

DECLARE MARTIAL LAW IN HONDURAS

Revolt of Gen. Jose Valladares Against Government Is the Direct Cause.

PORT OF AMAPALA CLOSED

Commander Hayes of the Princeton May Land a Force and Take Valladares Into Custody.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Martial law has been declared in Honduras as a direct result of the revolt of Gen. Jose Valladares, the deposed commandant of Amapala, against the government, according to cable advices to the state department today from Minister McCreery at Tegucigalpa.

The United States gunboat Princeton is in the harbor at Amapala, ready to take a hand in the revolution at the first sign of hostility towards foreigners, or their interests. President Davila is preparing to send an armed force against Valladares and in the event of the government's failure to restore order on the island the United States probably will be asked to interfere.

It would not be surprising if Commander Hayes of the Princeton, acting under instructions from the state department, should send an armed force ashore at any time to take Valladares into custody.

However, department officials refuse to discuss the probabilities of this beyond asserting that the American interests will be safeguarded.

Commander Hayes telegraphed the navy department today as follows: "The commandant of Amapala has informed the foreign consuls that he has no intention of injuring foreign subjects or foreign property. There is no disorder at present."

Little faith is put in Valladares' promises by the officials of the United States government and the Princeton has instructions sufficiently liberal to permit her commander to meet any situation that arises. While there are able American property passes through that port, one American concern, the Rosario Mining company, whose gold and silver mines are located 12 miles inland, has exports and imports valued at more than one million dollars passing annually through Amapala.

BONILLA'S FRIENDS SAY HE IS NOT INVOLVED

New York, Nov. 3.—The friends here of former President Manuel Bonilla assert that he has no connection with the revolt of Valladares.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT WILL ANSWER J. A. DIX

Says He Becomes Exceedingly Valorous About Him the Moment He (R.) Leaves the State.

Alliance, Ohio, Nov. 3.—Theodore Roosevelt, on route to Chicago, today gave out a statement on the train in reply to the speech made by John A. Dix, Democratic candidate for governor of New York, in New York last night.

Mr. Roosevelt said: "Mr. Dix becomes exceedingly valorous about me the moment I leave the state. I'll answer him when I get back. I call the attention of all wage workers to the fact that having in effect defended the backshop decision which forbade New York state to interfere to prevent workmen laboring an excessive number of hours under unhygienic conditions, he now in effect defends a decision declaring workmen's compensation also unconstitutional. It is of course mere nonsense for Mr. Dix to assert that he is for the principle of either eliminating excessive hours of labor, under unwholesome conditions or of establishing the right of workmen to be compensated for the loss of life or limb when working at their trades. He is now explicitly upholding the judges who have decided against these principles and is condemning the more numerous judges who have taken the opposite view. He is now upholding the rights of the laboring man instead of adhering to outworn and purely technical legal doctrines which in their working do the working man cruel wrong and injure the state."

"Mr. Dix is right in his championship of Judge Baldwin's decision and if Judge Baldwin was right in that decision, then it is unconstitutional for the nation and the states to grant any real relief to the working men in the shape of compensation acts. The decision of Judge Baldwin which Mr. Dix upholds will not, I am confident, prove any benefit to the laboring man in any nation or in state, but to uphold it is entirely incompatible with any man as candidate saying he is in favor of any real or effective workmen's compensation act."

"I call attention to the fact that Mr. Dix does not dare deal with Mr. Stimson to meet one fact that Mr. Stimson has stated about him, still less in any shape or way aggressively or defensively to measure himself with Mr. Stimson."

POTASH NEGOTIATIONS. At Present Look Favorable but They May Be Suspended.

NEBRASKA LAND GRABBERS INDICTED

Charged With Conspiracy to Drive Homesteaders From Claims At the Points of Guns.

THEY HESITATED AT NOTHING

Alleged They Went So Far as to Have One Victim Incarcerated in Insane Asylum.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 3.—Indictments returned by the federal grand jury Wednesday against nine ranchmen of western Nebraska were made public today. The indictments charge conspiracy to drive from their claims at the points of guns homesteaders who took sections of semi-arid land under the Kinkaid homestead law by the defendants.

Those indicated are Perry S. Yeast of Hyannis, Neb.; his son, Frank W. Yeast, Leslie E. Ballinger, M. C. Subbel, Emil Anderson, Willmet Z. Emerson, Harry Sutton, Boone B. Hawthorne and Dr. Harry H. Huff, county attorney of Garden county, are members of the insanity board, Yeast, one of the largest ranch owners in the state, was convicted two years ago, of fraudulently securing title to homestead land and paid a fine and served a jail sentence.

There are four counts in the indictments and the specific overt acts mentioned indicate an unusual frontier condition.

A GREAT OUTRAGE.

According to the charges made in the indictment, Yeast and his associates carried others away to the insane asylum at Hastings, Neb., of one of their alleged victims.

When the Kinkaid homestead law was passed, many persons went to Grant, Banner, Garden, Cherry and other western Nebraska counties and took up quarter sections. The land is said to be the valley, big ranchmen, among them Yeast and his associates, have heretofore depended on this valley land for their hay and winter feeding and the settling of the homesteaders was resented.

DROVE HOMESTEADERS AWAY.

The indictment charges that a band of about 30 persons headed by Yeast, went to the homes of many of these homesteaders, among them Cushman J. Davisher, George Carpenter, Golba D. Graves, George Babcock, Henry S. Granger and others, destroyed their crops and threats of taking their lives and those of their families, forced them to leave their claims.

The specific case of Davisher is mentioned in detail. It is charged that Yeast and the other defendants conspired to have Davisher's home and after threatening himself and family with death, if they did not leave the country, destroyed his home, broke up his machinery, cut his harness to pieces and in other ways mistreated him. Later, according to the indictment, Yeast conspired with members of the county insanity board and secured Davisher's incarceration in the asylum.

This latter act, according to the indictment, was committed in a high handed manner. The insanity board, it is alleged, went through a mock examination, declared Davisher insane and issued a warrant for his arrest. This was served at the spot and within an hour he was rushed off to the asylum without being permitted to have the advice of counsel.

Davisher's case was brought to the attention of the superior court of this institution, who conducted an examination into the case. He at once decided that Davisher was not insane and the latter was released by habeas corpus proceedings.

A VERY BAD CASE.

According to an official of the interior department the present indictment charges that the national education board had appointed Prof. McHenry Rhoades of Owensboro and Prof. C. M. Conroy of Berea as state school superintendents to help carry out the plans of the national board for bettering educational facilities in Kentucky.

M. LE BLANC REFUSES TO MAKE ANY COMMENTS

New York, Nov. 3.—Declaring himself a French gentleman in America, for the love of sportmanship, Albert Le Blanc, the aviator, declined to pass any criticisms on the Aero Club of America regarding the meet, when sailing today for Paris.

Pierre Gassner, president of the Aero Club of Paris, and Albert C. Triaca, a member of the International Aero school, were less reticent in expressing disappointment at what they termed shortcomings among those who managed the flying events at Belmont park.

The Aero club should be ripped from top to bottom and then rebuilt," declared Triaca, a friend of Le Blanc, sailing on the same ship. Le Blanc, who left with court plaster over his right eye, evidence of the injury sustained in the fall that lost him the international speed contest for the Gordon Bennett cup after he had flown at greater speed than any other of his competitors.

"Observe," exclaimed an officer of the ship, "Le Blanc sailing away injured the arm of a member of the Aero club to see him off. They met him when he came in, but no one here to say an revoir after his magnificent flight and his injury."

The explosive was thrown between two tanks of oil, one containing 45 gallons and the other 25 gallons. Had these tanks been on a solid foundation they would probably have exploded, but not being securely fixed they were only damaged. The furniture in the station was thrown across the room, and all the walls were loosened from their foundations.

POLICE SAY THEY HAVE CLEVER TRIO

Hotel Workers Alleged to Have Worked in This City Nabbed.

FORGOT TO PAY THEIR BILL

Then Landlady Notified Police, Who Hold Them for Other Offenses.

Captain of Detectives Riley M. Beckstead today made an arrest of three men who are supposed to be the cleverest band of hotel sneak thieves ever captured in Salt Lake. The detective captain is now working on evidence against the men and one of them at least is supposed to be a former employe of the Knutsford hotel and who has been sought ever since numerous burglaries were committed at the place several weeks ago.

The names as given to the police on their arrest are Charles Lewis, 24 years old, a waiter, Charles Griffin, also a waiter, and L. Dooley a clerk. That these names are fictitious the police are certain. The names of the men should be Sebastian, Condon, and Tamm, according to Capt. Beckstead.

The men in jail roomed at the La Moll hotel on State street until last night. Then Mrs. M. Melor, who conducts the place, found they were preparing to make their getaway without stopping at the office to pay their room rent. She called Officer Hinton and secured them under arrest.

Capt. Beckstead saw the men as they were being brought into the station and stopped them. He had recognized one of them as a man he wanted for the Knutsford affair. They were then questioned and when the detectives complete their chain of evidence they expect to be in a position to prove that they have operated Salt Lake and in other cities of the country.

HOW THEY WORK.

None of the arrested men are over 23 years of age. All are small and slender. The men are supposed to generally get work as bell boys at the best hotels. Then by a system they gradually accumulate keys to every room in the houses in which they operate. In their possession they begin their work.

They look over the best rooms and then work together to pull a job while the other men are away. In most cases known in Salt Lake this band has been able to pull their job off without even the least suspicion. The burglary at the Knutsford is supposed to be one of many pulled off in the different hotels of the city since the boys have been operating here. THIEF STEALS AUTOMOBILE.

Owner Was Quietly Sleeping When Car Was Taken.

Becoming bold, a thief last night stole an automobile belonging to Atty. John T. Pope of Ogden from in front of the residence of his son-in-law, Richard L. Taylor, at 67 J street. No trace has yet been obtained of the missing machine.

Mr. Pope came to the city last night from Ogden, and going to the home of his son-in-law, Richard L. Taylor, standing at the front curb and went to bed. When he awoke this morning the car was missing. He immediately notified the police.

Lieut. John Hempel took the police auto and searched the town, but found no trace of it. Mr. Pope is anxious about the fate of his car more from the fact that he has a new one waiting out of it, and if the thief tried to run it in that condition the chances of it catching fire are great.

SHOOTS ESCAPING PRISONER.

Patrolman Sleater Fires on Man He Could Have Touched.

Breaking away from the chain gang in charge of Patrolman Sleater and Crowther this morning, Harry Kent, a "hop head" serving 60 days for vagrancy made a mad dash for liberty. He ran west on First, South street and Policeman Sleater, leaving the chain gang in charge of Crowther, pursued.

When Kent reached Commercial street, Sleater was so close he could have grabbed Kent, but instead he pulled his trusty 45 and shot the escaping prisoner in the right leg. Kent then dropped to the ground. He was taken back to jail and Dr. H. B. Sprague dressed the wound. Later he went to St. Mark's hospital to still further run up the bill for the taxpayers of Salt Lake to pay.

Kent is an old offender. He is unpopular with the chain gang officers because some time ago he was sentenced by the police that they will have his car for him by night, and Motor Cycle Policeman Dan Grundy is on the trail.

NOTED MUSICIANS ATTEND RECITAL

Are Greatly Pleased With Great Tabernacle Organ and the Ability of the Performer.

There was a large attendance at this noon's special organ recital tendered by the First Presidency in the tabernacle. The audience including Mme. Lehman and her singers, Mrs. Jessie Gaynor and daughters, President J. N. Webber and Treasurer Ostendorf of the American Federation of Musicians, Prof. and Mrs. Wetzel and others, Prof. McClellan officiated, giving the following program: "Prelude to Lohengrin" (Wagner); "Traumeri" (Schumann); "Communism in G" (Battisti); old melody, "Toetia" (Widor); selections from "Cavalleria Rusticana" (Mascagni).

After the recital the noted visiting gathered around the console where Prof. McClellan gave special exhibitions of the orchestral qualities of the organ to the delight of the listeners. They were especially impressed with both the instrument and the unusual abilities of the performer, the vox humana combinations being considered by Mrs. Gaynor as wonderful. President Webber has been here before, but he said he never tires of attending recitals in the tabernacle. He told a News reporter that he had been in all the great auditoriums in the United States and Europe, but he considered the auditorium of the Salt Lake tabernacle superior in acoustics to them all.

"At the same time," said he, "were this building to be duplicated elsewhere, or if it were to be replaced where it is, the chances are that the acoustic qualities could not be reproduced. These acoustics are something we can't seem to get. As yet we have not calculated upon or handled. The element of chance cuts a very important figure in them."

Mme. Lehmann expressed herself as delighted with the recital—something which she has never before. She attended in fact, all of the visitors expressed their admiration in emphatic terms. Chairman Berry and the committee selected to entertain the visiting federation officials were present at the recital.
