LO, THE POOR INDIAN. Dances Weirdly and Gibbers of Murder and Conquest. THE FRENZY IS INCREASING. Government is Hurrying Troops from the South and West. Reports Come That the Nez Perce Has Reached the Tribes in the Indian Territory, and the Crisis Spreads Like Wildfire—Nobody Hurt Yet.

PINE RIDGE, Nov. 23.—The military authorities admit tonight that numerous bands from the Rosebud agency are en route to Pine Ridge, dancers coming in the agency today in squads, prepared to draw rations tomorrow. Much talk is heard. The Indians mainly disclaim any hostile intentions. Their attitude, however, does not satisfy either Gen. Brooke or the agent. There are many agencies for rations, but will organize an insurrection to the country bordering on the reservation. In order that this phase of the question may be properly met, General Brooke has ordered a large body of troops from Omaha and other points to Pine Ridge. The troops at other points are under marching orders to be ready to cut off any raiding parties that may leave the reservation.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 23.—Agent Painter, of the Indian Rights Association, arrived tonight from the Cheyenne and Arapahoe reservations. He says that the Indians there have commenced the ghost dance, but are not inclined to be hostile. This is the first news of any general Mesquith idea by the Indians of the Northwest.

St. Paul, Nov. 23.—A Pioneer Press correspondent just returned from Fort Benton reports that the officers say immediate trouble is feared. Indians are skirmishing around in small parties, and the Cheyenne are going to join in the ghost dance. The towns of LeBeau and Fairbault are absolutely desolate, but the report that seven whites have been killed near the former place is groundless.

Pioneer Press special from Blunt, S. D.: General Owen and members of the Midland Pacific survey, at work on the line west of Pierre, reached there this afternoon. They say the Indians are in a frenzied condition, and liable to commit murder any time. Friday night fifty Indians surrounded the survey camp, burst into the tent and took possession. All in the party expected a massacre, but after a while the Indians left, telling the men to be many miles away before sunrise.

BERNARD, N. D., Nov. 23.—Considerable excitement was caused last night by an assault committed by an Indian on Miss Wright, a stenographer employed in the capitol. While on her way home in the evening she was accosted by the Indian, and when she tried to withdraw he struck her on the head and knocked her down. She awoke in a hospital. No motive for the assault is known, and probably he was drunk. Miss Wright's injuries are not serious.

THE MASKS TORN OFF. Atrocities of Count Cognazzi and Moussa Elakkad. KING HUMBERT TRUSTED BOTH. They Planned the Butchery of a Regiment by Abyssinians.

ROME, Nov. 23.—[New York Herald Cable.]—All Italy is talking at the present moment of the startling discovery which led to the arrest a few days ago at Milan of Count Cognazzi at the moment when he was about to step aboard a train for Monza, where he was engaged to dine with King Humbert and Queen Margherita.

It is just about ten months ago that King Humbert, commuted to penal servitude for life, the sentence of death passed by Count Cognazzi upon his former friend, Moussa Elakkad. The latter is the son of a wealthy Egyptian landowner and merchant. He was born in Alexandria some forty years ago, and first attracted public attention in 1874, when he was accused of having poisoned his rich uncle, with the assistance of the latter's fair wife, whom he subsequently married.

For three years Moussa Pasha lived peacefully at Massowah, absolutely indifferent to the curses and anathemas launched at his head by the friends and relatives of the many victims of his treachery, and from the very beginning of the Italian occupation of Massowah in 1888 he once more became a person of considerable importance. After the disastrous massacre, where a whole Italian regiment fell into an ambush planned by Moussa and was destroyed by the last man by Abyssinians, this wonderful scheme opened a new era in the life of the man.

Every State Will Have an Aquarium. CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Fish commissioners from several states and representatives of the United States commission, held a meeting this afternoon to discuss the question of the exhibit at the World's fair. Although no formal action was taken, a plan for an aquarium exhibit of all the states, each separate, but all under one roof, was evidently regarded as the best. A committee was appointed to meet in Detroit December 4, to draw up a statement of needs, and ask for the appropriation necessary.
