

SECRETARY KNOX IN WARLIKE MOOD

Favors Taking on Japan for Three Fast Rounds of Bloodiest Sort of Fighting.

NO SOLDIERS ON EITHER SIDE

Contest Must Be Fought by Reporters—Would Put 'Em All in Front Ranks.

Washington, Dec. 29.—Secy. of State Knox was in a warlike mood today. Following a visit to the White House he declared he was in favor of taking Japan on first for three fast rounds of the bloodiest sort of fighting.

"Do you favor a war with Japan?" he was asked.

"I do favor it," he replied, "provided, however, that there are no soldiers on either side except newspaper reporters."

"Have you any particular favorites in the profession you would like to put in the front rank?" someone asked.

"No," said the secretary. "I am not playing any favorites. Put 'em all in the front rank. Let 'em all fight."

"Why did the state department suppress the report of an attack on Vice-Consul Williamson by two Japanese and a Chinaman at Dally, Manchuria?" asked a particularly brazen young newspaperman.

"All I know about that," answered the secretary, "is what I read in the papers this morning. Therefore I don't believe it is true."

CAUSE OF THE SCARE

New York, Dec. 28.—A special dispatch to The Evening Telegram from Tokyo, Japan, states that the American vice consul at Dally, Manchuria, Adolph A. Williamson, was assaulted at a fish market at Dally last Friday by several Japanese and Chinese.

Washington, Dec. 28.—News of an assault on Adolph Williamson, American vice consul at Dally, Manchuria, reached the state department nearly a week ago, but in such form as to cause the officials to regard the affair as trifling.

Mr. Williamson is acting consul at Dally in the absence of the consul. He reported to the department that when he was visiting a fish market he was assaulted by two Japanese, but his message indicated that he had sustained no mark and made light of the affair.

The state department has taken no action because Mr. Williamson did not suggest any, nor will it do so unless it hears from him further on the subject.

RECIPROcity TREATY WITH THE DOMINION

Administration Inclined to Hasten It While Republicans Remain in Control of Congress.

Washington, Dec. 29.—If a Canadian reciprocity treaty is to be concluded during the present session of Congress, all records in the matter of speed of negotiations must be broken.

The incentive to haste lies in the realization by the administration of the difficulty of framing any sort of a reciprocity treaty that can satisfy the Democratic house.

Although nominally the assent of the senate alone is required to the conclusion of a treaty, yet in the case of a reciprocity treaty, the house must be afforded an opportunity to deal with the subject.

The Canadian reciprocity commissioners are expected in Washington in time to attend the diplomatic reception in the White House, on Jan. 10, and it is presumed negotiations will be resumed at the point where they were interrupted by the adjournment in Ottawa last summer.

WHO WILL SUCCEED SENATOR C. M. DEPEW?

Friends of Various Democratic Candidates Are Actively Sending Out Statements and Circulars.

New York, Dec. 29.—Public statements and circular letters favoring the principal Democratic candidates for the seat in the United States senate after the death of Senator C. M. Depew, became more numerous with the approach of the first of the year and the time for the convening of the next state legislature.

From William F. Sheehan, something is expected today in the nature of a reply to the recent declaration in his favor by prominent Democrats of Buffalo, his former home.

William F. Sheehan, chairman of the committee which is advocating the candidacy of Edward M. Shepard, heads a long list of well-known New York Democrats who signed an appeal to voters asking them to write to their representatives in the legislature in Mr. Shepard's favor.

This contest for the senatorship is being waged between two men, because the incoming legislature will be the first that has had a Democratic majority and power to send a Democrat to the United States senate since the late David B. Hill sat in that body.

Mr. Shepard and Mr. Sheehan are the leading candidates but in the event of a deadlock between them, Mr. Sheehan is ready to press the claims of Supreme Court Justice James W. Gerard, D. Cady Herriek, J. Sergeant Cramor and David F. Condon. The latter three are closely identified with Tammany Hall.

EARTHQUAKES

Willis Moore Has Plan for Comprehensive System of Observations.

Washington, Dec. 29.—A plan for a comprehensive system of earthquake observations at weather stations through installation of seismographs at from 10 to 20 stations has been urged on Congress by Willis Moore, chief of the meteorological bureau.

There is already such an instrument at the bureau office at Washington, and from another source, backed by scientific bodies, a request for the acquisition of a seismograph bureau, at a cost of about $200,000, together with a proposal for a seismographic laboratory at the Smithsonian institute.

Prof. Moore has advised the house committee on agriculture that if Congress will authorize him to place these instruments in San Francisco and other of his stations, the experiment need not be met by the weather bureau observers, with almost no expense, as against the inauguration of an elaborate separate seismographic bureau at great expense.

He says it would not cost the weather stations over $500 per instrument, the buildings and observers being already under way.

Prof. Moore says that every constructing engineer wants to know from what direction quake waves come, so that he can make his buildings earthquake-proof.

SAD LOVE STORY OF A CASTILIAN SOLDIER

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 29.—Juan Garcia, who says he once served on the bodyguard of King Alfonso XII of Spain, sat in the county jail yesterday before a cross made by his own hands and told of years of searching through the desert for a woman who had been separated 40 years ago.

Garcia, 65 years old, in the tattered garb of a hermit and with feet clad in crude sandals, arrived in Long Beach during the morning. Even here, where a Spanish patois is spoken, Garcia had trouble finding anyone who could understand him because his Castilian Spanish was so pure. His general appearance led to his being arrested on the charge of vagrancy. After having been sentenced to serve 30 days in the chain, Garcia here told his story through an interpreter.

He says that, because of his attentions to a woman of the Spanish court he was exiled. Later he returned, only to be cast into jail, where he remained until the breaking out of the Spanish-American war. He was then permitted to show his fealty to his country, by going to assist in Cuba. Upon his return from exile he heard that Teresa Peralta, the woman who had enchained his affections, had been forced to take the veil, and had been sent to one of the old Franciscan convents in America.

At the conclusion of the war, Garcia said, he decided to seek her, and he visited nearly all the convents in South and central America and the monasteries of Mexico. He still has hopes of finding her, and believes she is a Mother Teresa, said to be connected with one of the missions north of here.
