

THE WRIT IS QUASHED

Council's Power to Try Masel Is Confirmed.

BLAKE WINS BALLARD CONTEST.

He Is Awarded Seat in Council—Is Wellknown in King County—Two Chinese Contrabands.

The writ of prohibition to restrain the city council from proceeding with the trial of Fire Commissioner George T. Masel was denied by Judge Langley in the superior court yesterday, and the council can now carry out its proceedings without further legal hindrance. The city was represented by Corporation Counsel Scott and Mr. Masel by John Wiley.

Corporation Counsel Scott in arguing as the demurrer to the writ contended that the charter provided that the mayor had power to suspend a commissioner and the council was authorized to fill the vacancy preferred. The law provided an adequate remedy by a writ of review and on the action of prohibition such as this was the only remedy not commencing in the superior court. The council had jurisdiction of the subject matter and of the person. The charges themselves showed that Masel had acted with full knowledge of the law and in good faith. The fire commission had full control over the department and it was his duty to see that it was kept in good condition and supplied with proper material, although the board of public works was the exclusive purchasing agent of the city.

TWO CONTRABAND CHINESE.

It Is Suspected That Their Registration Is Fictitious and Forged.

Wah Ah Ling and Wang Chong, the two Chinese captured in this city by Inspector Loftus and Deputy Collector Burns, were arraigned before United States Commissioner yesterday afternoon on a charge of being illegally in the country. Ling claimed to have been a resident of Geo Lee's place, on Washington street, for three months.

THE RAINIER AVENUE LINE.

The Report of Receiver Grambs Shows a Small Surplus.

The report of Receiver Grambs of the Rainier Avenue Electric Railway Company was yesterday filed in the superior court. The total receipts from October 1, 1894, to June 1, 1895, were $739,112.

BLAKE WINS THE SEAT.

He Is Declared Legally Elected to Ballard Council.

The contest between J. H. Blake and R. A. Morris for a seat in the Ballard council was yesterday decided by Judge Langley in favor of Blake. He held that Blake resided in the ward which he represented. The latter, who has been illegally holding a seat in the Ballard council, will now be ousted.

A Confession of Judgment.

Defendant confessed judgment before Judge Osborn in the case of the Puget Sound National Bank vs. the Great Western Iron & Steel Company in the sum of $1883. The money was due on promissory notes and the confession of judgment was signed by Peter Kirk, president of the company.

COURTS AND PUBLIC OFFICES.

The Excelsior Suspension Company filed articles of incorporation yesterday, with James S. Holt and W. N. Eldred incorporators. Geo. W. Jenkins, editor of the Santa Maria, Cal. Times, in speaking of the various ailments of children, said: "When my children have cough there is only one patent medicine that I ever use, and that is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It possesses some medicinal properties that relieve the little sufferer immediately. It is, in my opinion, the best cough medicine in the market."

In the case of C. G. Perkins vs. the North West Bank et al., the motion for a new trial was denied by Judge Osborn.

C. A. Koepf filed a petition in the probate department of the superior court yesterday for letters of administration on the estate of Oliver Compton, deceased.

In the case of E. W. Andrews vs. the Standard Mill Company et al., an order directing the sheriff to pay the receiver's expenses was signed by Judge Langley yesterday.

Emma Frances Pierce yesterday sued Glen Irving Pierce for a divorce, on the ground of failure to provide. The parties were married at Ironton, Wis., on February 6, 1880.

George H. Wright, executor of the estate of Eugene Jarvis Calvert, yesterday filed a petition asking permission to deliver certain personal property of the estate to William H. Calvert, a brother of the deceased, who resides in Cincinnati, O.

The following new suits were filed in the superior court yesterday: Emma Frances Pierce vs. Glen Irving Pierce—Divorce.

Eastern Paper Company vs. Koch & Oakley Printing Company—$725 on promissory note.

George W. Young vs. Della J. Brown and Thomas R. Brown—To recover $2,000 and foreclosure of mortgage.

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE STORY.

Daily Not Yet Divorced—No Drunkard, but a Good Salvationist.

The announcement in the Portland papers that a divorce had been granted to Mrs. Clara T. Daly from Charles H. Daly, now of this city, involving a decree that awards the children to the mother, and according to a letter received yesterday seems to be premature.

The grounds alleged by Mrs. Daly in her suit are desertion and drunkenness, the former of which neither Mr. Daly nor his friends think justified by the facts, and as for the latter, if Mr. Daly ever drank there is a long family story back of it.

Mr. Daly was in jail a few weeks, when he was honorably discharged. In the meantime Mrs. Daly remained at the restaurant, and applied for a divorce, but denied that she had done so. After Daly had got out he came to Seattle, where he has lived ever since. He has a good reputation here and has not drunk any liquor. Every week since coming to Seattle he has heard that his wife's divorce was granted, but he has never professed concern here and is on probation in the Salvation Army. He is well thought of among his acquaintances in this city.

Land Office Decisions.

Register O'Toole and Receiver Terry received yesterday afternoon from the Commissioner Lamoreux notice that certain parcels of land selections by the Northern Pacific railroad company embracing 141,209 acres had been approved and patented.

The lands are located in twenty-seven different townships lying between Tacoma and Sultan City.

General John Shanahan's home-stead entry for the ne1/4, sw1/4, se1/4, and se1/4 sec. 3, tp 27 n, r 6 e, for cancellation, because it is in conflict with the Northern Pacific grant.

Colt Was Suspended by Mistake.

John G. Barnes, the attorney for N. R. Colt, says that it was through a clerical error that Judge Langley suspended Colt. Colt did not have a hearing and knew nothing of his suspension until he was notified of it. He then sent Mr. Barnes to Judge Langley, who denied having signed an order for suspension until Mr. Barnes showed it to him, when he immediately canceled it.

COAL FOR WARSHIPS.

It Will Probably Be Supplied From Seattle.

MAKING TESTS OF THREE KINDS.

If Gilman Wins the Contest, All the Bering Sea Fleet and Revenue Cutters Will Outfit Here.

Seattle is likely to supply coal for all of the United States vessels visiting the Sound during the coming year. In case the coal contract comes here the merchants of Seattle will also supply the war vessels and revenue cutters comprising the Bering sea fleet with provisions, which in itself means the sale of a good many thousands of dollars' worth of goods, with other incidental benefits derived from such a source.

Lieut. G. L. Carden, commanding the United States revenue launch Scout, arrived in the city last night, and today will make a test of the coal to be offered by the Seattle Coal and Iron Company some weeks ago sent a bid to the treasury department to supply all revenue vessels with coal during the coming year, and as the bid is the lowest and better than that of the Blue Canyon Coal Company at New Whatcom, which has had the contract for the past year, it will be accepted if the test shows that the coal is of good quality.

The following new suits were filed in the superior court yesterday: Emma Frances Pierce vs. Glen Irving Pierce—Divorce.

NON-PARALYZED LONG

Car Lines Running Again in Spite of the Fire.

LOSS AND INSURANCE IN DETAIL.

Power Obtained From Other Sources and Partial Service Given—Preparing to Rebuild.

Notwithstanding the fact that fire early yesterday morning destroyed the power house of the Seattle Consolidated Street Railway Company, and that twenty-nine cars belonging to the company, together with machinery and boilers and all the power house contained, including the light and power plant of the Third Street and Suburban Railway Company, which had the contract for lighting the city north of Pike street, both street car lines were running yesterday morning by 8 o'clock. The Third street line giving the same service as usual and the Second street line running five cars instead of twelve, the usual number. Last night the residents of the city north of Pike street had light as usual, the lines of the Third Street and Suburban Railway Company having been connected with the dynamo of the Union Illuminating Company. The Grand street line, which was receiving power from the Seattle Consolidated Street Railway Company's plant, was also running as usual by 8 o'clock with power from its own power house, which was all ready to start up at any time, but which has been idle for about two years, as it was found to be more economical to buy power from the Consolidated Street Railway Company.

How Second Street Line Fared.

The second street line is now running five cars and the street car service possible under the circumstances. Receiver Backus expects to put on two or more additional cars within the next few days, so that probably by the first of the week the entire street car service of the city will be on a good condition as before the destruction of the power house. Two of the cars now in use on the second street line were saved by being outside of the burnt foot of the city north of Pike street. From the West Street and North End Electric Railway Company, and the Phinney car, which has been run between Fremont and Green lake, was brought into requisition. The cars were extended clear to Green lake as usual, though the Woodland park line has been for the present abandoned. Power is furnished the second street line partly from Judge Backus' power plant in the building on Second street, which also operates the West Street and North End road. One generator is furnished from this source, and the balance of the power needed comes from the Grand street power house. Receiver Backus is engaged in getting another generator installed in the old Rainer Power & Railway power house, on Main street. At present the power received from both the Burke building and the Grand street power house is fully used in operating the five cars now in use. Several more cars are expected from Port Townsend within a day or two, when they will at once be put on the line. The dynamo being placed on Main street. This dynamo was saved when the power house was destroyed.

The Third Street cars are being operated by the Burke building. The Burke line power house, on James street, the cars were only run as far as the university grounds, though from this point as good service is being given. No regular trips during the morning, running to the university grounds only instead of the whole distance through to Rainer.

Receiver Backus, of the consolidated lines, W. J. Grambs, who is manager of the Third street line and receiver of the Burke building, says that the present damage of the consolidated lines, were all busy men yesterday, and great credit is due them for the very efficient work done in so soon repairing a loss so serious.

At the Scene of the Fire.

Large numbers of people visited the scene of the conflagration yesterday and viewed the charred and blackened piles of stone known and recognized by the twisted and distorted masses. The fire seemed to have done its work in a very short time, the walls partly standing and the tin roof melted and twisted in all conceivable shapes.

Theories as to the Origin.

Receiver Backus, on being asked the probable origin of the fire, said: "The way the fire started is purely problematical, and of course will always continue to be a matter of question. One theory advanced is that of spontaneous combustion. Another is that the fire might have started by one of the incandescent gas lamps hanging in the store room near the center of the building, where the fire certainly started, getting near some object to which it may have set fire, and of course once started the door being un-urated with oil, there was a furnace raging in a few minutes. The last and I think the most plausible theory is that one of the arches in the store room, which is situated just below and in front of the store room, may have parted from some unaccountable cause, and a spark or two falling through on the oil-soaked floor, and the fire was started. Any one of these theories may be correct or none of them, but one thing is certain in my mind, the fire was of purely accidental origin. I was called up by telephone at my home a little after 1 o'clock in the morning and told that the power house was on fire. I immediately called on my father by a gurney, which was at the door by the time I was dressed. I jumped into the gurney and on the way met the same W. J. Grambs, who got into the gurney with me. We arrived at the scene of the conflagration at 1:15, and at that time the roof of the power house was being pretty well under control, all the more inflammable material being consumed. "I think that the members of the fire department are to be commended for the prompt and efficient manner in which they went to work. Of course the fire was of such a nature that very little could be done with it until the most inflammable material such as the oil-soaked floors and the paraffine-covered wires burned out."

Estimates of the Loss.

Speaking of the loss by the fire Mr. Backus said: "I roughly place the total loss at about $75,000, of course the very large part of that being the property of the Consolidated line. There were twenty-seven passenger cars, two freight cars, two power cars, a moderate estimate of the value of these being probably $1500 each. These cars cost about $2000 each when new and they were of fairly good quality. In the building were seven railway generators, all of which are more or less injured. There were two Corliss engines of 250-horse power each, as well as the boilers and all necessary adjuncts to match. All of this property is more or less injured. Some of it may be in condition to be again used, but of course the cost of repairing it would be so great that it would be better to buy new. The company had only carried $25,000 insurance of the plant until about six weeks ago, when it was increased to $100,000, making it $125,000."

Mr. Backus stated that the insurance was divided as follows: Western Assurance.....$ 2,000 Western Mechanics..... 4,000 Royal Exchange..... 4,000 Trans-Atlantic..... 4,000 Phoenix Building..... 7,000 London Assurance..... 7,000 Westchester..... 5,000 National..... 5,000 Total.....$48,000

FUNDS FOR THE CONVENTION.

Subscriptions Coming in Well—Dr. Clark Writes Encouragingly.

The committee which has begun the task of raising the $20,000 guarantee fund necessary to secure the Christian Union convention for this city in 1897 met with very flattering success yesterday, having received several subscriptions ranging from $10 to $500.

Every business man is apparently well informed on and favorable to the great undertaking, and many have signified their desire to give whatever help they can. Several of the persons from whom large amounts are expected will be seen today and tomorrow.

A letter has just been received from Dr. P. E. Clark, president of the world's union and chairman of the committee which will decide upon the site of the Christian Union convention recently held in this city as one of the best he has ever attended.

Seattle Crooks at the Penitentiary.

Billy Nolan, who was at one time dogcatcher in this city but who was sent to the penitentiary for three years for robbing a man in a lodging house in Black-chapel, is once more in the city. He still insists that he is not guilty, and says that Matt Rice, the bunko man, is now washing clothes in the penitentiary laundry, and that Cash and Williams, the highwaymen, are in the same line, and being circulated for the pardon of Rice.

Iowa Newspaper Men Not Coming.

A letter has been received by W. H. Parry, chairman of the Iowa committee for the entertainment of the excursion party of Iowa newspaper men, from I. A. Nilsen, general agent of the Northern Pacific railroad, stating that he has received word from Charles S. Fee, the general passenger agent, that the excursion has been abandoned. It is understood that enough members could be gotten together to make up the number necessary to warrant running the train.

Three Men Who Want to Work.

Nelson Cole and two other men who are out of employment want to start work week clothing, and in order to do so Mr. Cole asks the loan of $5 a week for four weeks, and the other two men want to repay $25. He simply wants this money to board himself and his men while they are making a beginning, but says he has no security to give but his word. He is a hale old man of 42 years and has lived here eighteen years and ought to be well known.

He Overturned a Good Templar.

J. G. Gora, a wood chopper, will board at the city jail for twenty days, owing to an ungentlemanly action at a social given by the Good Templars at Brewer's hall night before last. Several young people were sitting at a table, and with-out any cause whatsoever Gora threw over a chair with one of the young people in it. Quite a lively scene followed, during which the unruly guest was ejected from the hall.

Byron used a great deal of hair-dressing, but was very particular to have only the best to be found in the market. If Ayer's Hair Vigor had been obtainable then, doubtless he would have tested its merits, as so many dandies and fashionable people are doing nowadays.

Don't forget the hospital benefit to-night.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Table listing insurance companies and their amounts: Western Assurance $2,000, Western Mechanics 4,000, Royal Exchange 4,000, Trans-Atlantic 4,000, Phoenix Building 7,000, London Assurance 7,000, Westchester 5,000, National 5,000, Total $48,000.

Few Records Destroyed.

The safe in which were the records of the company was found to be unimpaired, not a particle of damage being done to any of the papers or books locked up in it. The fire burnt the door from under it and it was found down among the cinders, covered up with ashes and debris. Most of the valuable records and books of the company have been saved and taken to another place of safety, and no serious loss would have resulted even if the safe had been destroyed.

Small Loss to Third Street.

The loss to the Third street line is stated to be small, being covered by $5,000 insurance. Manager Grambs thinks he can use the two engines and two boilers in the burned building, besides three railway generators and two 1,000-horsepower engines and two 50-horse machines. The generators, he thinks, can be used, as from the examination made by the engineer he expects to be able to have them down to them. Thus the loss of the Third street line is reduced to a comparatively small figure.

Mr. Grambs stated yesterday that he would at once proceed to put the machinery of the Third street line into shape, having engaged room near the Seattle Steam Heat & Power Company on West street, where he expects to have once erect a building. All the engines, boilers, generators and other machinery that has not been injured by the fire will be moved at once and new machinery added until the plant is complete.

Receiver Backus of the Consolidated line yesterday telegraphed to Chicago, asking for a list of Eastern cities to which the stockholders of the road, informing them of the loss and expects to commence the reconstruction of the power plant as soon as the insurance men make an appraisal and a settlement is agreed on.

Mr. Backus has moved his office to room 32, New York block.

GRADUATING AT COLUMBIA.

Exercises Closing the Term Held at the Public School.

The graduating exercises of the class of '95, Columbia City public school, were held last evening at Knights of Pythias hall, Columbia, in the presence of a large audience. The class consisted of Joseph Regan, Carl Howell Reeves, Vinnie Crum Short, Leslie Allen Osgood and Nellie Grant Hutchison.

County Superintendent of Schools Layhue was present and expressed himself as highly pleased with the efforts of the young people. The programme was as follows: Music, "I Know a Bank." Mrs. W. D. Calder and Mrs. F. J. Browne; salutatory, "Know Thyself," Nellie Grant Hutchison; "National Holidays," Joseph Regan; "Abraham Lincoln," Carl Howell Reeves; music, "Shakespeare's Scholarship," by the Mandolin Club; "Shakespeare's Autobiography," Leslie Allen Osgood; valedictory, "A Smile," Vinnie Crum Short; music, "Ricciotto Verdi," by the Mandolin Club; presentation of diplomas, County Superintendent J. M. Layhue; address to class, Principal F. J. Browne; music, "Sweet Evening Star," Wagner, by the Mandolin Club.

Thinks Durrant Will Escape.

Frank Carroll, the ex-deputy coroner who is finishing his studies at the Cooper medical college, San Francisco, discovered on his return recently from this city that he and Theodore Durrant, the alleged murderer of Minnie Williams and Blanche Lamont, had the same locker in the dissecting room. It will probably be a great surprise to many to learn that when he says there is strong feeling where he is that Durrant will never be convicted. He also adds that some are outspoken in their belief of Durrant's innocence.

Roslyn Damage Suits Settled.

It is stated that nearly all of the mine damage suits growing out of the Roslyn mine disaster have been settled, and that the cases will soon be dismissed in the Federal and superior courts. Only a few plaintiffs have refused to come to terms. Attorney Arthur Griffin, counsel for the plaintiffs, has stated that the agreement is that each widow shall receive $1,000 and each child $500. In return the company will be released from all further liability.

Salvors' Union Claims a Victory.

The members of the local Seamen's Union feel that they have won a victory and claim that their vigilance has caused the removal of Wright & Newman, the burned house masters, to West Seattle, which occurred ten days since. The agent of the union also claims that the wages now paid are satisfactory, but the changes of union continues, and unless more arrive soon he may send to San Francisco for them.

Do Our People Take More Care of Their Bodies Than Did the Ancients?

A DISPUTED QUESTION.

Best Answered by Each Individual—Every One Owe a Duty to Their Well Being—It is the Robbing of the Blood of All Its Impurities.

The question is often asked: Are our people taking more or less care of themselves than did those who preceded them years and years ago? Scientific men have argued pro and con to no avail, so that the matter must rest with the individual for final settlement.

You can regulate the tone of your blood, you can make good, rich red and white blood, you can purify the moderate use of JOY'S VEGETABLE SARSAPARILLA.

This vegetable blood regulator is the "new idea" in medicine. Your blood is made pure and healthy, not by the harsh method of blood-bleeding, but by the mild and natural, mercurial poisons, but with and by nature's own remedy, herbs.

If you take care of your system you will not be so likely to grow ill. First of all, you should keep the blood in good condition. Don't allow your blood to become thin and watery. Don't allow your blood to stagnate, to become sluggish and so thick that it will not flow freely in the veins and arteries.

You can regulate the tone of your blood, you can make good, rich red and white blood, you can purify the moderate use of JOY'S VEGETABLE SARSAPARILLA.

This vegetable blood regulator is the "new idea" in medicine. Your blood is made pure and healthy, not by the harsh method of blood-bleeding, but by the mild and natural, mercurial poisons, but with and by nature's own remedy, herbs.

The doctor says you should take Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla when:

Your blood is thin. Your blood is watery. Your head aches. Your eyes bleed. Your liver is deranged. Your kidneys are inflamed. Your bowels irregular. Your skin dry and parched. Your hair falling. Your face pimply. Your complexion pale. Your nerves weak.

The evidence which has been given for the curative ability of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla conclusively proves that those who are afflicted with any of the above named ailments, should at once procure and use Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Most druggists are polite, honest, reliable, trustworthy, but he who endeavors to substitute, to talk you out of, to abuse your confidence, should be shunned. It is only fair to give you what you want, and when you do want the blood-purifier, Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, see that you get JOY'S

AND ONLY Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, PREPARED BY THE EDWIN W. JOY CO., San Francisco, Cal.
