floor with sticks and other tokens of approval it succeeded in getting seventeen encores. . . . The university glee club sang a number of selections very pleasingly and with good shading and with clear enunciation. The Stanford University Mandolin Club won a great deal of applause and many encores. Miss Calliope Cardinale made one of the greatest hits of the evening.

MISS GOODRICH'S RETURN.

To Appear Every Evening This Week Except Tuesday.
This evening the Eunice Goodrich Company commences its return engagement at Corday's theater. Not only is the company capable and fully up to the requirements of the nightly change of bill, but the rates of admission place the entertainment within the reach of all.

This evening's play is a comedy constructed for laughing purposes only, full of life and sparkle and played with the full strength of the company. As it is rather short "Edith's Burglar," a curtain raiser, will be given, and "Fottie's Baby" will play the role of Edith. She made herself a favorite when here, and will have a chance to display her talent more fully than in any previous play. In the comedy Miss Goodrich will have an excellent role.

"MEXICO."

Outline of the New Play by Edwin Milton Royle.

Although Edwin Milton Royle's comedy-drama, "Friends," has far from lived out its popularity, he has a new play already written, entitled "Mexico," which will have its first production next season. Mr. Royle's debut as a dramatist was singularly fortunate. It is seldom, indeed, that an author's first play meets with popular approval. As a rule he must try with one play after another, and if after the third or fourth failure, he at length produces a success, he may esteem himself fortunate.

The play is described as a romantic comedy-drama, and as the name partly indicates, has for a background the stirring period of the war of 1847 between Mexico and the United States. In American history there are few more thrilling and fascinating stories than that of "Old Zach" Taylor penetrating with his handful of Americans into the heart of Mexico, fighting and ambuscades, always against overwhelming odds, and always victorious, until he finally forced the Mexican leader, Santa Ana, back to the very limit of his defenses. Mr. Royle has mainly used this picturesque period and scene to lend color and atmosphere to an interesting story and a study of character. War is here with its strength and its inspiration, but its more visible and raw effects of marching armies and rattling musketry are skillfully veiled and serve only as an accompaniment in undertone for the display of national and personal passions. It is war, not in its horrors, that is pictured, but in its deep and strong effects on human character.

The scenery will comprise elaborate effects, including pictures of Buena Vista and Chapultepec, and it is promised to be complete in every detail. Arthur C. Alton, who has managed "Friends" the past season, will direct the tour of "Mexico."

UNIFORM RANK BENEFIT.

"The Silver King" at Corday's Tomorrow Evening.
Tomorrow evening the benefit for Division No. 1, of the Uniform Rank of the Knight of Pythias, will be given at Corday's theater, in the presentation of "The Silver King," which has been arranged and rehearsed by Thomas J. Quinn. The cast is most capable and the performance will not doubt be interesting. Mr. Quinn himself will play the role of the Silver King, Miss Florence Lyle, a favorite with theatergoers, will play a double role, that of Nellie Denvers and then young Crockett.

The story tells of two men, Geoffrey Wainwright and George Denvers, in love with the same girl. She likes Wainwright and marries Denvers. Wainwright, finding out the cause of his trouble, goes, intoxicated, to the house to kill him. He disturbs some thieves who are robbing the house; they chloroform him, and as Wainwright returns kill him, taking Denvers' pistol to do the killing. Of course when Denvers becomes conscious he thinks he must have killed Wainwright. He escapes with the assistance of a servant, Jake, and goes to the silver mines in America, becomes rich and returns to England to find his wife and child in destitution. He makes Jake take them back to the old home and gives them money. He hears something that first makes him think that he might not have murdered Wainwright, in disguise he visits a den of thieves, playing deaf and dumb; he hears Colket denounce Capt. Herbert Skinner, otherwise "the Spider." In the end three turn queens evidence and the Silver King's innocence is proved.

GREAT MUSICAL EVENT.

Local Talent Unites With Californians for a Great Concert.
Society and local musical talent will unite Wednesday evening next in the grand concert to be given at the Seattle theater. The leading feature of the performance is the presentation of "The Silver King," which has earned a high place in this city for masterly productions, and which will on this occasion render the concert a guarantee of artistic skill.

The remainder of the programme will be given over to the Berkeley Glee Club and the Stanford Mandolin Club, whose names alone are a guarantee of artistic skill.

A combination of the three clubs breaks an evening of rare enjoyment for the lover of music.

The programme to be rendered by the visitors is as follows:
"The Song of the Lark" by Giacomo Meyerbeer.
"The Owl and the Pussy Cat" by De Koven.
"The Vagabond" by Gies Club.
"More and More" by Gies Club.

The San Francisco Call says of the performance in that city:
"These were twenty numbers on the programme of the university combination concert last night, but the big audience that crowded the auditorium last night was the other 'first'—it wanted more, and by splitting gloves, pounded the street last Wednesday afternoon for the benefit of the Protestant general hospital, of Seattle. It was well patronized, and a handsome sum was realized for the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Atkinson, after a short wedding trip, have taken up their residence on the corner of 1st and 2nd streets. Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Graves were called to Victoria by the sudden death of the latter's brother, Henry Thomas, of apoplexy.

Mr. Fred Atkinson left Saturday for Wickersham, where he will take charge of a shingle mill.

South Bend Society.
South Bend, June 8.—Special—Friday evening, May 31, the Congregationalists gave a Japanese social, which was in every way a success. The church was decorated with Japanese articles, and refreshments, tea, crackers and rice balls were served by little maids from the Mikado's realm.

Monday being the anniversary of Mr. M. D. Egbert's birth a score of his friends surprised him. The evening was spent in playing progressive harlequin, until refreshments were served, and charades afterwards. Mrs. Ida Holcomb and Dr. Godfrey were prize winners and Mrs. Godfrey received the trophy.

Mrs. R. B. Dyer is visiting her parents at Knappton, Wash.

Mrs. Giddings, of Olympia, is, with her two children, visiting her sister, Mrs. W. Gruell.

To Avoid Crowding.

An Irish street car conductor called out shrilly to the passengers standing in the aisle: "Will them in front please to move up, so that them behind can take the places of them in front, an' leave room for them who are gather in front nor behind."

Awakening Into Life.

The story of Galatea, the beautiful statue that awakened into life, resembles the experience of many whose physical natures are only half alive. They are sound as a statue in every limb and organ; they ought never to know the meaning of pain or discomfort; yet they are constantly subject to distressing ailments--headaches, indigestion, biliousness, constipation, and all sorts of irregularities--due simply and solely to the torpid, half-awakened condition of the natural functions. Every one of these disorders disappears when the sluggish forces are awakened into life and activity by Ripans Tabules.

Ripans Tabules immediately correct a disordered or overburdened stomach; act as a tonic on the slow-working liver; gently stimulate the bowels; quicken the entire system into vigorous, healthy vitality. They are particularly valuable to people of sedentary occupations and to women, by promoting regular habits, a clear head and a sense of being completely alive and capable for all the duties of life.

There is hardly a man, woman or child who would not be benefited by the occasional use of Ripans Tabules. They are made of the best quality of medicines (rhubarb, ipecac, peppermint, aloes, nux vomica and soda), carefully selected, and combined according to the formula of a very skillful physician. They are put up in very convenient shape: six small vials in a box; 36 tabules in all, and are sold by druggists, 50 cents a box; or will be sent by mail by

FROM MISS LUCY W. LEWIS, RANDOLPH, MASS.
"I can speak only in praise of 'Ripans Tabules.' I am troubled by what my physician has called Nervous Dyspepsia. My work, that of a school teacher, often brings on a state of intense nervousness, which prevents digestion and results in severe headaches. I have found that by watching my feelings, and taking a tabule with meals—as I feel myself becoming tired and nervous—I get relief at the time and prevent further trouble. I have derived much benefit during the time I have used them, and do not intend to be without them."
