of age, and Mary Weiler, 15, plunged into the Boise river and dragged back to life and safety Lloyd McQuorter, who with a number of other small boys had been wading for some time, until the water over his head and he was carried swiftly down stream by the current.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT OCCURS AT BLACKFOOT

(Special Correspondence.)

BLACKFOOT, July 28.—Dr. Geo. H. Brimhall lectured in the Latter-day Saints' church Sunday evening, July 24. The building was well filled with very attentive listeners. Elder Brimhall chose for his subject "Vitality," and discussed the subject under four sub-heads: physical vitality, intellectual vitality, moral vitality, and spiritual vitality. The speaker presented as a point of view the ideal development of all these vitalities in man the life of Joseph, the son of Jacob.

On Monday Pioneer day was fittingly observed by Blackfoot and Riverside. At 10 o'clock the parade commenced, headed by the town band, which has been organized but about three weeks; following the band came the pioneer outfits which made a very good showing and received much comment for their reproduction of early times. Then came the floats "Old Glory in the Desert," "Sunflowers and Sage Brush," "Grains and Alfalfa," "Flowers," "Idaho," "Our Nation's Pride," and "Idaho's Best Crop." The parade very clearly showed the development of the means of travel and also the development of the land and country.

At 11 o'clock the people assembled on the court house grounds and listened to music by the band and the chorist association. Pres. G. H. Brimhall was the orator of the day and delivered a very forceful speech on the early pioneers of the west. A tribute to the pioneers was read by Mrs. Serena B. Vance.

A large number of those who came out to join in the celebration ate lunch on the grounds and at 1:30 the races and sports commenced. At 4 o'clock a struggle had been between Blackfoot and Pocatello resulted in a victory for the home team with a score of 3 to 2.

The choral association gave a fine concert in the new opera house in the evening and a dance in Progress hall followed the day's pleasures.

A very painful accident happened to T. R. Jones yesterday at 12:30. Mr. Jones had purchased a barrel, which had contained alcohol, from one of the drug stores, intending to take it up to his mine to carry water in. Two young men were helping him and it appears that one of them lighted a match and held it a short distance from the bung hole, presumably with the intention of burning out what alcohol might be in the barrel. In an instant the gas ignited and the explosion blew the head out which struck Mr. Jones full in the face. His chin was cut and his nose broken and his forehead badly cut. The force knocked him down and in falling he struck a scraper which inflicted a wound about two inches long in the back of his head. He was rendered unconscious and remained in this condition four or five hours.

Next Sunday evening Elder C. E. Dinwoodey of Idaho Falls will speak in the Latter-day Saints' church under the direction of the two ward bishops.

The hot weather continues without rain. The water in the river is going down rapidly and the canal companies are keeping forces of men at the head gates to keep all the water they can get into the canals. Beets are showing a good growth despite the lack of water. If this condition continues there is a likelihood that the tonnage will be lighter than at first anticipated.

GREAT CROWD GATHERS AT RIGBY CELEBRATION

(Special Correspondence.)

RIGBY, July 27.—On Monday, July 25, perhaps the largest crowd of people that ever gathered in Rigby was present in commemoration of Pioneer day. Stores and public buildings displayed the national colors in profusion, flags floated in the breeze and unusual activity was manifest everywhere. At the exercises Hon. E. H. Roberts delivered an oration, taking up the extended scope of the work of the pioneers and the cause they represented. Prof. O. J. Kirkham and Elihu Call of Salt Lake City contributed some excellent solos. The Rigby and Rexburg brass bands played some fine selections. C. W. Poole of Rexburg gave some interesting reminiscences of pioneer life in Snake River valley, and the Rigby choir sang patriotic choruses.

The sports consisted of a match game of baseball between Lincoln and Rigby, the score being 7 to 6 in favor of the visiting team; foot races, bicycle races, horse hit, and a number of other sports, boxing etc., followed. In the evening, dancing at Peck's Opera hall and Olsen's furnished the closing amusements of the day. The crowd that gathered through the day is variously estimated at from three to five thousand.

Last night an attempt at burglary was made on the Golden Rule store. Elton Peck, a boy who works on his father's premises adjoining, noticed a little before 11 p.m. some men hanging around the store. He started to give the alarm and met Donah and other men. The crowd that gathered through the day is variously estimated at from three to five thousand.

JOSHUA ADAMS SUES FOR AN ACCOUNTING

(Special Correspondence.)

PRESTON, July 29.—Becoming impatient at the necessary delay of the report of the recent arbitration committee in the Parkinson hearing, Joshua Adams, president of the Oneida Irrigation district, has filed a complaint in the Fifth district court of Idaho against W. Hart, A. D. Henderson and George C. Parkinson asking for an accounting of commissions on land sales and all transactions of the irrigation district since May, 1902. The papers were filed Thursday.

This move means more expenses for the stockholders. The matter has been gone over repeatedly in the state courts and in hearings before arbitrators, several times, but the result of the case nullifies all past efforts for a settlement. It also sets aside the Rumel audit and all the work of this expert accountant to go over the whole thing again in the courts.

(Special Correspondence.)

POCATELLO, July 27.—The thirty-third anniversary of the arrival of the Mormon pioneers to the Rocky mountains, was appropriately observed here by the Mormon colony on Monday last. The exercises took place at the fair grounds, which are located two miles east of town. A special train service was operated for the occasion, which ran back and forth every hour. MORELAND OBSERVES PIONEER ANNIVERSARY

(Special Correspondence.)

MORELAND, July 26.—A celebration of Pioneer day was held here July 25. An enjoyable time was had. The program was appropriate. S. S. Hammond of Pioneer stake was orator of the day and pictured to the minds of the people present some of the incidents which lead to the coming of the people to the Rocky mountains. He spoke of the faith, courage and intemperity of the pioneers in facing starvation in settling such a wilderness; and held them up as subjects of veneration and reverence.

In the congregation was one woman wearing a pioneer badge. Janet Leavitt, daughter of James Brinkerhoff, who came to Salt Lake in September, 1847. He was a member of Ira Eldredge's company. Mrs. Leavitt's home is in Lewiston, Utah. She is visiting her son, J. B. Leavitt, who resides here.

Moreland was honored with the presence of Samuel S. Hammond and Mary S. Peck, who are direct descendants of the original pioneers. The former is a son of Mary Jane Dilworth, and the latter a daughter of Bryan Nowlin. Other early settlers of Utah are Geo. Hawkhead and H. H. Peck, who came to Salt Lake in 1848.

She was born July 22, 1859 in Ogden, Utah. Mrs. Johnson was loved by a wide circle of acquaintances in Shelley and nearby towns and in Utah. She died with a prayer on her lips, characteristic of her life, which has been one of true devotion to her Maker, her religion and her family. The funeral occurred in the second ward chapel Sunday. The speakers were Elders Joseph Holland, Blesho Dye and Elder Joseph Dye.

JUDGE KING DELIVERS ORATION AT ASHTON

(Special Correspondence.)

ASHTON, July 28.—A very successful celebration was held here July Twenty-fifth. A very well arranged program was rendered in the Ashton Opera House.

Judge Wm. H. King was the orator of the day and all present considered the occasion a treat, as Judge King gave an splendid address along the lines of good citizenship, and closed with words of praise to the band of pioneers who were first to inhabit Salt Lake valley and eventually extended their posterity to the great Snake River valley.

The day was well spent, as foot and horse races were indulged in, as well as a ball game between the St. Anthony team and Ashton, which resulted in a victory for the Ashton team. One feature of the day was that not a single intoxicated person was seen nor heard from, the entire day.

LITTLE MOISTURE AT IONA BUT ALL CROPS ARE GOOD

(Special Correspondence.)

IONA, July 27.—The long continued drought is still unbroken; less than one inch of precipitation having fallen since March 1. The first crop of lucern is in the stack with about 90 per cent of a crop. The second cutting has a good start and bids fair to make up the deficiency in the first crop. Irrigated grain is nearly ripe and is a little under the average. Dry farm wheat is being cut and threshed with a yield of from 15 to 25 bushels to the acre. Sugar beets are making a good growth and the yield bids fair to compare with the acreage is somewhat less than usual.

The 25th was duly observed with a good program in the church house with Joseph S. Mulliner as orator, and some and sports occupied the afternoon with a dance in the evening. The celebration reflects great credit to the committee having affairs in charge.

Many of the local towns people are in the hills recreating and fishing. The weather is very warm and the roads are deep with dust. Irrigation water is holding out well and there is plenty to mature the crops. The range is dry and the range stock are not up to the average. Quite a number of lambs are being shipped to the eastern market with prices fairly good.

ONEIDA ACADEMY BEGINS CAMPAIGN

(Special Correspondence.)

PRESTON, July 28.—Preparation is being made by the teachers of the Oneida stake academy for an aggressive campaign throughout the stake. To this end a meeting of the faculty was held Tuesday last. The stake was divided into five districts and two teachers appointed to visit each district. Every home where there are young people of high school age will receive a personal visit and public meetings are to be held in each ward at which representatives of the school will be present. The plan is to make this school year the best year yet in its history. Besides planning this work, classes were allotted to the teachers. The faculty consists of John Johnson, principal; W. K. Barton, treasurer; Casava Christensen, secretary; John W. Condie, librarian; John A. Morrison, Joseph A. Geddes, Charles J. Enkar, Anna Frost, Mrs. Ella Maughan Hull, and Mrs. Mary Stark.

Grace, the five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hobbs of this place, met with a very painful accident yesterday. She was out playing and climbed upon the fence, where she was with her, the post striking her leg and breaking it. It was several hours before the limb was set during which time she suffered severely.

The homes of Elmer Jensen and Alvin Swensen were made happy Saturday last by the arrival of new members of their families. To Mrs. Jensen was born a boy and to Mrs. Swensen a girl.

PIONEER DAY OBSERVED COINCIDENTALLY WITH OPENING OF NEW CITY PARK.

(Special Correspondence.)

DAHO FALLS, July 28.—Pioneer day was celebrated at Tauphus park on Monday, the 26th. The event was of a two-fold nature, being the celebration of the Twenty-fourth and the opening of the new park. About 5,000 people had gathered in this city sports and a program occupied the morning hours, while the afternoon was made on the track for horses, and demonstrated that the new park is a good one.

The celebration was in the hands of a joint committee, made up of members of the Boosters' club, who are the school superintendent, C. L. Warnick, Joseph Manning and R. T. Mitchell, and the latter party of the committee having charge of the program. Oscar A. Johannesen delivered a very interesting oration, paying tribute to the men and women who had subdued an almost unconquerable desert. The day was a success and caused the people of Idaho Falls to realize that in the new Tauphus park they have one of the finest parks in the west.

PLEASANT LAWN SOCIAL

(Special Correspondence.)

The local L. D. S. Sunday school gave a lawn social last Wednesday on the beautiful lawn adjacent to the church. About 200 people were in attendance. A chime of music was spread on the lawn and an orchestra in its attendance, so that those who desired could dance. Ice cream and cake were served. A social arrangement for admission was in vogue. Tickets were placed at the entrance and a charge of 5 cents made for every 50 pounds of weight or fraction thereof. A good sum was realized, and all goes to the support of the Sunday school.

Wm. McCollin, present county attorney of Bingham county, has made formal announcement of his candidacy for the office of the Sixth judicial district, subject to the Republic of Idaho.

On Wednesday afternoon, J. M. Miller made shipment to a Portland market of eight carloads of hops. It is the largest shipment of hops in the neighborhood of 100,000 pounds per hundredweight at Portland. This shipment in connection with other large shipments of hops from the Snake River section of the country is adapted for this branch of farming.

Two interesting games of ball were played between the locals and the Diluca team. The locals won, resulting in two victories for the home team, the scores being 7 to 2 and 6 to 4.

DRY FARMING A REALITY.

(Special Correspondence.)

That dry farming near Idaho Falls on a large scale is a reality will be shown from the fact that there is now in operation six combine harvesters. These harvesters cut a 25-foot swath heading the grain, carrying it to the thrasher through elevator spouts, where it is threshed and sacked, depositing the sacked grain in the bins. These harvesters are drawn over the fields by steam and gasoline engines. A short time ago these crops were about to be abandoned owing to the continued drought, but the thrashing shows that they will yield from 15 to 25 bushels to the acre. There are a great number of smaller farms which will have an even greater yield. The thrashed crops are looking splendid and an abundant harvest is expected.

BREWERY BURNS.

(Special Correspondence.)

On Thursday afternoon, fire broke out in the old brewery building at the foot of Capital avenue. The flames spread very rapidly and for a short time it looked as if a high number of residences adjoining would be consumed. However, the fire was checked and held to the one building. While the very heavy financial loss was incurred, it was totally destroyed. A land mark in the city was lost and was a land mark in Idaho Falls, having been built a great number of years ago. Recently the building has been used for a storehouse.
