It's Education

simply a matter of education—the use of Pearline for washing and cleaning. The bright women, those who learn quickly, are using it now. The brighter woman, the larger her use of it—the more good uses she finds to which she can put Pearline. Dull women, those who never use new things until their bright sisters have drummed it into them—they'll use it presently. It's just a question of sooner or later, with every woman who wants the best.

Send it Back. Holders and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if you get grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, he honest—send it back. JAMES FYLE, New York.

MURDER AT CECILIA

Logger John Robinson Shot Dead by His Mistress.

WHO THEN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Tug Mogul, on the Rocks at Cape Flattery, Cannot Be Saved.

Senator Cullom, at Tacoma, Speaks About the Pacific Coast, the Tariff, Silver and the Nicaragua Canal—Tacoma "Union" Loses the City Printing.

Centralia, May 14.—Special.—About 4 o'clock this afternoon a woman who has been living with John Robinson as his wife shot him, causing instant death, then shot herself. The tragedy took place near the top of Sammamish hill, on the edge of the city. Just what led to the shooting is not positively known. Both parties had been drinking for several days, and the morning about 10 o'clock were seen to ascend the hill together. They were so much under the influence of liquor that it was difficult for them to climb the hill, which is quite steep, and they stopped several times to rest on the way. They were up there from morning till the time of the tragedy. Both parties have a somewhat disreputable reputation. They have been living in Centralia about two years, but some time ago or four months ago the woman went to Tacoma and returned only a few days ago. Last fall their actions were so bad that their child, a little girl, was taken from them and sent to the reform school.

Last evening the woman called at E. R. Zimmer's hardware store and had a revolver loaded, stating that her husband was going out about midnight, and that she was heavily veiled and seemed desirous of not being recognized. It is alleged by some that she was jealous of Robinson.

When the Post-Intelligencer correspondent reached the scene of the tragedy the woman was still breathing, but unconscious, and the revolver lay near her hand. Robinson evidently had never moved after he was shot. His legs were stretched out and his hands were in his pockets. On his person were found a number of $30 bills, given by C. A. Ballard for work. Robinson was a logger.

SENATOR CULLOM IN TACOMA.

His Views on Silver, the Tariff and the Nicaragua Canal.

Tacoma, May 14.—Special.—Senator Shelby M. Cullom, Illinois, his wife, his daughter, Mrs. Reigeway, and Miss Boyd of Chicago, arrived in the city today from Portland and are at the Tacoma. They will remain here until the end of the week. Senator Cullom, in conversation today, said:

"I had three purposes in visiting the Pacific coast. The first was to rid myself of the grip, which I have had twice since January. Secondly, to visit the coast has long been my wish and the present opportunity was extremely valuable. My third object is to examine as best I might as a citizen and also as a member of the senate committee on commerce, the various harbors and harbor improvements of the Pacific coast states, and to examine the contemplated improvements for which the people are asking appropriations from congress."

"What do I think of the country I have seen? It is magnificent. I have been filled with admiration ever since I struck Los Angeles. I might talk for hours about the wonders of the Pacific slope, the richness of the country, the fertility of its soil and the prosperous future in store for it. Of course, I have seen but very little of Tacoma, but as soon as the ladies in the party are a bit rested, we shall take a carriage and drive to your city. I can see something of your harbor here, of which I already know something."

"Now, as to my visit here as a member of the senate committee, whatever conclusions I arrive at from information gained out here will be reported to you about now. On the California coast I saw the harbors at San Diego, San Francisco, Santa Monica and San Pedro. Recent the latter two harbors were a rivarly to which shall be the deep water harbor for that part of the country. I want to examine more fully the information at hand before I come to any conclusion. San Diego is a natural deep water harbor. While in California we attended the state at Oakland, and at the Stanford university, saw the Stanford cracks at the Palo Alto stadium and visited the orange groves at Riverside."

"It is the most important question before the country today, he said. I have often expressed myself freely on this problem, which is of such wide national and international moment, and which is of especial importance to the Pacific coast. I have always said that what we want to do as a nation is to forge ahead, improve our opportunities. Personally, I would rather see the government build the canal with its own hands and with its own money, providing, of course, that we could make satisfactory treaty arrangements with Nicaragua and Costa Rica. If this could be done, we would be able to go ahead with some well-known engineer and get a better job for less money than the other way. I am heartily and thoroughly in favor of the canal."

"I do not think it is so much a question as to silver monometallism and bimetal monometallism, when you discuss national finances, as it is a matter of tariff and revenues. As long as imports increase, as under the present law, and exports decrease, the volume of business will be against us, and we will have hard times. As to what form our currency shall take, I see that the Western states are in favor of the Republican of Illinois are in favor of an international agreement, so that we can create both metals would be recognized as money and used as they were in the old days and as I believe they ought to be now. I should be opposed to our going to free coinage as one nation as that would, in my opinion, result in a silver standard, and would drive gold out."

"I think the tariff law and the amendment, where possible, said the senator in answer to a question. "We cannot take care of the laboring classes when business is practically suspended, and factories, mines and mills are closed, as they have been since the Democratic threat of tariff reform went into effect. The country has had a lot of the Democratic policy in office, and I believe that it is completely satisfied about the result. We shall elect a Republican president in 1900 beyond any doubt. Who will he be? I cannot say. There are a number of men who want to be president, more, three, than we know of."

Three Operators Taken to Prison. Tacoma, May 14.—Special.—Charles Richter, the boy who played the part of Lord Altried in the recent Tacoma Oscar Wild sensation, today pleaded guilty to the charge of seducy in the superior court and was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary. James Morris and John Murphy, the men arrested with him, were given similar sentences last week. Sheriff Parker took the three to Walla Walla today.

Seattle Should Get Gray's Harbor Trade. Seattle, May 14.—Special.—The time has come when the merchants should make another strong effort to place more of their goods in towns on Gray's harbor. It is now believed that the steamer Point Ledge, which has been in the harbor for several months, has entered into an agreement to maintain high freight rates and to increase the rate from $2.50 per ton, which has been the charge of the steamer Del Norte, to $5 per ton measurement on the same class of goods. THE DOOM OF THE SEALS.

England Refuses to Forbid Vessels to Carry Firearms.

THIS THROWS BERING SEA OPEN, And Also Virtually Abrogates the Treaty Concluded at Paris.

The Cutter Grant Ordered North to Carry Instructions to the Patrol Fleet Not to Seize Canadian Sealing Vessels Which Carry Unsealed Guns.

Washington City, May 14.—An ugly crisis has been reached in the negotiations between the United States and Great Britain looking to the adoption of uniform regulations for the government of the seal fisheries this season. The British government positively refuses to re-negotiate the regulations of last year, which prohibited the carrying of firearms by sealing vessels through the sea north of the 55th parallel during the closed season. The United States officials look upon this as disastrous to the seal fisheries, holding that the result will be to relieve the pelagic sealers of the only restriction which has operated to prevent an unlimited slaughter of the herds.

While killing by firearms remains illegal, it is realized that it will be impossible to enforce this prohibition if arms can be freely carried, for the sealers would kill secretly, unless they should happen to be under the very eye of a revenue cutter. Meanwhile, the United States cutters have gone out under the old instructions to seize all vessels carrying arms not under seal. These must be modified speedily by orders sent through the Alaska Commercial Company's steamer, which leaves San Francisco in ten days or so, or else there may be another big claim for damages on account of illegal sealings filed by the British government. The attitude of the latter is viewed with much dissatisfaction at the state department, which regards Great Britain's action as an evidence of unwarrantable concession to the Canadian pelagic sealers.

It is also held that the effect of the British action is to practically nullify all measures of protection for the seals that were conferred by the Paris arbitration, and it would not be surprising, if this course is persisted in, that the declaration by the United States of the abrogation of the treaty.

London, May 14.—The foreign office, referring to the report that Great Britain had decided not to renew the agreement with the United States regarding the sealing up of arms and implements of sealing vessels, said that there was practically no such agreement, but that the sealers were glad for their own protection to apply to the customs officials at the end of the season to seal up their pelagic weapons.

PACIFIC COAST REVENUE CUTTER.

Will Be Best of Her Kind and Carry Ninety Men.

Port Townsend, May 14.—Special.—Further information has been received from the treasury department in relation to the proposed construction of a revenue cutter for service on the Pacific coast. The plans are not fully completed, but the vessel is to be built on the coast and will cost about $50,000. She will be the largest and finest equipped cutter in the revenue cutter service. Carrying ninety men and armed with two or three modern repeating cannons, she will greatly resemble a small steamship. The former cutter had a decked top to renew the agreement with the United States regarding the sealing up of arms and implements of sealing vessels, said that there was practically no such agreement, but that the sealers were glad for their own protection to apply to the customs officials at the end of the season to seal up their pelagic weapons.

He denied the allegation made by some of the delegates that the scheme was favored chiefly by delegates from the United States contract in the North than in the South. He said that the committee to confer with a committee from the other body.
