that a large money package was in the wagon. It was later learned that the $16,000 package was a consignment to the Ismettali bank, to be used to pay the miners. The robbers crossed over the mountain and near Gillies discarded the stolen horses. They took horses and a light buggy they had secured in the park, where they hoped to intercept the robbers. As soon as their course was determined word was sent to this place, and fifty heavily armed men cut across the country on horseback toward High park, where they hoped to intercept the robbers. Over 500 men are scouring the country, many of whom know every inch of the ground.

Driver Robert Smith has three bad scalp wounds and is very weak from loss of blood. He was not able to give a good description of the robbers, but they were seen alongside the road shortly before the robbery by Ed Hull, of the Wells-Fargo bank, who describes them as follows: One 5 feet 8 inches in height, weighing about 150 pounds, wore a dark derby hat and a dark brown overcoat. He had a dark mustache closely clipped. The other was about 5 feet 6 inches in height, weighing about 145 pounds, with brown mustache, and wore blue overalls and a white soft hat.

Washington City, April 11.— An unmistakable threat against Japan made by Russia in a short notice in its semi-official organ, Nove Vremya, has caused much surprise in diplomatic circles here. It was supposed that Russia had a good understanding with Japan as to the terms of the peace; that there was an entire agreement upon the propositions touching Korean independence, the acquisition of the island of Formosa and Port Arthur and the exacting of indemnity. As to Great Britain, it has all along been understood that she was the one power that was disposed to resist aggressions, and that she was to be prevented from actual interference through inability to secure the co-operation of Russia in such a movement.

Particulars of an attack by pirates on the steamer Empress of Japan: All is confusion in the city of Peking and the situation threatens to culminate in a panic. Scores of cowardly officers, fearing the approach of the Japanese army, are applying for leave to visit sick and aged relatives. The government has refused them all.

Two American ladies were walking on Legation street, in Peking, when they were assailed by soldiers, while the native guards posted on the street for police protection looked on and grinned. The ladies' garments were badly torn, but they managed to free themselves and ran to the legation, where they were held close by. The soldiers who assaulted the ladies were afterward caught and almost beaten to death by the angry husbands of the women. The Russian legation has allowed the two ladies assaulted to have a guard of Russian soldiers to accompany them in their walks.

Particulars of an attack by pirates on the camp of two young Frenchmen near Thainguan are given. Messrs. Hearle and Sabot were engaged in superintending the construction of a telegraph line between Chomol and Thainguan. Hearle was on horseback and Sabot in a ricksha. There were thirty in the party. Suddenly Chinese soldiers appeared and surrounded the party, demanding their surrender. Sabot refused and he and the guards fired. The ricksha was returned. Hearle was killed by a bullet in the chest and nearly all of the laborers fell mortally wounded. Sabot was seized alive and carried off.

Buddhist priests have been expelled from Formosa by order of the Emperor of Japan, owing to numerous Chinese spies being captured disguised as members of the clergy. Other priests are to follow Formosa's lead. The Buddhist church threatens to inflict punishment in retaliation similar to excommunication.

Washington City, April 11.— An authoritative statement of the terms of the peace being negotiated between Japan and China has been secured from official sources. The statement is made in order to clear up much misapprehension arising from speculation. The terms are as follows:

Second—Permanent cession of the island of Formosa to Japan.

Third—An indemnity of 200,000,000 taels.

Fourth—Permanent occupation of Port Arthur and immediate contiguous territory.

Fifth—A new treaty opening the interior of China to commerce.

The money indemnity is expressed in Chinese taels instead of Japanese yen. The tael is in reality a weight instead of a coin. It is considered silver money. This is the face value of $125 the indemnity would be equivalent to $250,000,000 in silver. It is said the actual value would be between $200,000,000 and $250,000,000 in gold. The fifth term as to the new treaty includes various trade features, such as free access to Chinese rivers. There is no demand for territory on the mainland outside of Port Arthur and its contiguous surroundings.

London, April 11.— The Times has a dispatch from Peking that the officials in the Chinese capital are largely ignorant of the situation in respect to Japan. The Manchu people strongly resent the idea of ceding Manchuria to Japan. The former war faction is still strong and there is danger of creating dissension among the people. This faction would not yield to Japan, but fears that resistance is impossible.
